DEALS IN METEORS—Professor Henry A. Ward, of Rochester, N. Y., an enthusiastic student collector of and dealer in meteors, who is constantly on a roving about an erratic as that of a meteor, made a brief stay in this city a few days ago, as he was passing through on his way to San Francisco.

HOAGS DIDN'T NOTICE PROTEST—The mild protest entered by Special Officer Caswell a day or two ago, against the number of runaways occurring on the streets of this city, and his suggestion that the law against horse racing be enforced, has been completely ignored.

THE DAILY NEWS FORTY-THREE YEARS AGO—Compiled and Reprinted from Oregonian of February 13, 1861.

THE principal feature of this issue is the publication in full of a speech made by Colonel Baker in the Senate some three weeks previously, in answer to Senator Judah P. Benjamin, of Louisiana, who had charged the Republicans with encouraging sectionalism.

SENATOR BAKER VOICES A POSITIVE DENIAL of Benjamin's accusation that the free states were desirous of interfering with the institution of slavery in the South, and were promoting insurrection among the blacks.

WAR IN THE FAR EAST.—There is one absorbing topic at the present time to the exclusion of all others, wherever the eye is turned, the war between Russia and Japan, and it is important that one should have a knowledge of the exact situation.

"THE ETERNAL CITY" Monday.—Hall Caine's play, "The Eternal City," with its beautiful music, probably the most massive dramatic production which will visit this city this season, is to be presented at the Marquam Grand Theater next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

"MISTRESS NELL."—Tomorrow afternoon will witness the initial performance of Henrietta Crossman's great New York success, on the Pacific Coast, "Mistress Nell," which has been secured by Manager Baker for the Baker Theater Company.

"THE KITTIES BAND."—One of the biggest amusement events of the season will be the concert given by the Kitties Band, who are sometimes known as the "Highlanders of Canada," at the Marquam Grand Theater next Thursday night, February 18.

"DORIS" Tonight.—Jessie Shirley and her company close a successful week at Cordray's Theater tonight, "Doris" will be the bill and everybody who wishes to see the play should see it at the best the Shirley Company has produced in Portland this season.

TODAY at the Arcade.—The Arcade vaudeville programme today blends comedy, tenuous musical pieces, sentimental songs, clever juggling and lively moving pictures.

PERSONAL MENTION.—W. L. Robb, Collector of United States Customs at Astoria, was in the city yesterday.

UNION-MADE COLLARS AND CUFFS.—The "Liber Brand" 4-ply linen collars and cuffs in all shapes and sizes; collars, 2 for 25 cents; cuffs, per pair, 25 cents.

CLAIMING STREETS WAKES THEM UP.—A man who resides in the vicinity of the Madison Athletic Club, yesterday desired to make complaint against the employees of the street-cleaning department.

THE BAKER THEATER, Third and Yamhill streets—Tonight, 8:15 by the Oregonian, is Baker Theater Company in "Jane."
