ARC LIGHTS ARE WEAK

SELLWOOD BOARD OF TRADE AIRS A GRIEVANCE.

Complainants Say Electric Company Is Giving Poor Service and Committee Will Investigate.

At the annual meeting of the Sellwood Board of Trade Wednesday night an election of officers was held, it was announced that Milwaukie avenue is to be improved, and a general "kick" was made concern-ing the condition of electric lights in that suburb. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, D. M. Donaugh; first vice-president, A. N. Wills; second vice-president, J. N. Nickim; secretary and treasurer, John Campbell; assistant secretary, E. A. Austin. Many newcomers placed their names on the membership roll, making a total of over 100. Thirteen were present at th first meeting of the organization.

John W. Campbell cailed attention to the condition of the arc lights in Sellwood, which he said were not effective and were out a considerable portion of the time, while lights were burning brightly in South Portland across the Willamette River. It was the judgment of Mr. Campbell that one reason for the poor electric lights in Sellwood was that the full current was not turned on the circuit; that in place of 2000-candle-power arcs not more than 500 candle power lights were fur ished, and that frequently the circuit at allwood was cut out entirely so that other actions of the city might be better served. Campbell declared that the reason company reduced the current and suspended it at times in Sellwood was be-cause the company had too much business to furnish the full 2000 candle power ares for that suburb.

E. A. Austin took a fling at the trimmer for that district, and said the arcs in that suburb were not properly cared for; that the globes were dingy and dirty. Mr. Austin remarked that electric arcs must be carefully adjusted to give the best re-sults, and if they were not given proper care the current would be reduced and the lights would be either very poor or would not "burn" at all. He said that the carbons were saved by low voltage, and did not have to be often replaced. After full discussion the standing com-pittee on arc lights and police protection was instructed to ascertain the cause of was instructed to ascertain the cause of the trouble with the lights in that sub-

Professor E. D. Curtis, of the Portland Executive Board, and chairman of the committee on streets, reported on Milwau. lile avenue to the effect that the street was to be regraveld with crushd rock by the Oregon Water Power & Railway Com-pany from Hawthorne avenue to Holgate street. He said that the railway company had just put its rock crusher into opera-tion, and would shortly begin dressing the portion of Milwaukle avenue occupied by its double tracks, and that the company Mayor had contracted with the city to redress the remainder of the street outside its double tracks. This information will be received with great satisfaction by the farmers of Clackamas County, who have to travel er Milwaukie avenue to reach Portland with their produce. From Holgate street Milwaukle avenue is a county road and in fair condition. One of the conditions which the woolen milis company requires lding at Sellwood is that Milwaufor rebuilding at Sellwood ide avenue be repaired.

Alleged "History" of One Woman. MILTON, Or., March 1 .- (To the Editor.) -There has just come to my notice an article printed in your issue of February 2 from the pen of Mrs. J. L. Hillary, Turser, Or., entitled, "It Is Not History." She continues, after quoting from my an nual address, given at the state conven-tion held in Salem October 20 to 23, 1903: "This history is not to be found any-where, for it is not history!" The statement made in the address as quoted above, with additional data, was gleaned from a pamphlet printed from the advance sheets of the Chicago Law Times for October 1888, and is copyrighted. Copies may be obtained from the publishers. This pamphlet is entitled, "Who Were Voters in the Early History of This Country?' I will give but one quotation, found on "Originally, in New York, as in other colonies, freehold suffrage prevailed. That women voted is a matter of history. Lady Deborah Moody, in 1854, voted for town officers and for taxes and officers of Gravesend, L. I., and for years elected all the town officials by her single vote."—(Lady Deborah Moody, by James W. JAPAN WILL WIN.

Because of the Cruelty and Injustice of Russian Rule.

PORTLAND, March 2-(To the Editor.)

I desire to give an expression on the Eastern controversy. A nation can benanhood and womanhood contained there in. No nation same as an individual, will or can prosper at most but for a short time, that advocates wrong and vicious principles. Spain's continued misfortunes during the past centuries were caused by her practiced cruelties, her inhuman conduct; hence there is and was no question of her certain decline and sure decay.
Russia has been making a mighty attempt in the past few years to pull her unwieldy form of 150,000,000 of people up to a higher standard of citizenship. Great respect is certainly due her for making this praise worthy attempt, but I fear for her own advancement and lasting good she is now attempting to do the impossible; for God ever frowns upon cruelty and injustice. A promise was given by Russia, and broken Manchuria was to have been vacated Japan is a small nation, but a most pow erful one, at this time. Why? Her 50, 000,000 of people are fighting as one man, with only one central thought—bome. No under or overpald soldiers can or will successfully stand the fire of such a de termined foe. For each Japanese is ready and willing to give up his life in defense, as he views it, of his own sacred hearth-stone. No question as to the outcome in the present contest—Japan will be successful. Japan is at home: Russia, with her vast army, is 5000 miles away from the field of battle. With Winter and insurnountable obstacles in the way. should that army ever arrive in Manchu ris, a fact not to be overlooked is that the combined armies of Japan and China will be on hand to meet them, actuated will be on hand to meet them, actuated by the law, if nothing else, of self-preser-vation. Russia is facing sure defeat, on land and on sea. Time will fully verify this formed and expressed opinion. W. M. KILLINGSWORTH.
