

CANNOT AID FORT

Kuropatkin on Port Arthur Situation.

MAKES REPORT TO THE Czar

Ruler Is Leaving All in the Hands of His General.

HE WILL RISK NO DEFEAT

Non-Activity Is Explained by Movement of Second Army From Vladivostok Toward Yalu-Japanese Between Fires.

SPECIAL CABLE TO THE LONDON TIMES AND PORTLAND OREGONIAN.

PARIS, June 8.—A St. Petersburg dispatch quotes a general officer of the Russian army as follows:

"Two days ago there was a conference between the Emperor and the chief participants of General Kuropatkin and Admiral Alexieff. The latter were active in an attempt to influence the Czar to send an order to General Kuropatkin to advance at once and relieve Port Arthur. The intention, of course, was to upset the disposition of troops made by the military commander-in-chief and compel him to give battle even at the risk of defeat."

"Fortunately the good sense of the Emperor prevailed and he contented himself with inquiring of General Kuropatkin if the situation permitted of his advancing to relieve the beleaguered stronghold, saying he wished it could be done, but leaving it to his General to decide. General Kuropatkin replied it was impossible at present to do anything for General Stoessel and his command. Knowing him as I do, I am certain that the Commander-in-Chief would sooner have resigned than to have executed an order which might have brought disaster upon his troops."

Referring to the observation that General Kuropatkin has an army of 200,000 men available for service against the Japanese the official said:

"Who told you that?"

"If you were to suppose that a portion of that army has been dispatched to Vladivostok to march down along the coast and occupy Korea; if you added that they have been instructed to establish themselves in Kuroki's rear and that the army of which General Rennenkampf's division is the vanguard, is commanded by General Litvinov; if you were to say that you would not be astonished to hear soon that General Kuropatkin's army had been annihilated, I would say that you were not far from the truth. In any case I am certain that General Kuropatkin will not move on an order from St. Petersburg. I do not say he will not move, but simply that he is not impeded by any orders from St. Petersburg. He is acting on his own initiative unhampered by instructions."

Another dispatch from St. Petersburg states that General Kuropatkin has not one, but two armies in the field. The first is at Liao Yang, the second between Kuroki and the sea. This would explain Kuropatkin's remaining inactive as he is waiting for the second army to complete its long and difficult march from Vladivostok toward the Yalu, thus cutting the Japanese base of supplies and placing Kuroki and his troops between two fires.

RUSSIANS DESPERATELY BOLD

Reconnoitering Parties Go to Any Length to Get Information.

SPECIAL CABLE TO THE LONDON TIMES AND PORTLAND OREGONIAN.

TOKIO, June 8.—According to the Japanese correspondents with the first army in Manchuria (Kuroki's), the active Russian operations are limited to a series of skirmishes fought by Cossacks and mounted infantry, but which accomplish little else than to occupy the attention of the Japanese outposts. The Russians engaged number hardly more than 60 men, supported by a mountain battery. Their operations extend through the districts of Aiyang and Saimai, and their object is to interfere as much as possible with the Japanese provision trains. Their efforts have proven futile, and no damage has been done except the killing of a number of Japanese troopers.

The Russian reconnoitering parties are bold to the point of desperation. They consist chiefly of a young officer and a handful of men who are willing to go to any length to secure information. They will ride boldly within the Japanese lines and, if discovered, shoot their way out, endeavoring to do as much damage as possible before being killed or taken prisoners.

DRAW IN ADVANCE GUARD.

Japanese Adopt New Tactics in the Vicinity of Vafangow.

LIAO YANG, June 7.—The Japanese have drawn in their advance guards from Vafangow. They blew up part of the railway and the telegraph station on the night of June 2. The damage was soon repaired.

Samsouff's Cossacks are harassing the Japanese toward Port Arthur. Cossacks searching the hills occasionally catch detached parties unaware. In the clothing of the Japanese officer of the Fourteenth Regiment, who was killed, important orders were found, showing that the Japanese had lost heavily in the fight on May 28. Many of the Japanese killed were tattooed Chinese, such as spies used.

Samsouff's fight with the Japanese June 2, in the valley of Pulaian Tun, took place in an immense amphitheater in the effect that Cossacks between Anji and Kai Chou are reported to be killing the Korean natives and looting their homes.

The Japanese at first kept in the shelter of the rocks, but the Russian fire forced them out and they fitted shadow-like across the rocks as the Cossacks continued to advance, while the dragons cleared the valleys leading from the amphitheater. The Japanese cavalry retreated, unwilling to risk a collision at close quarters.

The Russian line encircled one great hill on which was the principal Japanese position, and like a living ribbon crept toward the summit. Colonel Borda led the advance until he fell wounded half way up the cliff. The command devolved upon Lieutenant-Colonel Chichev, who continued the forward movement, clearing the Japanese from the heights.

In the meantime a Russian battery placed an accurate shrapnel fire among the hillsides, hastening the Japanese retreat. Two Japanese sharpshooters on a hill seriously wounded the Russians at a critical period of the advance. An officer of Tserlet's company scaled the rocks in the face of almost certain death and killed both the Japanese, returning unharmed.

Soon after the Russians had occupied the hilltop and an entrenched village they received an order to retire. Just then the artillery reserve was brought into action and showered the retreating Russians with shrapnel, but failed to get the exact range. Besides Colonel Borda, 17 Russians were wounded in the day's encounter. The Japanese losses, owing to the accuracy of the Russian artillery fire, seemed heavy.

VLADIVOSTOK NOT WEAKENED

She Could Well Spare the Supplies Sent to Port Arthur.

VLADIVOSTOK, Monday, June 6.—All is quiet here. It can be stated that Port Arthur is abundantly supplied with provisions and munitions of war. The bulk of supplies there now was sent from here before communication was cut off.

Vladivostok was not weakened by sending the supplies, and there is plenty of everything remaining here except sugar. Kerosene is also scarce among the civilians, but the quantity on hand is adequate for the needs of the garrison. Trade with the interior is improving. A train of ten cars loaded with miscellaneous goods is dispatched daily. The railroad is open and the traffic in ordinary freight is considerable.

Much excitement has been caused by the reported discovery of gold in the vicinity of the mouth of the Amur River. Several hundred prospectors have already gone to the locality and others are starting. The discovery of gold has caused such a commotion among the Japanese that the ambulance train to arrive here has on board among other wounded a Japanese prisoner whom General Kuropatkin took particular care to single out and compel him to sign a statement of his country's patriots. The General told the Japanese he would personally insure the forwarding of a letter to his parents in Tokio.

A Russian soldier who was badly wounded at Turenchen, has received a medal for an exploit performed by him during the fighting there. He returned to his uninjured gun, which could not be removed, when the Russians withdrew, and disabled it as the Japanese were coming up. He received a number of bayonet wounds, but succeeded in making his escape.

TWO RUSSIAN BOATS LOST.

Japanese Commander Tells of Reconnaissance Off Port Arthur.

LONDON, June 8.—The correspondent of the Daily Telegraph in Tokio cables: "The Commander of the fourth Japanese fleet, who has returned to the rendezvous of the fleet from a reconnaissance in the vicinity of Port Arthur, mentions the loss of the Russian gunboat Glikk, and the blowing up of another Russian submarine about the same time."

"A Chinaman, who was badly wounded at Turenchen, has received a medal for an exploit performed by him during the fighting there. He returned to his uninjured gun, which could not be removed, when the Russians withdrew, and disabled it as the Japanese were coming up. He received a number of bayonet wounds, but succeeded in making his escape."

By supreme order Prince Dolgorouky was assigned to order medical surveillance, after which appropriate measures will be taken."

Japanese Punishing Bandits.

CHEFOO, June 8 (H. A. M.).—A fleet of junk which has arrived from Dally for the purpose of buying stores for the Japanese report having heard continuous firing between Dally and Port Arthur for several days.

Japanese warships are making Dally their headquarters and are coming and going continuously. They take turns guarding the entrance to Port Arthur. The junk report Chinese are no longer allowed to leave Port Arthur, and that the Japanese are punishing the bandits who aided Dally and Tallenwan.

Three bandits have been executed and 40 have been arrested. The junk saw nothing of the Japanese fleet off Port Arthur.

Situation Is Unchanged.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 7.—The General Staff today received the following dispatch from General Samsouff, Chief of Staff to General Kuropatkin:

"There is no change in the situation in Feng Wang Cheng."

"A Japanese detachment has evacuated a position which it occupied south of Vafangow, near the village of Chu Chia Tun, southeast, pursued by our cavalry."

During a reconnaissance June 3 in the neighborhood of Liao Yang, a detachment of Japanese infantry fired on our rear guard. Their approach was stopped by an advance of our troops. The firing lasted two and a half hours. We had two men killed and six wounded."

Spear and Kill Prefect.

SEOUL, Korea, June 7.—A telegram has been received here from the Japanese Consul at Gensan, Korea, saying the Russians who were at Ham Heung have retired in the direction of Ping Yang. It is reported that retreating Cossacks appeared and killed the Prefect of Kowon, who refused to furnish the troops with the provisions demanded by them."

Cossacks Are Killing Koreans.

SEOUL, June 7.—Reliable information has been received here from Ping Yang to the effect that Cossacks between Anji and Kai Chou are reported to be killing the Korean natives and looting their homes.

CORRESPONDENT IS SLAIN

On Port Arthur last night, the Japanese apparently made a determined effort to advance on that stronghold by land. A Chinese junk which left a point three miles south of Port Dally early Monday morning has arrived here. She reports having heard firing north of Port Arthur from 7 o'clock Monday morning until 2 o'clock that afternoon, by which time she passed out of hearing distance. It would appear that the Japanese planned a land and sea attack on Port Arthur yesterday. The Russians, on seeing this, sent their fleet out to give battle. The result is not known.

The foregoing dispatch would seem to confirm the dispatch previously received at Chefoo today from the Associated Press correspondent at Teng Chou, Shan Tung Peninsula. The correspondent said there was firing at Port Arthur last night, beginning at 11:30 o'clock and continuing for several hours. The above Chefoo dispatch also confirms the report brought here by a Chinese junk which arrived during the night. The latter reported that there was heavy firing all day yesterday in the vicinity of Port Arthur.

THIRD PACIFIC SQUADRON.

Turkey Already Said to Have Agreed to Its Passage.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 7.—Grand Duke Alexei, Commander in Chief of the Navy, according to an apparently reliable report, which, however, is not officially confirmed, has obtained the permission of the Emperor to create a third Pacific squadron from the ships of the Black Sea fleet, and permission has already been obtained from Turkey to take the ships through the Dardanelles on the condition that they will not return. This squadron will be composed, according to the report, of the battleships Rostislav, Dvenadzat, Apostoloff and Tris Sviatella, and will be accompanied by torpedo-boats and torpedo-boat destroyers. The latter reported that there was heavy firing all day yesterday in the vicinity of Port Arthur.

Nothing Said to Britain.

LONDON, June 7.—The Foreign Office has not received any request from Russia or Turkey to agree to the passage of the Russian Black Sea fleet through the Dardanelles. It is pointed out that the key would be delighted to get rid of the Russian Black Sea fleet, but the passage of warships through the Dardanelles would be a distinct contravention of the treaty, permission for which has not been asked or is likely to be granted if asked for.

JAPAN MAY HAVE GOT IT.

Submarine-Boat Protector Said to Have Been Shipped.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., June 7.—A report reached this city today that the submarine boat Protector had been shipped to Japan from New York, and that four boats modeled after the Protector are now under construction at the works of the Newport News Drydock & Shipbuilding Company. Bridgeport men interested in the construction of these boats decline to give any information as to what has been done with the Protector.

Japanese agents have been in this city several times and as a result, it is said, draftsmen are working day and night at a local shop on plans and models of submarine boats. Some of the models are known to have been shipped to Newport News.

Another Rumor of Sortie by Squadron

ST. PETERSBURG, June 8, 11 A. M.—The government, it is authorized, has said tonight has no more information than the public of the happenings in the neighborhood of Port Arthur. The lack of official news from Port Arthur and the rumors that have been circulating since the reports from Chefoo and elsewhere that the Russian squadron had made a sortie from Port Arthur and that the Japanese had begun a land attack upon the fortress. The general staff could neither confirm nor deny the stories any more than could the navy. On the past 48 hours. However, it was pointed out that while a preliminary shelling of the land defenses of Port Arthur was not improbable, it is too early to expect any news of a serious assault, which could not be pressed with any prospect of success until siege guns have been landed at Dally, brought overland 20 miles, and all the land and sea forces of the Russian work of a systematic advance against the outer works of Port Arthur completed.

Say Russians Poisoned Water.

TOKIO, June 7.—Supplementary reports from the blocking forces indicate that the Russian gunboat, which was sunk by a torpedo off Port Arthur Saturday, was of the Gremiachi type, instead of the Glikk class. Admiral Katakoo, commander of the third squadron, reconnoitered San Shan Tao and Taku Kiao. Chinese say that when the Russians abandoned Taku Kiao they poisoned the water sources. Admiral Katakoo is investigating the charge.

Surprise and Rout Cossacks.

TOKIO, June 7.—A detachment of the Japanese force which landed at Taku-shan surprised and routed a company of Cossacks on Sunday, at Kan Chia Tun, on the Kinkou line, seven miles northwest of Taku-shan.

Kuropatkin at Liao Yang.

PARIS, June 7.—The Foreign Office received a dispatch this morning definitely announcing that General Kuropatkin, with his main force, is at Liao Yang.

MAKE MINERS GO.

that a state of insurrection existed in the Cripple Creek district.

The fact that Sheriff Bell, the successor of the deceased Teller County official, has expressed a determination to handle the situation without the aid of troops, other than the local company, gives assurance to many of the citizens of the camp have offered him all the assistance necessary to meet the conditions, and that the trouble will be brought to an end by sheer force of law.

Sheriff Bell is known as a man of nerve, and this was demonstrated when he compelled the deputies appointed by the deceased City Marshal of Victor to surrender their commissions and guns to him personally. No attempt is being made by the so-called vigilantes and the new police officers to interfere with crowds who congregate on the streets, and, although nearly everyone is carrying a gun, no one is making freely among them searching for persons upon whose arrest they are bent. All citizens of the district, union and non-union sympathizers alike, unite in condemning the atrocity at Findley which caused such appalling destruction of life and property and precipitated a condition in the district little short of anarchy.

increased by the discovery of what they regarded as evidence of the existence of a plot in the Victor Mines' Union for wholesale assassinations of mineowners and miners. This evidence was a bundle of 40 marked photographs found by Lieutenant Keegan in the union hall. On the back of some of the photographs was the name of James Cochran, secretary of the union.

The photographs were groups of men employed in various mines. The most important was a group of the night shift of the Victor mine. The photograph contains about 20 portraits, five of which were numbered from one to five. On the back were written the names of the persons numbered. Of the five names, those of Charles McCormick and Mel Beck had been crossed out. These two were men killed in the Victor explosion last November. On other photographs, similarly arranged, it is asserted, there are crossed out the names of some of the men who have disappeared, and whose whereabouts or departure are unknown. James Cochran was arrested and taken to the mineowners' headquarters for hearing.

"I do not know anything about these pictures," he said, "except that they were taken about the 25th of May. I was not present when the pictures were taken, and cannot tell you any more about it."

News leaked out today that had Thomas Christianson been captured last night, three men would have been lynched. The plot was arranged, and a special train was arranged on the Florence & Cripple Creek tracks to carry a body of men who were ready in Cripple Creek, awaiting a signal.

Alfred Miller, ex-Marshall Mike O'Connell and Tom Christianson were regarded as ringleaders in the rioting of yesterday, and they were marked for lynching on that account. The failure to capture Christianson was the only reason the plan was not carried out. The other two are still in custody and awaiting the decision of the Citizens' Alliance as to their fate.

BLAMES ENEMIES OF UNION.

Williams Believes Citizens' Alliance Back of the Riots.

DENVER, Colo., June 7.—The News prints the following interview with Vice-President Williams of the Western Federation of Miners, who is acting in the capacity of president during Mr. Moyer's imprisonment in the military bull pen in Telluride:

"Troubles at Cripple Creek—the riot and disturbances there—are simply an attempt to disrupt the union and bring the strike to a close."

"It is my candid opinion that the Citizens' Alliance, an organization that is and has always been utterly hostile to the unions, is at the bottom of this attempt to break the strike by a display of violence."

"The opinion among the miners is that the compromise committee just returned from Cripple Creek may have produced good results by their visit. It is to break the strike and discredit the unions that the disturbances were started. The news dispatches contain references to the mass meeting that was in progress when the trouble originated. My own opinion is that this meeting was called by Mr. Hamilton, of the Mineworkers' Association, ostensibly to give an open, free and fair discussion of matters involved in the strike, but that, as a matter of fact, the 'scabs' employed in the mines were to play the part of miners. Then, when anyone attempted to speak, he was to be shot down."

"As for the Citizens' Alliance, its members are absolutely unfair and pay no attention to law and order. This was brought out in the Telluride strike when miners were driven out and many forms of violence used to defeat the strike."

"This whole matter came up in a manner that appears very peculiar. Just after the visit of our committee, when the strike was progressing satisfactorily, and during the Governor's absence, the trouble springs up. There are few soldiers in the district. The Citizens' Alliance, absolute-by unfair, will resort to anything. Such outrages do not occur during the presence of the military, who are responsible to some one besides themselves.

"Our organization is founded on the principles of truth and justice, and its members are as much interested as other persons in supporting lawlessness. We ever committed the dastardly crime at Independence must be found and punished, and we want to put ourselves on record as helping to bring that about."

FEDERATION OFFERS REWARD

It Will Pay $5000 for Perpetrators of the Outrage.

DENVER, June 7.—The convention of the Western Federation of Miners today delegated to the executive committee the full charge of the Colorado situation, both politically and otherwise, with instructions to use their best judgment in the Fall campaign.

A telegram was received from Eugene V. Debs, saying: "Enemy is desperate. You are on top. Stand pat."

A resolution condemning the "heinous dynamiting plot" which sent 15 miners to their death and seriously injured a number of others at Independence, Colo., Monday, was adopted unanimously by the convention. A reward of $5000 is offered by the Federation for the capture of the perpetrator of the outrage.

Vice-President J. C. Williams and Secretary-Treasurer William D. Haywood were today re-elected to their former positions. Owing to the absence of President Charles H. Moyer, no nominations were made for the office of president, the constitution providing that the president of the federation shall be in attendance when the vote on the nominee for the office is taken.

M. W. Moore, of McCabe, Ariz., was elected a member of the executive board of the first district, and L. J. Stimpina, of Gardner, Idaho, a member from the second district. The other officers of the federation will be elected tomorrow and final adjournment will probably be reached.

SEARCHING FOR UNION MEN.

Deputy Sheriffs Will Warn Them to Leave the Camp.

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., June 7.—A special from Cripple Creek to the Telegraph says: A posse of 30 deputy sheriffs armed with rifles and revolvers is now scouring the hills of the Cripple Creek district, with the object of rounding up every union man and every loafer in the camp. When found they will be escorted to the county lines and warned never again to return to Telluride.

The union men are also well armed and say they will resist any attempt at deportation. Many of them are desperate, and serious trouble is liable to occur before noon.

EVERY PERSON TAKES SIDES.

Renewal of Rioting at Any Moment Would Not Be Surprising.

VICTOR, Colo., June 7.—Mayor French said today that, in his opinion, no more troops are needed here.

"Company L, now on duty, consists of 60 men," he said, "and the number can be increased to 100 if necessary. Besides these soldiers, we have 100 armed deputes. The civil authorities have perfect mastery of the situation. Should the military turn over their prisoners to the civil authorities there will be no lynching."

However, the feeling against Alf Miller, who is said to have started the rioting here; ex-City Marshal Michael O'Connell, by whom it is asserted, union men who fired upon people in the streets from the union hall had been sworn in as Deputies and armed, and Harvey Starbuck, ex-Marshall of Independence, is strong. Every person in the district has taken sides with one faction or the other, and nobody would be surprised should rioting break out anew at any moment.

"The Western Federation of Miners will be banished from the district," declares the mineowners.

"It has not been proven that the dynamiting was done by the Federation, retort union men; 'we have a right to organize and to remain here.'"

Both sides express a determination to fight to the bitter end. Business is practically suspended in Victor, and conditions in Cripple Creek are little, if any, better. All saloons are closed by order of the authorities. Many merchants have closed their stores, and all who can are doubling or trebling their insurance.

Two More Dead at Independence.

Two more names were added today to the list of those killed by the Independence dynamiting. They are George S. Henderson and Fred Buckley. It is believed that the bodies of several others were blown to atoms, and the remains are in the mass of flesh and bones at the bottom of the hole made by the tremendous charge of dynamite.

George Hall has been appointed Coroner in place of James Doran, who has been forced to follow the example of Sheriff Robertson in resigning, and will hold the inquest over the murdered miners.

Governor Peabody Starts Home.

ST. LOUIS, June 7.—Governor James H. Peabody, of Colorado, left for that state today at 2:15 P. M., over the Burlington route. Up to the time of his departure, Governor Peabody received numerous telegrams from the Colorado authorities appraising him of the situation in the disturbed districts.
