The music at St. David's Episcopa to discord between the vestry and the organist and so strong is the feeling that

Professor Gustavus Eseman, the choir

Mr. Lighter should give an organ recital

Milwankie Council Postpones Water Question Till After Election.

The Milwaukie Council has decided to postpone further consideration of the water supply question until after the the next city election, which will take place the first Monday in December. This cision was reached Thursday night after a long discussion. J. L. Johnson was present with his proposition to build a plant, provided the Council would give him a 30-year franchise, permitting him to charge $1.25 per faucet. Where more than one faucet was used Mr. Johnson said that there would be a reduction, but did not say how much. Mayor Shindler said that the charge of $1.25 would operate to hold Milwaukie back, as their neighbors in Sellwood pay but 50 cents. He was there to protect the interests of the people, and he ex-pressed himself as opposed to granting a 30-year franchise unless the rates posed were reduced. Members of Members of the council coincided with the Mayor.

Definite action was postponed until af-ter election, so the people of Milwaukie can say whether they want to bond the city and build water works or not. The present Council is favorable to municipal ownership of the water plant.

The single additional carrier given that district eral months ago afforded some relief, but was scarcely a drop in the bucket. The Albina mail district does not ex gregation was held to etect two vestry-men to succeed S. C. Kennell and C. Al-len Merriam. Dr. Van Waters said last night that the music question was the issue and that Dr. F. C. Sellwood and Fred West were unanimously elected in opposition to Mr. Eseman. This created a majority against the organist, the other members of the vestry besides the rector being Dr. S. E. Josephi, Captain F. H. West, A. Tyler, John Webb, F. W. Berry, J. L. Royle and James G. Burness. Prior to the election the vestry had stood five for and four against Mr. Eseman, but but this turned the tables. Last Monday the vestry met and in accordance with its in-structions the music committee notified Mr Eseman that the "musical parts of all regular services are not conducted Gustavus Eseman in a manner acceptable to the rector, wardens and vestrymen in accordance with the contract," and that his services would not be required after nber 21 and that he would not be paid for services after September 27. Mr. Eseman received this letter last Tuesday morning, but held the rehearsal on Wednesday evening just the same. After it was over, Mr. Berry met him on the street corner, accompanied by Dr. Van Wuters and Mr. Burness and called upon him to give up the keys of the church. The rector told him to make no further attempt to act as choirmaster and organist and that the attorney of the vestry stated that, if he did so, he would day himself liable to arrest.

Mr. Eseman also talks of appealing to the law. He said to The Oregonian: "I shall send a letter by my attorney's advice notifying the rector, wardens and vestry that they have no legal or moral right to cancel the contract without just or legal cause, and that I shall be ready at all times to perform all my obligations under it until the expiration of the time provided by it."

Rector's View of the Case.

Dr. Van Waters was informed of what Mr. Eseman had said and replied;

"I did desire that women should sing stein and left the saloon, saying that he in the choir, but it was only to give strength and acceptableness to the muwas going home. Motorman F. W. Crawley then providing for one month's notice, be-cause there was no such verbal under-standing between Mr. Eseman and me and retired and returned a verdict exonerating the motorman from blame. They found that the deceased came to his the music committee. I have no personal feeling in the matter, but have been for death from being struck by the car while lying on the track, at which place many months desirous of serving in this matter the minds of the majority of the patrons of the parish. Royle and my-self as ex-officio chairman, and we are a unit as to the unsatisfactoriness of Mr Eseman's music. We contend that, in-asmuch as the contract states that his services may be terminated whenever it appears to us that his music is unsatis factory, we need to give no further reason for terminating the contract than the bure statement that his music is unsatisfactory.

Coroner's Inquest on John Lyons Develops No New Facts.

Mystery still surrounds the death of John Lyons, the bricklayer who was killed by a street-car while lying on the tracks at Twenty-third and Overton streets shortly before 11 o'clock Wednesday evening. The inquest conducted by Coroner Finley yesterday afternoon did not throw any additional light upon the tragedy. Just how Lyons came to be lying on the tracks remains a matter of theory. One belief is that he might have fallen from an attack of heart trouble while crossing the track. Another is that he fell in a fainting spell. It is possible that he could have been killed and his body laid across the track, and this theory has some few supporters. That the man was not under the influence of liquor was testified to by Charles Weiserstein, who keeps a saloon near the scene of the accident. The saloon-keeper said that Lyons was in his place about 20 minutes before he was struck by the car. He borrowed three novels from Miss Weiserdivine of New York City, who is here assisting Dr. Stophen S. Wise at Temple Beth Israel, paid a visit to the Portland and his assistants. *Light. Dr. Levine has made a comprehensive study of the public school systems of the leading cities in the United States and will shortly publish a book on "The Mu-nicipal Colleges of the United States." "I am more than delighted with Port-jand's High School," said Dr. Levine last evening," and can say unhesitatingly that it compares favorably with those of the largest cities in the country. For one thing, I was surprised at the large attendance of 800 students. For ten years and more I have been studying closely the High Schools of New York and other cities and the school here is a revelation. The thoroughness of the work done impressed me more than anything else. There is none of the unnatural forcing of the scholar which I have found in some places. This, I take it, is due largely to the careful management of Professor Davis, whose methods are deserving of the highest commendation. He has an the nignest commendation. He has an able corps of teachers and the youth of this clip are to be congratulated on their magnificent opportunities. During my visit to the school I had the pleasure of briefly examining some of the classes in the Latin, scientific and history depariments and was greatly pleased at the admirable answers I received. "The modern idea of education is to make the high school a combination of preparatory and collegiate courses-to make the instruction qualitative, not quantitative, and this idea is being splendidly carried out here. The high school period is a critical one in the life of our youth. It is the time when boys and girls begin to think independently and at such a time they must receive the wisest and safest advice and instruction. The pupil begins to speculate on the principle of established Government and religion He could not tell lying in. All he very easily go astray. very easily go astray. The tax levy should be sufficlent to do this, but if it is not I think it should be raised to meet this demand. "I have made coffee during the 17 years I have conce during the if years I have kept house on an average of at least once a day until we gave it up altogether. My husband was often M forced to leave off drinking it for several weeks at a time owing to severe pains in his heart, which he declared were caused by coffee." So says a lady of S. Atkinson, Me. "I had a bad stomach trouble, my appetite was poor, and what food I ate did not digest and I had no strength. "I also had bad nervous trouble and suffered much from headaches and a feeling of suffocation and faintness. We have four children and all were very fond of coffee and drank it every morning, seldom eating much breakfast. They were pale and often complained of feeling faint and dizzy and one daughter had indigestion badly. My husband's father who lives with us was badly bloated and sometimes said I believe coffee hurts me.' But after trying for a few days to get along without it the habit of a lifetime proved too strong and he would call for a cup of coffee. "Last Spring we began reading about the wonderful cures by Postum Food Coffee and became interested and decided to try it. So we stopped coffee and began using Postum. In a surprisingly short time we all noticed a very decided change in health all round. The children's appetites improved and after using Postum a short time they began to cat hearty breakfasts every morning. Elizabeth's dyspepsia is all gone and she says she can eat anything now and it does not hurt her. They no longer com-plain of feeling faint and dizzy and all are growing plump and rosy. "I have gained eight pounds myself sithough doing more work than I have been able to do for years. My appetite is good, food digests, nerves are stronger and I have none of the other troubles. It is simply wonderful. "My husband has no more trouble with his heart and father-in-law does not bloat and can breathe much more easily. "We had made the change from coffe We had made the change from coffee to Postum without telling father-in-law but one morning after we had used Postum a short time he sipped his coffee and said: 'How much better this is, how did you happen to get such good coffee?' and he was greatly surprised when told it was not coffee but the food dripk it was not coffee but the food drink Postum. He declares that it has done him great good and he has not been so well for years although he is now 70 years of age. A lot of my other relatives have had almost the same experience, all of them having found out that it pays to
