FAIR TO AID ALL

Williamson Speaks for the 1905 Bill.

TRADE WILL BE INCREASED

House Is Asked to Make a Liberal Appropriation.

LIVELY INTEREST IS EVINCED

Oregon Congressman's Maiden Effort Calls Forth Hearty Congratulations From Many of His Colleagues.

OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washington, March 1.—Representative Williamson, in a half-hour speech, today called the attention of the House of Representatives to the fact that a Lewis and Clark Centennial Exposition is to be held in Portland in 1905, and on behalf of the people of his state earnestly pleaded with the House to make a liberal appropriation to aid in that Exposition.

The initial effort of Mr. Williamson was warmly applauded by his colleagues. In a concise manner, he explained the objects of the Exposition, and pointed out the vast trade advantages that will accrue, not only to Oregon, but to all states that participate, even to those of the Atlantic Coast. At the conclusion of his remarks, Mr. Williamson received congratulations from many of his fellow-members.

HOUSE PUTS IN BUSY DAY.

WASHINGTON, March 1.—The House today concluded general debate on the District of Columbia appropriation bill. A variety of subjects other than the bill were discussed. Sheppard (Dem., Tex.) spoke against the tariff; Adams (Pa.) in favor of the restriction of immigration; Powers (Mass.) urged beautifying the National Capitol, and expressed the opinion that there would be disarmament by the nations of the world during the century. Williamson (Or.) made his first speech in the House. He urged an appropriation for the Lewis and Clark Exposition. McDermott (Dem., N. J.) made an anti-trust speech, and Miers (Dem., Ind.) discussed the ship subsidy.

Relief of the Southern tobacco-raisers was advocated by Hopkins (Dem., Ky.) and Flood (Dem., Va.) through the repeal of the 6-cent per pound tax on stemmed and twisted tobacco.

A bill giving the consent of Congress to the removal of restrictions from the sale of allotted lands on the Puyallup Reservation in Washington was passed as the first business. Consideration of the District of Columbia appropriation bill was then resumed in the committee of the whole.

Sheppard (Dem., Tex.) opened the debate, taking the tariff for his subject. He was closely followed on the minority side and frequently applauded by his Democratic colleagues, in his arraignment of the Republican system of taxation.

Adams (Pa.) followed with a discussion of methods to keep out undesirable immigrants.

Adams called attention to his bill proposing to limit the number of immigrants to be admitted from any one country in any one year to 80,000. This would affect, he explained, but three countries in Southern Europe, from which the most undesirable classes come. The danger to the East from this source, he added, was greater than was that of the yellow peril to the Pacific Coast. Adams said that two-thirds of the 1,000,000 immigrants admitted last year came from Southern Europe. Statistics at the port of New York, he added, demonstrated that despite the immigration laws and the most careful inspection, it was possible last year to keep out only four-fifths of 1 per cent of the number reaching that port, and further that 20 of each 10,000 became paupers.

Powers (Mass.) made a strong appeal for the improvement and beautifying of the National Capitol. Powers hoped the time was near at hand when the nations of the earth would cease building up big navies and prophesied disarmament within the century.

Hopkins (Dem., Ky.) argued in favor of the Gaines bill to remove the internal revenue tax on stemmed or twisted tobacco when sold by the producer. He charged that certain plugs of tobacco turned out by the trust contained many ingredients besides tobacco.

Flood (Dem., Va.) followed in advocacy of the same relief to the tobacco-growers of the South.

Williamson (Or.) spoke for recognition by the National Government of the Exposition to be held at Portland, Or., in 1905, in commemoration of the Lewis and Clark expedition to the Pacific Coast.

McDermott (Dem., N. J.) gave notice that he should endeavor to fight the trusts through an amendment to the Constitution giving Congress authority to create and regulate corporations. He asserted that the reduction of the tariff on Cuban sugar had resulted in lowering the price of raw sugar, but not the price of sugar to the consumer. He based this statement on the testimony of representatives of Hawaiian sugar interests, that the price of raw sugar had fallen to the amount of the reduction of tariff on Cuban sugar.

"But," added McDermott, "I cannot expect that anything not including an appropriation can gain the attention of this deserted banquet hall."

Referring to the remarks of Williamson, McDermott said that attention might be secured for a bill to provide for the celebration of the six thousandth anniversary of the departure of Adam and Eve from the Garden of Eden or some later event.

Miers (Dem., Ind.) entered a protest against a ship subsidy. He declared the pending bill for a commission to investigate this subject was but the same old question with a mask on. This closed the general debate.

At 5:07 P. M. the House adjourned.

INVESTIGATION IS AGAIN URGED

Democrats Want to Go Into Affairs of Postoffice Department.

WASHINGTON, March 1.—An investigation of the Postoffice Department by a special committee of the House is being urged by the minority members of the House committee on postoffices and post-roads. A resolution to this end introduced in the House January 25 last by Hay (Dem., Va.) was duplicated today by Cowherd (Dem., Mo.). Cowherd is a member of the postoffice committee; Hay is not, and the reintroduction of the resolution is regarded as a move to bring the matter to a head in the near future. The Cowherd resolution provides that a committee of five members of the House shall conduct the investigation.

The hearings had by the committee in the preparation of the postoffice bill, it is declared, developed much information. The subcommittee before which the officials of the department made explanations of their estimates is to lay the information before the full committee in the near future. This information includes, it is stated, evidence of several hundred violations of law by members of the House importuning the increase of salaries of rural postmasters and the increase of force in postoffices, which increase was not absolutely justified by the facts, but which were granted by officials of the department. Other violations of law include a limited number of cases where members of the House have leased their property to the Government for postoffice purposes.

Hay declared he would ask the House to discharge the committee from consideration of his resolution for an investigation, and have the same called up in the House for the consideration of that body.

FOR HEYBURN'S CHOICE.

Senate Committee Favors Woolley as Assayer at Boise.

WASHINGTON, March 1.—The Senate committee on finance today made a favorable report on the nomination of H. Smith Woolley, nominated for assayer at Boise, Idaho. There has been quite a contest over the nomination on account of certain reports against Woolley on file in the Treasury Department. Nothing in the way of charges were filed with the committee, but Senator Teller reserved the right to introduce a resolution calling for the secret service reports of the Treasury regarding the investigation made by the department. Woolley is a Mormon bishop, and his appointment was made at the urgent request of Senator Heyburn, in the face of strong opposition from Idaho.

The nomination was taken up in executive session today, and Senator Teller offered a resolution calling upon the Secretary of the Treasury for copies of the reports concerning Judge Woolley's record in the employment of the Government in Idaho. He explained in support of the resolution that he had made an effort to bring the information before the committee on finance, but the Republican members had put him off from time to time, and finally had voted not to send for the reports. He said he understood that the reports sustained two charges of blackmail, and the offenses had been committed while Judge Woolley was serving as a collector of internal revenue. Republican Senators denied that secret service officials who conducted the investigation of the charges had convicted Woolley of the offenses charged, and in opposition to the resolutions said the reports are on file in the Treasury Department, where any Senator may examine them without publicity. The nomination will come up again at a subsequent session.

WAITS ON SMOOT'S ATTORNEY

Senate Committee Postpones Hearing of Protests Until Today.

WASHINGTON, March 1.—The investigation of the protests against Senator Reed Smoot retaining his seat in the United States Senate will not begin until 10 o'clock tomorrow morning. When Chairman Burrows called the committee to order today Waldemar VanCott, of Salt Lake City, Utah, one of the counsel for the defense, asked for a postponement until tomorrow, on account of the unavoidable absence of A. S. Worthington, of Washington, D. C., who has charge of the case for Senator Smoot.

The attorney for the protestants made no objection to the continuance for the reason that the witnesses they desired to put on the stand in opening the case had not yet arrived from Utah. The one witness present was E. B. Critchlow, ex-United States District Attorney in Utah, who has prosecuted a number of cases against Mormons. Ex-Secretary of the Treasury J. G. Carlisle and ex-Representative Robert W. Taylor, attorneys for the prosecution, were present.

NAVAL BILL REPORTED.

Senate Committee Makes Changes in Measure Passed by House.

WASHINGTON, March 1.—After only one session of the committee on naval affairs, the naval appropriation bill was today reported to the Senate. Comparatively few changes were made in the bill as passed by the House, though the provision for a naval training station on the Great Lakes was again incorporated in the measure. The increase recommended by the Senate aggregates $327,000, making the total $97,000,738. Provision is also made for a considerable increase in the teaching force at the Naval Academy at Annapolis.

An important amendment in regard to the promotions in the navy provides that subject to restrictions imposed by existing law, boatswains, gunners and warrant machinists shall be eligible for appointment to the grade of ensign after two years' service as warrant officers and boatswains, gunners, carpenters and sailmakers after six years shall be eligible to the position of choice of their class.

JOINT STATEHOOD IS FAVORED

Roosevelt Will Work to Have New Mexico and Arizona Combined.

DENVER, March 1.—A special to the News from Las Vegas, N. M., says:

A telegram from New Mexico's territorial delegate, giving the information that the President has just declared to him he was in favor of joint statehood for New Mexico and Arizona and would use his influence to secure the passage of a joint bill in the present Congress, has just been received in this city.

Governor Otero, Territorial Secretary Reynolds and Chief Justice Mills happened to be here when the telegram was received. All have been opponents of joint statehood, but upon seeing the message they abandoned the fight for separate statehood and are willing to accept a liberal measure admitting New Mexico and Arizona jointly.

Hazing a Thing of Past at West Point

WASHINGTON, March 1.—Hazing at West Point Military Academy practically is a thing of the past, according to Colonel Mills, superintendent of that institution, who continued his testimony before the House committee on military affairs today touching the items to be included in the Military Academy appropriation bill. Colonel Mills said the practice had been abolished through a strict enforcement of the law for the past two years. A cadet found guilty of hazing was dismissed and not readmitted, he said.

Transport Sails for Philippines.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 1.—The United States Army transport Sherman sailed today for the Philippines via Honolulu. She carried the Twelfth Infantry, commanded by Colonel J. W. Bubb, 400 infantry and 100 cavalry recruits, besides a large number of officers, as passengers. In her hold were 1500 tons of Army supplies. Before her departure the transport was inspected by Major-General MacArthur. Captain F. L. Winn, of the Twelfth Infantry, did not sail with the regiment, as he has just been appointed an aide on the staff of General MacArthur.

Would Give Alaska a Delegate.

WASHINGTON, March 1.—A favorable report was made today from the Senate committee on territories on Senator Nelson's bill giving Alaska a delegate in Congress.

Alaska Complaint to Be Investigated.

WASHINGTON, March 1.—The House committee on claims today recommended a favorable report on a Senate resolution referring the complaint of the Walta Island Packing Company that its business had been ruined by being included in Canadian territory, by the award of the Alaskan Boundary Commission, to the Department of Commerce and Labor for investigation and adjudication.

POWERS WORK FOR PEACE.

Situation in the Balkans Is Now Deemed Satisfactory.

PARIS, March 1.—Authoritative advices have been received in Paris which show the eminently satisfactory condition of affairs existing in the Balkans. Roumania, Servia and Bulgaria have given fresh assurances that they purpose to maintain peace, despite the delay in the signature of the proposed agreement between Turkey and Bulgaria. This, it is said, does not show any intention on the part of the Porte to take advantage of Russia's preoccupation in the Far East.

It is emphatically denied that Austria is mobilizing troops, or that such steps are being taken by the Balkan States. This satisfactory conclusion has been brought about, it is understood, as the result of the attitude of Germany, whose influence was exercised on Turkey; of Austria, which reported the inadvisability of a belligerent attitude, and of Roumania and of Russia, which applied pressure on Bulgaria and Servia. Russia and Austria are understood to be loyally acting together to bring about the enforcement of financial as well as other reforms in Macedonia.

Servia and Bulgaria Will Co-Operate.

BERLIN, March 1.—The correspondent of the Lokal Anzeiger, at Belgrade, Servia, telegraphs that King Peter, addressing the officers of the army on the occasion of the Servian centenary, alluded to the Balkan situation, saying they must prepare themselves for great days. General Putnik, the War Minister, responded, saying the army would defend Servian rights. This incident is taken in Berlin to mean that Servia and Bulgaria may have reached an agreement to co-operate.

Spanish Garrison Is Reinforced.

TENERIFFE, Canary Islands, March 1.—A detachment of 1000 Spanish troops arrived here to re-enforce the garrison in accordance with the plans of the Spanish government to protect Spain's neutrality during the war in the Far East.

Attacked by Robbers in His Office.

CHICAGO, March 1.—Three robbers followed Patrick Burke, a coal dealer, from a restaurant to his office last night, attacked him and after a terrific struggle, in which a stove was overturned, setting fire to the place, left him bound and gagged and unconscious with a fractured skull. They escaped with $100. Burke, who is 60 years old, was almost suffocated by the smoke from the overturned stove before he recovered consciousness and broke his bonds. His condition is critical.

Plan to Draw America In.

NEW YORK, March 1.—General Francisco Vasquez, formerly Dominican Consul here, and a brother of ex-President Horacio Vasquez, of Santo Domingo, asserts he has documentary proof that the Jiminiz revolutionists are deliberately making war upon Americans in the island in order that the United States Government may be moved to interfere and assume a protectorate over the country.

LA GRANDE, Or., March 1.—(Special)—There was a meeting of a number of the former students of the old La Grande Blue Mountain University held in the Commercial Club parlors Monday evening, to arrange for a big reunion of all students of this university, to take place early in April. Permanent officers were elected for the year, also, as follows:

Japanese Fleet Not to Be Seen.

ST. PETERSBURG, March 1.—Direct telegraphic advices received here from Port Arthur tonight made no mention of the bombardment of that place reported by the London Daily Telegraph today. On the contrary, these advices say the Japanese fleet has disappeared from the horizon at Port Arthur.

Prisoner Forger Is Rearrested.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 1.—Joseph White, one of the military prisoners who secured his release from Alcatraz Island last October by means of a forged pardon, has been arrested in this city and is again a convict in the Island prison. With four companions he was released from Alcatraz on what the officers in charge of the prison thought to be genuine orders of release.

Not until the men were well away was the fraud discovered. An investigation showed that the entire plot had been hatched and carried out by the men in the prison. The men had forged the names of the heads of the War Department and also the names of Major H. M. Morris, Judge-Advocate of the Department of California, and Major J. B. Williams, Assistant Adjutant-General. Even letterheads upon which the pardons were printed were fraudulent.
