rifles as quickly as they could and rushed rapidly from point to point, uttering blood-curdling yells. The Chinese thought they were attacked in force, and fied in confusion, leaving their camp and sup-

When a mother hears that her son has been killed in battle, she does not weep or show any visible sign of emotion. She bows her head and calmly says, "Shikata go nai!" When a man is sent by his offeer to certain death, he does not sit down around shaking hands with his comrades for the last time, as white men would

A FEMALE KIPLING.

Felicia Hemans Struck Same Chord

as Poet of Action.

Boston Transcript.

Our latter-day prophet-poets of imperialism come upon us with a so imperative sounding of bugles that little chance is eft for the hearing of echoes from earlier and more slender strains. Yet a whim-sical critic might be tempted to try to catch one of those distant songs and place the image of the singer—the drooping and ringleted shade of a female of exquisite sensibility-beside the virile personality of the laureate of the empire. It is not likely that either of the two writers would acknowledge the kinship here suggested. Mr. Kipling would not impossibly resent it with big guns, while it staggers the imagination of man to conceive of Felicia lemans composedly perusing "Barrack-

Room Ballads" and acepting the author as her own spiritual great-grandson. Yet the delicate lady who wrote much of flowers and bowers, festive scenes and souring thoughts did nevertheless soundmuch the same effect:

Go, stranger, track the deep;

Free, free the white sail-spread, marks our English dead.

Wave may not foam, nor wild wind sweep Where sleep not England's dead.

We have fed our sea for a thousand years

We have given our best to the sea's unrest to the shark and the shearing gull;

Not in a stray lyric alone can the fan

Even in her rhythms Mrs. Hemans anticlpated, though in a tentative fashion, some of Kipling's resounding verses, as in her the special province (one had almost written patent) of the author of the "Reessional"-and a surprising martial pas-

ion. It is difficult to conceive of Kin-ling's softening his tremendous tones to the pitch of any of Mrs. Hemans' poems, though there are individual cadences in which she "strikes fire along the bannered ine" which he might not altogether disdain. But it is not impossible to imagine

The lionlike awakening of the roused indig-night in an unusually forceful mood have achieved the noble "Hymn before Action," the beatgof which is identical with one of her war songs, and the close of which with its tenderly irrelevant invocation to Mary strikes, or would strike were the writer a woman, a curiously feminine only by ufflimited quotation, so it must be left to those few readers who have not dismissed Felicia Hemans to oblivion and who know that she sang of the waves and of the English flag—as he sings today whose note is reverberated from all his Seven Seas. Mrs. Hemans had her limita-tions, possibly her compensations; she could not have written Kipling's "Flag of England" or "Ford o' Kabul River"; she would have swooned at the suggestion of o disclaim the kinship?

"Absent-Minded

that the singer of-

If blood be the price of Admiralty, If blood be the price of Admiralty, Lord God, we hat paid it full!

and write his last letters home or plies behind them.

SLASHED BY KNIVES

Three Brothers Badly Injured in New York Feud.

LURED TO AMBUSH IN SALOON

False Protests of Friendship Bring Them Into the Power of a Gang Collected by Their Bitter Enemies.

NEW YORK, April 10 .- In a feud fight here today three brothers, Thomas, William and Michael Gilbride, were seriously if not fatally stabbed, and Harry and John McShane, also brothers, were badly

On Saturday a fight occurred betwee Harry McShane and Thomas Gilbride and both were arrested. Today, meeting Gilbride and his two brothers on the street with several of their friends, Mc-Shane gathered about 20 of his friends in of First avenue and Twenty-Third street. Then, according to the police, he approached Gilbride, professed regret over their trouble of the day before and finally iduced the Gilbride party to go with him to the saloon to drink and forget their differences. As soon as all were inside the saloon McShane is said to have given signal, at which his friends began the marry McShane devoted his energy to Tom Gilbride, and used a long-bladed jackknife on his adversary. The fight between these two men lasted five minutes. Glibride fell to the floor insensible and bleeding profusely from a jagged cut in the abdomen and anther cut on the

Then Harry McShane attacked William Gibride and inflicted several wounds. The men fought their way out of the saloon and continued the battle in the street, causing a crowd to collect that blocked the surface cars and led to the calling out of the police reserves.

The fight lasted an hour. When the police reserves arrived they sent Thomas and William Gilbride to the hospital and arrested the two McShanes, who were bleeding from a dozen wounds.

Michael Gilbride, with a serious stab wound over his heart, evaded the police.

ANARCHIST RETURNS.

MacQueen Will Give Himself Up to the Authorities at Paterson. NEW YORK, April 10.-William Mas the anarchist, who is under a sentence in New Jersey for inciting the silk-trade riots in Paterson in June, 1902, arrived today on the St. Paul from Southampton, traveling under an assumed name. He will surrender to the Sheriff of Passaic County in order to serve his sentence, from which he has appealed in vain.

the East Indies, and as for Love, he is a damned fool. When I came to Brussels from Vienna in 1815, I found him Quarter-

$10,000 bail. He says that he means, if possible, to blot out the stain which, he asserts, has been unjustly placed on his name. MacQueen says his connection with the Paterson riot was misrepresented: that instead of inciting the mob to violence he had used his utmost endeav-ors to pacify the people. He also denied that he was in any way connected with Bresci, the assassin of King Humbert of

He admitted that a movement was on foot in England to have his case brought to the attention of the United States Government, with a view of mitigating of dismissing the indict-

COCKFIGHT IN OFFICER'S BARN usual. One of his Generals-Marmont-ventured to remark, "What think ye of Wellington, sire?" Napoleon mused for Wealthy Men in Evening Dress Arrested by the Police.

NEW YORK, April 16 .- Early today the police interrupted a cockfight in the priate stable of Robert A. Pinkerton, the detective, in Brooklyn, and took 22 prison-ers, among whom were several in evening

Twenty-five gamecocks also were cantured and six dead birds were found in the stable. Most of the prisoners, a majority of whom are wealthy, were locked up. At the Pinkerton house it was said Mr Pinkerton is in California

BILLS IN THE SENATE.

Postoffice and Indian Appropriations Come First.

WASHINGTON, April 10.-The appropriation bills this week will take prece-dence of all business in the Senate, but it is more than probable that political discussion will take up most of the time nominally devoted to appropriations.

Postoffice bill will divide attention early in the week with the conference report on the Indian bill. By the time these two measures shall have been disposed of it is expected the sundy civil bill will have been reported from the committee on appropriations.

It is quite generally understood that several Democratic Senators will reply to Senator Spooner's speech, among them Senator Gorman. There will be an effort made to get up the Panama Canal bill dur-ing the week, but not if it would interfere with consideration of appropriation

PHILIPPINE BILL IN HOUSE.

Two Days' Debate Probable on Important Measure.

WASHINGTON, April 10.-The measures of importance that will come before the House this week include the $2,000,000 appropriation to carry on necessary river and harber work, the general deficiency bill, which is expected to come from the appropriations committee early in the week; the Cooper act amending the Philippine Civil Government bill, authorizing a bond issue by the island government for internal improvements and guaranteeing E per cent earnings on capital to be in-vested in railroad building in the islands; the statehood bill, and conference reports as they may come up for consideration The river and harbor and general deficiency bills are not likely to consume much time, but the Philippine bill, which probably will be reported by Wednesday. is expected to require at least two days

The statehood bill's career is determined by a caucus of Republican members to be held probably Thursday evening. A special rule from the committee on rules, limiting debate and providing for a vote is expected as the result of the caucus.

Mixed Politics and Sympathy.

WASHINGTON, April 16.—Pursuant to special orders, the House of Representatives today conducted memorial services emory of the late Representatives Foerderer and Burke, of Pennsylvania, In addition to the members of the families, a large number of Pennsylvanians occupied seats in the galleries.

Each of the large list of speakers paid touching tributes to the two departed members, some venturing into the realm of politics to demonstrate that Messrs.

Foerderer and Burke had built up vast

"Well, sir," said the author, enthusiastically, "may book is selling like hot cakes." "Hot cakes, eh" remarked the critic. "I can up a hot fire at him all the time. When he emerged, he was wounded, and his clothes Philadelphia Press. Each of the large list of speakers paid businesses and acquired great wealth through the protective tariff system. Adamson, of Pennsylvania, said that previous to the election of Burke, his district, which was the old Samuel J. Ran-dall district, for ages had been misrepresented in Congress and had been a blot on the City of Philadelphia because it did not represent the sentiment of the people nor the doctrine on which its vast manu-factures is dependent for success. He declared, however, that the district had been ned by Burke from Democratic con-

Resolutions of sympathy and respect were adopted, following which the House adjourned till tomorrow

Session May End April 28. WASHINGTON, April 19.-April 28 has ben discussed in committee rooms and among Senators and Representatives as not at all an improbable date for the ter-mination of the present session of Congress. No call has yet been issued, but Republican leaders in the Senate antici-pate holding a meeting of the steering committee early next week to agree on a general programme for the remainder of

OUTSPOKEN "IRON DUKE." Some Interesting Gossip of Welling ton and His Opinions,

New York Press. New York Fress.

It is amusing to us Americans to hear his lese majeste, the Kalser, crack up those Hanoverlans, as they were simply made a chopping block of—and hammered to a standstill—in the war of the Revolution. Any real fighting there was was done almost between brothers, or, at least one almost between brothers, or, at least between kith and kin, as the irreconcil-ables here—the most bitterly opposed to King George (as expressed by the Boston tea party)-were the Scotch Presbyterians and the Scotch-Irish; that is, the Ulster nen originally, and any fighting on the English side was done practically by the same extraction, the "mercenaries" (Han-overians and Hessians showing up very poorly. The "Minute Men" simply made a punching-bag of them. Waterloo was fought and won before the redoubtable

Blucher showed up. That's history. In the "Creevey Papers," just published, not unlike the Croker Papers, here's what Wellington himself says:
"Blucher and I have lost 20,000 men. It as been a damned nice thing—the nearest run thing you ever saw in your life. Blucher lost 14,000 on Friday night (at Ligny), and got so damnably licked I could not find him on Saturday morning: so I was obliged to fall back to regain my communications with him."

Creevey asked if the French had fought better at Waterloo than he had ever seen them do before. Wellington replied I had not been there!"

Creevey said: "Well, now, Duke, don't you think Love a very unnecessary gaol-er of Bonaparte at St. Helena? It is surely very disreputable to us to put any restraint upon him not absolutely necessary for his detention." With his usual expletive, Wellington replied: "By _____. I don't know! Bonaparte is so damned intractable a fellow there is no knowing how to deal with him. To be sure, as to the means employed to keep him there, never was anything so damned absurd. I know the Island of St. Helena well. I looked at every part of it on my way from master-General of the army, and I pres-ently found the damned fellow would in-struct me in the equipment of the army, siways producing the Prussians to me as models; so I was obliged to tell him I had commanded a much larger army in the field than any Prussian General, and that I was not to learn from their service how to equip an army. I thought this would have stopped Him, but shortly afterward the damned fellow was after me again about the equipment of the Prussians, so I was obliged to write home and sians, so I was obliged to write nome and complain of him, and the government was kind enough to take him away from me." In one of the "thousand-and-one" lives of Napoleon is in effect the following: "On the eve of the battle (Waterloo) Napoleon was ill at ease, stepping restlessly about, his face more somber than a moment and then slowly replied: "What think I of Wellington? Why, I "What think I of Wellington just as capable of handling large masses of troops as I am."

That was the first, last and only opinion ever expressed by Napoleon of his great In the English camp before the battle Weilington was in the highest spirits. He said to his staff: "Say, officers, we'll give that fellow Boney the damnedest licking he ever got." It is not generally known that the Iron Duke had formulated plans for a final setto with Napoleon a year before. He felt instinctively it was to come. He knew every inch of the field of Waterloo, and the surrounding country.

He even went so far as to have pits dug months and months before the sound of the gong calling the two great master minds into the ring where was decided the battle which changed the whole course of the modern world—and its effects are apparent still.

The Iron Duke was no tuft-hunter.

Creevy says: "In the evening I had a long talk with the Duke in the garden, and he was very agreeable. Upon my say. ing that never government cut so con-temptible a figure as ours in the repeated defeats they sustained on the proposal to augment the establishments of the Dukes of Clarence, Kent and Cumberland, he said: 'By —! There is a great deal to be said about that, They (the Princes) are the damnedest milistone about the neck of any government that can be They have insulted-pers imagined. ally insulted (as the Kaiser has just done in Germany) two-thirds of the gentlemen of England, and how can it be wondered at that they take their revenge upon them when they get them in the House of Commons? It is their only opportunity and I think, by -, they are quite right Of the Regent, the Duke said: "By --You never saw such a figure! He speaks and sweats so like old Falstaff that, damn me, if I wasn't ashamed to walk into a room with him!" THE DAY'S DEATH ROLL.

Colonel Charles H. Page.

PHILADELPHIA, April 19. - Colone Charles H. Page, formerly a member of the Board of Review of the National National Trotting Association and well known to turfmen throughout the country, died here today of heart disease, aged 70

Sherman Tupper.

NEW YORK, April 10.-Sherman Tupper, an old-time actor, died here today of pneumonia, aged 50 years.

Judge His Character and Dignity.

Columbia (S. C.) State. We believe the character and dignity of a man like Judge Alton B. Parker will appeal with refreshing strength to the best Americans just at this time. And if he can more certainly carry his own great state than any other Democrat, and if he commands respect and confidence not only of Democrats, but honest Republicans everywhere, the party must consider him

Topeka Arrives at New York. NEW YORK, April 10.—The United States cruiser Topeka, of the Atlantic training equadron, arrived in port today from Guantanamo.

ITALY HAS GIVEN UP

Austria Is Conceded Provinces in Dispute.

KAISER'S JUDGMENT DECIDES

Meeting of the Ministers of the Two Countries at Abbazia Believed to Mean a Formal Announcement of Italy's Renunciation.

ROME, April 19.-Signor Tittoni, the Italian Foreign Minister, in an interview today said that he and Count Goluchowski, the Austrian Foreign Minister, were entirely satisfied with their meeting at Abbazia yesterday, the result of which he would communicate to Parliament. The following, telegraphed from Vienna to the Independente, caused a sensation:

"The resurrection of the agitation in Italy, in which the agitators claimed the Italian provinces still under Austria, so strained the relations of the two countries that they were several times on the point of declaring war. Austria was indignant when Italy protested to the Emperor of Germany, who, according to the triple alliance, is the arbiter of Austro-

"The Emperor decided that Italy was wrong in not repressing the anti-Austria movement and that Austria would be wrong if she tried to occupy Albania and thus conflict with Italian interests. There being no appeal from this decision, Italy and Austria decided to complete the accord obtained through the meeting at Nator Emmanuel, in whose toasts, contrary to other similar manifestations. Emperor Francis Joseph was cordially alluded to. Besides this meeting at Abbazia, which curred in one of the Italian provinces subject to Austria, is to be understood as Italy's formal renunciation of this prov-

Bad Austro-Italian feeling, in which there is a risk of checking the work of diplomacy, has been roused by an inciient which occurred while the meeting between the Ministers at Abbaza was taking place. The Italian steamer Molarriving at Cattaro (a fortified seaport in the Austrian province of Dalmatia), was approached by Austrian gendarmes who said they wished to in-pect the vessel. The Captain of the Molfetta refused to allow the gendarmes to come on board if they carried arms and the soldlers threatened to attack the ship. The Captain dis-played the Italian flag over the gangway, when the gendarmes were ordered to fire order could be carried into execution the Captain yielded in order to avoid bloodshed.

The Italian Government will bring the matter to the attention of the Austrian Government and ask for an explanation, Honors to Dead Spanish Queen.

MADRID, April 10.—The Official Mes-enger, which appears today with black borders, merely announces the death of ex-Queen Isabella and makes no state-ment regarding the funeral arrange-

King Alphonso desires that every honor hould be paid to the dead, but the remains will not be met at the frontier by the members of the Cabinet, and Min-ister of Justice Toca will alone go to El Escorial, which is 28 miles northwest of Madrid, for the interment.

Requiem masses will be said simultaneously at Madrid and Barcelona, April 12. The Spanish Court will go into mourning

PARIS, April 10.—The remains of ex-Queen Isabella, clad in the habit of the Sisterhood of St. Francis, were this morning placed on a catafalque in the great drawing-room of the Palace Castillio, the late Queen's residence. diplomats, French Government officials and Spanish notabilities were admitted to the palace in the morning. The public was admitted in the afternoon

Emperor William Holds Services. MALTA, April 10.-Emperor William read divine services on board the German imperial vacht Hohenzollern this morning after which he received the Cap-tains of the British fleet. He then landed and visited all the places of interest.

The Emperor dined aboard, the Hohenzollern, his guests including the Governor and the British Admirals. William is in perfect health and is enjoying his cruise. Anglo-French Treaty Published. PARIS, April 10 .- The full text of the Angio-French treaty is published tonight. The main features of the treaty have been fully covered in the summaries given in the Associated Press dispatches. One clause of the treaty pledges the French Government to communicate to Great Britain any agreement entered into between France and Spain on the subject of Morocco.

Treaty Hailed With Delight, CONSTANTINOPLE, April 16 .- The signing of the Turko-Bulgarian treaty has been restored with considerable satis-faction in diplomatic circles here, and it is believed it will contribute materially toward the re-establishment of norr relations between the two countries.

Bishop of Mush Under Arrest. CONSTANTINOPLE, April 16.-A co sular telegram reports the arrest of Ar-menian Bishop of Mush and the members of the Legislative Council for disseminat ing malevolent reports.

STORIES OF JAPANESE SOLDIERS

Deeds of Daring in the Manchurian Campaign.

two Japanese soldiers, on different ships, when in the very throes of death, gasped out, "Has the Chen Yuen sunk yet?" when in the very throes of death, gasped out. "Has the Chen Yuen sunk yet?" that vessel being one of the two most formidable ironclads of the Chinese fleet. "During my campaigning in Manchuria," said a Japanese who went through the Chinese War, and who now resides in New York, "I think the greatest handship we had to endure was the est hardship we had to endure was the terrible cold at Haiching. It was bitter even for a Manchurian Winter. we were on the march our beards froze to our coats, and I saw many men who had their ears and feet frozen off. never once did I hear a single murmur or complaint from any man in the force." The energy and initiative of the Japan ese soldier were strikingly displayed by a private named Kato Juroro, at Klomatshan in the Chinese War. His regiment, when about to engage the enemy, was stopped by a broad and rapid river. He was in the leading company. His captain sent back to the Colonei for instructions, and the Colonei replied that somebody must find a ford. But before the order could be received. Juraro had waded out into the river in half a dozen places, ur til he found a shallow place. The river was frozen by a thin coating of ice, and were frozen to him like a sheet of mail

irmor, but he had found the ford and was A BIRD TAKES PICTURES The Japanese soldier possesses abundant his own responsibility. One of the sto-ries held up to the admiration of recruits BY INGENIOUS METHOD HAWK tells of the exploit of a Sergeant named WAS PHOTOGRAPHED. Kodama and five men at Hwangchiatal, the Manchurian campaign agains ina. They were sent to reconnoiter th

Chinese position in the night. While they were doing so, the Sergeant noted the extreme confusion and unprepared-An Illinois Man Put a Camera in a Treetop and the Bird Pulled ness of the enemy, and he conceived the the String. daring idea of attacking the entire army with his five men. They discharged their > Chicago Record-Herald. would hardly expect to find a bird usurping a human industry, but this is the age of novelties, and the latest is the hen hawk that takes its own photograph Robert W. Hegner, of Beverly Hills, Ill. co-operated with the hawk and the results of his curious partnership are herewith

"Shikata go nai! ("There is no help!")
This phrase is heard in Japan as often as "Manana" in Latin America. It expresses at once the fatalism and the Spartan resolution of the Japanese character. For a number of years Mr. Hegner has extensive studies of bird life. popular use of the camera which was made possible by the invention of the dry plate process was seized upon by him to record interesting facts in bird life. A bird's nest containing eggs or young is to the owner a magnetic spot, and the parents will be drawn to it in spite of the presence of foreign objects, which, under other conditions would frighten them away. Even the camera, with 4ts do in the same case. He simply mutters, "Shikata go nai!" and walks out of the officer's tent straight to his mission. glittering lens and strange form, is braved by the courageous birds.

The method used by Mr. Hegner may be described as follows: A nest on the ground presents the least number of difficulties. The tripod is planted firmly from two to six feet away from the nest. The camera is screwed on and correctly focused upon a little piece of printed matter lightly placed in the nest. An extra ball and socket clamp has been recently put on the market which allows more freedom in the movements of a camera in place, and everything ready for the work of focusing. After we have the camera in place and After we have the camera in place and everything ready for a snapshot we meet the first difficulty. We cannot stay at the camera to work the shutter because a bird is afraid of a still object like a motionless camera, so by inventing a way to make a snapshot from a distance we solve the problem. There are two ways of doing this. First, a string may be tied to the shutter-release, and stretched to a convenient hiding-place. From here the bird's action may be watched with an the bird's action may be watched with a opera glass and the string pulled and a shapshot made at the desired moment. The second method is applicable to cam eras with pncumatic release. Here a long tube may be used. The ear is forced through this tube with a large bulb or a bicycle pump, and no difficulty is encoun-tered as in the other method because of the entanglement of the string.

on her quivering harp-strings, as she her-Birds at their nests in trees are photo-graphed in a similar manner. The camera as been caught up by the singer of the Seven Seas and the Five Nations, and on which he has insisted with all the emphamay be fastened to the branches with straps or cords, or by a ball and socket clamp such as is used to fasten cameras sis of all his instruments, from the big drum to the banjo. In her song of "England's Dead" Mrs. Hemans questions the to the handle-bars of bicycles. The graphing of birds that build their nests lains of Egypt, the banks of the Ganges. n dark places necessitates the use of and the leefields of the North for the "sons of the Ocean Isle" who slumber something which will make the place light enough for snapshots. Flashlight there, as Kipling flings his challenging de-mands to the winds of the world and to powders may be used, but the bright flash tends to frighten away the bird. The reflection of the sun with a mirror is the easiest way to get sufficient light for quick work. Phoebes' nests under bridges, vrens' nests on verandas and chimney swifts' nests down in dark chimneys are only a few examples where reflected light The measure is limited enough to con-ain so authentic an emotion; see how may be used to advantage.

The red-tailed hawk, or hen-hawk, as he is commonly called, is almost as large as the bald cagle, and is a big bird in every way. His nest is placed among the branches in the tops of the largest trees. Kipling flings it forth on the surge of his and she calls us, still unfed, His eyes are very sharp and any intrduer is seen long before he reaches the nest tree. The method used to photograph other birds is obviously impossible in the case of the hawk. Necessity, however, soon suggests new methods to suit the in the usual way Mr. Hegner worked out a line of action which finally 'brought to bay" the most coveted pic-tures. The nest chosen was built in a white birch tree, 50 feet from the groun linging Spanish songs, not so far removed It could be seen for miles around, as a black mast contrasted with the white in spirit and form from the lament of Diego Valdez. If that same whimsical ritic should out aside the characteristic trees on the billside. There was no way of approach which was not visible from the nest, and the birds always welcome garlands and aerial draperies of the pre-Victorian era, he would find a singular human visitors with screams of anger and defiance

> But their anger was of no avail, for they were conquered in the following manner: A box which looked like a camera was placed in a neighboring tre ten feet away and level with the nest This was to accustom the hawks to the presence of a camera. A week later a real camera was substituted for the "dummy." To the shutter release a string was attached and from there pass the other tree, across the nest, and tied to a limb on the other side. When the string was pulled the shutter snapped, and a photograph was made. The hawks of course had no fear of the camera sir they only recognized it as the harmless which had been there for 'dummy' "dummy" which had been there for a week. Much difficulty was encountered with the string, which was many times prematurely pulled by the wind, which swayed the tree tops. When this hap-pened Mr. Hegner would take his camera home, thinking that the hawk had pulled it. Disappointment followed disappoint ment. Six times this happened, and each time the photographer was forced to make the six-mile trip into the country and climb one tree once and the other tree twice. At last the desired calm came, and two hours later the apparatus was put in place one of the birds returned and an against the string, and took a picture of itself and the nest. Sealers Make Good Catch.

Severtheless, in that graceful lady may ST. JOHNS, N. F., April 10.—The steam-er Panther, with 10,000 seals, arrived today be found an unrecognized literary ancestress of our imperialist prophet; and would anostress or descendant be quicker from the ice fields and reports that the remainder of the fleet has somewhat larg-

W. G. SMITH At the battle of the Yalu, says Wil-& CO. Washington VISITING CARDS AND MUNOGRAM STATIONERY Building

Twenty Years of Success In the treatment of chronic diseases, such as liver, kidney and stomach disorders, constipation, diarrhoes, dropsical swellings, Bright's disease, etc.

Kidney and Urinary Complaints, painful, difficult, too frequent, milky as bloody urine, unnatural discharges speedily cured. Diseases of the Rectum uch as piles, fistula, fissure, ulceration, mucous and loody discharges, cured without the knife, pain or onlinement.

Diseases of Men Blood poison, gleet, stricture, unnatural losses, impetency, thoroughly cured. No failure. Cures guaranteed.
YOUNG MEN troubled with night emissions, dreams, exhausting drains, hashfulness, aversion to society, which deprive you of your manhood, UNFITS YOU for BUSINESS OR MARRIAGE.

MIDDLE-AGED MEN, who from excesses and strains have lost their MANLY POWER.

BLOOD AND SKIN DISEASES, Syphillis, Gennorheea, sainful, bloody nrine, Gleet, Stricture, Enlarged Prostate, Sexual Debflity, Varioccele, Hydrocele, Kidney and Liver Troubles, cured without MERCURY OR OTHER POISONOUS DRUGE. Catarrh and Rreumatism CURED.

Dr. Walker's methods are regular and scientific. He uses ne patent nostrums arrendy-made preparations, but cures the disease by thorough medical treatment. His New Pamphies or. Private Diseases sent free to all men who describe their trouble. PATIENTS cured at home. Terms reasonable. All letters answered in plain arrelops. Concentration free and sacredly confidential. Call on or address. DR. WALKER, 181 First Street, Corner Yamhill, Portland, Os. First Agency Butterick Patterns at

Lipman, Wolfe & Company

Special Interesting Offers for Today

Fine Costumes at Cut Prices

Fine Imported Coats of silk lace and pongee, in black and tan, handsomely trimmed with lace, Was $75-now $62.50 braid, shirring and ornaments.

Silk Coats in black and tan, in all lengths-handsomely trimmed with lace embroidery and fancy applique-all of them lined with white satin. Was $60—now $48.50

Costume of gray etamine-deep lace cape of same color-trimming of gray applique-lined through-Was $90—now $72.50 out with silk.

Fine Imported Coat of heavy tan guipure lace and silk, shirred-velvet trimmed-lined throughout Was $125—now $89.00 with white satin.

Pongee Taffeta and Peau de Soie Silk Coats in the new three-quarter lengths-trimmed with shirring, lace braid and fancy ornaments-handsomely Was $65-nov $53.00

Costume of very fine tan etamine, trimmed with applique and lace-plaited, all silk lined. $79.00 Was $97.50-now

Costume of white Arabian lace made up over white Was $100—now $76.00 taffeta silk-chiffon, both plain and shirred, used as trimming. Handsome costumes of black, tan and lavender broadcloth and etamine, handsomely trimmed and

Was $85—now $67.50 lined with silk. A very handsome costume of etamine in the new gunmetal shade-trimmed with self-color lace and lined throughout with gunmetal-colored $79.00 Was $115-now

Superb costume of white lace, made up over white taffeta silk-chiffon and lace used as trimming. Was $125—now $89.00

Superb costume of tan etamine, made up over selfcolor taffeta silk-trimmed with self folds and Was $125—now $87.50 heavy applique lace.

Black Silks Less Today

2000 yards of Black Peau de Soie Silk, 21 inches wide-rich black-soft cashmere finish. Regular value $1.25-Special

95c

79c

95c

1500 yards of superb quality of Black Peau de Soie Silk, 24 inches wide-soft uncrushable finisha magnificent value. Regular value $1.50—Special $1.97

1000 yards of Black Taffeta Silk-soft, pliable, durable -19 inches wide-beautiful black. Regular value 85c-Special

Women's Lace Lisle Hosiery

We place on sale today in the Hosiery Store 120 dozen pairs of Women's Lace Lisle Stockings at 29e-the real 50c quality-they are fast Hermsdorf black, have double sole and extra spliced heel and come in a large variety of all-over lace and lace-boot patterns-fresh and new-a real 50c article.

Mohair Dress Fabrics; a Sale

45-inch Mohair Sicilians in plain colors and melange or mixed effects-browns, blues, castors, grays, 58c cardinals and reds. Regularly 75c-today

45-inch Mohair Sicilians-rich, brilliant, solid colors and mixed effects, in cardinal, royal blue, brown, navy, castor, tan, etc. Regularly $1.00-today

54-inch Mohair Sicilians-extra heavy-cravenettedin pin checks, invisible stripes, mixed effects and Regularly $1.50—today $1.15 solid colors.

Millinery; Special Values Today

TRIMMED HATS-The ensemble contains a large number of hats fresh from New York and a number of clever designs arranged by our trimmers-altogether an assortment large enough to enable everyone to find a hat that meets every requirement. All styles are represented-small toques and turbans in the new pointed effects, medium size flat hats-also the larger and wider flat hats, with new crowns of

A choice line of trimmed ready-to-wear Hats, in two of the most popular shapes-made of fine "Jap" straw in black, brown, navy, white and champagne, trimmed with velvet, Tuscan braid and ornaments. Regularly $1.25-today

A big special of Silk "Jap" Straw Braid Hats-choice of seven of this season's best shapes to choose Great value at 95c

A special value- latest in mixed straw and Tuscan effects—three leading shapes. Very fine value at $2.25

"La Vida" Corset Demonstration

Beginning this afternoon there will be a special demonstra-tion of the "LA VIDA" Corsets by

Miss Josephine Keppler, Expert Corsetiere

All the latest models-for slight, medium and full figures. "La Vidas" are boned with best quality of genuine whalebone and made of fine imported coutille; prices $3.75, $4, $6, $8.50 "W. B." Summer Corsets of Batiste, latest models, short hip, medium hip, dip hip, at, pair $1.50, $1.75 We also carry the popular C. B., Ala Spirite and "Nemo" Corsets, at from$1.00 to $7.00

er catches than announced in previous date for the Democratic nomination. We reports. The master of the Panther says | don't know how long he will keep this that the steamer Bloodhound is following position of preceder with a similar catch,

At This Time. Little Rock (Ark.) Gazette. Simply as a newspaper stating a fact, the Gazette says that at this hour Grover

Engineers Will Join Minaworkers. here tonight that the hoisting engi-

BRAZILA Ind., April 16.-It is reported a secret meeting voted to withdraw from their own organization and join the Cleveland is probably the leading candi- United Mineworkers.