PIANO LETTER

No. 3.

Most plano buyers consider the quality

the price asked for a particular instru-ment is fully correspondent with its qual-ity. This matter of certainty of the price ment is tuny correspondently of the price ity. This matter of certainty of the price fitting the quality is one of the dilemmas every plano buyer finds himself in. There are several reasons for this condition of things, for which the blame may be equal-ly divided between the buyer and the dealer. In the first place, the buyer thinks that a plano is not to ge trusted just be-cause he has never heard of it. He does cause he has never heard of it. He does not know that the two or three makes he knows something about have been over-

It is estimated that $5800 will be expended on the sewer system on the mainland, $3900 for the system on the peninsula, and $1500 at the dairy farm. The water system will necessitate an outlay of $7845.50 for the gridiron system from the water tower, including the fire hydrants; $3255 for piping in connection with the supply of Bull Run water, and $2887.50 will be needed to pay the expense of connections with the peninsula and piping on the peninsula. In addition to this is the $6000 to be spent on the water tower, a work that is to be done by contract. Mr. Huber, during the time he was work-ing as general superintendent, completed practically all of the work that could be characterized as grading. A recent report showed that but $2240.44 of the appropriation of $20,050 estimated to be necessary for the work remained on hand. A portion of this balance has already been expended. The director of works is pushing the work of preparing the Fair grounds for the erection of buildings, and will have his work well in hand long before the end of the present year. When completed, Mr. Huber expects to have a perfect fire pro-tection system installed. age Suit Heard,

On April 17, 1992, the case of the United States vs. Joseph H. Wright, at that time postmuster at Nome, came up for trial. Wright was charged with embez-sling public funds belonging to the money order department of the Nome postoffice When a jury was drawn, the regular pane was exhausted and the Assistant United States District Attorney moved for an order directing Richards, as Marshal, to summon talesmen from the body of the district to complete the jury.

It was charged that Richards conspired with Wright and Joseph D. Jourden to de-feat they ends of justice and secure the quittali of Wright by such men from the nders as were known to be friendly to Wright. He arranged to have the men present, it is alleged, and in selecting the talesmen, instead of taking them from the district-at-large and refraining from calling in bystanders, as the court directed, chose men who were in the conspiracy on the and who had been in attendance up trial. On the previous trial Richards was convicted, salthough sentence was sus-

The Court of Appeals, in the opinion handed down yesterday, finds that the evi-dence was not sufficient to sustain a conviction on so grave a charge, Accordingly, the judgment of the lower court was reversed and the case remanded for trial.

This case was the sensation of Northern Alaska at the time of the trial on account of the position Richards occupied in the politics of the territory. He was recently accultted of similar charges by the authorities at Washington and the ac tion of the court yesterday comes in the nature of an additional vindication

Dozen Young Women Will Compete for Two Vacancies.

About a dozen young women will take the examination for positions as assistant librarians in the Portland Library this morning at 9 o'clock and this afternoon at 2. There are two vacancies, owing to the resignation of Miss Irons and Miss Spencer. The two candidates passing the best examinations will be taken fato the libra-ry staff at once, and the other successful nes will be put upon a reserve list and at the first of the year will enter an apprentice class.

The library is exceedingly popular nowadays, and Miss Isom and her capable corps of assistants are constantly adding provements which are valuable help to dents and booklovers.

Miss Bross, in charge of the magazine room, has established a bulletin of espe-cially interesting magazine articles, on such topics as the Far East, the negro estion, arts and artists, schools and the labor question. In the children's reading-room Miss

Hassler has arranged a collection of tex-tiles for the little students' education and entertainment.
