Smith avers further that he entered into a contract with Caterlin to sell Smith's stock for him and, receiving no money or report of sales, on June 5 and June 11, 1903, demanded the return of the stock certificate. Fleming answered that Caterlin had no claim on the stock, but the shareholders of the company were dissatisfied because of Smith's refusal to make a statement regarding what had become of the $400 belonging to the corporation.

FAMILY JARS NOT GOOD CAUSE

Court Pauses Before Legally Separating Couple, Who Had Lived Together for 35 Years, but Woman Would Not Be Reconciled.

While engaged in the trial of a divorce case yesterday Judge Frazer took occasion to remark that it was time the court put a stop to easy divorces and also that ordinary family jars did not furnish sufficient grounds for a divorce.

HIGH CLASS DRUGGISTS AND — OTHERS.

The better class of druggists, everywhere, are men of scientific attainments and high integrity, who devote their lives to the welfare of their fellow men in supplying the best of remedies and purest medicinal agents of known value, in accordance with physicians' prescriptions and scientific formula. Druggists of the better class manufacture many excellent remedies, but always under original or official names and they never sell false brands, or imitation medicines. They are the men to deal with when in need of anything in their line, which usually includes all standard remedies and corresponding adjuncts of a first-class pharmacy and the finest and best of toilet articles and preparations and many useful accessories and remedial appliances. The earning of a fair living, with the satisfaction which arises from a knowledge of the benefits conferred upon their patrons and assistance to the medical profession, is usually their greatest reward for long years of study and many hours of daily toil. They all know that Syrup of Figs is an excellent laxative remedy and that it gives universal satisfaction, and therefore they are selling many millions of bottles annually to the well informed purchasers of the choicest remedies, and they always take pleasure in handing out the genuine article bearing the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—printed on the front of every package. They know that in cases of colds and headaches attended by biliousness and constipation and of weakness or torpidity of the liver and bowels, arising from irregular habits, indigestion, or over-eating, that there is no other remedy so pleasant, prompt and beneficial in its effects as Syrup of Figs, and they are glad to sell it because it gives universal satisfaction.

Owing to the excellence of Syrup of Figs, the universal satisfaction which it gives and the immense demand for it, imitations have been made, tried and condemned, but there are individual druggists to be found here and there, who do not maintain the dignity and principles of the profession and whose greed gets the better of their judgment, and who do not hesitate to recommend and try to sell the imitations in order to make a larger profit. Such preparations sometimes have the name—"Syrup of Figs"—or "Fig Syrup"—and of some spurious concern, or fictitious fig syrup company, printed on the package, but they never have the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—printed on the front of the package. The imitations should be rejected because they are injurious to the system. In order to sell the imitations they find it necessary to resort to misrepresentation or deception, and whenever a dealer passes off on a customer a preparation under the name of "Syrup of Figs" or "Fig Syrup," which does not bear the full name of the California Fig Syrup Co. printed on the front of the package, he is attempting to deceive and mislead the patron who has been so unfortunate as to enter his establishment, whether it be large or small, for if the dealer resorts to misrepresentation and deception in one case, he will do so with other medicinal agents, and in the filling of physicians' prescriptions, and should be avoided by every one who values health and happiness. Knowing that the great majority of druggists are reliable, we supply the immense demand for our excellent remedy entirely through the druggists, of whom it may be purchased everywhere, in original packages only, at the regular price of fifty cents per bottle, but as exceptions exist it is necessary to inform the public of the facts, in order that all may decline or return any imitation which may be sold to them. If it does not bear the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—printed on the front of every package, do not hesitate to return the article and to demand the return of your money, and in future go to one of the better class of druggists who will sell you what you wish and the best of everything in his line at reasonable prices.

IN TOMORROW'S OREGONIAN

A VOYAGE TO SALEM CITY.

An extravaganza based on the report of deadly microbes in the Willamette. Of this "pipe-dream," John Fleming Wilson is the chronicler, Lute Pease the illustrator and Wexford Jones the writer of jingles.

NEW POEMS BY KIPLING.

A volume containing 25 new poems has just been issued and there will be published tomorrow stanzas from several of the best. The South African War inspired the best among them.

TEN YEARS IN OREGON.

First chapters of "Ten Years in Oregon" (1834-44) by D. Lee and J. H. Frost, Methodist missionaries. This book has long been out of print and copies are very scarce. It cannot fail to interest the general reader who wishes to know more of Old Oregon and is of special value to students of Oregon history.

THROUGH YELLOWSTONE PARK ON HORSEBACK.

High Herdman concludes his account of a 200-mile glorious ride and paints a fine picture of the Grand Canyon.

OBADIAH OLDWAY REJOICES.

In his letter this week, he drops his pessimism and felicitates himself over an advantageous arrangement with city sportsmen who wanted to kill China pheasants.

TOM FITCH'S RECOLLECTIONS.

Sunday's offering, "The Golden Gate," deals with San Francisco characters. An interesting incident is related of how a gambler aided "Fighting Joe" Hooker in tendering his services to the Government in 1861.

RAISING CHICAGO'S TRACKS.

How a movement, started in the interest of saving human life, has resulted in the expenditure of $25,000,000.

IN THE CHIEF CITY OF DENMARK.

Frank G. Carpenter writes of Copenhagen as a commercial center and seaport and tells of a farmers' gigantic butter and egg trust which has proved profitable.

COREA, THE OMOIO OPERA NATION.

A bright correspondent describes this little Kingdom with its queer legends and superstitions, its funny government and social customs.

A CHIP AND THE OLD BLOCK.

A London correspondent, writing of Joseph Chamberlain and his son, Austen, dwells on the remarkable friendship between father and son and of the political alliance between them.

ALL THE NEWS AND THE CUSTOMARY DEPARTMENTS.

WHY WE ARE HERE

Divine command. "In all things use hospitality." The hospitality that reaches out to the new member and makes her feel a part of us; the cordial greeting to the old, without the form of an introduction; the kindness that will remember the sick or afflicted sister and send her help and sympathy. As in the days of old when Aaron and Hur upheld the hands of Moses, so has it ever been in the struggle of life. The efforts of those who have been chosen as leaders are of no avail unless they receive the loyal support of those who put them there, and this and this only are the battles won at the going down of the sun.

BECAUSE HE WAS NERVOUS

Tichenor Answered Question Wrong, and May Lose His Position.

Because on the same day that he took a civil service examination as policeman, he had to appear in the Municipal Court to answer a charge of assault and battery, C. H. Tichenor grew nervous and excited and incoherently answered two questions. These were sufficient to debar him from the successful list, so Tichenor is very much worked up over his position. He has been temporarily appointed a member of the police force and is now on duty. Unless he is allowed to take the examination again, he must leave the force when his temporary appointment has expired.

Tichenor finished the examination in short order, and passed in his paper first of all, 40 minutes from the time he began. One of the questions of which he failed to see the import was: "Is it wrong for a police officer to accept money or gifts for services rendered while on duty?" Tichenor said "No," which meant that the examiners meant at all. A similar question was another stumbling block. As Tichenor made a good record while on the force under a previous administration, and is an experienced officer, it is probable that the Civil Service Commission will prepare another test for his benefit.

SOLVE MARKET PROBLEM

Italian Vegetable Men Now Sell to Commission Houses.

The question of a market place for the Italian vegetable gardeners, which has been agitated for a number of years, appears to have settled itself. Notwithstanding the clamor for a market building, none was erected, and now the gardeners do not want one. Some time ago they formed a union and after getting together and talking over matters, they arranged a plan to do business in a different manner from before. Formerly the gardeners stood their wagons on Second street in the vicinity of Salmon and Main and along Main and Salmon streets, and disposed of their wares early in the morning to peddlers, grocers and other dealers, but recently they have congregated around the plaza blocks. Once they

HELVETIA MILK CONDENSING CO. Highland, Illinois

TRIALS of MOTHERHOOD

I suffered for nine years with ovarian troubles making life a burden to myself as well as to my family. During that time I had two miscarriages and although we longed for a child to bless our home this seemed impossible. I had constant recurring bearing down pains in the pelvic organs and a pulling through my limbs with frequent headaches. I felt sick at my stomach and vomited frequently and no medicine helped me until I tried Wine of Cardui. From my general health improved, the pains gradually lessened and after 18 weeks I was well. I saw now the happy mother of a boy eighteen months old and my husband joins me in sending heartfelt thanks to you for your splendid medicine. Without it, I would have been a childless, instead of a happy and well mother.

WINE of CARDUI

It was not strange that Mrs. Nirdlinger should have a miscarriage after suffering nine years with ovarian troubles. This weakness made her unequal to the task of bringing a healthy child into the world. Bearing down
