Boyd Will Get Certificate of Indian War Claim

IF SUPREME COURT AFFIRMS

Judge Sears Decides Test Case or Claims in Excess of Appropriation-Amount at Stake Exceeds $30,000.

Judge Sears yesterday decided that Secretary of State Dunbar must issue a certificate providing for the payment of the claim of J. R. Boyd, a veteran of the Indian Wars of 1855-1856, amounting to $155.50, notwithstanding the appropria tion of $100,000 made by the last Legislato liquidate such claims is ex-

Boyd's claim was examined and allowed by the Adjutant-General, whom the law appoints as the supervising officer, and was rejected by the Secretary of State upon presentation, on the ground that the fund of $100,000 had all been paid out, It appears that the claims presented aggregate over $130,000, and there is, therefore, a shortage of $30,000. Boyd, represented by J. C. Moreland, filed a mandamus sult against Secretary of State Dunbar to compel the issuance of the warrant, and the Secretary of State filed an answer that the appropriation was exhausted. Judge Moreland argued that the fact that the fund was empty did not authorize the rejection of claims by Secretary Dunbar, which were approved by the Adjutant-General.

In deciding the case, the court held that the mere fact that the appropriation had become exhausted did not have the effect of putting an end to the force of the act providing for the payment of the veterans for their services, in recognition of which the act was originally presented to the State Legislature and passed.

Judge Sears further based his conclusion on the provision of a statute passed by the Legislature in 1901, wherein it is specified that where a claim is presented in pursuance of the authority of law it shall be audited, and, if silowed, a certificate shall be issued as evidence of that fact. In sustaining the demurrer to the answer, the court specified that the writ of mandamus should issue in so far as it required the Secretary of State to issue a certificate as evidence of the claim presented, and this will cause the Secretary of State to certify that J. R. Boyd holds a claim against the state of $125.50 for services rendered while he was engaged in ighting Indians

This ends the matter in the lower court, but an appeal may be taken to the Supreme Court by Attorney-General Craw-ford, because, while the Boyd claim is small, the total sum involved is $30,000 and the present is only a test case.

JANITOR AWARDED DAMAGES. Was Beaten by Man Who Strayed

Into Schoolhouse With Woman, verdict of $500 was returned by a jury in Judge Frazer's court yesterday in damage suit of James Driscoll, janitor of Couch School, against Ashbury Wynkoop, a tinner, for assault and battery. According to the evidence of Driscoll, the beating he received at Wynkoop's hands was severe and unprovoked, and he did not know at the time who his assailant was, never having seen him peviously, but as-certained his identity a few days later. Driscoll testified that on the evening of December 3, 1902, he entered the school basement to build fires, so that the building would be warm when school opened on a bench. The name or description of Wynkoop's companion was not mentioned during the trial, but reports are that he was accompanied by a young woman. Driscoll said that he inquired, upon observing that he was not alone in the base-

And Wynkoop, not obeying his order, he remarked: "Move on; get out; if you don't I'll ring up the hurry-up wagon." Wynkoop answered, "I don't have to get out; you better take cure, because I have a pull with Mr. Warren, and I will have you fired.

"You have?" says I "Well, you will have to get out just the same," continued Driscoll, who further stated that he then took hold of Wynkoop by the left arm and proceeded to lead him up the stairs. when Wynkoop struck him on the mouth and on the nose, and continued beating him as they reached the street. Driscoll stated that his jaw was fractured, a number of his teeth were knocked out, and he was badly bruised and battered. Wynkoop ran away on hearing people approaching. Driscoll testified that he was unable to work for two weeks, and medical and dental services cost him $100

Other witnesses were called in behalf of the plainth, and Driscoli offered in evidence Wynkoop's hat, of which he had retained possession since the night of the striking Driscoll, but said it was done in self-defense; that Driscoll was the ag-gressor, and struck him with a lantern which he carried, and was ill-natured and abusive. Charles F. Lord appeared as atorney for Driscoll, and George Cameron for the defense.

BROWN MUST PAY ALIMONY,

Clackamas Farmer Ordered to Provide for Wife and Pay for Divorce. In the divorce suit of Myrtle Brown In the divorce suit of alyrus brown against George Brown, a Clackamus County farmer, Judge Cleland yesterday decided that Brown must pay John F. Caples, the wife's attorney, $150 fees, $50 as fees and contribute $50 per month for the support of Mrs. Brown. The matter of the defendant contributing the means to enable his wife to prosecute the case and to provide for her mainte-nance was argued in court last Friday. Brown was represented by C. D. Latour-ette and George C. Brownell as attorneys, and Judge Caples held the fort for the plaintiff, arguing that her husband had

Trial of Oscar Stone Delayed. The trial of Oscar Stone, alias Clark, or a charge of larceny by ballee in procur-ing a check for $300 and $50 cash from Dr. C. W. Cornelius, which was set for yesterday in the State Circuit Court, was continued without day, by stipulation en-tered into between District Attorney John Manning and Charles H. Carey, attorney or the defense. One reason for the ontinuance was that Mr. Carey was unable to be in attendance in court, because he was engaged in another case. Stone is accused of swindling numerous persons by means of fraudulent timber land loca tions. He was arrested recently at Sand Point, Idaho, where he was engaged in practicing law under the name of Clark. He occupies a cell in the County Jail in Timber Not Up to Expectations, Suit was filed in United States District Court yesterday by T. B. Wines, who is from Wisconsin and, it appears, knows when he gets the worst of it, alleges that, not only, would the land upon which he was located, not cruise 1,500,000 feet of lumber, but the measily little 2,000,000 feet he found is of poor quality and not suited to market pur-poses. He now thinks $3000 would be about ight and asks the court to award him by Boy Angler, Many of Portland's anglers will be surprised to learn that the season for bass fishing closes tonight at midnight and not on November 1. Most of the fishermen, in a vague way, know when the season opens and closes, but they are apt to be misled by following the advertise-ment cards of gun stores which state that the season does not end until November 1.

BASS SEASON CLOSED. Big Fish Caught in Columbia Slough

Mrs. Steingrandt Wants Divorce EUGENE, Or., Sept. 29.—(Special.)— Mary C. Steingrandt has begun suit in the Circuit Court against her husband, George Steingrandt, for divorce, alleging desertion as cause of action.

EVER GIVE Your Thinker a Thought.

Funny things happen in this world and ow and then some of them make one an interested observer, for instance: Several years ago a man pursued a systematic ourse of investigation to discover what kind of elements the body would take up from the vegetable kingdom out of which to make gray matter in the brain and nerve centers throughout the body; also how to prepare this food so that it would be easily digested and allow Nature to make use of these elements. So far the proposition was all right. Question-How bring all this about? It took over two years' work to solve the the next day. He heard a noise under-neath the stairs, and, opening the door saw Wynkoop and another person sitting the result watched carefully.

When all results were proven beyond doubt the food was put on the market under the name of Grape-Nuts. Then fo lowed public anno papers and magazines that such a for was in existence and that it would per form its intended work. People all over the world realized the need of such a food and began purchasing it liberally. It attracted so much atten tion that a long list of imitators sprun up all over the country. They boile wheat, roasted it, stewed it, chopped it mixed it with rye, malt, oats and per haps hay-we are not sure-gave it fantastic name and told the public was a "brain food."

Then, from these imitators, came th offering of spoons, knitting needles, chins ware, pictures, doll bables and even pl anos to induce people to gorge themselve with the various and sundry things.
Fortunately the most of these imita tion foods are harmless and decently clean so that no real harm is done ex-cept that people who pay out money to secure a food for special service have a right to expect an equitable return for Investigation proves that in practically all cases where imitations are put upon the market the men who place them are untrained and have no knowledge of the real scientific basis of food making. If they did have they would produce original articles. The very fact that they make imitations is prima facle evidence that they have no professional ability to originate valuable articles themselves, but must get under the eaves of some orig-

In this celebrated food the right parts of the wheat and bariey are selected, they pass through various sundry me chanical processes (absolutely no chemi-cal treatment). In these processes the starchy elements are slowly transformed into a sugar now known as Post Sugar. In this form it is ready for immediate assimilation and transmission blood without taxing the digestive or-gans. By the blood, the elements which Nature uses for rebuilding the soft gray matter in the brain and nerve centers are carried to the respective parts and there made use of, while other elements known carbohydrates are carried to the muscles and tissues and there deposited and held in readiness for use when energy and warmth are demanded. Remember that simply raising the arm re-quires the expenditure and giving off of warmth and energy. Now then we must have the elements that supply warmth and energy deposited in these tissues and muscles else we cannot release them and make use of them. These are the mis-sions of Grape-Nuts, and the person who desires to make use of the proper re-builder of brain and nerve centers and keep them in first-class working order, and also make use of a supply of warmth and energy, can absolutely rely upon securing this service if they feed regularly on Grape-Nuts.

These are incontrovertible facts demonstrated by actual use by hundreds of thousands of Angio-Saxons today.

There's a reason and a profound one for the use of Grape-Nuts. The food is already cooked at the factory and can be served instantly with rich cream. It is delictous and can be made into a great

BISHOP'S TRAIL

Mulvey Will Prevent His Managing a Fight.

ALLIED WITH CLANCY INSEATTLE

Boss of Sports in Queen City Will Turn Police or Sheriff Loose on Herrera-McClelland Contest If Attempt Is Made.

It is very uncertain whether the Her-rera-McClellan fight will take place in Seattle on October 7, as advertised. Al Barton, under whose management the contest was placed, says positively that the two men will fight on the date set. On the other hand Frank Clancy, a sporting man and politician of much renome whose word is often law in the Seattle police department, says with equal positiveness that Herrera at least will not Clancy is now in Portland. "I told Barton," said he yesterday, "that I would agree to let him pull off any fight except one in which Biddy Bishop managed Herrera. I offered him his choice of five other fighters, all in Herrera's class, and Barton agreed. Today he wired me that he has changed his mind and that he will proceed with the original arrangements. But there will be no fight. It will be stopped without any doubt."

The control of the fighting game in Seattle is nominally vested in two sporting sets, each of whom manages overy alter-nate contest. The Clancy men, however, are much the stronger of the two, politically, and now that they have got them-selves in open opposition to the Herrera ontest, it seems improbable that it will take place as planned. The Chief of Po-lice in Seattle has consented to allow the fight, but it is expected that Sheriff Cudi-hee will step in under the state statute, which prohibits prize-fighting.

Whether or not the present difficulty is due to the action or influence of M. E. Mulvey, the Salt Lake City sporting man, who is camped on Bishop's trail with the avowed intention of preventing him from pulling off any more fights, is a matter of dispute. Mulvey said that he stopped the fight and, having done so, returned to Utah on Sunday. Bishop tells the Seat-tic papers that he and Mulvey are bosom friends. But it looks as though Mulvey's statement was entirely correct. Bishop, himself, admitted it was in a telegram which he sent a day or two ago to a prominent local sporting man. "If you can induce Mulvey to withdraw his opposition," said the telegram, "we can go shead with the fight. See him at nce and answer." But Mulvey would not listen to any

"Bishop fooled my friends and myself with a fake fight," said the Sait Lake man, "and I told him then that I would follow him all over America and see that never managed another fight in this

TIMBER LANDS FOR SALE. WE ARE SOLE AGENTS FOR OVER 100,000 acres of pine timber in tracts of 640 acres to 30,000 acres each, at prices varying from $3 to $10 an acre. No such values in timber lands can be found on this Coast or in any other timber country as we are effering. The same values were sold in Minnesota in 1808, and are now worth ten for one. History will repeat itself in the propositions we control.

Actual investors will find it to their advantage to look us up, for two reasons. One is, we can deliver the goods, and the other, we furnish reliable information. Every trade stands on its merits. We never pad prices or estimates.

Forest reserve scrip always on hand at the market price. We can use some more good scripping propositions at reasonable rates in traits of 2009 acres or more, best of references furnished if desired. Correspondence solicited.
