PORTLAND, Oct. 30, 8 P. M.-Maximur

PRESIDENT ELLIOTT OF NORTH-ERN PACIFIC IS COMING.

Matters of Interest to Oregon and Washington Will Be Brought to His Attention.

Information has been received here to the effect that Howard Elliott, the newly elected president of the Northern Pacific, and the general officials of the line will make a visit to Portland and other coast cities within the next ten days or two weeks. Notice has been received by the local representatives that the general offi-clais will be here, and it is believed that President Elliott will be with them. The trip will be in the nature of an introductory tour for the new president. He is expected to spend considerable time at the chief points along the route, making himself thoroughly acquainted with the line and considering matters of proposed provement. The entire system is to be traveled over by the party before President Elliott returns to his headquarters at St. Paul to devote himself to the routine duties of his office.

According to the information received will leave St. Paul and travel westward to Scattle, where a stop of severni days will be made. It is understood that President Elliott desires to look over some of the company's property there, with a view to determining the advisa-bility of leasing it for the erection of business-houses. The officials will then, it is understood, make the trip down to Vancouver and on to Portland. The visit of the party here is looked upon as having no little significance, as it is the general inion that several matters of great interest to Oregon and Washington will be brought up for the consideration of the ew president. Foremost among these will probably be the proposition to bridge the Columbia thus doing away with the ferry that is maintained at a great expense by the Northern Pacific. That the road has planned a bridge across the river and that lans for it have been drawn is well Moown. The recent consolidation of the two Northern Pacific branch lines running into Vancouver has given rise to the belief that work in the carrying out of the bridge plan is contemplated. The visit of President Elliott is looked upon as giving color to these presumptions, and it is thought that this matter will be one of the important ones for his considera-tion when he reaches Portland.

The recent announcement that the Northern Pacific has a party of surveyors going over the line of the proposed route along the north bank of the Colum-bin is the basis for the belief that the nstruction of this road may also be a matter for the consideration of Presiden

The party will probably remain in Portland several days.

THE DELEGATION LEAVES.

Passenger Agents Will Work to Win National Convention. An enthusiastic delegation of local rail-vay passenger agents will leave this even ing to attend the annual convention of passenger agents, which meets in New Orleans November 11, 12 and 18. The delegation is headed by a committee of three consisting of James Casey, of the Chicago Milwaukee & St. Paul; J. P. Jones, of the Southern Pacific, and William Sea-chrest, of the New York Central, which will have charge of the campaign which will be made to bring the convention to Portland in 1994. The entire delegation is determined to leave nothing undone tow-ard securing the meeting for next year, as: it is believed that the results which would follow would prove highly advan-tageous to the Lewis and Clark Fair.

The association consists of some 700 lections by Hyde, of San Francisco, while sembers from all portions of the United I was Commissioner, and that I delayed States, Canada and Mexico, the individual action in such cases, whereas the truth membership being highly influential. Portland will have the solid vote of the Pacific Coast and has received assurances of support from many other sources. The local delegates ve that they will succeed in capturing the prize and are departing full of

TO IMPROVE SOUTHERN PACIFIC

Bridges Are Overhauled and Heavy Rails Are to Be Laid.

Extensive alterations are in progress on the bridges along the line of the South-ern Pacific between Portland and San Francisco. The better bridges are being thoroughly overhauled, the wooden bridges are being replaced with modern agents, urging them to constant vigilance in upholding the laws and regulations. Wherever fraud was discovered, the pensteel structures and the smaller bridges and culverts are being filled in with earth ballast. As a result of the new alty was enforced, entries cancelled and work the track will be greatly improved, and a much better speed schedule will the lands unlawfully secured restored to the public domain. It does not seem consistent that with a party of friends in his private car after a tour of inspection of the Portland'Frisco line. Mr. Isaacs announces that while a hue and cry is made against one when the present improvements are completed the road will equal any in the country, and that the company will follow up the bridge building by laying 90pound steel rails. The work of replacing the old rails is completed in California and will be commenced at once in private thousands of acres by so-called and will be commenced at once in
