Friends of the family and members of the congregation were also largely represented. Rev. J. R. Wilson, principal of Portland Academy, gave a touching address on the occasion, earnest life and character of the dead girl, and referred to her bright, cheerful disposition, which had made her many friends. Rev. E. T. Allen read appropriate verses from Scripture, "Lead, Kindly Light" and "My Faith Looks Up to Thee" were two of the hymns sung, and Edgar E. Courson was organist. The pallbearers were E. K. Baxter, Alexander C. Rae, A. H. Birrell, William Mackenzie, W. H. Mackenzie and John Hale.

A district will be laid out to tax each lot about $5. Such a district will almost certainly catch Mayor Williams for an entire block, but he has promised not to fight the assessment.
