

TELLS OF HIS CRIMES

Young Chicago Bandit Makes Another Confession.

WANTS REWARD FOR MOTHER

In Career of Three Years 21-Year-Old Boy Says He Has Murdered Five Men—Holding-Up of Railroads and Stage Coach.

CHICAGO, Nov. 29.—Peter Neidermeyer, one of the members of the quartet of young bandits who for the last six months have terrorized Chicago, in another confession today added several more crimes to the long list already charged against him and his companions, Vandine, Marx and Rosendo.

With parental love uppermost in his mind, Neidermeyer offered to tell Chief of Police O'Neill of a score of train hold-ups, burglaries and other crimes that he has committed, if the rewards offered will only be given to his mother.

"I want to know that my mother will be cared for after I am hung," said the 21-year-old boy, who is now the self-confessed murderer of five men. "I am guilty of crimes of which you know nothing and for which innocent men are now suffering. There are rewards offered for my capture and conviction. If you will guarantee that these rewards will go to my mother I will convict myself. I will confess crimes that will startle you."

In order to make his word good, Neidermeyer told of a few crimes which he claimed to have committed. He outlined them in such a manner, Chief of Police O'Neill declared today, as only one concerned in them could do. Neidermeyer refused, however, to divulge the names of his partners in the crimes referred to, pending proof that his mother would get the reward. A few of the additional crimes he claims to have participated in are as follows:

Robbery of the Illinois Central Limited Express at Paducah, Ky., in which Barnes, one of the robbers, cut his throat while surrounded in a swamp. The others escaped.

Hold-up of a stage coach and a farm team in Nevada. No one was shot and the robbers escaped without recognition.

Hold-up and robbery of Chicago & Northwestern passenger train near Boone, Ia., six months ago.

A hold-up and attempted robbery of Baltimore & Ohio train at Edgemoor, Ind., four years ago.

Minor hold-ups and robberies in and out of Chicago were mentioned by Neidermeyer. But in all cases he was careful to conceal the names of his associates in crime, merely giving sufficient outline of the crimes to warrant O'Neill in believing that Neidermeyer was telling the truth.

When Neidermeyer went back to his cell it was with the assurance that his mother would be bettered $500 financially. Special Agent W. Reilly, of the Chicago & Northwestern Railroad, promised him that Mrs. Neidermeyer would be given the reward of $500 for the arrest and conviction of the Cuyahoga Station robbers after Neidermeyer detailed the robbery to them and exonerated a man named Dolis, of St. Louis, who is now under indictment.

Operator Dougherty and Ticket Agent Lathrop, the victims of the robbery in the Cuyahoga Station hold-up were present during Neidermeyer's confession, going over with him in detail the robbery and the shooting of Lathrop.

Neidermeyer detailed Paducah, Ky., hold-up perfectly, refusing to tell names for the reason that none of the Illinois Central detectives were present. He offered to tell Special Agent O'Keefe the entire story of the daring robbery and even show him the house in Kentucky where he hid after the robbery.

"I stalled the train alone," said Neidermeyer. "Then I entered the baggage car and threw out the baggage. I grabbed one of them. I did not get any, as I was lucky in getting away with my life. They found Barnes in a swamp with his throat cut. He had the razor in the hand that he committed suicide with."

"Before last May I spent three years in hold-ups and robberies outside of Chicago, and if the rewards are forthcoming for my mother, I will make a clean breast of everything."

The police have been so appalled by Neidermeyer's confession that they hardly give credence to it. It is thought that his anxiety over his mother's welfare has prompted him to make himself the author of crimes he did not commit.

From the assertions made by Neidermeyer and Vandine today it is said by the police that more arrests will be made. Chief O'Neill tonight asserted that there was a strong possibility that Neidermeyer and Vandine would tell of all their accomplices in other crimes in which both men have acknowledged they had helped.

NEBRASKA AUDITOR ARRESTED

Interested in Bank That Took Money When Insolvent.

CASPER, Wyo., Nov. 29.—Charles Weston, Nebraska State Auditor, and N. S. Bristol and W. A. Dencke, who operated a grocery store here under the name of N. S. Bristol & Co., and a bank under the name of W. A. Dencke & Co., are under arrest, charged with receiving money, knowing they were insolvent.

Bristol & Co. and Dencke & Co. both suspended. The liabilities are said to be $75,000, and the assets small.

State Examiner Henderson will come to Casper for the purpose of investigating the failure of the bank. The money, it is alleged, was borrowed by the bank owners, who invested it in sheep and ranch property.

Every fraternal order in town is advised, the Masonic societies, it is said, to the extent of $300.

PROBABLY LYNCHED NOW.

Three Negroes Caught, Suspected of Killing a Louisianian.

SHREVEPORT, La., Nov. 29.—Unconfirmed reports from Belcher, La., where Robert Adams, a prominent planter and business man, was shot down by negroes last night, are to the effect that three of the negroes have been caught and identified and by this time have doubtless been lynched.

Five negroes were implicated in the shooting which will probably result fatally. The three men caught were captured within ten miles of Belcher, and the others are now moving across the country with large posse in hot pursuit.

It is impossible to get in communication with Belcher tonight and the fate of the negroes is not positively known.

Chicago Alderman Convicted.

CHICAGO, Nov. 29.—A verdict of guilty was returned today in the case of Alderman John J. Brennan and his two political friends, Charles McCarthy and Herbert E. Kent, who were on trial for violations of the election laws during the judicial election last June.

pay of common laborers employed at the plant. The Provincial Workmen's association has given Managers' demand until Tuesday to accept its demand, when, if he refuses, it is said that the 1500 members of the association employed in the works will be called out on strike.

The 4000 men working in the coal mines in Cape Breton are members of the Provincial Workmen's association, and will, it is said, go out in sympathy for the steel men strike. It is generally believed that the most serious strike in the history of Cape Breton is imminent.

DEPENDS ON UNITED STATES.
Panama Expects Clear Sailing After Signing of Canal Treaty.

COLON, Nov. 29.—The next event of political importance to the new Republic of Panama will be the ratification of the canal treaty and its return to Washington, which is looked forward to with much interest as conclusively settling Panama's status.

The ratification of the treaty appears to be considered by the government as the final step, so far as Panama is concerned, absolutely binding the new republic to the protection of the United States. After this has been effected it is thought on the isthmus there will remain nothing for Panama to do except to proceed under the security of the protection of the friendship of the United States with the development of her internal affairs.

The possibility of a war with or armed trouble from Colombia was not taken into serious consideration anywhere, on the isthmus, and never is heard discussed officially or otherwise.

The government officials seem to think that in the event of any difficult situation arising they will have nothing to do but turn to the United States for wise counsel and guidance, and that if help is needed by Panama the United States will supply it.

The provisions of the canal treaty providing that the yearly payments of $200,000 shall not begin until nine years shall have elapsed and the clause declaring Colon and Panama free ports have aroused some fears regarding the republic's ability to raise sufficient revenue to meet its expenses. The making of Colon and Panama free ports will deprive the republic each year of about $300,000 in silver, or $120,000 in gold, this amount being three-fifths of the total revenue of the republic outside of the railroad canal payments.

Hence the government is particularly anxious that $5,000,000 of the $10,000,000 to be paid on account of the canal shall be so invested as to bear interest and be safeguarded from possible future assault and reckless expenditure by less scrupulous officials who may succeed those now holding office.

REYES CONFERS WITH HERRAN

Colombian Peace Commissioner's Plans as Yet Undetermined.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—General Rafael Reyes, the Colombian peace commissioner, and his colleagues continued their conference today with Dr. Thomas Herran, the Colombian Charge d'Affaires at Washington, regarding the Panama Canal treaty, and affairs on the isthmus.

As a preliminary to any action whatever, General Reyes is familiarizing himself thoroughly with every feature of the isthmian question about which Dr. Herran is able to give him information.

There are many antecedent circumstances bearing on the negotiation of the defunct Hay-Herran convention of which it is desirable that General Reyes shall have knowledge before he proceeds with his mission.

There also are other features of the situation which have developed since the General left Bogota, which it is desirable that he should be fully acquainted with. As a preliminary to mapping out a plan of procedure, all these matters are being gone over very carefully by General Reyes and Dr. Herran.

At the first opportunity, Dr. Herran will present General Reyes to Secretary Hay. At this meeting it is expected there will be an informal discussion of the General's mission, the results of which, on a measure at least, will determine his future course.

General Reyes denied himself to callers tonight. He left word at the hotel office that he had nothing to say for publication at this time.

HOPES FOR NEUTRALITY.
Colombia Expects to Win Back Panama if United States Keeps Out.

BOGOTA, Friday, Nov. 27.—The following notes have been exchanged between United States Minister Beaupre and Carlos Rico, the Colombian Foreign Minister. In a communication dated November 18, Mr. Beaupre says:

"I have the honor to inform you that on November 13 the President of the United States formally recognized the Panama Republic and received its Minister."

In reply, Senor Rico, writing under date of November 19, says:

"Your note received. I am acquainted with the fact that President Roosevelt has recognized the Republic of Panama and received its Minister. So far as Colombia is concerned the recognition of the so-called Republic of Panama by the United States has fully taken place at the time your government entered into relations with it."

"It is not according to rule to establish communication by an international treaty until the existence of a government has been recognized. For this reason the fact that the United States has recognized the Republic of Panama does not constitute a precedent for this reason the fact that the United States has recognized the Republic of Panama does not constitute a precedent."

of the United States having done so on November 13 and the receiving of an agent of the rebels are acts that would naturally follow. The facts you have communicated to me oblige me to state that the Colombian Government considers them and also the premature manner in which the recognition took place, to be a violation of the treaty of law and of international law.

"As I informed your Excellency November 11, a Colombian army is marching on the isthmus and consequently Colombia is primarily the sovereign state. It will not only carry on the struggle, but is certain of being victorious if the United States does not interfere."

"Even should the United States ignore the obligations of the treaty of 1846, it is to be hoped that they will remain neutral, not impeding the efforts of Colombia to bring the Panamanians into submission and abetting from any recognition of the rebels as belligerents. If the United States assumes an attitude hostile to Colombia, and should prevent the latter government's efforts to bring into submission the rebels who proclaimed the Republic of Panama, then the independence of the isthmus is inevitable. In that case the independence of the isthmus would be the work of the United States and not of the natives."

THE CHAMPION SPRINTER.

Arthur Duffy's Medal to Be Exhibited at St. Louis Exposition.

Washington Times.
Arthur Duffy, of Georgetown, the American intercollegiate and international champion sprinter, has a collection of choice medals that any athlete might be proud of. He has many number of prizes that have been won on this side of the ocean and on British territory, but the medals that he considers the best of the lot are those representing the intercollegiate and British championships and the world's record medal for 100 yards in 9.3 seconds.

The significance of these valuable medals can be realized when it is known that they will be part of the collection of athlete trophies to be displayed at the St. Louis Exposition next year.

Duffy began capturing championships in 1900, when he won the English and defeated the best there, including Jarvis and Tewksbury, other American invaders; Rowley of Australia, Pritchard from India, and the English and Irish champions. His time was not better than ten seconds, but this was accounted for by his early arrival and not sufficient time to prepare and get acclimated. He was declared ineligible for the Mott Haven games in 1900, but he got even by counting first in his specialty the next year, and equaled the existing record of 9.4 seconds. He also won across the water in 1901 and repeated the feat in 1902.

It was in 1902 that he startled the world with his wonderful burst of speed when he negotiated the 100-yard dash in 9.3 seconds at the intercollegiate meet in New York. He got a great ovation on arriving at London to show the Britishers a bit of astonishing running. He had no trouble in disposing of the finest sprinters that the United Kingdom contained. His last performance in this country in 1901 was at the Pan-American Exposition, where he took the century dash and A. A. U. championship.

After taking the dash at the intercollegiate games last Spring he went to England, Scotland and Ireland and won all the sprint events which he entered. The exhibit at the Fair will consist of the four intercollegiate medals, including the record emblem, the four British championships gold medals and the courtship presented to him at Paris at the time of the Olympia games held there in 1900. His British medals also represent a little to the credit of the United States, as he is a perpetual trophy.

Duffy has just returned to Georgetown University, where he will complete his law course, but expects to run at the Mott Haven games next year, and possibly make another trip to England.

An Army Trolley Line.

Perhaps the most scientific study that has yet been made of the laws which govern the application of the automobile to war purposes has been made by Captain Douhet, of the Italian Army, and the result of his work was published by the Electro-Technical Association of Turin nearly two years ago. After examining every solution of the question of tractor, steam, air, gasoline, storage battery, engines with trains and self-propelling lorries, Captain Douhet arrives at what seems at first sight the remarkable conclusion that the most efficient if not the only system of automobile transport for military purposes will consist of tractors, each propelled by an electric motor, but carrying their current from a travelling dynamo mounted on a truck propelled by electricity. In other words, he advocates for this particular work the hauling of supplies in war, a trolley line carrying its own power house about with it.

A Too Expensive Luxury.
Boston Herald.
No, Colombia will not fight. No country whose credit is quoted at 14 cents on the dollar goes to war with an enemy bigger than itself. It lacks the sinews. Gen. Reyes might as well put that fact in his pipe and smoke it.
