CIVE NECRO A SHOW

Bishop Clinton's Eloquent Appeal for His People.

ROOSEVELT IS HIGHLY PRAISED

The President "Keeps the Gates of Hope Ajar"-Record Day's Seasion of A. M. E. Conference Is Interesting.

Bishop Clinton delivered a very notable address at the second day's session of the Oregon and California conference of the African Methodist Episcopal Zion Church yesterday. He declared that the pegro is entitled to a man's chance, that pegro progress is substantial, and that his ultimate triumph in his battle for equal rights to certain. He highly culogized President Roosevelt for his stand in "Reeping the door of hope ajar." The ad-frees gave great pleasure to all who heard it, and it was pronounced a very able and eloquent effort.
When Bishop Clinton called the conference to order yesterday, 13 delegates re-sponded to roll call. After the minutes of the previous day had been read and minor business details disposed of, visiting pastors were introduced, including Revs. C. E. Cline, D.D., of the Methodist Church; S. D. Kinne, Church of God; Charles E. Chase, Hassalo-Street Congregational Church, and C. C. X. Laws, Sec. ond Baptist Church. Appropriate remarks were made by these ministers, for which a rising vote of thanks was given. After the collection of brotherhood money the con-ference adjourned for the noon hour,

At 2 P. M. Blabop Clinton's report to the conference was delivered. It was able and comprehensive. That it was fully appreciated by all present was manifest by the remarks and personal thanks of-fered by each. Bishop Clinton said in making substantial progress along the lines of higher moral, mental, material and spiritual development than he is today. The deception and unformess of the fight against the negro is being shown up in its true light as never be-fore. The crisis now on is a crucial one, 'tis true, but past experience and the outcome of such experiences convince the thoughtful and observant that the negro will pass through this new crists and be the stronger after it is over,

When the white man says by implication, if not by direct statement, that, regardless of what the negro may do in the way of improv-ing hie morais, developing his intellect, by his industry and economy, by striving to become and finally by winning out in his endeavor to be a good citizen worthy of every right and privilege decreed by God and guaranteed by equitable law, he shall not enjoy such rights and privileges, the while man puts bimself in the way of a cause that will have at its back the eternal God and all fair-minded men, regardless of race or creed. The opposers of ne-gro rights may cause delays. They may by subterfuge, misrepresentation and appeals to prejudice, passion and race antipathy, win sympathy and gain others to their way of thinking, but none of these things can stop the march of justice and the triumph of right.

walk of life. Negro character is being recog-nized everywhere. Negro progress is steady and substantial in every section of our great country. Despite the opposition in the South and the sycophancy of patronising Northerners, who are prompted either by commercial greed or sinister motives, every fair-minded man will concede that the Rooseveit policy of keeping ajar the door of hope and fixing a single standard of character, culture and merit as the only fair basis for promotion to place and power and for recognition under a Government "of the people, for the people and by the people," is the only true standard, and the one that is bound to win if the National fabric remains intact. The negro should not misunderstand this pollcy or fall to interpret rightly its true meaning, which has been the theoretical policy strange that intelligent men should make such ado because the great and good man, the sangacious and unbiased statesman, the fearless and broad-minded Chief Magistrate had the courage to give it a new enunciation. It does not mean that the negro shall be recognized and favored because he is a negro. It shoes not mean that the negro will be considered because he is a partisan in politics. But it does mean that the negro makes himself a competent citizen, one possessed of character and the other substantial elements that make him an important factor in the community, he shall have portant factor in the community, he shall have a man's chance, all things being equal, the came as other men. It now remains for the negro to meet the test. The task is before us. Let each and all do their best toward making pur future better and our place in this country. an honorable and substantial one,

Presiding Elder T. Brown, of San Francisco, spoke of the great need of a resi-dent hishop and declared his intention of giving the general conference, which meets bext May in Los Angeles, a good scoring for not treating this district as it deserves. He referred to the departure of Bishop Clinton from this field as being a matter of universal regret to all mem-bers of Zion. Elder Brown is in favor of building a city or colony in Southern Cal-ifornia and stoutly maintains that "we need a million more negroes on the

JEWISH WOMEN MEET. Reception Held in Honor of Miss

Harriet Friendly.

The Portland Council of Jewish women held its first meeting ofter the Summer adjournment yesterday afternoon, and after the usual business was transacted a reception was held in honor of Miss Harriet Friendly, the retiring secretary, whose marriage to Mr. Rosenbaum, of Salt Lake City, takes place next week. Mrs. S. Sichel has been elected to fill Miss Friendly's office.

The club-room was crowded, and Miss Friendly was constantly surrounded by groups of friends, each one expressing Geep regret at her leaving Portland.

Miss Friendly has been for several years a valued worker in the council, and is one of its best beloved members, Mrs. S. M. Blumauer, president of the Council, gave an address of much interest, in which she spoke in a gratified man-ner of the work accomplished by the Council during the past year, and expressed hope for the future success of hilanthropic enterprise. In speaking of the help Dr. Wise has seen to the Council, Mrs. Blumauer said: "In all our work we have felt the guiding hand of our beloved minister and friend. Whether in the study classes, in the industrial work or individual work.

we have ever been conscious of his help, of his pride in our endeavors." The president also paid a high tribute to Miss Friendly, whose help in every-thing, she said, had always been willingly and gladly given.

"We hope," said Mrs. Blumauer, "we feel that we may have been a help to her a help in unfolding the beautiful chareter that is hers, in giving her the opporunities" that do not come outside of nited effort.

"For some years it goes along this line: It is a shining individual star, shining in its own orbit, interested in none other; by and by it awakens to the knowledge of its own narrowness of life, it is brought into contact with other clubs of higher purpose and broader work, it sees ideals above and beyond itself, the progressive spirit selece it and to vitalize old purposes, new

During the reception hour the social committee served cake and ices. GOVERNMENT WOULD ENLARGE HEAPPTON QUARANTINE STATION

Owners of Land Reluctant to Sell, Hoping It Will Be Railroad Terminus Soon.

An effort is being made to purchase from the North Pacific Improvement Company about 200 acres of the property included in the Knappton townsite on the Columbia River for the purpose of enlarging the Government quarantine sta-tion at that place. The owners of the property, most of whom are Portland men, are reluctant to consider the proposition, because Knappton was selected as a townsite and it is believed that a quarantine station.

Knappton, which is situated on the north side of the Columbia opposite Astoria, was laid out some years ago by the Improvement Company because of its lo-cation which perticularly adapts it to be a coast terminus of a railroad and a general shipping point. At the time that the town was established it was believed that a road would be built into it in a short time. This part of the plan fell through and the place has been practically at a standstill since then. Some years ago the Government established a quarantine station there and has maintained it up to the present time. It apadequate to meet the increased demands on it and the Government has decided to enlarge it. A short time ago a letter was received by the Improvement Company from the quarastine officials under the War Department, stating that the department desired to purchase about 200 acres of the townsite owned by the Improvement Company, the same to be used for in-creasing the quarantine station. The let-ter inquired the price that would be accepted by the company for the desired land, and stated that a recommendation would be made to Congress that the purchase be made, Upon receipt of this communication the owners of the townsite held a meeting and drafted a reply in which they stated that Knappton had been laid out for a rallroad terminus and that they thought the price which they would ask for the designated property would be more than the Government would care to pay. The matter now rests in this condition.

While the owners of the property have neither decided to sell or not to sell the property to the Government, they are reuctant to consider the proposition because they believe better prospects are in view. From the fact that the Northern Pacific has made numerous surveys in this section for a proposed road to Knappton and further along the Coast, the promoters are inclined to believe that sooner or inter that road will build into their town. They are thoroughly con-vinced of the town's superior fitness for a railroad terminus and fear that the sale of any large tract of it for use as a quarantine station would militate against it from a railroad standpoint. As a consequence they are reluctant to give the Government a definite answer until they can learn the exact intentions of the Northern Pacific.
