Ex-Firs Chief Buchtst's Protest,-When ex-Fire Chief Joseph Buchtel read yesterday morning that the old fire horse "Colone" and the other horses were to "Colonel" and the other horses were to be sold on the block he almost shed tears over the possibility of the fire horse getting into the hands of some who would beat and abuse him. "I want to enter a most solemn protest," said Mr. Buchtel, "against seiling 'Colonel' to anybody who may have the price. 'Colonel' was one of the most wonderful horses that ever looked through a collar, and now after he has served the city for nearly a quarter of a century faithfully it is pro-posed to consign him in his old age to some drudgery, perhaps to be beaten and abused. There is no economy, and cer-tainly no humanity, in disposing under the hammer any of the faithful fire horses, and especially not 'Colonel,' who has given such remarkable service in the Fire Department of Portland. Who does not remember 'Colonel' as he dragged the hose cart of Engine No. 3 to fires as he salled along with his nose close after the engine. There was always a crowd ut to see 'Colonel' come down Washout to see Colone! come down wash-ington street like a white cloud with his peculiar pace. And so the Execu-tive Board has decided to sell the 'Colone!' to a farmer, huckster or to whomever has the price. This ought not to be done. There is still much of value in 'Colonel' and the other two fire horses, thus condemned to servitude in their old age, for a few paltry dollars. Where is our boasted humanity that we should do such a thing? There are farmers, possibly, or some one who would gladly give 'Colonel' a comfortable home and who would treat him humanely for the rest of his days. I protest against the sale of 'Colone' or that of the other two horses to anybody who may want them. We have a humane society here in Port-land to teach our children kindness to animals, but what sort of an example will this sale be to the public? I am sure that if the Executive Committee will make inquiry these old public ser-vants can be provided with a comfortably home, and still give good services for years to come. Do the firemen of Portland want to see old 'Colonel', haul-think not. This is not mere sentiment; it is justice." BRITISH BENEVOLENT SOCIETY NOM-INATES.—The regular monthly meeting of the British Benevolent Society was held Wednesday night. A large number of the members were present. After the transaction of routine business the following officers were nominated, to be voted for at the annual meeting in May: For president, R. W. Blackwood, who has been vice-president for the past two years; vice-president, J. C. Robinson; secretary, P. Henderson; treasurer, E. A. Wyld. Al-though nominations were made at the nonthly meeting, it will not prevent members from putting in nomination others at the annual meeting. The president was authorized to appoint a committee of three to confer with the other societies with the object of their appointing like committees to plan for the annual enter-talument to be given on May 24, Queen Victoria Day, and this committee will be named in a day or two.

PORTLAND PRESENTERY TO CONVENE-The Spring session of the Portland Presbytery will convene Tuesday evening, April 19, at the Marshall-Street Presbyterian Church. There is a large amount of business to be transacted, but it is expected that it can all be transacted by Wednesday evening. The sermon at the opening meeting will be delivered by the retiring moderator, Rev. Winfield T. Scott, of Fairview. A new moderator and temporary clerk will be elected Tuesday evening. The alleged decrease in the number of young men seeking the ministry will be the subject of disagrator at business to be transacted, but it is exnumber of young men seeking the minis-try will be the subject of discussion at the Wednesday meeting, and Rev. E. M. Sharp, of Mount Tabor, will treat the subject in detail. Rev. Henry Marcotte and Rev. A. J. Montgomery will also speak. The chairman of the committee having this subject in charge is Rev. J. R. Wilson, of Portland Academy.

HIGH WATER KEEPS BRIDGE OPEN .-The high water in the Williamette will have an influence on the closing of the Morrison-street bridge to pedestrian traf-fic. It was thought that before the end of next week the bridge would certainly be closed to all but teams and streetcars, but the high stage of the river has hampered the construction work materi-ally. When it was announced that the bridge would be closed within a few days Joseph Managhan, of Managhan & Ben-nett, and the other promoters of the pe-tition for a one-cent fare across the bridge redoubled their efforts, and as a consequence nearly 600 names have now been placed upon the petition which will shortly be filed with the City & Suburban

State Board of Medical Examiners will hold a special examination, beginning at 9 o'clock A. M. Wednesday, April 20, at the Y. M. C. A. building in this city, for the examination of physicians who desire to secure a license to practice medicine or surgery in this state. The examina-tion will continue for three days. Ap-plication for examination must be made to the secretary prior to the examination. Taxes Don't Belong to Him .- S. W. Palmer yesterday commenced suit in the State Circuit Court against Multnomah County to have taxes for a number of years, beginning with the year 1892, against lots 12 to 24 inclusive, block 2. Wilbard Addition, canceled. The complaint sets forth that the lots were wrong-fully assessed, and sometimes were as-sessed to J. C. Lewis, along with certain acreage which he owns, although he never owned these lots.

GRANGE COMMITTEE MEETS TODAY.-The joint meeting of the committees from the various commercial organizations to the National Grange will be held this afternoon at 4 o'clock at the rooms of the Commercial Club in the Chamber of Commerce build-ing. The Chamber of Commerce is rep-resented by Richard Council, Ben Albers and R. F. Farrell; the Manufacturers' Association by E. H. Kilham, George Lawrence, Jr., and W. H. McMonies, and the Board of Trade by C. M. Idleman, J. H. Fish and A. L. Morris. Hugh Mc-Guire and W. B. Giafke represent the Commercial Club. The State Granges of Oreson and Washington are represented egon and Washington are represented R. Scott, F. E. Beach and C. H. Welsh. The City Council and County Court have been invited to send committees. The following gentlemen were added to the committee at its last meeting: W. E. Coman, A. L. Craig, J. E. Mayo, Dr. James Withycombe, Frank Lee and one or two others. It is an adjourned meeting of a week ago, when the joint comchairman and J. D. Lee as secretary.

mittee organized with R. S. Scott as ARRESTED WHILE FIGHTING .- Joe Mc Hale, aged 19, and John Grady, aged 35, were arrested by Policeman Endicott yesterday evening on a charge of disor-derly conduct, the officer pouncing down upon the men while both were too busy beating each other to see the officer when lace a he approached. McHale told about six select different stories to the police in as many minutes, and finally became so badly tangled up that he was afraid to talk any longer. According to the story of the two men, Grady took McHale to his room Tuesday night, because McHale asked him for the price of a bed. Gray was partly drunk and McHale ekipped out during the night, taking Gray's clothes with him and leaving his old ones instead. McHale says Grady saw him take the clothes, while Grady says he was asleep. McHale says he spent the money that was in Grady's pockets and that he gave Grady's watch away. McHale is a professional knight of the break beam. Grady is an employe at the Willamette

Iron Works. Young PROPLE GOING ASTRAT.-Private meetings were held in the various Pres-byterian Churches of the city last even-ing to discuss some method for the prevention of vicious tendencies in the youth of Portland. It is generally agreed that the young people of comparatively good families are being exposed to temptations to which they too frequently succumb, and the citizens and members of these churches hope to formulate some plan to overcome this tendency on their part and to stamp out the cause of it. Separate meetings were held for men and women, at which many startling conditions were set forth. At the First Church Mrs. Major Dubbins and two as-sistants from the Salvation Army told of sad cases coming under their notice in their rescue work. No particular plan was formulated, but it is expected that some step will be taken to awaken parents to the necessity of guarding their sons and daughters more vigilantly in Maeterlinck on Field Flowers. Maurice Masterlinck in Alnales's for May. Among the flowers of March, April, May, June, July, remember the glad and fes-tive names, the Springtime syllables, the vocables of azure and dawn, of moonlight and sunshine! Here is the snowdrop, or amaryllis, that proclaims the thaw; the stitchwort, or lady's collar, that greets the first communicants from the hedges, whose leaves are as yet indeterminate and uncertain, like a diaphanous green lye. And the others—to tell their names is to recite a poem of grace and light. We have reserved for them the most charming, the purest, the clearest sounds, and all the musical gladness of the language. One would think that they were the dancers and chorus of an immense fairy scene, more beautiful, more start ling and more supernatural than the scenes which unfold themselves on Prospero's Island, at the Court of Theseus, or in the Forest of Arden. . And the comely players of this silent, never-ending comedy-goddesses, angels, she-devils, princesses and witches, virgins and courtesans, queens and shepherd giris-carry in the folds of their names the magic sheen of innumerable dawns, of innumerable Springtimes contemplated by forgotten man, even as they also carry the memory of thousands of deep or fleet-ing emotions which were felt before them by generations that have disappeared, leaving no other trace.
