THE HEALING QUALITIES OF MEDICAL LAKE

ARE WELL KNOWN AND HAVE BEEN FOR YEARS

In the State of Washington, about twenty (20) miles from the City of Spokane, there is a wonderful body of water, known to the white people as Medical Lake, and to the Indians for years past as the Sookom Lamechin Chuck, or Strong Medicine Water, which was said by them to come from the Sahala Tree, or Great Spirit, a pool that he had created to cure the Indians of all ills.

This beautiful little lake is situated in the midst of a fine grazing and agricultural country, flanked by majestic mountain ranges, and lies like a meadow nestled in the midst of groves of stately pine trees. It is about a mile and a half long by a mile in width, and a more beautiful and wildly romantic spot cannot be found in the world, its natural surroundings being grand beyond description. Its shores are gently sloping, arising to no great height above the water's edge, the lake lying like a silver sheet at one's feet.

This pretty little lake was first prominently called to the notice of the white settlers of that portion of the country about 20 years ago, through the yearly pilgrimages of the Indians, who came for many miles from every side to bathe in and drink of its wonderful waters. It has only been within recent years that it was safe for white settlers to enter that portion of the state where the lake is situated; for that famous old Indian, Chief Joseph, one of the most renowned Indian warriors the West has ever known, sent out word that he would scalp any white man who dared to invade this (to the Indians) sacred ground, or to bathe or drink of the waters of the lake. After his subjugation the country rapidly settled up, and the lake became immediately famous among the white settlers on account of its wonderful medicinal healing and curative properties. The lake is known to have been the rendezvous of the sick and afflicted Indians as far back as 1807, some of them being known to come from as far as Lower California, a distance of nearly thirteen hundred (1300) miles to the south.

One reason why such long pilgrimages were made was because of the fame the salts had achieved from the fact that the Indians had for years been taking away with them a powder or precipitate discovered in the bottom of their cooking utensils or dishes that they boiled the waters of the lake in, and these salts were carried to those whose infirmities made a personal visit to the lake impossible. Thus, yearly, hundreds of pounds of these salts found their way into the hands of these simple children of Nature, whose belief in their curative qualities was afterwards found by the whites to be well founded.

No drainage, sewage or filth of any description goes into the lake, whose waters are much drunk, as these are most palatable and delicious. A peculiarity of the water is one not elsewhere noted. To the touch it leaves a sensation of as if placing the hand in oil. There is only a very slight trace of alkali in the waters, the most sensitive skin not being in the least irritated, even if they are used in the most concentrated form. On the contrary, the effect on the skin is deliciously cooling and soothing.

impregnated with this peculiar medical salt, which is obtained by evaporating the waters of the lake. The waters, as analyzed by Professor Lansing, of New York, and Professor Manning, of Chicago, are shown to contain 12 ingredients, which are recognized by the most noted physicians of today as being the standard remedies of the age, and in their purest form, as they come direct from Nature.

Mrs. Frances E. Willard, who was noted and gifted as one of the greatest temperance lecturers of the world, after visiting Medical Lake a few years ago, said:

"The Hot Springs of Arkansas are wonderful; the Thermo Electric and Turkish baths are luxurious; the sanitariums of Denville, Clifton and Elmira are delicious in their bathing privileges; but for a sense of completeness, beneficial and unequalled wholesomeness, the wonderful waters of Medical Lake, Washington, excel those of any other health resort."

VALIDITY OF BOUNTY LAW

ARGUMENTS IN THE IDAHO SUGAR CASE.

Points Raised by Attorney-General Bagley in Opposing the Issuance of a Restraining Writ.

BOISE, Ida., Jan. 4.—(Special.)—Arrangements were heard by the Supreme Court today in the case involving the validity of the sugar bounty law and the validity of certain bond issues authorized by the Legislature. The case came up on demurrer to the application of Edward Stein for a writ of prohibition restraining the Governor, Attorney-General, State Auditor and State Treasurer from issuing or registering state bonds under the terms of a deficiency bond act and other measures passed by the Seventh Legislature. The plaintiff was represented by ex-Chief Justice Ralph P. Quarles. Attorney-General John A. Bagley appeared for the state officers. Wood and Wilson, attorneys for the American Bridge Company, contractors for the Weiser Bridge, the bonds for which are involved in the application, represented this corporation, also the University of Idaho, the maintenance and improvement bonds of which are attacked. The points raised by Attorney-General Bagley were as follows:

First—The official capacity of the defendants and of the bonds created by the constitution and laws of the State of Idaho, authorized to perform the acts mentioned and complained of in the petition, does not sufficiently appear therein.

Second—The writ of prohibition will not issue to prohibit or restrain the acts of executive or ministerial officers.

Third—The petition does not state facts sufficient to show that the appropriation made by the last Legislature exceed the limitations contained in section 11, article 7 of the constitution.

Fourth—the petition does not state facts sufficient to show that the state's indebtedness, authorized by the last Legislature, taken with the then existing indebtedness, exceeds the limitations contained in section 1, article 8 of the constitution.

Fifth—the acts of the Legislature referred to in the petition can not be collaterally attacked in an application for prohibition.

Sixth—the petition does not state facts sufficient to show that the plaintiff is entitled to the issuance of the writ of prohibition in this case.

Judge Quarles spoke at length in support of the petition. He devoted much of his argument to the sugar bounty act, claiming that if subsidies can be granted for sugar, they can be provided for any other product.

HAD AN ALCOHOLIC HEART.

Victoria Doctor's Testimony in the Dunsmuir Case.

VICTORIA, B. C., Jan. 4.—Dr. Davis, a local practitioner, who had attended Alexander Dunsmuir, was cross-examined at length this afternoon in the Hopper-Dunsmuir trial. He criticized the evidence of dementia given by Dr. Dumont and medical men in New York for plaintiff. Dunsmuir did not have alcoholic dementia when the witness treated him in 1888, a year before his death. Regarding Dr. Janeway's evidence, which was read for two hours when counsel argued with witness, Dr. Davis declared that Janeway's evidence did not show dementia as counsel held, as Janeway always qualified the word dementia with the context and further, having expressed a belief of Dunsmuir's recovery, he could not, therefore, believe him to have dementia. Dr. Davis, in exciting the ailments of Dunsmuir found by him, said the dead millstone had an alcoholic heart and witness had told him he would die before long if

PLUMBERS WALK OUT.

Dispute With Portland Contractor Causes Strike at Baker City.

BAKER CITY, Or., Jan. 4.—(Special.)—The plumbers working on the new Adler Sommer building struck today. The trouble arose over a dispute between the plumbers and Mr. Bude, of Jacobson & Bude, of Portland, who have the contract for the building. The plumbers insist that the pipe fitter is only entitled to one assistant, whereas three were employed on this job, and they are all union men. Mr. Bude said he was under contract to complete the job within a certain time and extra help was necessary. The contractor and plumbers were unable to agree and a walk-out resulted.

Poor Discharged From Custody.

SEATTLE, Jan. 4.—Frank R. Poor was discharged from custody today by Superior Judge Bell under the writ of habeas corpus which was sued out to obtain his release from the New York institution, honored by Governor McBride of this state. Notice of appeal was promptly given by Prosecuting Attorney Scott.

SAN FRANCISCO CROWS

CLAIMS PROMISE OF HAY CONTRACT FOR PHILIPPINES.

General Humphrey Reported to Have Made Pledge Reserving Oats Contract for Portland Bidders.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 4.—(Special.)—A special dispatch to the Chronicle from Washington says: At the request of the Manufacturers & Producers Association, the Hay Exchange and the Merchants Exchange, of San Francisco, Senators Perkins and Bard asked for under the same advertisement to saw Quartermaster-General Humphrey today regarding the bids submitted by San Francisco people for hay to be furnished to the Army in the Philippines. The amount asked for was $400 tons, and the bid of San Franciscans was 25 per cent less than the Portland and Tacoma bids. The Quartermaster-General assured both Senators that the award would be made to the San Francisco bidders. The delivery at the figure named will net but a small profit.

No word had been received in this city last night of the Government's intention of awarding the forage contract. The Quartermaster-General has assured the Oregon Senators that Portland would be given every consideration and opportunity to have made the same assurance to the Californians. As for the San Francisco bid on hay being 25 per cent lower than the Portland bid, that is a mistake. The San Francisco offer was 33 under that of Albers Bros., of this city, but it was on grain hay, a much cheaper article. The Oregon Senators offered by the Portland Portland bid, that is a mistake. CHARGES NURSES WITH NEGLIGENCE.

SEATTLE, Jan. 4.—Miss Lida Dorn has filed a sensational damage suit in the Superior Court, whereby she charges that the nurses in the Seattle General Hospital purposely allowed hotwater bottles to remain against her body, when she was a patient, until the flesh was cooked. She says she was under the effects of either at the time and, of course, did not know what was going on. She demands $20,000 damages from the board of directors composed of prominent members of the First Methodist Episcopal Church, under which direction the hospital is conducted.

Delegates From North Yakima.

NORTH YAKIMA, Jan. 4.—The following North Yakima citizens have been selected to attend the National Livestock Convention at Portland during the week commencing January 11: J. E. Shannon, representing the Commercial Club; P. A. Boudne, representing the county; T. J. Rolan, representing the State Livestock Association for this county; Sam Cameron, Dan Goodman, Arthur Coffin, John Clemen and others, representing the State Woolgrowers' Association.
