Daily Treasury Statement. WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.-Today's statement of the Treasury shows:

NEW YORK, Jan. 21.-The latest advices from the leading distribution centers point rather to a alight weakening tendency is the plg from markets, says the from Age. Some of the Southern makers, seeing burkness gus ing almost entirely to Northern producers, are shading prices. Complaints are coming from bome foundries that business is slow with them, and they naturally besitate about additional purchases. Still the tourage al-most entirely to the first quarter is fair. A number of the leading Southern interests continue to work on a plan to harmonize the recent differences and to reach some com-mon ground for prices. In the East there has been a little more demand for basic and how phosphorous pla from the steel works, where business has im-proved somewhat. The deadlock in the steel rail trade continues, but it tooks as though the togic of the situation will force the makers to give way. There is a little better feeling in the bar the logic of the situation will force the makers to give way. There is a little better feeling in the bar trade East and Weat, but the sheet trade still shows symptoms of weakness. The ton-nage in plates and shapes is better, but these works have an advantage which man-these works have an advantage which man-uncture bridges and buildings from the stuff made in their own mills. They are making low bids on contracts for bridges and build-ings. The result is that the views of the consumer are result be that the views of the

NEW YORK, Jan. 21.-High records were again made today in cotton. The advance was not attended by any special activity or ings. The result is that the views of the consumer are really being met and their in-terests being stimulated. The demand for wire products is very heavy under the stimu-lus of the recent slight advance. The scrap markets have been quite excited and the claim is made that in a number of instances prominent dealers have been forced to cover short sales. Advices form abroad are to the effect that the German stel makers are making very low prices for steel in the infernational mar-to be meeting these prices, which would be equivalent to about $14.50 for billets at Pitts-burg. As a matter of fact, the leading in-trees has been declining business offered for delivery during the next few months.
