SPRING LAMB IN JANUARY .- R. Scott, the woll-known stockman, of Milwaukie, was explaining to some of his friends in this city yesterday how he intended to fulfill the promise he made to the Livestock Breeders' Association. He pledged him-self that in case they would hold the next meeting of the association in this city he ould furnish them with something in the ne of butcher's meat which they could get no where else. The meeting will be held about January IS, and he proposes to feast them on genuine Spring lamb. He has marketed one lot of Spring lambs produced by his Dorset sheep this season and has already a number of a second lot on hand, some of them four weeks old. The mothers and their lambs will be turned loose in the wheat fields as goon as the green blodes of wheat have started get no where else. . The meeting will be 65 the green blades of wheat have started and by the middle of January he says the lambs will be ready for slaughtering and will have all the sweetness and flavor of ordinary Spring lambs, although they were born in September and killed in January. This may seem a sort of "How-old-is-Ann" puzzle to outsiders, but Mr. Scott is determined to show the members of the Livestock Growers' Association that Oregon Spring lamb can be marketed in Chicago in February, and he depends on the green blades of Oregon Winter wheat to do it.

INDEX OF BUILDING ACTIVITY.-The fact that the amount paid at the office of the Waterworks during the month of September for water used in connection with erection of buildings on the West Side was $800, more than was ever received from this source in one month before, will give an idea of the amount of building progress in the city. Building control of the control of th amounted to $800 in September, and about $300 on the Bast Side. For a number of years during the hard times the receipts from this source did not amount to 5100 a year. The receipts are not likely to be so large during October, not on account of rainy weather, however, for all builders are compelled to pay for water for wetting bricks, even when there is so much rain that they have to keen the build. rain that they have to keep the brick covered up, to prevent it from becoming water sonked. It is safe to say that water receipts from this source will next Summer far exceed those of the past

RAID ON UNLICENSED DOGS .- Poundmaster Reed has more work on hand these days than he can well attend to. He has been making a special effort lately to rid the city of unlicensed dogs, though when it is known over 1500 licenses for canines have been issued one would hardly imagine that there were many running at large without licenses. During the past ten days the dogoatchers have, however, turned in over 200 such, about half of which have been redeemed and the other which have gone to their happy hunting grouns. The license officer is certain that there are at least a thousand more on the city, on which the license has not been paid. While this raid was being made on dogs, people in the thinly settled outskirts of the city have turned all their cattle loose to graze on their neighbors' property, and the pound men have been obliged to go out and gather in these cattle. They corralled ten for one man and scores for others. One fine paid will satisfy the owners of the cattle for a while and so the crusade againt un-licensed dogs is to be resumed and will be kept up, as long as the crematory holds

DESTRUCTION OF OLD BUILDING PRO-CRESSES.—The demolition of the old Me-chanics Pavillon is proceeding to the satisfaction of the company which is to re-place it with a city market. Great speed in the tearing down is prevented by the necessity of removing the debris as fast as it is loosened, as if the whole were torn down in a rush space would have to be down in a rush space would have to be found on which to pile it. The north wing of the pavilion, 50x200 feet, which is covered with weather boarding, and is a covered with weather boarding. substantial structure, has been sold to a man who proposes to cut it in two and move it some distance south onto a vacant quarter block and make a livery stable 100 feet square out of it. The Market Company is contracting for material for the new market and has sent a man to Los Angeles to look over the market there, which is said to be a very fine one and see what features of it will be best to BARBBALL TODAY, 3 P. SERIES OF ORDGON TERMS FOR EUROPE.— Andrew F. Miller, of Sellwood, who is now gathering seeds of Oregon timber for n New York firm, has collected 200 large sacks of fir cones and 100 sacks of apruce cones. These were collected last week in the timber near Sandy Postoffice. These cones will be dried and the seeds shaken out. He expects to get about 100 pounds of fir seeds and half as many spruce seeds. Mr. Miller leaves this week for Mount Hood, where he will stay with O. C. Yodum, the mountain guide, and gather seeds of the pind, hemiock, yew and some seeds of the pine, hemiocs, yew and some other trees which grow in that neighbor-hood. Mr. Miller expects to be gone nearly two weeks. These seeds are for a New York firm which will fill orders for people in Europe, who want evergreens from far-off Oregon. The wealthy want trees for ornamental purposes. Mr. Miller has been gathering Oregon seeds for a mand for Oregon evergreen trees. HITCHINGS DENIES HE'S A HOODOO.—"Is is true that you are a hoodoo, Mr. Hitchings?" was the question asked of John H. Hitchings, the lawyer, who, by coming into the Police Station on two occasions just before something hig broke loose, has been dubbed a hoodoo by the police-men. "Well, I don't want to talk about men. "Well, I don't want to talk about that; it's ridiculous," replied the solon "My visit to the station last evening was purely a professional one. Lockjaw wasn't mentioned. If some persons hanging around the station exercised the same vigilance in police duty that they do in playing pranks upon reputable citizens, as in my case, the city would be far more proud of its police department. If such parasites were removed the air around the station would be more wholesome, and the payroli would be reduced. Certain mishaps at Second and Oak streets will hear of my visits after this," and Hitchings locked as wise as possible.

His Porarous Plentiful.—Big potatoes appear to be very plentiful this season. Festerday a box containing seven whopers, raised by D. B. Stoneman, near Mayview, Garfield County, Washington. was delivered at The Oregonian office by Andrew S. Laws, the well-known Indian War yeteran. The seed was sent Mr. Stoneman from Idaho and he raised 120 stoneman from lanno and he raised 129 full sacks on a quarter of an acre. The specimens sent are so large that the weight cannot be guessed and The Oregonian has no scale large enough to weigh them. Two of them are each as large as the head of an ordinary infant, and much more solid. They appear to be of much more solid. They appear to be of good quality and are shapely, but are too large to be merchantable. Such potatoes should be used to fatten hogs and cattle on.

COUNTY ROADS IN BAD CONDITION.-The county roads in the northern portion of Multnomah are said to be in a deplorable condition and in sad need of attention from the commissioners. Rev. C. L. and is cents for wetting every thousand of brick they use, and the receipts from this source on the West Side, as stated. Is far ahead of Multhomah in respect to good roads, and thinks this county should give more attention to such improvements if only from the standpoint of pride. The road to St. Helens is in good condition as far as Linnton, but from there on he says it is in bad shap, at places re-sembling a mountain trail. It has been about two years since any work was done on this particular road, and there are some sections where a public road has never been established at all.

No WORMT APPLES WANTED.-Some new beginner in the fruit-raising business, having a desire to show what he has ac-complished has sent half a dozen Gloria Mundi apples to the permanent exhibit to be preserved for exhibit. The joke of the matter is that they are of only ordinary size, and that four of them are wormy. There are too many wormy apples about town altogether. They are to befound under the top row in most of the boxes on sale at groceries and the permanent exhibit has no place for wormy apples. Only fruitgrowers who spray their trees and keep fown the codlin moth should send apples to any one for exhi-

SCALPED THEATER TICKETS.-For dealing in theater tickets without a license E. M. Fouch was brought before the Municipal Court yesterday morning. He had been arrested a short time before while in the lobby of the Marquam Theater superintending a line of messenger boys who were buying up tickets for the "Prince of Pilsen." As only ten tickets can be sold to each person, Fouch was supplying the cash, so say License Inspectors McDachern and Hutchinson, who made the ar-rest. Fouch pleaded not guilty to the charge of violating one of the license ordinances. The case was continued until

of one of the various gangs of East Side toughs. Taking advantage of the thick, cottony fog which hung over the city all evening, they tried their hand, for the first time probably, at the fascinating but dangerous game of hold-up. That they were not experts is shown by the fact that as soon as the victim resisted by throwing his assailant's foot from his neck both ran away. Then again they neck, both ran away. COMING ATTRACTIONS.

"Sherlock Holmes."

The distinguished artists, Herbert Kelcey and Miss Effe Shannon, supported by an excellent company, will begin an engagement of three nights at the Marquam Grand Theater tomorrow (Thursday) night in the famous Gillette-Doyle drams of "Sherlock Holmes." This will be one of the real dramatic events of the season, and judging from the advance season, and judging from the advance sale, which opened yesterday morning. Portland theater-goers are awakened to the occasion. In all their starring career, extending over a period of six years, never have Herbert Kelcey and Miss Effic

"Notre Dame" Draws Big Houses. Notwithstanding the strong counter attractions, the Baker Theater had one of the largest Monday night audiences of the senson to witness the third production of "Notre Dame." The play is all that it is claimed to be, a vivid portrayal of historical French life in the fifteenth century, when the burning of a witch constituted a public fete. A thrilling scene is portrayed in the second act in the Vagab leasure home, and in the last scene where Esmeralda, the gypsy queen, is all but sacrificed at the stake, condemned to death for withcraft through the persecu-tions of the student priest, Claude Frollo, and the jealous intrigue of Fleur de Ly: While the lines offer many opportunitie to display clever acting on the part of different members of the Neill-Morosco Company, much of the success of the drama depends upon the thrilling situa-tions, dramatic climaxes and novel scenic effects such as appeal to a large part of dica-Duss Concert Tickets. This wonderfully strong musical attraction will be heard at the Armory Saturday evening, October 24. Howard Boardman, musical critic of the Minneapolis Journal, speaks enthusiastically of the copeert in that city, at which nearly 6000 persons were present.

"The results achieved by the or hestra last evening under the baton of Mr. Duss were certainly of the highest order. The instrumental programme was varied, em-bracing the 'Mignon' overture, the sec-ond and fourth movements from Tschaikowski's 'Sonata Pathetique,' a 'Dance Suite' from 'Henry VIII,' two 'Lohen-grin' selections, Weber's 'Invitation to the Dance' (Weingaertner's orchestra-tion), a 'Prelide by Rachmaninoff and two numbers from Massenet's 'Scenes Pictoresques.' It would be difficult to pick out any one number for especial excellence of interpretation. The Tschalkowcellence of interpretation. The Tschalkow-ski number was a wonderful tone picture of unutterable woe, and the audience fairly shuddered as the last deep, de-spairing tones waded away into empty silence. The Duss conception and its execution of this wonderful work are simply masterly. The same might be said of the sprightly dance suit and the Rach-maninoff 'Prelude', with its weird and rapid harmonic progressions. All in all, it was an orchestral performance long to it was an orchestral performance long to be remembered.

"Mme. Nonlica never sang more glorlously. Her voice throughout its extend-ed range was full, rich, sweet and reson-ant. Not a single tone nor a harsh one marred her singing. Her selections, while they displayed all her varied resources as a singer and an artist, yet were admirably adapted to her especial style. Her first number was Elizabeth's 'Dich, Theure Halle,' from 'Tannhauser.' Twice was the diva recalled, and graciously responded with charming encores. It was with 'Isolde's Leibstod,' however, sung in place of the 'Trovatore' aria-a change evidence most agreeable to the audience -that Nordica won her greatest triumph. The audience simply went wild, and four times was she recalled, singing German ballads mostly as encores, including, however, one selection which demonstra-ted that she was mistress of the bel canto as well as of the heroic, and which won for her wild demonstrations of ap-proval and enjoyment."

REFORM FORCES MEET. Municipal Association Holds Election of Officers,
