REPAIRING CONCRETE SIDEWALKS.-The work of repairing defective concrete side-walks which inspectors have marked with blue chalk has been begun. A workman with a hammer and chisel was breaking up several patches on Main street, south of the County Courthouse, vesterday of the County Courthouse, yesterday morning. The walks bore the names of O'Nell & Jennings, and the man said they were the first to begin the repairing of defects, and get the matter off their hands. He said one contractor had 500 feet of walks in one stretch which would have to be taken up and entirely rebuilt. He was removing the surface coating where it had not united with the concrete foundations, because it had been dry when the surface was put on, but did not intend to break up the foundation beneath. He roughened the concrete, and intended to sweep it clean, and then wet it with a grout of cement and water, and then spread a surface coating of equal parts of sand and cement, which he said would unite firmly with the concrete. Some have an idea that, where the surface comes off, the concrete foundation ought to be entirely renewed. Property-owners whose sidewalks have proved defective will do well to keep their eyes on the workmen making the repairs and see that they are done properly.

COARSE STONE ON STREETS A NUISANCE. -Complaint is made that no dressing of screenings has ever been placed on the coarse broken stone laid on Everett street, last Spring, to smooth it. The broken stone was laid along the center of the street, and has been knocked about till now loose sharp-edged stones are scat-tered along both sides of the street, and render travel unpleasant to both horses and drivers. Horses are constantly "pick-ing up" these loose stones in their shoes, and several have been lamed in this manner. Yesterday morning a man took a lame pony to a blocksmith shop to have it examined. When its lame foot was raised two stones were found jammed between the frog of the foot and the shoe. If the owner had known enough to examine the animal's foot, it might have been relieved much sooner. The condition of Everett street is alleged to be only a sample of other streets in that part of the city "im-proved" in the same manner, and, now that Burnside street is being dressed with coarse broken rock from Park to Fifteenth, people are anxious to know whether any screenings are to be laid on the rock, or whether it is to be allowed to come as miserable a thoroughfare as Everett and others.

FEAST OF THE MOST HOLY ROSARY.-The feast day of the Most Holy Rosary will be celebrated Sunday in Catholic churches and it will be specially commen the Holy Rosary Church, 378 Clackamas street. At this church the masses on Rosary Sunday will be at 6:30, 7:30 and 8:30 , with solemn high mass at 10:30 At the latter the celebrant will be Very Rev. A. S. Lawler, O. P., assisted by Rev. Father H. S. Shaw, O. P., deacon, and Rev. Father C. V. Lamb, O. P., subdeacon. The preacher will be Rev. Father J. D. O'Brien, O. P. In the evening there will be rosary devotion and litany, followed by solemn Benediction of the Most Elessed Sacrament, and sermon by Rev. Father A. S. Lawler, O. P., on "Devotion to the Immaculate Mother of God." At on high mass a choir of male voices will sing.

No CRUELTY TO CAMELS .- A tender-hearted person has been finding much fault with the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals because it did not interfere to protect the camels exhibited in the late carnival. He says the animals badly overworked and that they cried pitifully every time they rose with a load or knelt to be released of their burden. The thought of this cruelty made him cry almost as much as the camels. He has now found out that this crying act is natural to camels, who always make the same moaning and crying when being loaded and unloaded. It is about the only amusement they have in life, and it would be cruelty to animals to make them

SHE DREW HER SALARY IN ADVANCE. Speaking of the trouble between Manager Bentley, of the late Multnomah Carnival, and George Jabour, in regard to paying the wages of Jabour's employes, a member of the athletic club said yesterday that Madame Liljens, who dived into a tank with her clothes on fire, was a bright woman, even when her clothing was not blazing. She collected her salary of $25 a day every morning from Manager Bent-ley, and Jabour made no objections, as he knew that no pay meant no plunge. A woman who follows such a dangerous oc-cupation naturally desires her salary in advance, as if anything went wrong with her act she might not need it afterward. FLY SCREENS GO OUT OF USE.-The weather Monday was not so pleasant nor sp warm as usual, but it mad the trou-effect, in causing fly screens and the trouas usual, but it had one good effect, in causing my screens and the trou-biesome screen doors encountered in so many places to be taken down. There is not much likelihood of files proving trou-biesome any more this season; in fact, they have caused little trouble all Sum-mer in most places, not half so much as the screens to keep them out. the screens to keep them out.

CALLS FOR MORE WARRANTS,-County Treasurer Lewis has issued a call for warrants outstanding against the general fund up to November 1, 1902, amounting in all to $10,000. Owing to promptness in paying taxes this year warrants have been called closer up than for many years. There are not, however, likely to be any more calls made for a while, as this one exhausts the money in the general fund. PARTICULAR FAMILIES buy excellent wines and liquors at low prices at the "Full Measure House," 108 Sixth street. A. Neuberger, proprietor.

RUNAWAYS EXPERT AT DODGING .- Runaway teams are not uncommon spectacles in Portland, but the occupants of every store along the commission district or Front street turned out to look after one resterday, and shouted and yelled to cheer it on. The team was a pair of switch-tailed grays attached to a farm wagon. When first seen they were coming up the street at the top of their speed. The street ahead was crowded with teams and vehicles of all kinds, in all sorts of posi-tions, and the manner in which the grays threaded their way among them without touching any of them excited general ad-miration. Boxes of fruit were thrown out occasionally and scattered over the pavement, but the runaways vanished in the distance toward Madison street without having inflicted any damage. The driver had not been heard of up to that time.

QUEER SAILORS ADRIPT IN PORTLAND,-Haif a dozen odd-appearing and oddly-dressed young men attracted considerable attention on the streets yesterday. No one could imagine where they came from, and they knew but little English, and a few words of French, so not much information could be obtained from them. Their little roundabout jackets of khaki, denim overalls and their low shoes made up a costume but little adapted to the season. A man who appeared to under-stand their talk, and who was examining a curious silver watch carried by one of them, said that they were Russians by birth, but had come here from Java as sailors on a French ship, and were anxious to get out of the country. Probably some benevolent sailors' boarding-house keeper odate them soon, and perhaps send them around the horn.

MERCIFUL TO HIS BRAST .- A well-known physician was driving a pair of handso looking horses yesterday in the Nob Hill district, when one of the horses suddenly held up his fight fore foot as if he were in pain. The other horse stood stock still, Instead of whipping the animals, as some drivers would have done, the physician dismounted, lifted up the injured hoof, and sure enough, there was an ugly-looking nail firmly imbedded in the hoof. A oung woman who was passing ran to a eighbor's house and borrowed a clawhammer, with which the physician quick-ly and firmly drew out the offending nail. It almost seemed that the grateful horse turned toward his owner and gave him one loving look. "There. That's settled," sald the physician. "But please don't tell anybody that I'm a horse doctor. It might MUSEUM HAS AN EMU.-Another and rare attraction has been added to the free museum in the City Hall, in the shape of a mounted emu. This throws the cassowary put on exhibition a short time ago slightly in the shade, and is a taller and heavier "bird without wings," exceeded in size only by the ostrich. The emu is a native of New Holland, and is now a very rare bird, having been about exterminated. Though very swift of foot and of great strength, the emu is per-fectly inoffensive, feeding on fruits, veg-etables and herbage. Its eggs are of a pale green color, about the size of a cocoanut. It yields a peculiar oil highly prized, and as its flesh is good eating the natives have kept it on the run till they have nearly run it off the earth.

NEW CHURCH AT CASTLE ROCK.-Father W. Palmer, of St. Francis Xavier Catholic Church at Cowlitz, Wash in the city buying the fixtures for the new church which he has almost completed at Castle Rock, and which will be opened on Sunday, October II. The dedication ceremony has been post-poned until some time later as Bishop O'Dea's time is engaged for some time ahead. So active is the growth of the church in Washington that the bishop's time has been engaged in confirmations or the dedication of new churches every Sunday since January 1 and is engaged for some time ahead.

MINIATURE RAILBOAD ALL RIGHT.-The ecent announcement that the fainlature rallroad which operated at the Multnomah Club carnival was attached for a carpen-ter's bill of $51 has caused a panicky feel-ing among the stockholders, and there was a decline of several points in the stock. It appears that it was the wire slide railway and not the minature railroad that was in trouble. The manager says that his company is in excellent financial condition. It is believed that the error got into print through reports purposely cir-culated by the bears in the market, who were trying to corner the stock.

ADVERTISING GLUTS THE MAILS.—The re-velpts of mail at the Portland Postoffice ow average 70 sacks daily. The season has arrived when Eastern people are flooding the country with advertising mat-ter by the ton, and Portland gets its full share, and letter-carriers go around load-ed like pack horses. They console them-selves with the idea that if there were less of this stuff to be handled less carriers would be needed. The people who find their porches littered with circulars and pamphlets for which they have no use would be glad to have the postage increased on them. SERVICES OF DAT OF ATONEMENT .- The services of the Day of Atonement at Tem-ple Beth Israel will begin this evening at 7 o'clock. Dr. David Levine, of New York, will preach on "The Pure Heart." The services of the morning of the Atonement day will begin Thursday at 10 o'clock. The subject of the morning address by Dr. Levine will be "Spiritual Engineering." Dr. Stephen S. Wise will deliver an address in the course of the memorial services, which begin at 3:30, on "Making Our Griefs Our Gains,"

FROWNS ON THE BARMAIDS

LICENSE REFUSED TO SALOON WHERE THEY WORK.

Because Ben Bermoser's Wife and Daughters Served Drinks-Sellwood Wants No Salcons.

Woman's field of usefulness has broad-ened greatly during the last 50 years, but when she steps behind the bar of a sa-loon and usurps the place of the usual brawny, morbid-faced male dispenser of intoxicating beverages, that is more than the license committee of the City Council will stand for. It summarily revoked Ben Bermoser's liquor license yesterdey forenoon, because, as it was explained, that individual has had his wife and daughters behind the bar. Bermoser has a license to sell drinks at a Front-street thirst parior. That place is now being repaired, and in the mean-time the saloon man has been doing business at 147 East Twenty-eighth street. When the attention of the committee was called to this condition of affairs.

Councilman Flegel said the license should not be tolerated. He said he was reliably informed that the saloonkeeper has his wife and daughters behind the bar. Mr. Flegel's remarks were given the prompt indorsement of the entire committee, with the result that sufferers from thirst will be forced in the future to go elsewhere to satisfy their craving.

Sellwood does not want any more sa-loons. The residents made known this fact in a very vigorous protest against the granting of a license to Snider & Monti. at Umatilla avenue and East Nin street. The protest set out that it is the intention of the saloon men to run the roadhouse. Action on the petition, as well as on the application for a liquor license, was postponed until next Monday's meet-

The following licenses were granted by The following licenses were granted by the committee Ed Bysne, at 155 North Tenth street; George Schmidt, at 274 Front street; S. J. Stillwell, at 253 Alder street; W. A. Wright, at 308 Alder street; T. Lemanski at 357 Rurnside street: I M. Toomey, 314 Glisan street. A transfer of license was recorded from John Ecklund to A. Newberger at 106 Sixth street.

The application of W. A. T. Gunderson for a license to open a saloon at 277 Williams avenue was turned down becau the location is in a residence district.

WAS NOTHING DOING.

Dr. T. L. Ellot Endeavors to Rescue Two Women From Burglar.

Dr. T. L. Eliet, pastor emeritus of the Church of Our Father, was roused by cries for help a couple of nights ago, and, on going out, found that the alarm issued from the upstairs windows of a house in the same block as his residence on West Park street. He instantly reladies whose heads were out of the window that he was there to protect them, if need be. They stated in shivering accents that there was a burgiar in the house, that the men folks were all away and that they were scared to death. Ther they requested the doctor to come in and put the burglar out. After trying the door in vain and belated passengers, Dr. Eliot was compelled to state to the ladies that the door was locked. They refused absolutely to venture down to open it, owing to the pres-ence of the bloodthirsty criminal, but made an impassioned appeal that

Dr. Ellot was about to prepare to pass the night on the porch, when a cry from within announced that the strange man was only a hired girl, whose attempts to get in at a late hour without disturbing anybody had resulted in terrorizing everybody. Dr. Ellot retired to his own domicile, and when a policeman, sum-moned by an alarmed citizen, appeared,

Portland will send quite a large delegation, although the list is not yet complete. Those who have announced their intention of going are: W. C. Seachrest, of the New York Central; John P. Jones, of the Southern Pacific; J. W. Casey, of the St. Paul, and M. J. Roche, of the D. & R. G., and their wives. A number of other near and their wives. A number of other pas-senger men may attend, but are as yet undecided. The Portlanders will join the California delegation at San Francisco on November 3, and will make the trip to New Orleans via Kansas City.

The Crescent City is planning to outdo itself in the way of entertainment, and many side trips, a ball and banquet at the new St. Charles, are down on the schedule.

Every effort will be made by the delegates from the Coast to secure the 1904 which goes from here are confident of cap-turing the big meeting.

PERSONAL MENTION.

E. J. Roberts, the Spokane mining man, is at the Portland. N. H. Webber, manager of the Eureka ery at Eagle Cliff, and his daughter are at the Imperial. J. Harrington, owner of the cannery at Pillar Rock, is at the Belvedere, accom panied by his wife. F. M. Studley, the Seattle manager for the Nippon Yusen Kaisha steamship line, was in the city yesterday. Among the doctors who are at the Imperial to attend the State Medical Soclety's convention are E. E. Ferguson. The Dalles; M. H. Ellis, of Albany; W. H. Flanagan and F. W. Van Dyke, of Grants Pass; George E. Houck, of Roseburg; State Senator C. J. Smith, of Pendleton; James B. Eagleson, of Seattle.

Miss Mary Osborn Douthit, of Portland, has gone to Seattle, where she will work in the interests of the women's souvenir of the Lewis and Clark Exposition. She will also gather historical data on women's work in the Northwest, particularly in the ploneer days. After visiting Seattle she will visit other points in Northern Washington, and will return to Portland before going to Idaho on a similar mission. Colonel Harrington, of Pillar Rock, is in the city for a few days, for the first time in a long while. He has been so busy all Summer that he has had no vacation. Now that he has seen the last of his 19,000 cases of salmon packed he is off for a holiday. He has about given up the idea of going over to hunt foxes with the Duke of Northumberland's pack of hounds this season, as he is a little nervous from overwork.

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.-(Special.)-Northwestern people registered at New York hotels today as follows: At the Murray Hill-E. A. Baldwin, from Portland.

At the Astor-J. Vanderburg, from Port-At the Cadillac-W. E. Baird, from Portland,

Professor Gifford Pinchot, chief of the Forestry Bureau of the Agricultural Department at Washington, will deliver an address in this city under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce on the evening of October 6. The question of forest reserves is just now of such interest to the people of Oregon that spe-cial efforts are being made to secure a large attendance from various portions of the state. The Chamber has issued a circular letter to the secretaries of comnercial clubs and similar organizations in the more important towns. The members of the Congressional delegation, with the exception of Senator Mitchell, are expected to be present, and it is proposed to give Professor Pinchot a flattering re-

COMING ATTRACTIONS.

Captain Bob" for Last Time Tonight The last performance of that beautiful romantic drama "Captain Bob," which S. Miller Kent and his exceedingly capable company have been playing at the Marquam Grand Theater, will be given this evening. Mr. Kent was never seen to better advantage. His character of Robert Renselaer affords him ample oppor-tunity to show his talents as an able actor. His company has been selected from among the most capable people in the profession. The scenic effects are elaborate and complete in every detail. In fact it is an interesting story, clev-erly told and well worth seeing.

The Miller-Anglia Engagement. The Henry Miller-Margaret Anglin en gagement, which opens tomorrow (Thursday) night at the Marquam Grand The-ater, will be one of the greatest, both from the artistic standpoint of the celebrated players and as a society event of the elite of the city, to whom these artists appeal, that has ever been seen in this city. The opening bill will be "The Taming of Helen," which will also be the bill Saturday afternoon. Friday /night Dumas' "Camille" and Saturday night "The Devil's Disciple," Seats are now seli-

The theater was again packed last evening with an especially fashionable audience. Sunday next will witness the first presentation in Portland of Henry Arthur Jones' most brilliant play on modish society, "Mrs. Dane's Defense."

"The Wife" Deserves Attention, The excellent production of "The Wife" being given at Cordray's Theater this week has not been greeted with as large and enthusiastic audiences as it deserves. The play is above the class of offerings usually given at popular-price theaters, and it would do better if it were playing at higher prices, for the production is excel-"The Wife" will continue to bill at Cordray's Theater all this week.

Never a Word Says He,

How to make people laugh without saying a word is a valuable secret that Spaulding, the equilibrist, now at the Em-pire Theater, thoroughly understands. He goes through his entire act in silence, but his pantomime performance provokes in-cessant mirth and his turn alone is worth the price of admission. John Tierney, the Irishman, gives a clever travesty of an after-church announcement and his songs are well received. The Fenz Bros., two Austrian vocalists, sing in German and the remainder of the programme is novel

SCIENCE SETTLES IT.

Dandruff Is Caused by a Germ, That Saps the Hair's Vitality. It is now a settled fact that dandruff is caused by a germ. Failing hair and baldness are the result of dandruff. Dr. E. J. Beardsiey, of Champaign. Ill., got hold of the new hair preparation, Newbro's herpicide—the only one that kills the dandruff germ. He says: "I used Herpicide for my dandruff and falling hair, and I am well satisfied with the result." Dr. J. T. Fu-gate, of Urbana, Ill., says: "I have used Herpicide for dandruff with excellent results. I shall prescribe it in my practice." Herpicide kills the dandruff germ.
