FLEETS IN FIGHT

Report of Engagement Off Port Arthur.

SIX SHIPS ARE DISABLED

Retvizan and Bayan Said to Be on the Beach.

FOUR LOST BY THE JAPANESE

St. Petersburg Story of Sally of the Blocked Fleet When Attempt Is Made Still Further to Block the Channel.

SPECIAL CABLE.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 13.—It is reported in naval circles this morning that a fierce naval battle has taken place off the entrance to Port Arthur harbor, in which the battleship Retvizan and the cruiser Bayan were so badly damaged that they had to be beached to prevent their sinking.

The Japanese are reported to have lost four ships during the encounter, but whether they were sunk or simply so badly damaged that they were compelled to withdraw is not known.

According to the report, the Japanese made an attack under cover of the darkness in the early morning Sunday, and attempted to sink merchantmen in the harbor to block the entrance. They were discovered and the shore batteries opened on them. The escorting squadron replied and poured in a hot fire on the forts.

Several Russian torpedo-boats sallied forth and sank a steamer which was close in-shore and headed directly for the harbor entrance. Two Japanese cruisers attempted to cut the Russian torpedo craft off, and the entire Russian squadron made a sortie and attacked the Japanese. A battle followed, in which some of the ships came so close together that their big gun batteries were practically useless.

Finally the Japanese squadron, seeing that it was impossible to accomplish its purpose, drew off, and the remnants of the Russian fleet retired into the harbor. According to the report the damage to the Retvizan and Bayan is extremely serious. This is considered very unfortunate at this time, as the battleship had just been repaired and placed in commission after being disabled since the commencement of hostilities.

However, the fact that the Japanese lost four vessels, at least two of which are supposed to have been battleships, indicates that the Russian gunners have recovered their nerve and can be depended upon to give a good account of themselves in future naval fights.

While the report of the fight is current both at the Navy Department and at the Service Club, none of the officers there would state what the source of the information was. Diligent effort was made to secure confirmation, but in every case without success. The circumstantial detail with which the rumor is clothed indicates, however, that there may be a great deal of truth in it, inasmuch as the names of the two Russian vessels disabled are given.

HEAT GROWING INTENSE.

Precursor of Heavy Rainy Season in Manchuria.

LIAO YANG, June 11.—(Delayed in Transmission.)—Intense heat has set in and the rivers are drying up. The rocks are red hot. This is the precursor of a heavy rainy season.

The abandoned Japanese entrenchments at Vafangow and Vafandien are beautifully constructed and contain separate huts for officers and non-commissioned officers.

The Japanese forces are moving south from Pulandien to Kinchou. In retreating they destroyed the railway telegraph line at several places and there are indications also that they mined the track. They did not, however, destroy the railway station, the wells or ice houses, nor did they burn the coal.

The Japanese have published an offer of a reward of $375 for the head of each translator serving with the Russian army.

Chinese report a strong Japanese force with 50 guns at Pulandien. Yesterday two large Japanese warships and two small cruisers appeared off Senuchen, near Kaio Chau.

Twelve Japanese vessels bombarded the coast villages of Tavaldar and Gocandzantoon, but without damage. Small parties of Japanese have landed at various places along the coast. They buy food and tell the Chinese to vacate.

Several ex-Japanese Cabinet Ministers and diplomats are serving in the ranks. Another of the Mikado's nephews was mortally wounded in the fight at Siuyen. The cavalry at the Kinchou fight was led by a near relative of the Mikado and several Princes of royal blood participated in the battle.

The Japanese cavalry and infantry are accompanied by a number of jinrikshas. They are able to keep the pace with the cavalry and make as much as 45 miles a day. Distant artillery was heard today at Vafandien.

Russians Will Make No Attempt to Relieve Beleaguered Garrison.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 12.—Relief is felt in military circles at the removal of dissension in military circles. It is understood that the sole responsibility devolved upon General Kuropatkin, and that no serious attempt will be made to relieve Port Arthur.

It is reported that the Vladivostok squadron now consists of three cruisers and four ironclads. It is therefore presumed that the squadron has effected a junction with some of the Port Arthur vessels.

The newspapers report that there is great distress in Vladivostok arising from the enhanced prices of food and it is feared that the stock of petroleum and candles is giving out. Twelve trains are arriving daily at Liao Yang with reinforcements.

WANTS TO HEAR FROM AMERICA

Russia Has Not Answered Great Britain on Contraband of War.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 12.—The Russian government has not yet returned an answer to British Ambassador Harding, relative to his government's protest at Russia's declaration that rice and other foodstuffs are contraband of war, but the Associated Press learns that there is no intention on the part of the government to make modifications to meet the British view. The protest is based on the rule observed by Great Britain during the Boer War that even foodstuffs destined for a hostile country could be considered contraband of war when intended only for an enemy's forces.

A high Russian official today called attention to the fact that at the breaking out of war Russia was compelled to stop at San Francisco a cargo of meat destined for Vladivostok, in order to avoid its probable capture in consequence of the Japanese declaration that it would be regarded as contraband.

"Rice is an important article of food in the Japanese army, and the question whether it should be declared contraband was carefully considered when the regulations were being made," this official said, "and the decision reached by Russian entirely justified such action. The British government is disposed to regard the question as an academic one, but should steamers which are being equipped as auxiliary cruisers proceed to the Pacific and make captures of ships loaded with provisions, complications easily could arise."

Diplomatic circles are interested in the attitude of the United States in the matter.

GUNS DROVE BACK TRAIN.

Japanese Bombard the West Coast of Liao Tung Peninsula.

TOKIO, June 12, 6 P. M.—Rear-Admiral Togo reports that Tuesday a part of the fleet bombarded the west coast of the Liao Tung Peninsula, near Kaichau, and drove back a military train that was approaching southward. No trains have been seen since.

The enemy was moving in troops and erecting works, evidently expecting a landing of the Japanese at that point and making all preparations to prevent it.

Small gunboats sent in close by Rear-Admiral Togo bombarded the Russians at work, and it is believed caused considerable damage.

Czarvitch Ready for Sea.

TIEN TSIN, June 12.—The Russian battleship Czarvitch, which was injured at Port Arthur February 8, and which has ever since been undergoing repairs, has left the drydock and is now ready for sea. Outside the harbor of Port Arthur the sea is reported to be thickly covered with Russian and Japanese mines.

The report that the Russian gunboats Gilliak and Bobr have been destroyed is untrue.

A report from Admiral Togo June 4 stated that a Russian gunboat of the Gilliak type had been blown up, presumably by a Japanese torpedo. The gunboat Bobr was reported to have been used in the attack on the Japanese left during the battle of Nanshan Hill and to have been destroyed by the Russians after the engagement.

Minister Hayashi Goes Home.

SEOUL, June 11.—(Delayed in Transmission.)—Mr. Hayashi, Japanese Minister to Corea, left Seoul today. The members of the diplomatic corps and officials of the Corean government said farewell to the Minister at the depot. There is a possibility, it is said, that Mr. Hayashi will return to Seoul in a month or six weeks.

The Minister's diplomatic colleagues are unanimous in praise of his tact in successfully clearing the difficult situation which existed here during the last four months. It is generally believed that on his return he will be instructed to take definite steps looking to the adjustment of the relations between Corea and Japan.

Ride on Captured Steamer.

TOKIO, June 12.—The Siberian Railway steamer, which was captured by the Japanese, left the Yonkosuka naval station today, carrying 60 guests of the navy department. The trip of the Manchuria has been arranged for the foreign naval attaches, members of the diet and 10 of the foreign correspondents.

The itinerary of the vessel includes visits to the Kuri naval station, the Sasebo naval station, Chemulpo, Chinampo, the Sir James Hall and Elliott group of islands, the advanced naval bases near the mouth of the Yalu, in Talienwan Bay, and off Port Arthur, and the army bases on the Liao Tung Peninsula.

Nothing New at Niu Chwang.

NIU CHWANG, June 12, 7 A. M.—Nothing new developed here during the past night.

HEARST CONTROLS IN ILLINOIS

Bitter Fight Ahead in the Democratic State Convention.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 12.—A large number of delegates arrived today and the Democratic State Convention Tuesday promises to bring about a bitter fight. Major Carter H. Harrison, of Chicago; J. P. Hopkins, of Chicago, chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee, and the Hearst followers will have a contest for control of the organization. The Hearst delegates are overwhelming in number and their demands that they have control of the State Convention will be complied with.

John P. Hopkins will likely be a candidate for temporary chairman, and if he is not acceptable to the Hearst followers, the name of Frank J. Quinn, of Peoria, will be suggested. The Central Committee will meet tomorrow morning to transact routine business, and the first squabble of the convention will be experienced.

Delegates Arriving at Chicago.

CHICAGO, June 12.—The vanguard of the Republican National Convention reached here today. Senator N. B. Scott, of West Virginia, and Governor Franklin Murphy, of New Jersey, were the first arrivals. The chairman, Postmaster-General Payne, is on the way from Washington, and will reach Chicago this afternoon with several other committeemen.

It is understood there will be a meeting of the executive committee tomorrow. Several matters need to be settled before this committee can make the report to the full committee, which meets on Wednesday. The members of the executive committee are:

Henry C. Payne, chairman; Elmer Dover, secretary; Graeme Stewart, Illinois; Richard C. Kerens, Missouri; Harry S. New, of Indiana; Joseph Manley, Maine; N. B. Scott, West Virginia; Franklin Murphy, New Jersey, and Cornelius N. Bliss, New York.

Parker in Lead in Mississippi.

JACKSON, Miss., June 12.—The Democratic State Convention to name delegates to the National Convention at St. Louis will meet here Wednesday. There are 268 votes in the State Convention, and the indications tonight are that Parker will come to the convention with a majority of the votes instructed for him. One hundred and thirty-five is a majority, and he has 127 instructed votes, with a half dozen more counties to act tomorrow.

John Sharp Williams will likely be the permanent chairman of the convention held Wednesday.

High Bay to Run in Derby.

NEW YORK, June 12.—The announcement was made tonight that the dispute between William F. Scheftel and Bud May, owners of High Bay, had been amicably adjusted and that the colt is now on the way to Chicago to run in the American Derby.

PRAISE FOR CAPTOR

Perdicaris Says Raisuli Is a Pleasant Gentleman.

BETRAYED BY BASHAW FRIEND

American Is Held That Moroccan's Own Men Held for Ransom Shall Be Released From Prison in City of Tangier.

LONDON, June 13.—The Daily Mail this morning publishes a letter written to A. J. Dawson, the novelist and traveler by Ion Perdicaris, the American citizen who was captured by Raisuli, the Moroccan bandit. It is dated at Tasaradon, June 4, and says:

"Nothing more startling and unexpected than the circumstances of our capture could be imagined. A quiet domestic dinner without guests, the windows open, the table a mass of flowers, then suddenly, like an avalanche, the yelling onset of Raisuli's men—it was a classic scene of rapine and confusion. Nor could it be easy to conceive a picture more wild and gloomy than our forced journey; in fact, the libretto was perfect.

"It is easy now to write in this strain when we are assured that negotiations for our release are concluding, but during that terrible 24 hours' ride over rocks and boulders, and through dense thickets where our captors had at times literally to cut their way in order to avoid the villages on the beaten track—well, we had no such consolation then—none of any sort, indeed."

After describing the dread which he long has had of being kidnaped on account of his family, Perdicaris says:

"You may conceive my feelings while thus being dragged along by ruffians who began their amiable attentions by clubbing us with rifles and threatening us with their murderous-looking curved daggers. I was astonished to learn that our fears were not really well founded. We have learned that Raisuli's chief object is to secure the release of members of his own Kabyles unjustly or at least treacherously entrapped and imprisoned by the Bashaw of Tangier, a former friend and foster brother of Raisuli, who had trusted this man and had been betrayed. Whatever ill he may have done, the fact remains that he was betrayed.

"The ransom demanded is not so much the price of our release as the remand for their recouping of the losses inflicted by order of the said Bashaw, from whom Raisuli claims payment.

"Another startling surprise is to find in Raisuli himself the most interesting and good-hearted gentleman it has been my good fortune to have known. It is impossible not to like the man, conscious as I am of the injury all Tangier has suffered at his hands."

After dealing with some private matters and referring to the courage of his wife and the mental anguish she has endured, Mr. Perdicaris expresses the hope that some good will come to the trouble to Tangier and its people. He then proceeds:

"I am writing this at the mouth of a handsome tent placed at our disposal by Mouli Ali, the Wazzini Shereef. The brightest episode of our detention here was our first sight of his and his brother Mouli Ashmet's caravan, accompanied by an armed escort. Signal guns fired announced the arrival of this relief expedition, which we saw later on winding along the hillside. Mouli Ali himself has remained with us ever since.

"Our release will be very welcome, but it is at hand now, so you must not pity us too much.

Release Expected Wednesday.

LONDON, June 13.—The Mail's Tangier correspondent says Raisuli has received the Sultan's letter concerning his demands and that unless the bandit formulates fresh conditions, the release of Perdicaris may be expected Wednesday.

"I learn," says the correspondent, "that Raisuli is suffering from nervousness and insomnia and is greatly depressed by the desertion of two adherents. An unconfirmed report from Mogador states that a German has been kidnaped in that vicinity."

VISITS THE BANDIT'S CAMP.

Commissioner Langerman Finds Perdicaris In Good Spirits.

TANGIER, June 12.—J. W. S. Langerman, Commissioner of the Moroccan section at the St. Louis Exposition, arrived here today from the camp of Raisuli, the bandit. In an interview given to the Associated Press, Mr. Langerman said:

"I left here by steamer for Arzill in company with a friend and three Moors, the object being to see Raisuli and try to arrange the present differences.

"I met Raisuli and his band fully armed and suspicious of the visit. For a few minutes the situation was critical, but all passed off well.

"Ion Perdicaris, the American whom Raisuli holds captive, is much better and in good spirits over the prospect of his speedy release."

AJAX SHOWS IN FRONT.

Wins Grand Prix de Paris From Vanderbilt Entry.

PARIS, June 12.—Edmund Blanc's bay colt Ajax, by Flying Fox-Amie, today won the Grand Prix de Paris of $40,000, about one mile and seven furlongs, this stable thus accomplishing the rare feat of carrying off three great events of the year, the Prix de Diane (the French equivalent of the English Oaks), the Prix du Jockey Club (the French equivalent of the English Derby) and today's race.

Everything combined to make the occasion an immense success. The weather was delightful, the clouds tempering the heat without threatening rain; the field for the chief event was large and of high quality and the attendance was both popular and fashionable.

President Loubet, accompanied by Mme. Loubet, drove in state to the course and received the heartiest greetings from the huge crowd which was gathered along the route. After receiving a welcome from the authorities of the jockey club, members of the Cabinet and the diplomatic corps, President Loubet went to the new presidential stand and watched the race with the keenest interest. He congratulated the winner before leaving the track.

Ten horses started in the Grand Prix, about half a dozen being at fairly short prices, though Ajax was a hot favorite. The race was closely contested, W. K. Vanderbilt's Turenne, with the American jockey, Ranch, up, leading almost to the finish, when Stern called on Ajax for a final spurt and which landed him a short half-length ahead. The third place fell to MacDonald II, of Blanc's second string, the unsuccessful Derby candidate, Governaut, taking fourth place.

The victory of the favorite was naturally very popular, and the youthful jockey received a great ovation.

Saved Petropavlovsk's Flag.

MOSCOW, June 12.—Six of the survivors of the battleship Petropavlovsk arrived here today. Among them is the sailor, Goriachen, who saved the vessel's flag. Goriachen cut loose the flag when he felt the vessel sinking and stuffed it inside his shirt, after which he leaped overboard.

When passing through Mukden Goriachen was granted an audience with Viceroy Alexieff, who presented him with the St. George Cross.

PLOT AGAINST THE SULTAN.

Agreement With France Has Aroused the Moroccans.

SPECIAL CABLE TO THE LONDON TIMES AND PORTLAND OREGONIAN.

TANGIER, June 13.—It has come to light that a plot, the ramifications of which take in the whole of Morocco, exists to depose the present Sultan, and a general uprising is confidently expected. This conspiracy has absolutely no connection with the late rebellion, which was supported entirely by tribesmen and the lower classes.

The newly discovered plot originated among the religious and educated, and is said to have enlisted the support of many Sheriffs and other important members of the Government. The Sultan having been warned, is preparing to make wholesale arrests as soon as the harvest is over.

The chief grievance is the agreement with France, which will practically give that country control of the affairs of Morocco. The Sultan, it is believed, will soon leave Fez and go to a more secure place, where he will gather about his person such troops as are believed to be loyal. The conspirators have no further plans other than to depose the government and seize the reins of government.

ITINERARY OF SATOLLI.

Visit of Cardinal to United States Said to Be Without Significance.

BALTIMORE, June 12.—Cardinal Satolli, after spending the day at the residence of Cardinal Gibbons, returned to New York tonight. He celebrated mass at the cathedral this morning. Cardinal Satolli will leave New York tomorrow afternoon with his suite for Notre Dame, Ind., where he will attend the commencement of the university June 15 and 17.

June 17, Cardinal Satolli will leave Notre Dame for Washington with Monsigneur O'Connell, rector of the Catholic University, remaining in Washington until June 20. He will dine with Secretary of War Taft next Saturday night, and expects to call upon President Roosevelt on the following day. Leaving Washington on Monday, the 20th, he will go to the home of Mr. Maloney at Spring Lake, N. J.

Monsigneur Satolli will visit the St. Louis World's Fair and go thence to St. Paul, where he will be the guest of Archbishop Ireland. It was stated that Cardinal Satolli's visit to this country has no political or religious significance.

GLENWOOD SPRINGS, Colo., June 12.—The chase for the two Denver & Rio Grande train robbers who escaped from the posse which surrounded them in Grand Canon after shooting their companion several days ago, has been abandoned. It was reported that the men had been located in a cabin and would be captured at daylight today. When day dawned and the log cabin was entered, it developed that the fugitives were not there.

The posse broke up today and the officers who led the members returned to this city. They announced that the hunt for the robbers would be left to the private agencies.

Orel Out of Drydock.

CRONSTADT, June 12.—The battleship Orel has been taken from drydock. The damage which resulted from the sinking of the vessel at her anchorage, has been repaired and she will now proceed to take on the remainder of her armor.

Eighty-five Women's $30.00 to $45.00 Tailor-Made Suits $18.50

The "Special" outlined above is the greatest Suit bargain ever offered to Portland folk. There are eighty-five in the lot—only one or two of each style, however, a state of affairs due to the fact that these Suits are what is left of our best-selling lines.

These suits are guaranteed to be this season's make. They are not "left overs" from last season which have been altered to conform half way to this season's style. This is Portland's one store where you are certain of getting a genuine 1904 suit.

Every good style is represented—every wanted color is there—every size is to be had in some style or other, but of course not in every style—some are severely plain—others very elaborately trimmed. Display in Third-street window.
