SERMON TO BIBLE STUDENTS

Rev. C. T. Russell, of Allegheny, Explains How the Promise to Abraham Was Fulfilled in the Mission of Jesus Christ.

A field day of the Northwest Bible Students' Union was held in the Elks' hall. Marquam building, yesterday, when two addresses were delivered to large audiences by Pastor Charles T. Russell, of the Bible House congregation, Allegheny, Pa. He is known throughout the East as a noted Bible scholar and the founder of the Watch Tower Bible and Tract Soclety. The Portland Society of Bible Students, one of its officers said, aims at the promotion of Christian knowledge, but does not wish to build up another sect, has its meeting-place on Sixth street, near Salmon, and has over 30 con-

In dealing with the subject, "The Oath-Bound Covenant," Mr. Russell spoke without notes for over two hours yesterday afternoon, and probably uttered be-tween 12,000 and 15,000 words. He chose as his text Hebrews vi:17, "God, willing re abundantly to show unto the heirs of promise the immutability of His counsel confirmed it by an oath," and took as the central thread of his sermon the promise made to Abraham: "In thy seed shall all the families of the earth be shall all the families of the earth be blessed."

Mr. Russell said in part:

To the higher critic, the apostle's reference to God's dealing with Abraham is nonsensical, believing as he does that the statements of Genesis are without authority and were written hundreds of years after the death of Moses. Some are inclined to say to themselves: "That event was helpful to Abraham but has nothing to do with us or with our day." It is our hope that an examination of this covenant, which God attested with his oath, may be helpful to the Lord's people present, enabling them to see that God had a plan in Abraham's day, and that he is still working according to that plan and that its completion will be glorious—a blessing to his creatures and an honor to himself. It was not God's intention to show his plan to everybedy—to the world in general—mor has he done so. The world by wisdom knows not God, understands not his great and gracious operations which for thousands of years have been gradually unfolding, and which are now near accomplishment. God wished to show the natural seed of Abraham something of his glan, and hence they were granted an external glimpse of it. But the apostle points out that the clear showing of the matter was especially intended for "the heirs of the promise."

Our Lord Jesus Christ was the great helr of the Abrahamic promise, and the faithful of his consecrated people of this gospel age are declared to be his joint heirs in that promise, which is not yet fulfilled. For its fulfillment not only is the church was inthe lossed in the promise, but additionally the whole creation—the entire human family—is groaning and travalling in pain together waiting for the great fulfillinent of that onth-bound promise. He was merely a type of the greater seed of Abraham who in due time would fulfill it. Jacob and his I tribes, fleshly larael, did not fulfill the promise, but additionally the whole creation—the entire human family—is groaning and travalling in pain together waiting for the great fulfillent of that Mr. Russell said in part:

we and it this great outs-pound cover-ment a blessing for all nations—all people. What is the blessing so greatly needed by all mankind? It is the very same blessing that Jesus Christ declared he came to give, saying: "I am come that they might have it more abundantly." It is life that the whole-world needs. Jesus declares himself to be the great life-giver. Jesus came to save men—from sin and the penalty of sin—which is death. It is a human inven-tion of the dark ages to attach eternal torment as the penalty of sin. It is be-cause we are sinners that we are all dying creatures, and for the Lord to give life implies that he will take away the sin and all necessity for its penalty. implies that be will take away the sin and all necessity for its penalty.

The greatest blessing of forgiveness of sins which are past and even the blessing of being awakened from the sleep of death would profit mankind but little, if the arrangements of the millennial age-that future time—were not on such a scale as to permit a thorough recovery from present mental, moral and physical weakness. Let us take courage and hald fast to the divine word and foed upon it more and more and use all the various blessings and promises which the Lod designed to fit and prepare, to mold and to fashion, to chisel and to polish us for places in his glorious kingdom.

At the evening service, Mr. Russell gave another address on Bible study, and feft at 11 o'clock last night for St. Paul
