

CLANCYS MUST GO

Piles Men Unite With Railroads for Overthrow.

BALLOT-BOXES ARE STUFFED

Delegates From First Ward in Seattle Favorable to Boss Will Not Be Allowed to Be Seated in the Republican Convention.

SEATTLE, Wash., April 29.—(Special.)—The Clancy must fight in the coming Republican County Convention against a complete overthrow. The railroads and the Piles Senatorial committee are united in a fight to throw the Clancy First Ward delegates out of the convention and to wrest the organization of the ward away from the men who have controlled it for years. The fight has the approval of high railroad officials and of E. H. Piles himself.

The Piles committee has a small corps of attorneys engaged with politicians in making their fight. Not only political but legal representations will be made before the credential committee of the convention to throw out the Clancy. Affidavits are being prepared and evidence amassed for an assault on the Clancy delegations from the second, third, fourth and fifth precincts of the First Ward.

The basis for the contests in the first three precincts is the given last night, C. E. Houston, the Piles Legislative candidate, from the fifth precinct, will make the fight. Today he declared that ballot-box stuffing will be charged against the Clancy judge.

"We have a man who will swear he saw his ballot removed after having been half-way pushed through the ballot-box, and another ballot inserted in its stead," said Mr. Houston. "We will present affidavits from a majority of those who voted at the primaries showing that they voted our ticket. We will prove many of the men the Clancy voted in the precinct were not residents of the ward."

A prominent Piles leader declared the fight meant a war to the end to control the ward organization. Railroad politicians declared the Clancy could not sit in the convention, and Piles himself is quoted as saying he had "nerve enough to go through with the fight." The war, it is explained, is to break the Clancy's power.

John E. Clancy today offered an explanation covering the second and fourth precincts. In the former he charged the Pacific Coast Company with having padded the registration lists and declared his judges merely ruled out disqualified electors. In the fourth he said the Great Northern attempted to put in two time-keepers from the tunnel as challengers and he would not accept them.

L. C. Smith, the candidate of Dr. J. J. Smith, John Wooding and other south district leaders for Sheriff, swept the country as easily as he had "nerve" enough to do. Efforts are being made to involve him in the fight against the Clancy, as they are supporting a rival candidate for Sheriff in the Clancy precinct.

W. H. Lewis today stepped out of the Legislative fight and made possible the nomination of C. E. Vila. Lewis did this to defeat E. H. Clancy. This practically settles the bitter Seventh Ward controversy, in which two ex-State Representatives figured. Guic is a railroad and Anthony leader and ex-Speaker of the House. Lewis is a McBride man, well known in the state.

The settlement of this fight leaves this peculiar situation: Five or six State Representative seats will be held by all of them are railroad men and all but one signed the caucus call two years ago. Unless General Tibbets should win out in a three-cornered fight, where odds are against him, no McBride man will be renominated.

Hoquiam Republican Caucuses.

HOQUIAM, Wash., April 29.—(Special.)—The Republican caucuses tonight were largely attended. The caucus was shown. Very strong candidates were placed before the voters for the primaries tomorrow, and a strong representative delegation should be elected to attend the County Convention, which meets at Aberdeen May 5.

The gathering in the First Ward was well attended and harmonious. O. P. Burrows was elected chairman and R. L. Philbrick secretary. A big crowd met at the City Hall Second Ward. W. L. Adams was made chairman and A. F. Peterson secretary. The gathering at the Third Ward was also well attended. Andrew Bruce was made president and F. A. Powell secretary.

Joint Canvass in Lane.

EUGENE, Or., April 29.—(Special.)—The chairmen of the Republican and Democratic County Committees have published notice of a joint canvass of Lane County by the nominees of the two parties to begin May 12 and end June 4. All the principal points of the county will be visited. This practice has been customary in this county for years, and while there are many objections to this sort of campaign, yet the people seem to expect it and the precedent established will be followed.

Wahkiakum Declares for McBride.

CATHLAMET, Wash., April 29.—(Special.)—The Republican County Convention met at Cathlamet today and elected the following delegates to attend the State Convention at Tacoma May 11: Link C. Burton, E. A. Seaborg, J. G. Megler, George F. Hannigan, Hans Peterson and Lee Strouse. McBride was informed for Governor, as was also A. E. Rice for Superior Judge of Wahkiakum, Lewis and Pacific Counties, and J. G. Megler for Lieutenant-Governor.

Columbia Repudiates McBride.

WALLA WALLA, Wash., April 29.—(Special.)—Columbia County turned Governor McBride down cold in today's primaries, and he will probably not have over ten delegates out of 66 in the convention. Of the precincts so far heard from he has three out of 30. Columbia has ten delegates in the State Convention.

Campaign Opens at Philomath.

PHILOMATH, Or., April 29.—(Special.)—Republicans opened their campaign here last night. Among the speakers was W. E. Yates, candidate for State Senator from Benton County. A Roosevelt club was organized.

TRAMP KILLED BY RECLUSE.

Had Applied for Night's Shelter—Sheriff Wounded in Head. TACOMA, Wash., April 29.—With nine bullet holes in his head, W. W. Barnes, a tramp, lies dead at Fannie Padlock Hospital, the result of a mysterious shooting affray which occurred yesterday at a hut of a recluse on the Indian reservation, near Puyallup. A boy companion, Richard Holland, of Billings, Mont., was wounded.

The two had asked for shelter and were fired upon by the occupant of the hut, who also drove off the Puyallup Marshal. Sheriff J. A. Denholm was shot through the head and seriously injured this morning by the man who last night shot and killed an English tramp and wounded

RESCUED FROM ROLLERS

MISS URANA SEELEY IS TAKEN FROM FANATICS' CAMP.

Refuses to Do Up Her Hair—Young Girl Would Soon Be Fit for Insane Asylum.

ALBANY, Or., April 29.—(Special.)—Another victim was today added to the list of those who have fallen under the influence of the Holy Roller denomination, which teaches Scripture according to the depraved and outlawed apostle, F. E. Creffield. Miss Urana Seeley was brought to Albany this afternoon in charge of Deputy Sheriff I. A. Munkers. Three witnesses, Lewis Hartley, C. M. Starr and O. V. Hart, were also brought today by Deputy Sheriff Munkers. It appeared to the court that the young woman should be placed in charge of the

WANT GAME ACT AMENDED.

Victoria Club Will Prevent Sale of Meats for Three Years.

VICTORIA, B. C., April 29.—The Fish and Game Club, comprising among its members the wealthiest and most influential men in British Columbia, met in extraordinary session this evening at the Grand Hotel, and unanimously passed a resolution earnestly requesting the government to amend the game act so as to prohibit absolutely the sale of game of any kind in this province for three years. The club declares that, unless this be done, British Columbia will see the extinction of its game animals and birds, so fearful is the slaughter unceasingly perpetrated by the Indians.

CATTLE-CARS FALL OFF BRIDGE

Fifty-Five Head of Stock Lost on the Way to Seattle.

SEATTLE, April 29.—(Special.)—Fifty cattle were killed outright, five were crippled so badly that they had to be shot, and four large cattle cars were smashed into kindling in a wreck on the Northern Pacific Railway near Renton Junction this morning at 3:30 o'clock. None of the train crew was injured.

Four extra cattle train bound from Portland to Seattle tumbled off the high trestle across the marshes of Black River. They dropped a distance of 35 feet. Three went on one side of the track and one on the other. With the exception of the engineer and the fireman the members of the crew were all on the rear end of the train. Thus undoubtedly a more serious accident and loss of life was avoided.

Chiles Sentenced to Six Years.

GRANT'S PASS, Or., April 29.—(Special.)—Edgar Chiles, who plead guilty Tuesday morning to the charge of assault on Officer John Patrick, was sentenced by Judge Bradshaw this morning to six years in the penitentiary. Grant's Pass citizens had signed a petition for clemency.

The crime was committed on the sidewalk of one of the busiest business blocks of Grant's Pass soon after noon February 7. Patrick was attempting the arrest of Chiles, who was under the influence of liquor, when the latter attacked him with a long cheese knife which he had taken from his father's grocery, inflicting a number of wounds, one of them a deep cut in the forehead.

The life of Patrick was for some time despaired of, but he is now able to be around.

PLAN FOR A CITY.

would build the road to Olympia. This news was received late in the evening, but the Miller poster with the aid of the fire bell through the people out of their homes and joy was unconfined to such an extent that the greater part of the town failed to retire until the next morning.

Unfortunately for Olympia, the authority given Messrs. Sprague and Goodwin to accept this Olympia proposition was rescinded through the influence of some land speculators in the East who had received superior inducements from Tacoma and were willing to sacrifice an easy grade to tide-water for the opportunity to make more money out of town lots.

Why the Port May Be Useful.

This was "way back in 1871, but many of the Olympians, who still have the property for which they refused extravagant prices at that time, have not forgotten the incident and this recollection perhaps renders them a little conservative with their enthusiasm over anything that looks like a prospect for transcontinental railroad terminal honors. The route by which the Harriman line will reach the new town, if it should ever reach there, will be by way of Tumwater, avoiding the heavy grades by which the Northern Pacific now leaves and enters Olympia. Accepting the Doremeyer Point theory that Mr. Harriman is behind this big deal, the question naturally arises why should he build a line to Puget Sound when he already has good outlets for his sea traffic at Portland and San Francisco? And, if he built a line, why would he not run it to the big cities which have already established a trade?

This is answered by the statement that a port nearer the mouth of the river than Portland, may some day secure common port rates, in the event of which he would be obliged to haul his freight about 100 miles beyond Portland without receiving any additional recompense.

Near Great Coal Supplies.

In such a case he would prefer hauling it to the nearest point on Puget Sound where good water could be reached, and it might be a wise precaution for him to secure a point up here where the largest ships could come and go without detention. As to entering either of the big cities on Puget Sound, adequate terminal facilities independent of the roads already there, could not be secured except at enormous cost. The plan of Mr. Schwinn for handling the Oriental traffic out of Portland was to place vessels of 10,000 to 15,000 tons capacity on the route, and, after loading their cargo, send them around to Puget Sound to coal. The new town now being laid out is comparatively close to practically unlimited supplies of coal, and in spite of its enormous steamship and railroad interests, Mr. Harriman has not yet secured a good deep-water coaling port on the Pacific.

As previously stated, however, I do not know that Mr. Harriman is aware of the existence of this project with which his name has been mentioned so frequently. What I do know is that a force of engineers and surveyors are laying out a large and elaborately planned city, farther inland than any other port has yet grown up on Puget Sound. If it is a real estate speculation pure and simple, the promoter is working on principles radically different from any that have previously been employed in that particular calling.

NEW BUILDINGS FOR PACIFIC.

University President Hints of Plans for the Future.

PACIFIC UNIVERSITY, Forest Grove, Or., April 29.—(Special.)—President W. N. Ferrin left this morning for the East on an extended trip in the interests of the institution. He will visit Chicago and other Eastern cities and will return before the middle of June. In speaking of his trip last night President Ferrin said: "We were never more encouraged over the prospects of the university than at present. Our finances were never in a better condition and everything indicates an increase in the school's endowment in the near future. Although I do not wish to make a definite statement, I believe that we will erect several buildings before long. We are planning to build one of the largest and best-equipped gymnasiums in the Northwest. We also look forward to a new science hall and will provide a building for the exclusive use of the literary societies and other student organizations as soon as it is possible."

President Coleman Welcomed Home.

WILLAMETTE UNIVERSITY, Salem, Or., April 29.—(Special.)—President Coleman and family arrived from the East last night. His appearance at chapel this morning was the signal for a great ovation which was tendered by the students.

WILL OF THE LATE A. R. BURBANK HARD TO FOLLOW.

Institutions Must Be Under the Management of Officers of the State—Trust Fund Is Created.

SALEM, Or., April 29.—(Special.)—Mary E. Burbank of La Fayette, Yamhill County, today deeded to the Governor, Secretary of State and State Treasurer numerous interests of real property of the total value of $10,000. This property will constitute a trust fund for the aid of orphans' homes at Salem and Portland. The fund was created by the late A. R. Burbank of Yamhill County, and is the first trust fund created by private charity and placed under the management of the state officers. The proceeds of the fund, in interest or rents, are to be distributed among institutions whose identity is not very easy to determine.

The will of the late A. R. Burbank left a portion of his estate to his widow and the residue to the State of Oregon in trust for the Orphan's Home, at Salem, Oregon, and Portland, Multnomah County, Oregon, (the Portland Orphan Home to be managed by the Governor, Secretary of State and Treasurer of the State of Oregon and their successors in office.) It is also provided that the proceeds of the fund shall be divided equally between these institutions, but in case the State of Oregon should ever maintain an orphan's home as a state institution all the proceeds shall go to that one home.

There is now no orphan's home at Salem and none at Portland, that comes under the requirement of the will (management by the state officers), so it is difficult to understand what institutions will receive the benefit of this fund. If the property be converted into cash and the trust fund loaned at 4 per cent, the income would be $400 per year.

The doubt has been expressed whether this fund could be maintained if the widow of Mr. Burbank chose to retain the property for herself. The will provides that the property be turned over to the state officers by the date of the will, but the property into money as soon as practicable and loan it out on good security. The proceeds will be allowed to accumulate until such time as there shall be an institution entitled to receive the money.

COPLEY SUSPECTS IN OREGON.

Detectives Believe They Are Working on a Warm Trail.

ROSEBURG, Or., April 29.—(Special.)—A posse of Southern Pacific detectives are here and believe they are hot on the trail of the men who, at Copley, Cal., robbed Wells, Fargo & Co.'s express car the night of March 31 and killed Messenger W. J. Williams.

Pictures and descriptions of the suspects have been sent out all along the line. City Marshal T. J. Jarvis halted five suspicious-looking characters yesterday, one of whom answered the description furnished by the railroad detectives. The men said they were traveling south and alleged that they were in search of work. They were permitted to proceed, but the posse here now is making every effort to catch them.

Large Posse at Redding.

REDDING, Cal., April 29.—Chief Crowley, of the Southern Pacific detective crew, arrived here yesterday with a large posse in search of the Oregon express robbers.

The three bandits are said to be still in Redding, and it is believed that they have been here ever since the night of the robbery. They have all served time in the penitentiary and are the only men whom the police think are daring enough to commit such an act.

Fraud in Leasing Tidelands.

SOUTH BEND, Wash., April 29.—(Special.)—There appears to have been some peculiar dealings several years ago in regard to leasing tidelands. F. V. Holman, of Portland, who owns property on Long Beach, has discovered evidence in the office of the Land Commissioner which leads him to believe that fraud in leasing tidelands along the beach has been committed. The matter has been called to the attention of Attorney-General Stratton, who is a resident of this county, and it is proposed to bring suit and see if these leases cannot be set aside.

City Hall Plans Chosen.

LA GRANDE, Or., April 29.—(Special.)—At a special meeting of the City Council held in the Council chamber last evening for the consideration of the many plans submitted for the $35,000 City Hall, those drawn and adopted by J. L. Slater, a La Grande man, were selected.

The building will be two stories high, not including the stone basement, 33x31 feet. All the offices will consist of a suite of two rooms, with a private office, water superintended and City Recorder will be provided with roomy vaults for the proper protection of records. This will be one of the finest buildings of the kind in Eastern Oregon.

A Favorite Remedy for Babies.

Its pleasant taste and prompt cures have made Chamberlain's Cough Remedy a favorite with the mothers of small children. It quickly cures their coughs and colds and prevents any danger of pneumonia or other serious consequences. It not only cures croup, but when given as soon as the croupy cough appears, will prevent the attack. For sale by all druggists.

Heavy Rainfall at Ashland.

ASHLAND, Or., April 29.—(Special.)—The rainfall for the season at Ashland thus far has broken all records and amounts to nearly 25 inches. The average for the past 23 years, according to the official records of the local Weather Bureau, is only 14.13 inches.

Terrible Crimes at Boise.

BOISE, Idaho, April 29.—(Special.)—Alexander Blair and H. H. Jones were today brought to the District Court on a charge of criminal assault. Another case remaining to be heard is against Justice of the Peace E. M. Harriman, who is charged with a wicked condition as a result of his arrest that he has not been able to appear for his hearing.

In investigating the case against Blair the prosecuting attorney discovered a terrible condition of affairs affecting several men and a number of very young girls.

CRISIS NEAR IN LABOR DISPUTE

San Francisco Carmen Have Until Noon to Make Answer.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 29.—The critical stage in the street-car trouble will be reached at noon tomorrow, when the time will expire for the United Railways to make answer to the proposal of the union that all questions in dispute be referred to a committee of disinterested citizens.

People in touch with the company's affairs say tonight that the proposition to arbitrate will be declined. The company is actively preparing for a semi-siege at the barns and power-houses where cooking ranges are being installed and bedding outfits are being stored.

Firemen Will Resign May 1.

NORTH YAKIMA, Wash., April 29.—(Special.)—The North Yakima fire company decided by resolution last night to disband and give as a reason false economy on the part of the City Council. The Council dismissed the assistant fireman last week for economical reasons. The fire boys claim that if economy is to be practiced in the city administration, the Council should cease paying high prices to experts, such as sewerage surveyors and lawyers, citing instances where $50 was paid for a surveyor, $100 for an expert opinion on sewerage plans and $1 a day for chainmen.

The resignations take effect on Thursday, May 5, at which time if something is not done the insurance rates will be raised from 15 to 30 per cent.

Discovery that the body had been embalmed.

This makes an autopsy impossible, but an inquest will be held.

PATIENT GASPED AND DIED.

Action of Seattle Physician Arouses Suspicion of Coroner.

SEATTLE, Wash., April 29.—(Special.)—Dr. J. L. Marbourg raised Mrs. F. M. Stanley, who was suffering from diphtheria, a sitting posture and poured a quantity of medicine down her throat. The woman gasped, struggled for breath, then strangled to death.

This occurred Tuesday. The woman's husband declared today that the physician promised immediately to report the case to the Coroner, but he did not. An inquiry into the husband today resulted in the Coroner's investigation and the

WINE OF CARDUI

CURED WHEN OTHERS FAILED.

Third St., MENASHA, Wis., Sept. 1, 1903.

I am pleased to endorse Wine of Cardui, as I have found that it was of great benefit to me when I had lost my health. I am the mother of four children and for the last two years I have not known what it was to have a well day. I suffered with sick headaches, backaches and bearing down pains, which made me wretched and there were days when I could hardly drag my feet across the floor. The doctor said it was organic trouble and I took the medicine for almost a year, but I could not see that he was doing me a particle of good, so I began to take Wine of Cardui. My improvement was gradual but each month there was a change for the better and at the end of six months I am pleased to say that I was restored to health and am indebted to the Wine of Cardui for my recovery. I shall recommend your medicine to all my friends.
