House Fixes Thursday in Cuban Matter.

Declare It Prevents Taking Up of Amendments.

MINORITY REPORT SENT IN

Payne Opens the Discussion for the Measure--Williams and Other Prominent Democrats Criticise the Tariff.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16 .- The House today made a fair start on the legislation for which it was convoked in special session, adopting a rule under which a vote will be taken at 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon on the bill to make Cuban reciprocity treaty effective, and entering on a debate of the Cuban bill. The rule was adopted by a party vote, with the exception that six Repub-Bean members from Michigan and Colorado joined the minority in opposition to the rule. The Democrats opposed the rule on the ground that it was drastle and prevented a vote being taken on any amendment to the bill, while the six Republican votes cast against it included opposition to the measure as antagonistic to beet-sugar interests.

The short debate which preceded the ure. Payne opened the debate in a short spech, whose keynote was that the measure would not affect, injuriously, sugar, tobacco or any other interests, and was made by National honor and good faith. For the minority representatives Willtams (Miss.), Swanson (Va.) and Robinson (Ind.) made speeches, criticising the Republicans for their tariff policy and the excessive taxation of the public.

Tariff Will Be Issue Again. Swanson predicted danger to our foreign commerce from higher foreign tariffs, unless we initiate tariff reforms, and declared the tariff question again would become a burning political issue.

A minority report, setting forth the views of Williams (Dem., Miss.), Swanson (Dem., Va.), McClellan (Dem., N. Y.) and Clark (Dem., Mo.). Cooper (Dem., Tex.), also a member of the minority on the ways and means committee, presented a long report, condemning the Cuban treaty in toto

When the House convened, Dalzell (Pa.) reported a resolution providing that the bill reported from the ways and means committee should be considered to the exclusion of all other business, until 4 o'clock Thursday, when a vote will be taken without intervening motion.

the minority in opposition to the rule, declared it was about the most drastic rule ever introduced in the House, saying It shut off all right to perfect the bill. He said the minority desired to offer an endment, which proposed to strike out "double-barreled pledge" contained in the bill. Applause from the Democratic side greeted the statement that the bill tears down one-fifth of the schedules built up by the Republicans.

The amendment it was desired to offer was the one decided on in the Democratic caucus Saturday night.
Dalzell, replying to the charge that the rule was a most drastic measure, reverted to the time when the Wilson bill was pending and Crisp was speaker, saying he commended the minority to a study of their own parliamentary history.

Williams demanded the yeas and nays on the adoption of the rule, and they were ordered. The rule was adopted, 176 yeas to 155 nave.

With the announcement of the vote Williams asked unanimous consent to propose an amendment to the rule for a yen and may vote on the amendment pro-posed by the minority, with 20 minutes' discussion on each side, a vote then to be The House then went into committee of the whole, with Sherman (N. Y.) in the chair. The minority voted unanimously against the rule. The Republicans voting against its adoption were: Smith (Mich.), Fordney (Mich.), Loud (Mich.), McMor-Fordney (Mich.), Loud (Mich.), McMorran (Mich.), Brooks (Colo.) and Hogg

Payne Speaks for the Bill.

Payne opened the debate, urging the passage of the bill. He said no harm ould be brought to the sugar industry by the legislation now proposed, and like-wise the tobacco industry could not be harmed by the proposed new arrange-ment. He argued that no industry would be affected by the perfection of the treaty. He said, in reply to an inquiry, that he did not expect new industries to be established while this question was being agitated. "Our National pride appeals to us to pass the bill," sald Payne, in conclu-

Williams (Dem., Miss.) denied that the minority desired to amend the bill, in or-der to kill it, or to kill the treaty. He read the minority report, giving the reasons why the minority desired to amend the bill. Mr. Williams held the Republicans responsible for the fact that the treaty is not in effect today. Referring to Payne, Williams said:
"As to that part of his speech which advocates this bill upon its merits, it is almost as sudden a conversion as that of St. Paul on his way to Damascus; it is almost as sudden an occurrence as was this recent birth of the new Republic of Holds Foreign Trade in Peril. Swanson (Dem., Va.) discussed the perils which he said threaten our foreign commerce by the new tariffs passed in other countries in retaliation for the Dingley act. He insisted that, unless con-cessions are made from the present tariff before long, all of Europe would be com-bined in commercial warfare against the United States. He discussed Chamberlain's policy, saying that 55 per cent of our foreign trade was with the United Kingdom and her colonies, all of which, Kingdom and her colonies, all of which, he said, was jeopardired by this policy. Swanson then discussed the evil of which he said resulted from the failure of this country to negotiate a treaty with Canada. The exclusive policy of the Dingley act, he declared, would destroy our foreign commerce, and remarked that the Republican party would never modify it.

the Republican policy, which he said was that of excessive taxation. A letter from Mr. Ball, of Texas, announcing his resignation, was read.

The House adjourned at 4:50 P. M.

OREGON CONGRESSMEN IN LINE

Williamson, However, Is Not Much in Sympathy With Rule or Bill. OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washington, Nov. 16 .- Both the Oregon and Washington Congressmen voted today to sustain the rule brought in for the consideration of the Cuban bill, and will later vote for the bill itself. Representative Williamson, apparently, was not much in DEMOCRATS OPPOSE RULE Sympathy with either the rule or the bill. He suid, however, that his action must secessarily be in accord with the House ask on behalf of his Lewis and Clark bill, He said he had found a tremendous sentiment among Republican members against the Cuban legislation and believed if an honest vote, showing the true convictions of all Republicans, could be had, the legis-lation would be overwhelmingly defeated.

OBJECTIONS OF MINORITY.

Cooper Holds Bill Violates Both Principles of the Tariff.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16 .- A minority report on the Cuban bill, setting forth the views of Williams (Dem., Miss.), Swanson (Dem., Va.), McClellan (Dem., N. Y.) and Clark (Dem., Mo.), on the Cuban bill, was filed in the House today. Cooper was filed in the House today. Cooper (Dem., Tex.), also a member of the minority on the ways and means committee, presented a long report condemning the Cuban treaty in tote.

Mr. Cooper does not believe Cuban reciprocity will benefit either Cuba or the United States. In his opinion, he also says there are grave doubts regarding the constitutionality of the bill. onstitutionality of the bill.

The proposed legislation, Mr. Cooper says, is both un-Democratic and un-Re-publican. Un-Democratic because the beneficiaries are the sugar refining interests and some other special interests, and the benefits they will receive will have to be made good by an additional tax on the whole people upon some other article. It is un-Republican, in that it deliberately seeks to injure and interfere with a home industry by lowering tariff rates which protect that industry, thus directly inviting and stimulating a foreign industry. The treaty, he says, violates both the principle of the tariff for revenue and tariff

One of the strongest objections to the bill lies against the extraordinary supple-mental provision probibiting the House of adoption of the rule was followed by sev-eral speeches on the merits of the meas-reductions in the duty on sugar during the life of the treaty. Legislation, such as is proposed in this bill, will assuredly anger and allenate other friendly powers. The report states that the bill The report states that the bill should be amended by striking out the provision that no reduction in sugar duty should be made during the life of the treaty, deciaring that one Congress has no right to bind succeeding Congresses, and by inserting an amendment striking out the differential on refined sugar," Because," the report says, "in our opinion we would thereby deprive the great sugar trust of this country of some of its power to extort from the consumer; curtail its power to bear down the price of the raw material, thereby injuring the sugar-planter, and lessen its ability to dictate to wholesale and retail dealers in sugar the manner in which they shall do busi-ness, and the price at which they shall sell refined sugar.

"The House during the 57th Congress took this view and passed an amendment identically worded as now proposed by us. The House took that view after a full investigation and a comparatively full discussion of the question." The report says, if the amendment is adopted, the minority will gladly vote for the bill, but even if defeated, they rec-ommend its passage, "Because," the re-port states, "we think the good to be done by its passage will far overbalance the evil which will result from a failure to take advantage of the opportunity to take advantage of the opportunity to di-minish the power of the sugar trust and Williams (Dem., Miss.), speaking for the evil resulting from a bad precedent proposing, ineffectually, it is true, to prevent the country from still further reducing duties upon Cuban sugars and upon sugars from other countries whenever it by reciprocal treaty agreement or by

"As long as the present party is in power, we can perhaps hope for tariff reductions and revision only from recipro-city treaties. It is a piecemeal process, but it is better than no process at all. We hall it as a harbinger of future re-ciprocity treaties with other countries, especially those upon the American con-tinent, and notably our neighbor to the North, the Dominion of Canada."

Famous Ohio Movement Is Recalled by National Delegates-State Jubilee Night Observed.

CINCINNATI, O., Nov. 16.-The National convention of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, which began here last Friday and will continue until next Wednesday, is being held in the Ninth-Street Baptist Church, where the first gathering of its founders was held soon after the crusade started in Hills-boro, O., in 1872. Some of the original crusaders still reside at Hillsboro, among them Mrs. Eliza Jane Thompson, who be-came known as "Mother" Thompson. She is the daughter of Allen Trimble, formerly Governor of Ohio, and still resides in their ancestral home with her son and two daughters. Her husband was a prominent jurist. Mother Thompson is now in her 88th year, and was unable to get to the convention here, so the convention went to her today. The distance is 61 miles. Excursion trains started early. In addition to the 500 delegates, almost as many more joined in the pilgrimage. On the night of December 23, 1871, Dio Lewis lectured on temperance at the old Presbyterlan Church in Hillsboro. After prayer by Rev. Dr. McSurley, the crusade psalm was read and the crusade hymn sung. Addresses were made by the National officers and the crusade hymn sung. by the National officers and others, with responses from the Hillsboro crusaders. The programme in the church continued one hour, when the delegates and others of "Mother" Thompson, from which place they proceeded to Armory Hall, where the citizens served luncheon to all. On reconvening in Cincinnati at 2 P. M. there was a long discussion on the mo-tion to include "the use of tobacco" in the white-ribbon pledge.
