DE WITH ALASKA

imber Takes Up Captain Healey's Scheme

FOR DIRECT STEAMER LINE

Pioneer of Northern Territory Says Seattle is on the Blacklist There and Portland May Capture the Trade by Seeking It.

Captain J. J. Healey, formerly of the North American Transportation Trading mpany, has succeeded in interesting the Chamber of Commerce of this city in the organization of a Portland-Alaska Trading Company for the purpose of operating a line of steamers between here and the North and building up trade between Portland and Alaska. At a ting of the Chamber yesterday after noon Captain Healey presented his plan and it was enthusiastically received. Apparently it is looked upon most favora bly by some of the prominent business men, and an effort is to be made to or ganize the company here and make Portand its headquarters and supply point. A meeting will be called in a few days at which the business men of the city in general will be in attendance. The proposition will be laid before them and, if enough can be interested to guarantee success, steps will be taken immediately towards organizing the company. Besides placing in operation a line of steamers between here and Alaska, the organization of the company here, it is argued, will mean the transferring of the Alaska trade from Seattle to this

The attention of the Chamber of Commerce was first called to this proposition through an interview with Captain Healey printed in a Seattle paper sev-Healey printed in a Seattle paper several days ago. In that interview Captain Healey stated that the business men of the Pugut Sound city had not treated him fairly in supplying goods for the Alaskan trade, and it was his purpose to organize a company to deal elsewhere. Captain Healey was quoted as saying that the Seattle merchants were so eager for the almighty dollar that they lost sight of future interests and filled his orders with inferior goods. As a result orders with inferior goods. As a result of this he announced his intention of or-ganizing a company with its supply point at some other place, mentioning San Francisco as the most likely one.

A copy of this interview was sent Assistant Secretary Mosessohn, of the Chamber of Commerce. With a view to capturing the Alaskan trade for Portland, he immediately wrote to Captain Hesley inviting him to come to this city and lay his plans before members of the Chamber with a view to organizing his company here.

Yesterday afternoon the following mombers of the Chamber met with Cap-tain Healey to discuss the matter: Henry Hahn, A. H. Devers, Thomas Honeyman, L. Blumauer and Dan Neustadter. Cap-tain Healey discussed his proposition thoroughly, and it was under discussion by the members of the Chamber for two hours. The most favorable comment was made upon it, and it appeared to be the general opinion that such a company could be operated with success. Accordingly is was decided that the proposition should be laid before the business men the city in general, and an effort be ade to induce them to take stock. In se mountime every effort will be put th to make it successful. proposition of Captain Healey ines the establishment of a line of mers that will ply between Portland Alaska at regular intervals. The will have its headquarters in any will have its neacquarters in city, if organized here, and the sup-that are consumed by Alaskan peo-viil be shipped from this port. In words, commerce will be estab-between the Portland business men e Alaskan consumers. Those who comoting the project believe that good management it would only be all the Alaskan trade that past has gone to Seattle and North-ies. If the company is organized, poses to charter ships and begin one without delay. Of course the ompany would have to buck the American Company, but Captain believes there will be little diffity in doing this successfully.
