

STONES FLY AIR

Chicago Strikers and the Police Battle.

NUMBER OF HEADS BROKEN

Men Oppose the Reoperation of One of the Lines.

SETTLEMENT IS PREDICTED

Attorneys for Both Sides Declare They Have Reached an Agreement, but Will Not Talk Until It is Officially Ratified.

CHICAGO, Nov. 23.—Fierce fighting, in which the police used their clubs freely and twice the strikers marked the opening of the State-street cable line by the Chicago City Railway today, as far as can be ascertained, nobody was seriously injured, although there were many broken heads among the strikers who came in contact with the clubs of the police.

While the fighting was going on in the streets, the usual conferences were in progress and propositions and counter-propositions were passing back and forth. Late in the afternoon, it was said by Mayor Harrison, President Mahon, of the street-car men, and the attorneys for both sides, that an agreement had been reached, but little definite information was known concerning its nature.

All day long on State street the company was hampered by the work of the mob, which piled obstructions upon the tracks, drove pegs and spikes into the cable slot and cut trolley wires in many places. The Archer-avenue line was badly damaged early in the day and required several hours' work by a strong force of repair men, who were heavily guarded by the police. No attempt has been made to run cars on this line since the commencement of the strike.

Fewer Policemen on Cars.

In policing the four branches opened last week, as well as the State-street line, patrolmen were stationed only at street intersections, except where trouble was most likely to occur. Fewer policemen were detailed to ride on the street cars than during last week.

Five trains were put in operation on the State-street cable line. After removing spikes from the cable slot at Fifty-seventh and Fifty-first streets, the first train was blocked at Forty-first street by iron rails placed across the tracks. The crowd began to remove the obstructions, when from behind fences a volley of stones came. The police charged the rioters with revolvers drawn. A running fight ensued, the police firing upon the mob. By this time a crowd collected about the cars, and another charge by the police was made upon them before the obstruction could be removed.

At Twenty-ninth street another mob blocked the cars and threw stones. The police charged, beating many persons severely with their clubs.

More trouble was encountered by the State-street cable trains on the return trip near Sixty-third street. While the trains were downtown the mob systematically choked the cable slot with stones and scapiron and blocked the tracks with heavy steel rails. Hundreds of men, women and boys then awaited the return of the police with stones ready to throw at the trains. Scores of stones and bystanders were wounded by the clubs of the police.

During the thick of the fight at Forty-first street Mrs. Clara Lett, a passenger on the first car, jumped from the car and, braving the revolver shots and all kinds of missiles, ran, thoroughly frightened, to a place of safety. Windows had been broken near where she sat and her face was cut by glass.

Conductor J. P. Prenter, in charge of the first car, drew a big magazine revolver and fired, the after shot in the direction of the fleeing mob. At Thirty-ninth street the police resorted to strategy and drove a crowd of men into a saloon. They then suddenly surrounded the building and allowed none to leave until the trains had proceeded.

LOWER WAGE SCALE IN EFFECT

Thirty-Two Thousand Cotton Mill Employees Get 10 Per Cent Less.

BOSTON, Nov. 23.—The first of the numerous reductions in wages announced in the cotton mills of Southern New England and at half a dozen points outside of that territory, went into effect in all but one of a number of outside mills. Although $2,000,000 operatives had their pay cut down to general strike occurred in any mill. Today's cut averages 10 per cent, and places the pay schedule in line with those paid previous to the advance of March, 1902.

The reduction affected 75 mills in Fall River for the operating year 25,000 hands and about a score of corporations elsewhere in New England employing about 700 operatives.

The Fall River Iron Works, operating four print cloth mills, will cut down wages next Monday, and on that day also nearly all Rhode Island and Connecticut manufacturers will adopt the lower schedule. A cut in New Bedford will go into effect in two weeks.

Another Large Central Labor Body.

CHICAGO, Nov. 23.—By the organization of the Metal Trades Council another central labor body has been formed in Chicago. The Council will bring together many of the strongest unions in the city, working in similar crafts. Its purpose is to enable the various unions represented to act in harmony in securing terms and contracts from employers. Eleven trades unions were represented at the first meeting of the council. The council will follow the line laid down by the National Metal Trades Council, with which it will be affiliated.

Reduction in Wages Causes Strike.

PORT SCOTT, Kan., Nov. 23.—Missouri, Kansas & Texas section men here struck today against a reduction of 25 cents a day in their wages, and it is reported that men all along the line have gone out. Section men on the "Pinto and Missouri Pacific" Roads in Missouri and Kansas struck last week against similar reductions. The committee of the National Union Railway Trackmen, with headquarters here, has arranged for a meeting with General Manager Harding of the Missouri Pacific, to discuss the situation on that road.

Shot by Strike Sympathizers.

CHICAGO, Nov. 23.—Two nonunion men who applied for work at the plant of the American Hide & Leather Company, where a strike is in progress, shot and seriously wounded two members of a crowd of strike sympathizers.

today. The men who did the shooting escaped. It is claimed that they were being attacked by the crowd.

Two men, Joseph Polachinsky and Anton Zimowski, are suspected by the police of having done the shooting. They formerly belonged to the union, and left it to go back in the tannery. They were turned away by the foreman, and after they left the place were set upon by a crowd of rioters. The mob opened fire, and two of their assailants fell to the ground. The rest broke and ran while the nonunion men made their escape.

ADMINISTRATION OPPOSES IT.

Senate Leaders Determined to Bury Cuban Resolution Soon.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—The gravity of the South American situation is clearly shown by the unusual attention given by the Administration to the Newlands resolution inviting Cuba to join the states of the American Union. A similar one has been introduced periodically in Congress since the Spanish-American War. So frequent has been its introduction, and so slight the threat of sentiment upon which it hung, that this presentation in the Senate the other day almost called forth smiles of derision. But there has been a change of sentiment in the very few hours. It is no longer considered a harmless measure. Advice now has been received that the suspicious Cubans have been aroused as to the intentions of this Government.

A hurried conference of the President and his Senators resulted in the decision that instant and positive disclaimer could alone prevent the possibility of misunderstanding with the Cuban government.

President Marroquin, of Colombia, is striving to inflame the Central and South American republics against the United States. He charges that aggression is the aim of Uncle Sam, and that other governments will be undermined, which, he declares, have been. Heavy guns were directed at the Newlands resolution today.

Others will follow tomorrow. Then it is expected to add to this Old Homestead Store long ere this. Only the foundations are ready—so, regardless of costs or profits, we're going to TURN OVER THESE NEW, GRAND HOLIDAY STOCKS TO YOU FAST AS THEY ARRIVE AT PRICES LOWER THAN YOU EVER READ OF BEFORE ON EQUAL QUALITY MERCHANDISE. THIS IS NO STOREHOUSE! IT'S A STORE—And the goods must keep pace going out with those coming in. That's organization—store organization—the grandest in all the West. AND PORTLAND FOLK ARE PROUD OF THEIR STORE!

TO LEARN OF HIS ACTS IN CUBA

Senate Sub-Committee Will Be Sent to Island in the Wood Case.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—It was determined this evening that in order to have time a sub-committee will meet tomorrow morning in order to continue the examination of Major Rathbone on his charges against General Wood. This afternoon the committee decided to adjourn until Friday.

Captain W. J. Barden of the Artillery Corps, United States army, who was engineer officer in charge of the harbor improvements at Havana during General Wood's administration as Governor-General, was the only witness heard today.

Favorable action was taken on the request of Major Rathbone for the issue of subpoenas for officers, and permission given to prepare a list, with statements as to what he expected to prove by each. This list will be ready for summons to be issued tomorrow.

The committee will designate a sub-committee to go to Cuba and take testimony regarding the conduct of General Wood. The personnel of the committee has not yet been agreed upon, nor the number of members. It is asserted that so much has already been said about the conduct of General Wood in Cuba that it will be necessary to examine witnesses in that island who cannot come to the United States.

VATICAN REGISTERS PROTEST

Cardinals Admonished to Keep Deliberations of Church Secret.

ROME, Nov. 23.—When the cardinals, composing the congregation of the propaganda, met today they received a sharp reminder that they have at their head in the person of the prefect of propaganda, Cardinal Gotti, a churchman of clearly defined and strong opinions. Those present at the meeting were Cardinals Aguirre, Vannutelli, Segna, Pierotto, Casanovi, Marinelli, Sottili, Mathias, Dell, Volpe and Gotti. The cardinal prefect, in his opening address, dwelt most earnestly upon the duty of the cardinals to keep the deliberations of the congregation secret, and to be guided by the pontiff and himself by the receipt of remonstrances from apostolic delegations and from cardinals abroad, against the publication of the decisions of the propaganda. He had been officially informed of these decisions, and even before the decisions had been ratified by the pontiff. This matter had gone so far, said Cardinal Gotti, that results of the meeting of the propaganda would be known in the United States even before the meetings of the cardinals had been actually concluded.

Continuing, Cardinal Gotti said he had in the strongest manner called to the attention of all the clerics in attendance on the congregation of the propaganda that it was their duty to observe the most complete secrecy, and he wished to recommend the same course not only to the secretaries, Managers Vacca and Savelli, but even to the members of the Sacred College. Although, he added, he did not suppose for a moment that any of them would condescend to lower his dignity by action contrary to the spirit of the law regulating the affairs of the propaganda.

Several cardinals greeted the speech of the cardinal prefect by saying: "Good," while others, considered the speech inopportune. These latter thought that no damage could be done to the interests of the church, by the publications of the cardinal prefect complained against, as it was known the decisions of the propaganda were not valid until ratified by the pope, while, on the other hand, it was pointed out that the decisions of the congregation were rarely rejected by the pope.

Some of the cardinals expressed the opinion that it would be assuming too much in these days of wireless telegraphy to hold that the announcements of appointments made by the congregation could be securely given by mail after going through so many hands. One cardinal pointed out that the cardinal prefect evidently had not considered the fact that in the matter of time Rome was six hours in advance of New York.

Make Indian Work or Starve.

Washington, Nov. 23.—The annual report of Commissioner of Indian Affairs Jones advocates the education of the Indian in the rudiments of the English language, and that he be taught that he must work to starve.

He thinks this policy in a generation or more will regenerate the race, and that the Indian should be protected only to the extent that he may gain confidence in himself, leaving nature and civilized conditions to do the rest.

Hubbard Party Is Given Up.

ST. JOHNS, N. F., Nov. 23.—The last mail steamer to return from the Coast of Labrador brings no report of the party headed by Leon Hubbard, Jr., of New York, which started from Rigolet, Labrador, August 1st, to explore the interior of Labrador. The coast is blocked with ice flows, and the snow storms have covered the country with snow to a depth of 15 feet. It is the general opinion that the members of the Hubbard party have perished.

Sheriff Fools Fugitive's Friends.

DENVER, Nov. 23.—A special to the Republican from Casper, Wyo., says the Sheriff and his prisoner, Tom O'Day, stopped tonight about 40 miles from Casper. They came by an unusual route, and missed both the would-be rescuers and the posse coming to his assistance.

THE DEATH ROLL

Minister Who Lived a Century.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Nov. 23.—Mrs. Phoebe Gifford, the oldest minister in the Society of Friends in the world, is dead here, aged 100 years and 5 months. When she celebrated her 100th birthday, last June, she received telegrams of congratulation from all parts of the world, as her work in connection with the missionary labors of the Quakers is historical. Mrs. Gifford was from a long line of Quakers; her forefathers being among the earliest settlers in Manhattan. She established frontier settlements of Friends in the West.

Prominent St. Louis Business Man.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 23.—Jonathan Rice, first vice-president of the Rice-Stix Dry Goods Company, vice-president of the Mercantile Trust Company, and a leading figure in commercial and religious circles, died today after an illness of several weeks, attributed to an affection of the heart. Mr. Rice was born in Hamburg, Bavaria, in 1843.

Veteran Ex-Confederate Chaplain.

DENVER, Nov. 23.—Rev. Thompson L. Smith, said to be the oldest of the ex-Confederate chaplains, died today from paralysis at his home in this city. He was 89 years of age.

Mr. Smith was chaplain of the famous “Stonewall Brigade,” and he was the intimate friend of Lee, Jackson and Early.

Body of Drake Lies in State.

CENTREVILLE, Ia., Nov. 23.—The funeral of Ex-Governor P. M. Drake was Gompers declared that it had been unquestionably one of the most memorable and important conventions in the history of the whole labor movement, and that matters of the greatest moment had been decided.

The convention accepted the committee's recommendation that no action be taken in the case of the dispute between the Riggers and the Bridge and Structural Iron Workers. A favorable report instructing to withdraw its members from any work on which any union of the United Society of Carpenters have struck was laid upon the table.

Some discussion followed on a grievance resolution affecting the Amalgamated Association of Woodworkers and the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners. The former organization had charged the latter with inducing several woodworkers' unions to join the carpenters and joiners.

Well-Known Botanist.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 23.—Dr. Charles Schaffer, for many years a prominent wholesale druggist of this city, died today. Dr. Schaffer was well known to the scientific world as a botanist. Upon many visits to British Columbia, he made a special study of the mountain flora of that district.

Head Official of Maccabees.

PLINT, Mich., Nov. 23.—George J. Siegel, of Port Huron, Mich., supreme recorder of the British Columbia, he made a special study of the mountain flora of that district.

Vice-Admiral Von Waldersee.

BRESLAU, Prussia, Nov. 23.—Vice-Admiral von Waldersee, brother of Field Marshal von Waldersee, died yesterday at Miesendorf.

Pretty Girl Won Rich Baron.

Marriage of Distinguished Hungarian Nobleman in New York.

New York American.

Hungarian aristocracy was well represented in the corridors of the Brooklyn Postoffice Friday, when Baron George Ujfalussy de Ujfalussy was married to Borcia Viola, the pretty, dark-haired daughter of a Hungarian fruit importer.

Baron Ujfalussy de Ujfalussy's late father was chamberlain to Emperor Franz Josef, and the Baron himself has sat in the Chamber of Deputies and has served in the crack Royal Hussars of Budapest. He has not only a title, but great wealth, and the marriage with the 18-year-old Brooklyn girl is a bit of pure romance.

There were at the marriage Albert de Perel, at one time a Deputy in the Hungarian Chamber, and a brother of the Minister of the Interior, and Baron Paul Foldvary, Lieutenant in the Royal Hussars, with Madame the Baroness Foldvary. The ceremony was performed by Naturalization Commissioner Robert Randall under the new marriage contract law.

The Baron was apparently very happy over the successful outcome of his courtship, and endeavored vainly to give away a handful of $5 and $10 bills, but his newly acquired mother-in-law convinced him of the folly of such a course.

The Baron has been spending the past year in travel, and having visited all the large cities of Europe, came to the United States six months ago. Since that time he has been living at the house of Mrs. Braun, at 69 Pulaski street. Mrs. Braun was acquainted with the Viola family and took the Baron to visit them. Bartholomew Viola, who lives at 630 Macey avenue, is president of the Hungarian Immigration Commission, and is acquainted with all the Hungarian residents of Brooklyn of the better class, and at his house the Baron was made welcome as a fellow countryman.

Little Miss Borcia Viola won the heart of the Baron at their first meeting, and three weeks ago he asked her parents for their consent to their marriage. It was readily granted.

Before leaving the office of Commissioner Randall, Baron Ujfalussy took out his first naturalization papers, as he intends to make his home in this country. Wednesday he will sail with his bride for Hungary, where they will live for a year on his estate at Dobresca, near Budapest.

Colombia War Break Up.

St. Paul Pioneer Press.

It is only 17 years ago, or when Grover Cleveland was President of the United States, that all the nine departments of Colombia were a confederation of sovereign states. They have not realized the benefits promised by their consolidation under the far-off central government at Bogota, and have not forgotten the traditional self-consequence of their petty sovereignties. They are more or less disaffected toward the central government, which, without army or navy, or funds or credit, is too weak to command respect for its authority. The rope of tow which binds them together is already ablaze with the flames of the torch first by Panama. And the disappearance of the Colombian republic from the political map of South America can already be foreseen as the inevitable consequence of its blind fatuity in standing in the way of the march of civilization in one of the sublimest movements of the world's progress. It is one of the most striking tragedies in modern history, accomplished, it may be, like the Panaman revolution, of which it is the destined fruit, without the firing of a gun or the shedding of a drop of human blood.

It is estimated by the Treasury Department that the expenses of the United States for the current year will reach the great total of $1,500,000,000.
