

TAKEN AT WORD

Mitchell Thinks Brownell Is Sincere.

DON'T WANT HALL'S PLACE

Fulton Holds George C. Talks for Talk's Sake.

AGREEMENT APPEARS FAR OFF

Troublesome District Attorneyship Will Again Be Taken Up on the Arrival of Williamson and Hermann in Washington.

AFFAIRS OF DELEGATION.

DISTRICT ATTORNEYSHIP—Mitchell and Williamson stick by Moreland; Fulton and Hermann, by Brownell. The President has already picked out several good men in the event that the Senators make separate recommendations. The Department of Justice is well satisfied with John Hall, the present incumbent. BURNS LAND OFFICE—The delegation is not disturbed because A. W. Gowen has not been appointed receiver. It now expects no action until early next year. 1905 FAIR—Senators Mitchell and Fulton are planning an active campaign, and will secure one of the vacancies on the committee on industrial exhibitions. GRANT'S PASS—Postmaster C. E. Harmon is recommended for reappointment.

OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washington, Oct. 20.—The Oregon Senators are in Washington and located for the winter. Senator Mitchell arrived last night. Senator Fulton this evening. They have taken adjoining suites in the Highlands, Washington's largest, most modern and most fashionable apartment-house. Senator Fulton is accompanied by his wife. Judging from what the Senators say, Mitchell still has a long term ahead of him in the office of United States District Attorney. That is to say, Senator Mitchell continues to stand by J. C. Moreland, with Representative Williamson at his back, while Senator Fulton is as determined that Brownell shall have the office. Fulton has the co-operation of Hermann in this matter. There is no compromise in sight, and pending some adjustment, Mr. Hall will hold the office.

Conference Soon to Be Held. As soon as Congressmen Williamson and Hermann arrive the delegation will hold a conference over the District Attorneyship and endeavor to get together in behalf of some man whom they can induce to succeed Hall, but if present preferences continue to run high, it is difficult to see how a compromise can be effected. It may be said, by the way, that the Department of Justice is just as well satisfied that no change is in sight, for Hall's record is entirely satisfactory to officials here. If members of the delegation should make individual recommendations and both Moreland and Brownell should be put forward, the President would probably seek the counsel of the Department of Justice, and the result would be that he would announce he could not well choose between the Senators and would therefore make no change.

Takes Brownell at His Word. Senator Mitchell says Brownell does not want the District Attorneyship; Senator Fulton entertains different views. The former takes Brownell at his word, as announced in public interviews; the latter evidently has reason to believe Brownell was talking merely for publication. Anticipating a possible recommendation from the delegation, the Administration has been making inquiries concerning some of the men most prominently mentioned in connection with the District Attorneyship, and it is believed sufficient information has been gleaned concerning some of them, at least, to convince the powers that several men will or will not do.

The delegation has not yet recommended any one for Register and Receiver at Roseburg, but expects to do so after Mr. Hermann arrives. No particular concern is felt over the delay in appointing A. W. Gowen as Receiver of the Burns office, as recently recommended. It is believed Receiver Newell will be allowed to continue in office up to January, as his present bond extends to that time. A change is looked for early in the new year. Meanwhile Secretary Hitchcock is looking up Mr. Gowen's record.

The delegation today recommended the reappointment of C. E. Harmon as Postmaster at Grant's Pass.

PLAN CAMPAIGN FOR 1905 FAIR. Oregon Senators After Place on Industrial Exposition Committee. OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washington, Oct. 20.—Between now and the time Congress convenes the Oregon Senators will map out a plan of campaign in behalf of an appropriation for the Lewis and Clark Exposition. The bill may be introduced in the special session, but no action can be had until the committee organizes in December. The two Senators are determined to exert every effort in behalf of this bill, and as a first step in this direction will endeavor to secure one of the two Republican vacancies on the committee on industrial exhibitions. Senator Mitchell has already talked with a number of Senators and Representatives, and has secured pledges of support. "Every Senator or Representative who has been to Fort Vancouver this summer has promised to assist us," he said today in discussing the matter.

CHAMBERLAIN HIS GUEST. Roosevelt Has Governor of Oregon Take Luncheon With Him. OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washington, Oct. 20.—Governor Chamberlain, of Oregon, was the guest of President Roosevelt at luncheon today, having received a special invitation at his hotel this morning. Later when he called on Secretary Hitchcock he was unable to discuss state land matters, because Land Commissioner Richards was detained at home by the illness of his wife. The Secretary desires that Commissioner Richards shall be present at the hearing, and if Mrs. Richards' condition permits, the Governor will present his case tomorrow.

RUSSIA GIVEN CONTROL.

China Said to Have Concluded Treaty Regarding Manchuria. BERLIN, Oct. 20.—The special correspondent of a Berlin newspaper quotes the Vostochki Yenching, a journal published in the Far East, as authority for the statement that Paul Lesnar, Russian Minister to China, has concluded a treaty with China which gives Russia practical control of Manchuria, although under a nominal Chinese government.

Russia undertakes to conduct any war arising with a third power from the new treaty. The treaty provides that the appointment and dismissal of the Governor-General and Commander-in-Chief of the provinces in Manchuria shall be effected by the Chinese government in agreement with the Russian diplomatic representatives. The Chinese troops stationed in the three provinces of Manchuria shall be under Russian control, but if the Chinese soldiers are incapable of maintaining order and suppressing brigandage Russia is to have the right of using her own troops to this end. Trading in Manchuria and the exploitation of mines there is prohibited except to Russians and Chinese. The customs are to be under Russian and Chinese control and disputes are to be settled by a Russian referee. In the event of war with a third power arising from the new treaty it will be conducted by Russia and in co-operation should China withdraw her co-operation Russia will carry on the war alone, and in the event of victory China shall cede Manchuria to Russia and immediately withdraw her civil and military officials.

WAR PREPARATIONS GO ON.

Russia and Japan Making Little Effort to Continue Negotiations. LONDON, Oct. 20.—A dispatch to Reuters' Telegram Company from Tokyo says: "No conference between the Japanese and Russian Ministers of Foreign Affairs, and Baron De Rosen, the Russian Minister, has occurred since October 14. Preparatory measures, however, are apparently proceeding briskly. Vice Admiral Togo, a man of unusual decision, has been appointed to command the standing squadron. This change of command has attracted attention."

BIDS PARTY REMAIN LOYAL.

Duke of Devonshire Fears Home Rule Worse Than Protection. LONDON, Oct. 20.—The Duke of Devonshire, until recently Lord President of the Council, in a published letter, while acknowledging the national question, may require a reconsideration of the Liberal Unionists' attitude toward the government, advised the Liberal Unionists at present to remain loyal to the government, "especially as precautions against Home Rule proposals in Parliament are still necessary."

Russian Warships for Orient.

CAHAIR, France, Oct. 20.—Four Russian torpedo boats bound for Port Arthur put into Brest last night for coal.

INDIGNANT AT AMERICA.

Russia Don't Like the Opening of the Port of Mukden. NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—The Russians are very indignant with the United States government for including in the proposed opening of Mukden to the commerce of the world, cables the Chee Foo correspondent of the Herald. They say, he asserts, that the St. Petersburg government will protest and maintain that the opening of this new treaty port will never take place. The Port Arthur Russian newspaper Novos Krai has published a strongly worded article on the subject. It declares that the treaty is proof of the aggressive nature of the policy of the United States. This policy, the paper declares, infringes the rights of Russia and her construction of the Manchurian Railway and the concession by China to Russia of the sole commercial exploitation of Manchuria.

The Russian fleet has returned from Dalny.

The Russian fleet has returned from Dalny. The garrison there and 20,000 Chinese laborers are building barracks for over 20,000 men. The defenses to the north of Tallin, Wan are being strengthened.

Friendship Will Be Maintained.

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—Admiral Alexander, Viceroy of the far East, seems indisposed, according to the Herald's Port Arthur correspondent, to discuss the opening of Mukden as a treaty port. "Of what settles this question all right," he said, "maintaining the old friendship with America. International commerce must go on."

Regarding the alleged construction of forts at Yangampo in Corea, he emphatically denied it. "These stories are all fabrications," he said, "to cause a sensation. There is no fort, no single officer, not a single soldier and not a single cannon at Yangampo."

Regarding Manchuria, he said trouble with the Chinese is being constantly occurring outside the railway zone. He said he often received petitions from the Chinese begging him to retain troops, and he would receive more petitions were not the people terrorized.

GRAFT TO BE UNEARTHED

Chicago City Council Votes $5000 to Committee Handling the Work. CHICAGO, Oct. 20.—An appropriation of $5000 was voted by the Council last evening to pay the expenses of uncovering graft in the City Hall. This action was taken when Alderman Hermann told the Council that his committee investigation "graft" would be able to accomplish great things if only had some money to work with. He said the committee wanted to look into grave abuses in administrative methods as well as specific instances of graft. The appropriation was voted promptly.

Contributors to Conscience Fund.

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—Collector of the port Nevada N. Stranahan has received from a conference of citizens of a Western state the following letter: "At the age of 19 I came with my parents to settle in this country. Coming into the port of New York in September, 1850, with my father, we smuggled broad cloth, which cost in Great Britain some $30, to make a suit which I afterward wore as a suit which I still wear. The collector gave the information and has received a postal order for $20, the amount of duty and interest."

Yellow Jack Still Spreading.

LAREDO, Tex., Oct. 20.—Tonight's official yellow fever bulletin shows: New cases, 25; deaths, 2; total cases to date, 471; total deaths to date, 27.

IN EXTRA SESSION President Calls Congress to Meet November 9.

RELIEF TO CUBA IS THE WORK Important to the Public Interests of the United States That Reciprocity Treaty Become Effective Soon as Possible.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—The President today issued the following proclamation: "Whereas, By a resolution of the Senate March 19, 1898, the approval by Congress of the reciprocal commercial convention between the United States and the Republic of Cuba, signed at Havana on December 12, 1898, is necessary before the said convention shall take effect, and Whereas, it is important to the public interests of the United States that the said convention shall become operative as early as may be possible, and Therefore, I, Theodore Roosevelt, President of the United States of America, by virtue of the power vested in me by the constitution, do hereby proclaim and declare that an extraordinary occasion requires the convening of both houses of the Congress of the United States at their respective chambers in the City of Washington on the 8th day of November next at 12 o'clock noon, to the end that they may consider and determine whether the approval of the Congress shall be given to the said convention. "All persons entitled to act as members of the 58th Congress are requested to take notice of this proclamation. "Given under my hand and seal of the United States at Washington, the 20th day of October, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and three, and of the independence of the United States the one hundred and twenty-ninth. "THEODORE ROOSEVELT. "By the President: John Hay, Secretary Consul-General Steinhardt at Havana has arrived here with the idea in view of interesting business men in the Cuban reciprocity treaty. "It is earnestly to be hoped that the treaty will pass," Mr. Steinhardt said. "Considering the proximity of the two countries and the advantage of lower freight rates, the United States should be able to compete successfully with European manufacturers and merchants, even if we left out of the reckoning the superior sagacity of Americans. "The Cubans desire the adoption of the treaty, as it will insure to them a market for the next five years, and they are confident that at the expiration of this period the relations of the two countries will be so closely cemented that a renewal of the treaty will be easily effected because it will be to the manifest interest of both countries. Cuba is importing from us at the rate of $30,000,000 a year, and I confidently believe that in six months after the passage of the treaty the total will be doubled. Most of the increase will be in cotton goods and in rice. With prices declining in the United States it should quickly regain the Cuban market and sell much more to the island than ever before."

TRIBUTE TO ALVERSTONE London Times Thinks He is Only Commissioner Without Bias.

LONDON, Oct. 21.—The Times says Lord Alverstone is the only Commissioner who could fairly be said to have approached the subject absolutely without bias, save for the natural bias of a Briton in favor of British interests. "We doubt if, after mature reflection," says the Times, "the Canadians will feel they could have hoped for any more favorable results if they had brought the case before an actual court of arbitration. As it is, the matter has been dealt with in the most satisfactory way of friendly negotiations between the two nations. The estimable gain of definitely settling a question offering perennial opportunities for discord between the two great and kindred nations far outweighs any disappointment at the decision, which, after all, practically leaves things as they were found. "But you have—" "Enough!" "I was just going to explain—" "This is Frederick, your honor," cried Mr. Goodhart. "Oh!" said the Judge. Frederick testified that the incident was very hazy in his mind, and he was sentenced to 15 days in the Tombs. The brothers wept copiously over each other's shoulders, and William was so overcome with emotion that he was led over the Bridge of Sighs without a word of protest. Frederick found himself free. He wondered if the Judge had remitted the sentence. He absent-mindedly began to move toward the gate. By this time William had heard the station, resulting in many persons losing portions of their clothing. DROMIOS IN COURT. How Twins Were Mixed in a New York Court.

New York Commercial Advertiser. The incident of Dromios of Syracuse and Dromio of Ephesus was quite outdone today in the Court of Special Sessions, when Otto charged Otto with striking him, Otto, in the eye on October 4, when he, Otto, came from a barber shop where his twin brother, the complainant, Otto, was also employed. One Otto looked so much like the other Otto in size, color and haberdashery that Presiding Justice Wyatt leaped over and studied the defendant and the complainant for a while. Philip Goodhart, the lawyer for Otto, the defendant, stepped forward and cheerfully explained: "You see, your honor, these are twins." "You are christened William," he said. "One was christened William, and the other got the name of Frederick. Otherwise, indeed, they are not as much alike as one would judge from outward appearances." "William, the complainant, is quiet and peaceable," he went on, "but Frederick sometimes drinks." William took the stand and said that he and his twin brother lived together at 129 Delancey street. "On October 4," said William, wiping his eyes, "our dear brother, my only brother, my twin brother Frederick came home drunk; yes, drunk. He said he wanted to go to the theater. I told him to go and see Mr. Warner in 'Drink.' Thereupon he struck me in the eye." Judge Wyatt looked away for a moment, and in that moment Will got down from the chair and Fred slipped in. "We've heard enough," said Judge Wyatt. "But you have—" "Enough!" "I was just going to explain—" "This is Frederick, your honor," cried Mr. Goodhart. "Oh!" said the Judge. Frederick testified that the incident was very hazy in his mind, and he was sentenced to 15 days in the Tombs. The brothers wept copiously over each other's shoulders, and William was so overcome with emotion that he was led over the Bridge of Sighs without a word of protest. Frederick found himself free. He wondered if the Judge had remitted the sentence. He absent-mindedly began to move toward the gate. By this time William had heard the claim of the Tombs gate behind him. He protested so vigorously that the turnkey sent back to the court to see if his strange tale was really true. Frederick was near the door when Court Officer Philip Glass ran after him and brought him back. "Had he gotten away," said Judge Wyatt sternly, "you would have been broken, Glass."

Divided in Spelling and Politics. Boston Transcript.

The Earl of Denbigh's given name Rudolph sounds odd as that of a British peer, and thereby hangs a tale of interest to genealogists. The Earls of Denbigh claim descent from the Counts of Hapsburg, with whom Rudolph was the historical name. The first of the family in Great Britain was Geoffrey, who entered the service of King Henry III, who died more than 600 years ago. Two Geoffrey claimed the dominion of Lauffenburg and Rheinfelden in Germany, and the surname of Feilding, Feilding, or Fliding is derived from "elden." The Feildings have been divided in spelling and in politics. Some of them have been royalists and others have been militant Liberals, as was illustrated in the time of the great civil war, when father and son took opposite sides. The Earl of Denbigh and Viscount Feilding appearing in arms against one another. The present Earl of Denbigh owns one of the most interesting and most valuable of the souvenirs of that troublous time, the jeweled miniature which Charles I gave to Sir Henry Firebrace on the scaffold. This descended to the Earl through the marriage of one of his ancestors to a grand-daughter of Sir Henry Firebrace. The Feildings have been divided in religion as well as in politics. The present Earl is a Catholic, but others of his name have held high preferments in the Church of England. Great Mining Strike in Spain. Political enemies of President Roosevelt are making capital of the recent exposures of fraud and grafting in the postal department, charging up the crimes of officers and clerks, appointed under former administrations, against the President. They are simply bringing their own hides to the tannery, for everybody knows that it takes backbone and grit to oust fraud and corruption these days especially when it means the ill will of a strong political machine. Such attacks simply prove the necessity of having a man like Roosevelt at the helm.
