CORDRAY'S THEATRE. Washington at Tonight at 8:15. The comedy-drama, "Slaves of the Mine."

ARCADE THEATRE. Seventh and Washington—Continued yesterday at 8:15 P. M.
 THE BAKER THEATRE, Third and Yamhill—Tonight at 8:15, the Baker Theatre Company in "The Two Orphans."

CATHOLICS TO GIVE A FAIR.—The Catholics of Portland are going to give a fair for the benefit of St. Michael's Church by and by, and they are now making arrangements for the care of the booths.
 They do not know as yet when the fair will be held or where. There will be five booths and five committees to take care of them. The officers of the fair are to be Dr. C. F. Candiani, the Italian Consul, president; J. Y. Caffery, secretary; Constant Albertini, treasurer.
 The committees are composed of the following members: Catholic Foresters, Mrs. Bridget Corcoran, chairman; Miss Anna Gately, secretary; Mrs. Lawrence J. Dineen and Misses Jennie and Mary Short, Ladies and Donor, Knights of Columbus, Mrs. J.
 N. Sutton, chairman; Mrs. J. E. Bruce, secretary; Misses Broderick and Mary Murphy, Order of the Holy Family, Mrs. J. Hal-lin, chairman; Mrs. J. J. O'Brien, Mrs. J. A.
 Kelly, Mesdames Jessup, Riley, Engel-berg, Trautner, Bler and Hogan, and Miss Mary McKay, Columbia University.
 Mrs. E. Fretland, chairman; Mrs. J. A. Hal-lin, secretary; Mrs. J. Weber and Misses L. Fretland, Kate and Rose Manly, K.
 Lillies and Julia Murphy, Italian Benefit Society, Mrs. J. J. Corcoran, chairman; Mrs. Carlson, secretary; Mrs. L. Nicolai, Mrs. A. Noll, Mrs. P. Deffino and Misses Carlson, McMahon and Rocanich. The committees have been so carefully arranged that donors will not be troubled by more than one collector, a circumstance that has happened on former occasions.

ROBERTS, BUT NOT POOR.—Robert W.
 Galloway has been discharged as guardian of Alex. Jaaska, a well-known resident of Centralia, Wash., who, in November last, while in Portland, was examined by the County Court for insanity and committed to the asylum at Salem. Jaaska is worth over $10,000, and when taken into custody a check-book was found on his person which showed he had drawn between $700 and $800 from the Centralia Bank. By direction of County Judge Webster, who thought the man might have been imposed on in a divorce condition, Mr. Galloway wrote to the bank officials to stop payment on the checks. An answer received by the guardian gave a clue to the whereabouts of Jaaska's wife, who had been searching everywhere for him, and she was communicated with. She came to Portland, then proceeded to Salem, and found her missing husband. He has since recovered and she has taken him home.

ROBERT STOLE A DICTIONARY.—The schoolhouse of District No. 4, one and a half miles east of Lewis, was broken into Sunday night and the dictionary and a number of schoolbooks stolen. When the teacher, Miss Bessie Powell, and the scholars arrived yesterday morning the interior of the room was in confusion, and books were scattered over the floor.
 The robbers evidently selecting what they wanted and leaving the rest behind. Little of the school equipment aside from the dictionary was taken. The school is a small one in a large district. Though there is no positive evidence to show that the building was not entered Sunday night, yet it is believed that Sunday night was chosen as the time for the robbery.

SPORTSMEN TURN TRAPSHOOTERS.—Trap shooting is all the rage in the city. The season ended yesterday, and all sportsmen besides the trapshooters are beginning to look over their fishing tackle, but such as cannot keep away from a gun have their eye on the clay pigeons. The first shoot will be next Sunday at City View Park, the site of the Multnomah Rod and Gun Club's traps. The first prize offered so far this season is the silver cup presented by Will Lipman to the man first making two scores of 25 straight. The peculiarity about trap shooting is that many good field shots are no good at the traps, though good trap shots usually shoot just as well in the field.

FUNERAL OF CHURCHMAN, JR.—The funeral of the late Charles McGinn, Jr., was held yesterday morning at 10 o'clock from the Catholic Cathedral at Sixteenth and Davis streets. A solemn requiem mass for the repose of the soul was celebrated and the funeral sermon was preached by Father McDevitt. Members of the Multi-nomah Bar, of which the deceased was a member, attended the services at the church, marching from the Courthouse in a body, with John M. Gearin acting as marshal. There was a large attendance of friends, and also a number of men.
 Mr. McGinn, before taking up the practice of law, was for a time employed in the Union Pacific office here.

NEW SIDEWALKS ON PARK BLVD.—Comment sidewalks are being laid the east and west sides of the Park blocks from Columbia to Salmon streets. Walks will also be laid along the other blocks as the gangs of concrete men advance. Foundations for the North Park blocks have been laid as far as Hoyt street. The poplar trees which have lined the blocks for years are being displaced by American elms, whose roots do not interfere with the sewer pipes. Later in the year walks will be placed diagonally across each of the blocks. The East Side park will come in for their share of attention before long.

METHODIST MINISTERS MEET.—The
 "Duty of Jesus Christ" was the subject of a paper read by Rev. W. H. Sebeck, pastor of the Sunnyside Methodist Episcopal Church, at the meeting of the Methodist Ministerial Association in the Y. M. C. A. auditorium yesterday morning. The paper provoked an interesting discussion in which a number of the assembled ministers took part. Rev. H. J. Talbot, D.D., bade farewell to the members of the association. Remarks expressing regret over his departure for his new work were drawn up by a committee appointed for that purpose.

WANTS MORE HELP IN POSTOFFICE.— Postmaster F. A. Bancroft is going to request the Postoffice Department to appoint two extra carriers for the Portland office. These carriers if secured will cover the district between Mead and Thomas streets, South Portland, the district adjacent to Oakley Green and North Albion. Mr. Bancroft announced that in his report for the fiscal year ending June 30 he will ask that the office be allowed 25 carriers and ten clerks.

CENTRAL W. C. T. U. TO MEET.—Central
 W. C. T. U. will be entertained by Mrs.
 Hard, 214 Twelfth street, this afternoon.
 It is one of the W. C. T. U. "red-letter" days, being the birthday of the world's and National president, Mrs. Stevens, and also "Union Signal" day, or the day for presenting the claims of the Union Signal.
 Mrs. Maria Smith will play and an excellent musical and literary programme will be rendered.

LADIES' RELIEF SOCIETY.—The regular meeting of the Ladies Relief Society of the First Presbyterian Church, will be held in the church parlors, Twelfth and Alder streets, at 2 P. M., today.
 BROCKERS & RUSTON'S homeopathies now at 307 Washington street, Knott Drug Company.
 Dr. E. C. Brown, eye and ear specialist, the Marquam Office, phone, Main 1296.
 Churns for mutton now solicited. F.
 Wertheimer, 11 Park street, North.
 C. C. Newcastle, dentist, Mohawk bldg.
 Wooster, all kinds hardware, 7th & Mor.
 S. H. Gruber, lawyer, 317 Corn' bldg.

CARE FOR THE CHARITABLE.—A case for those sympathetically disposed was reported yesterday by Captain John Anderson, of the Volunteers of America. It concerns a widow with two little daughters, 4 and 7 years old, who are in need of furniture, fuel and food for about two weeks, until the mother earns money by washing clothes. Her husband died three years ago, leaving her without much if means of support and she and her children reached this city only a short time ago from Idaho. She spent her last money in renting a house on East Twentieth street, and when this was done she had only 40 cents left. The rent is paid up to March 25. When the case was reported to Captain Anderson he called at the woman's house, and found mother and children sleeping on straw-mats on the floor. An old door did duty as a table, and there was no furniture in the place.
 The family have clothing, but are in urgent need of provisions, a cooking stove, and other articles of household use.
 In two weeks' time the mother hopes to earn enough money by washing clothes to support herself and little ones. She is a fairly strong woman and is upwards of 30 years old. Captain Anderson will be glad at once to receive assistance for people at his office, room 4, 2nd Ash street. His telephone is Hood 199.

TOO STORMY FOR JETTY.—G. B.
 Hegardt, superintendent of jetty construction at Fort Stevens, was in the city yesterday on his way to San Francisco.
 When asked whether extension of the jetty was still in progress, Mr. Hegardt responded negatively, saying that weather was too tempestuous to permit a person to hang on to the jetty with teeth or eyebrows, much less to work. The tramway has withstood the force of the sea, excepting about 40 feet, which has been washed away. About 20,000 tons of stone will be used this season for extending the jetty, half of which cannot be supplied by the Northwest Construction Company. Contracts for the other half will be awarded this month. Bids will be opened March 11, and stone will be delivered toward the end of April.

ARRESTED FOR STEALING DIAMONDS.— Della Estes, of Athens, was arrested yesterday by Officers Carpenter and Reising.
 She is charged with stealing a diamond ring valued at $125. H. P. Smith is the complaining witness. He says that the robbery occurred about February 1, when he was stopping at the New Grand Central Hotel. He had been keeping company with the woman in the case and according to the story told by him she entered his room one day and carried off the diamond. After that he was not able to find her. He reported the matter to the police and yesterday she was picked up by the officers upon the description given. She admitted her identity but denied that she had stolen the ring.

JEWISH HOLY DAYS.—The fast of Esther was observed by the Jews last night. Today the feast of Purim is being celebrated, the day being kept holy by acts of charity toward one another as well as by giving alms to the poor. The day is one of rejoicing and the usual customs will be kept in regard of the occasion.
 The megillah, a parchment scroll on which the story of Esther is written, is read at the synagogues morning and evening.
 The Ahava Shalom congregation held services in the Newcastle building at 1230 last evening, and will also hold services at 8 o'clock this morning. The Children's Guild of Personal Service of Temple Beth Israel gave a Purim entertainment at Parsons Hall last night.

ATTEND CAPTAIN STETSON'S TRIAL.— Chinese Immigration Inspector J. Barbour, will depart tomorrow morning for Seattle, where he will attend the trial of the alien Chinese girl, Chong Sheen, who escaped from the Presbyterian Chinese Mission in this city two months ago and fled to Seattle to evade trial in the courts.
 The case will be heard before Judge Hancock, in addition to the case of the prettiest, best-developed, most healthy-looking girls seen in vaudeville in this city. Their act is alone worth the time and money. Mason and Tibbitts make good in their comedy "The Kissing Myster." Mason masquerading as a German with a beer accent. They present a new definition of an island, and the poem "The Boy Stood on the Burning Deck." Jessie Renne appears in a new and splendid act, and the bioscope pictures are interesting.
 The show is a good one.

Twelve Lives Lost in a Fire.
 Woman and Small Children Perish in a Burning Residence.

ROBERTVAL, Quebec, Feb. 28.—Twelve lives were lost in a fire which destroyed the home of Thomas Guay at St. Pelicien today. When the fire was first noticed by neighbors who live at some distance from the place, the house had been burned to the ground. In it at the time were the small children of Thomas Guay, Mrs.
 Phillip Gagnon and her three small children. All were burned to death. Gagnon and Gagnon, the father, were absent at work in the woods.

Large Fire at Cotton Mills.
 UTICA, N. Y., Feb. 28.—A fire which caused $125,000 damage occurred in the plant of the New York Cotton Mills Company today.

WEATHER CONDITIONS.
 During the last 12 hours the barometer has risen quite rapidly over the North Pacific States and the weather is becoming more settled. The high winds have ceased, but west of the Cascades the rains continue. To the east of these mountains they have ceased and clearing weather prevails.

The indications are for showers and partly cloudy weather Tuesday in Western Oregon and Western Washington, and fair weather in the eastern portions of these states and in Idaho.

The river at Portland continues slowly in rise and a stage of 12.5 feet was reached at 5 P. M., which is a rise of 0.5 of a foot since yesterday evening. There has been a small rise at Eugene and a corresponding fall at Salem during the last 24 hours. The river at Portland will remain nearly stationary during the next two or three days.

WATER FORECASTS.

Forecasts made at Portland for the 28 hours ending at midnight, March 1: Portland and vicinity—Tuesday, showers, westerly winds.
 Western Oregon and Western Washington—Tuesday, showers, westerly winds.
 Eastern Oregon and Southern Idaho—Tuesday, probably fair.
 Eastern Washington and Northern Idaho—Tuesday, fair, slightly warmer north portion.

"The faintest kind of character acting was seen in Howard Kyle's presentation of Louis N. Papp's comic comedy, "Rosemary," at the Marquam Theatre last night. It is two years since Mr. Kyle appeared here in a more strenuous role in "Nathan Hale," and he has deepened in his art and has now a more powerful John Hare and Maude Adams starred in "Rosemary," and the latter has also received the interpretation here of James Neil.
 In fairness, it may be said that the comedy of this spiritless, created race, it is entitled to a more credit for his excellent conception of this ideal role and in illustrating the beauty of a pure love story.

The play opens oddly with a darkened stage for the first act, and ends in darkness shadow with Sir Jasper, a tottering old man of years, devotedly kissing a sprig of rosemary given him by a girl in love with another man 10 years previously.
 Mr. Kyle was capable at all times, and it was a pleasure to note the fine skill he displayed in the different moods of his character study. Frederick Webber, as Jogram, and George Gaston, as that old sea-dog, Captain Cruikshank, were royal navy, did fine work. Sadie Handy, who is a New York girl and who talks with a Southern patois, was Sadie Dorothy, and looked the part. Her voice, however, did not live over the house.
 Norman Macdonald as William Westwood, the young bridegroom, was not convincing.
 The second act, representing Ingle Hall, ought to present a better picture.

"Fatinitza" Next Week.

"Two girls had a wordy dispute last night in a well-known restaurant over the pronunciation of the name of the man who composed "Fatinitza," the military opera that will be produced under the direction of Manager George I.
 Baker, at the Marquam Theatre, March 1, 3 and 5. First they settled the point that the composer referred to was not named this way. "Francisco Eschelle" Ermengildo Cavalliere Suppe Demell.
 But how to pronounce the word Suppe?
 One man in the party proposed to cable to Von Suppe to find out. But one of the girls sensibly remarked that this would be difficult, as Suppe had died in May, 1895. Finally, a visit was paid to a neighboring musical library, and an authority on the pronunciation this way:
 "Soop-pay."

New Bill at the Arcade.

Sixty slip-flops per minute—that is the record of the Nelson Sisters, the headliners in the new bill at the Arcade this week. They are members of the original Nye Nelson family and are acrobatic artists in addition to being dancers. One of the prettiest, best-developed, most healthy-looking girls seen in vaudeville in this city. Their act is alone worth the time and money. Mason and Tibbitts make good
 in their comedy "The Kissing Myster."
 Mason masquerading as a German with a
 beer accent. They present a new defini-
 Renne appears in a new and splendid act,
 and the bioscope pictures are interesting.
 The show is a good one.

Daniel Sully Tomorrow.

Seats are now selling for the genial actor Daniel Sully, who comes to the Marquam Grand Theatre tomorrow (Wednesday) and Thursday nights in his latest successful drama, "The Chief Justice."
 The play is essentially a modern one, dealing with present conditions in the world of wealth and fashion, finance and law. It is a powerful romance, which compels for its central motive the financial and sentimental immolation of a sturdy Chief Justice on the altar of judicial duty. Mr.
 Sully has surrounded himself with a high-class company, capable of giving a first-class interpretation of this beautiful play.

"The Two Orphans."

The production of "The Two Orphans" this week by the Baker Theatre Company is far above the ordinary. In fact, it is a masterpiece, and one of the older plays is revived anywhere where there is an elaborate and complete scale as in this instance. The scenery and settings, gothic in the large cast required, have been utilized to the highest degree, and the result is one not soon to be forgotten by those who attend the Baker this week.

LOST TRIBES FOUND.
 Israel Lives in the Anglo-Saxon-Biblical Story of Evolution.

PORTLAND, Feb. 28.—(To the Editor.)
 "The Bible, when rightly interpreted, is rational, scientific. It is the best exposition of evolutionary creation that ever was, or ever could be written. A million years was not too much to develop representative of the human family susceptible to the voice of his Creator, and receptive of His spirit. His name is called Adam. It is purely a matter of development.

The generations following Adam were by families that existed in some cases more than 800 years. Each family produced a favored son that carried on the lineage of this spiritually-created race, till finally a man was born constituted to see, to speak with God and obey Him.
 His name is called Abraham. But it required many hundreds of years more for this family to produce a woman fitted to become the virgin mother of the Christ.

Greece existed for philosophy and language; Rome to guide the world with highways—without the capacity for spiritual growth, they perished with the rest. A barbarous people took their place, but hidden within them was the power of the soul. It is worth while to notice that this people have in their veins the blood of Abraham. A remnant of the ten lost tribes, escaping from Media through a gorge in the Caspian Mountains, settled in Central Europe, becoming the organizers of the Anglo-Saxon race today.

The Bible, then, is sure to be the history of the beginning; the evolutionary progress of the human race from the animal to the spiritual plane of life; the prophecy of a new environment for the soul, that would at last result in the Kingdom of God upon the earth. This is evolution, but it is the evolution of the soul. M. S. GRISVOLD.

CRIPPLED HAND USED AS CLEW

F. F. Frye is Arrested on Charge of Making Attempt to Burn Mills.

Detective Kerrigan returned from Seattle last night with F. F. Frye, charged with attempting to burn the Portland Flouring Mills and with attempting to kill Charles Berthelet, the night watchman.
 Frye was formerly employed as a workman at the mills. He had trouble and was discharged. At the time he was paid off he swore vengeance against the company. It was the day after he was discharged that an attempt was made to burn the mills, and three shots were fired at the night watchman. Frye was not seen in Portland after that day, and only recently he had been located in Seattle.

The fact that his right hand had been crippled in the cogs of one of the machines is said to be damaging evidence against Frye. The watchman testified that the man who shot at him held a gun in his left hand. The officers believe that Frye was the man, since he could not hold the gun in his right hand.
