MEAD FAIR'S FRIEND

Believes Washington Should Be Well Represented.

BENEFIT FOR BOTH STATES

Merits of the Railroad Commission Should Be Decided by the Legislature, Says the Republican Candidate for Governor.

SEATTLE, Wash., June 4.—(Special.)—If A. E. Mead is made Governor the Lewis and Clark Fair will have a good friend in the Washington executive. Mr. Mead is heartily in favor of encouraging the coming Exposition at Portland and anxious that this state should be well represented.

"Washington is interested equally with Oregon in the showing to be made at Portland," said Mr. Mead just after his return from Eastern Washington yesterday. "The visit of thousands of Eastern tourists and capitalists will affect this state nearly, if not quite, as much as it will Oregon.

"The historical interest in the Fair should be as great with us as with any other interest. This is a part of the original Lewis and Clark country, and I would be glad to see the State of Washington well represented at Portland. We should have a state building and an appropriation should be made available for carrying out a liberal plan of exhibition."

Mr. Mead was asked whether he would recommend such an appropriation in his inaugural message. He stated that he would have to refuse to answer such a question, basing his refusal upon the ground that if he outlined one feature of his message, in the event of election, he would have to outline it all.

This same position has been taken by Mr. Mead on other state questions, and his expressions of friendship for the Lewis and Clark Exposition are sufficient to indicate his policy.

Mr. Mead declares, after a trip through Chelan and Douglas Counties, that the sentiment against the Republican nominees in those districts is not of a character likely to last until the election. Mr. Mead said he found hostility, but he is convinced much of it will die out. Discussing his railroad commission letter, he stated it was written in response to inquiries, and continued:

"All interests are entitled to a fair showing before the Legislature. I believe the question is one that should be brought into the Legislature and fought out there on its merits.

"I would never permit the patronage of the Governor's office to be used to secure support for this or any other piece of legislation. I maintain that the executive should not attempt to use his power to force laws through the Legislature or to prevent their passage.

"If the Legislature were to pass a railroad commission bill and I were Governor, I would approve the measure whether it provided for an elective or appointive railroad commission. And if I were given authority to carry out the law I would observe it in spirit and in the letter. I would do the best I could to select good men and honestly administer the law.

"I do not believe the executive should interpose his power of veto very frequently. Now and then on questions of appropriations the executive may be compelled to exercise a veto, but the other occasions demanding a denial of the Legislature's authority are exceedingly rare."

LAND OPEN TO ENTRY.

North of Sumpter, Though, in the Mountains.

LA GRANDE, Or., June 5.—(Special.)—Register E. W. Davis, of the La Grande United States Land Office, has announced that a large acreage of land previously unplatted in the Land Office, therefore not subject to entry, will be platted and open to location. The land lies to the north of Sumpter several miles and is largely in the undefined section left unsurveyed at high altitudes of the mountains. A portion is in the immediate vicinity of the Baisley, Elkhorn, Maxwell and Highland mines, while other portions lie further to the north.

The official description of the land as sent from the office of the Register and the date when the plats will be filed are as follows:

"Notice is hereby given that the approved plats of the surveys of sections 19, 20 and 21, west half section 29, west half section 29 and west half section 32, township 8 south, range 38 east, Willamette Meridian; all of the unsurveyed portion of township 3 south, range 37 east, Willamette meridian; fractional sections 13, 14, 15, 16, 17 and 18, township 6 north, range 43 east, Willamette meridian; all of the unsurveyed portion of township 2 north range 36 east, Willamette meridian; all of township 2 north, range 37 east, Willamette meridian; unsurveyed portion of township 2 north, range 50 east, all of township 3 north, range 49 east and township 3 north, range 50 east, Willamette meridian, have been received in this office. The above plats of surveys will be filed in this office on Saturday, the 16th day of July, 1904, at 9 A. M. On and after that date this office will receive applications for the entry of lands in said townships.

DUBOIS A WEISER DELEGATE.

Ex-Senator Will Introduce an Anti-Mormon Resolution.

WEISER, Idaho, June 5.—(Special.)—Delegates to the Democratic State Convention to elect delegates to the National Convention that meets in this city tomorrow are arriving on every train. About 100 have already arrived, and as many more are expected on the night train. Much interest is manifested in tomorrow's proceedings. Senator Dubois is here as a delegate, and will introduce an anti-Mormon resolution.

From present appearances the Hearst delegates appear to be in the majority. Senator Dubois, ex-Governor Frank Hunt, J. H. Sturnenberg and several others are spoken of as delegates to the National Convention. Judge K. I. Perky is mentioned for temporary chairman.

The convention will be called to order by Hon. Si Donnelly, of Kootenai County, chairman of the State Central Committee.

BOY LEAPED OUT AND SANK.

Sister Sticks to Boat and Is Rescued Near Pocatello.

POCATELLO, Idaho, June 5.—Raymond Fulton, a son of Mrs. Fulton, of this city, was drowned in the Portneuf River, two miles west of town, today. He got into a skiff, which became unfastened and drifted down stream. The boy became frightened, jumped out and was drowned.

His sister, who was also in the skiff, was rescued with difficulty. The boy was 10 years old.

FIGHT ON COUNTY JUDGE.

Otherwise Columbia's Republicans Sure of Election.

ST. HELENS, Or., June 5.—(Special.)—The Republicans have conducted an open and aggressive campaign in this county and have challenged their opponents to meet them on the stump. The Democrats and Prohibitionists have preferred still-hunt methods, and each candidate has conducted his own campaign and spent his own money, without contributing to the general campaign fund.

Sheriff Hatton, the opposition nominee for County Judge, is the one candidate whom they really hope to elect, and they are perfectly willing to sacrifice the rest of their ticket if they can win out on the County Judge. At one time it appeared that Hatton's chances were good, but now his defeat appears probable, owing to the fact that he is believed to be in favor of abolishing the 10-mill road tax. This tax brings in money for road purposes from nonresidents.

The tendency among Republicans to vote the straight ticket in order to combat the attacks of the minority has become very strong, and fewer scratched ballots will be cast than for many years. It is believed by the Republican managers that the entire ticket will be elected by majorities ranging from 200 to 400.

DROWNS BEFORE FRIENDS' EYES

Frederick W. Horner, of Los Angeles, Lost at Manhattan Beach.

LOS ANGELES, June 5.—In plain view of three friends who were making every effort to save him, Frederick W. Horner, vice-president of the Parmlee Company, of this city, was drowned in the surf at Manhattan Beach today.

Workingmen, if you vote for James M. Stott, you will vote for a man who is in full sympathy with you. He was brought up on a farm, and acquired what he has by hard labor.

Wedding Anniversary and Reunion.

MEDFORD, Or., June 5.—(Special.)—The 60th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Lawton was the occasion of a family reunion held at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Haskins Sunday, May 22. Sixty years ago, on May 22, 1844, at Verona, N. Y., R. T. Lawton and Miss Frances West started on the journey through life together which has lasted the better part of a century. In 1846 they moved to Wisconsin, where three children were born and who were present Sunday—two sons, D. T. and J. W. Lawton, and one daughter, Mrs. G. H. Haskins, of Medford, and 11 grandchildren, also T. F. West, a brother, and Mrs. E. M. Denison, a sister of Mrs. Lawton. She also has a brother, J. R. West, who lives in Reno, Nev. Mrs. L. J. Sears, a friend of over 30 years, and daughter, Fay, were present.

The spacious rooms were beautifully decorated, white roses prevailing in the parlor and Jacqueminot roses in the dining-room, where the tables were arranged so that Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Lawton faced all the guests. A sumptuous banquet was served at noon by Mrs. D. T. Lawton and Mrs. G. H. Haskins.

Mr. Lawton, who was 84 years old May 3, 1904, is the only living representative of his family on his side. Mrs. Lawton was born at Grafton, N. Y., and will be 79 years old November 4, 1904. They have lived in Medford over 20 years, and both are in comparatively good health.

Reunion of the Rhineharts.

LA GRANDE, Or., June 5.—(Special.)—Arrangements are being made for a reunion of the Rhinehart family at Summerville June 24, 25 and 26. This will be one of the greatest gatherings of the well-known pioneer family ever held, about 75 members being expected from all parts of the country. Mr. and Mrs. Rhinehart are among the earliest settlers in the Valley, and among the oldest of the living early pioneers of Grand Ronde Valley.

Heads of College Magazine.

ALBANY, Or., June 5.—(Special.)—Yesterday the Students' Joint Stock Company of Albany College elected O. M. Hickey as editor-in-chief of the Albany College Student, the school's monthly magazine. Roy Acheson was named business manager. The election of these new officers at this time was made necessary by the graduation of the students.

NOW OR NEVER IN LINN

REPUBLICANS CONFIDENT OF CARRYING THE COUNTY.

Campaign Closes With Enthusiastic Rally at Albany—Formerly a Democratic Territory.

ALBANY, Or., June 5.—(Special.)—The Republican campaign in Linn County was closed last night with one of the greatest rallies ever held in Albany. Campaign managers had arranged that the closing effort should be in Albany, and that it should be the only rally on Saturday night. The result was a crowd which the Opera-House could not accommodate. The audience was enthusiastic, and punctuated the addresses of the speakers with numerous bursts of applause.

A parade of voters to the number of several hundred, bearing torches of red fire, marched through the principal business streets at dark to the Opera-House, where Colonel E. Hofer, of Salem, and Walter L. Tooze, of Woodburn, were the principal speakers of the evening. The addresses of these gentlemen were strong argumentative appeals to the reason of voters, and were not answered. They were cheered to the echo.

Chairman J. S. Van Winkle, of the County Central Committee, first introduced Colonel Hofer, who gave a brief resume of the history and achievements of the Republican party during the last half-century, holding it up in striking contrast to the obstructive, negative policy of the Democrats. Then, explaining that he was not speaking as a Republican of Linn County, nor on behalf of the Republican ticket in Linn County, Colonel Hofer took up the discussion of two measures that will be voted upon by the people at this election—local option and direct primary elections. In scathing terms Colonel Hofer denounced the so-called local option as a measure conceived in deception, and dishonest and dishonorable. The direct primary elections law was also handled without gloves. It was cited that this law would permit a few people in the centers of population in each section of the state to control the politics of the entire state.

N. M. Newport, candidate for County Judge, was next introduced. Mr. Newport briefly stated his views on the management of county affairs. He stated that the Democrats had not been in control of the County Court in Linn County for the past 16 years, yet are claiming credit for all that has been done. He made an earnest appeal for the whole county ticket, because it represented Republican principles.

Walter L. Tooze, of Woodburn, was received with an ovation by the crowd. The address of Mr. Tooze was eloquent, logical and convincing. Considerable attention was paid to the different methods employed by the candidates for Congress in the First Congressional District in their campaigns. "The Democrats over the entire state are making a campaign against men, while the Republicans are making a campaign on principle," said Mr. Tooze. The accusations of Robert Veatch were denounced as falsehoods and Binger Hermann held up as a man who needed no defense; his record is his best campaign material. The talk of Mr. Tooze was on Republican principles, and carried the audience.

The opinion is generally expressed by party leaders that if the Republican ticket is not elected this year it never will be. There is every indication that the voting will be pretty straight. The great losses that have been suffered in county politics in the past because of scratching tickets will not be repealed this year. Republicans seem at last to have realized that it is up to them to gain control of the county if they are ever to have it, and the result is a perfect harmony that bodes well for election day.

POT BOILS IN BAKER CITY.

Socialists May Swing Election Because of Party Splits.

BAKER CITY, Or., June 5.—(Special.)—Great interest centers in the election here tomorrow. The county is very evenly divided politically between the Republicans and Democrats, and besides there is every reason to believe that the Socialists will cast a larger vote than usual this year.

The effect of the Socialist's vote is to make the county doubtful, although it is alleged that they will cut into the Democratic vote more than into the Republican. The county ticket is said to be divided between the Republican and Democrats.

The most determined contest for a county office will be between Harvey K. Brown, the Republican candidate for Sheriff, who is up for re-election, and Ed Randell, the Democratic candidate. The principal contest, however, will be between Hon. Sam White, the present District Attorney, who is up for re-election for the third time, and Leroy Lomax, of Union County, who is the Republican nominee.

White is being openly opposed by a few Democrats in this county, while Lomax has the opposition of some Republicans in his own county. White and Lomax have each canvassed the district very thoroughly. The district is made up of Union, Wallowa and Baker Counties.

Both sides are confident of victory tonight. It is admitted that the election will be close between these two men, and while considerable money is being bet, neither side will give odds. At the present time White seems to have the advantage in this county. Some of the Republican leaders concede Union and Wallowa to White, but insist that Lomax will win by a large enough majority in Baker County to insure his election.

Chairman Fuch, of the County Democratic Committee, is offering to bet $500 tonight that White will carry Baker County. Maxwell, the Democratic nominee for the Legislature, will be elected from this county.

$4,000,000 FOR NEW STREETS

Seattle Makes Property-Owners Pay 80 Per Cent.

SEATTLE, Wash., June 5.—(Special.)—Street improvement work costing $3,663,000 has been undertaken by the City of Seattle during the first five months of the present year, and plans are being prepared for more local improvements that aggregate $900,000 more.

With the number of improvement ordinances now before the Council there are indications that the total improvements to be ordered this year will approximate $4,000,000 in cost. Of this sum property-owners who have land along improved streets will pay 80 per cent of the cost, the general fund bearing the remainder.

Store Nine Defeats Forest Grove.

FOREST GROVE, June 5.—(Special.)—The Allen & Lewis baseball team, of Portland, won from the locals today by a score of 9 to 6. Drew pitched an excellent game for Forest Grove, striking out 14 men, but received poor support. Cardif, of the local team, batted out a home run in the last inning.

Batteries—Forest Grove, Via and Drew; Allen & Lewis, Myers and Buckler.

Wandering Jockey Insane.

KALAMA, Wash., June 5.—(Special.)—Leaving a string of race horses at Castle Rock, J. Sullivan, a horse jockey, was found Friday wandering about, apparently insane. The horses were en route from California to Seattle. Sullivan, who could not give the court the slightest information concerning his friends or family, was taken to the State Insane Asylum by Sheriff Huntington this morning.

Kalama's Fourth of July.

KALAMA, Wash., June 5.—(Special.)—A mass meeting was held in the City Hall Saturday evening to make arrangements for a Fourth of July celebration at Kalama. By order of the meeting, Mayor Kalahan appointed a committee of three to solicit funds. Dr. Sims, E. N. Howe and E. G. Kindorf were appointed on the committee with instructions to report Wednesday evening.

LIPS SEALED BY PORK

JAIL FOOD BREAKS CASTE AND PREVENTS TESTIMONY.

Asiatic Murder Witnesses Refuse to Tell of Killing, for Which They Were Paid $100.

SEATTLE, Wash., June 5.—(Special.)—The confession of the Afghan, Petit, made in Portland to Abdul Ramons, a fellow-countryman, that he had paid $100 for the murder of Amir Ali Aden Khel, may never be used in court against Petit and the two men, Obabshah and Nassir, whom he paid to do the work.

The strangest and most tragic of the scores of King County murder cases is likely never to be thoroughly investigated by the courts and no one will pay the penalty for the crime. Because of long and vexatious delays by criminal authorities the crime that grew out of race hatred and a private feud is apt to be officially forgotten.

The two accused men and four witnesses who swore in a preliminary hearing to the details of the plot and its climax are in the King County Jail. It is because of the detention of these witnesses that the murder case may never be tried, or if it is brought to trial, may fail to convict Obabshah and Nassir.

The Mohammedan witnesses cannot observe the tenets of their faith regarding food and care of person and they are rebellious. Now they threaten that once having told the story they will not repeat it. They are indignant because of having been fed pork and because of their treatment in the jail.

The murder of Amir Ali and the story of the unraveling of the plot is a unique and interesting tale of Asiatic vengeance. Ali was a peddler, a native of the India side of the Himalayas. He came to Seattle, living here with a group of Asiatics who had come from the mountain districts of Afghanistan. Race prejudices grew stronger, for Ali, a powerful Sikh, was somewhat quarrelsome. After a disagreement with Petit, he beat the Afghan, who, with Asiatic cunning and in a spirit of vengeance, plotted Ali's downfall.

Petit offered $100 for Ali's murder. Obabshah and Nassir agreed to accomplish it. They were instructed by Petit to join the big Sikh in a peddling tour, dog his footsteps, and when the occasion arose, kill him. If possible, the two men were instructed to torture the Sikh before they finally dispatched him.

From that time, Obabshah and Nassir were almost constantly with Ali. They were with him on the afternoon Ali started to walk from Woodinville to Seattle. When half way to the city, and near an obscure part of Lake Washington, Obabshah dropped behind and shot Ali. His body was thrown into the lake while the man still lived. He clung to the reeds, begging piteously for life, but the two men forced him under the water and killed him.

Obabshah, Petit and Nassir talked too much. Rassoul, a member of their colony, was with the two men in Whatcom County, and Obabshah told him the story. Later Obabshah repeated the tale to Mohammed, while the two were going to Tacoma to seek work. Obabshah threw the revolver with which the murder was committed into a Whatcom County pond, where it was subsequently found. Other members of the colony heard the story, and finally in Portland, Petit told Abdul Ramons of the murder.

All this, and more, came out at the preliminary hearing of the accused men. The witnesses were here waiting to testify in the Superior Court, and friends claim they had no intention of leaving the city. Suddenly they were arrested and confined in the County Jail. Now the witnesses insist in a plaintive statement:

"We told what we know, and we told it freely. Now they put us here, and they make us eat the flesh of swine. That is not right. We will never tell it again."

BIG GUNS HURT NO ONE.

Canard Said Two Men Were Killed at Fort Casey.

PORT TOWNSEND, Wash., June 5.—Captain Lewis, Adjutant to Colonel Grimes, commanding the artillery district of Puget Sound, authorizes an official denial of the sensational story sent out from here in special dispatches yesterday announcing the killing of two artillerymen and the injury of three others through a premature discharge in firing a charge in the disappearing guns at Fort Casey yesterday. The regular Summer gun practice of Puget Sound district was inaugurated at that fort yesterday and carried through to a successful conclusion without unusual incident or accident of any sort.

The story as sent out was the rawest kind of a canard, and is denied emphatically from official sources. No one was injured, much less killed, in practice, and the origin of the story is inexplicable to the authorities.

Grand Ronde Fruit Good.

LA GRANDE, Or., June 5.—(Special.)—The crop prospects for Union County and most of Eastern Oregon are very flattering so far this season. Grand Ronde Valley has had a heavy shower this week, just when it was most needed.

Sugar beets never looked better than now, and hundreds of Indians, Japs and many whites are now in the fields thinning them as rapidly as possible.

Only a few early strawberries and some cherries were damaged by the frost. A full crop of all fruits is assured in the Grand Ronde Valley; the strawberries will be on the market in about four weeks. A large quantity will be shipped out this season also.

Fall wheat, barley and rye is looking fine, and the crops are generally in a very promising condition.

Died on the Way Home.

OAKLAND, June 5.—Samuel F. Mitchell, a stockraiser of Billings, Mont., expired tonight on the Los Angeles express when the train arrived at Oakland pier. He was on his way home from Tuscon, Ariz., where he had been staying in search of health.

Baby Weaver's Grandparents.

Chicago Inter Ocean.

If there is anything more than idle talk in the generaly accepted statement that children are oftener spoiled by their grandparents than by their parents, then the case of the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Weaver, of Iowa Falls, Ia., is one that calls for our commiseration.

This newly arrived girl baby has no fewer than five grandfathers to bring toys and candy, and no fewer than five grandmothers to interfere in her behalf when she gets into trouble with her mother. That is to say, the Weaver baby has ten grandparents, any one of whom is likely at any time to denounce her father and mother for failing to bring her up properly.

There are, to begin with, the baby's father's mother and father, Judge and Mrs. S. M. Weaver, of Iowa Falls—two. Then there are the baby's mother's father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. J. Q. Hall, of Iowa Falls—two.

Then there are the baby's father's grandfather and grandmother—two.

Then there are the baby's mother's full set of grandfathers and grandmothers—four—count 'em—ten.

It seems like a simple thing for a baby to have ten grandparents, and yet babies as a rule are not blessed with so many. Perhaps, everything considered, it is just as well that they are not. Even though it may be far from the truth that grandparents spoil their grandchildren and great-grandchildren, yet ther is little doubt that grandchildren and great-grandchildren are inclined to take advantage of their parents because they can always count upon the interference of their grandmas and grandpas and their great-grandmas and great-grandpas at times when it would be better for them if there was no interference.

We shall all watch the Weaver baby's progress with a great deal of interest. It is possible, of course, that her ten grandparents may be different from other grandparents. They generally are. No grandparents are ever quite like other grandparents, at all events, and if they are they never admit it, which amounts to the same thing.
