CROP LOOKS FINE

Hops Will Yield Fully 100,000 Bales in Oregon.

NO INDICATIONS OF VERMIN

Favorable Prospects From New York and England—No Demand for Few 1903s Left in State—Produce Price Current.

There is absolutely no trading under way in hops. The market has not been so lifeless in years. No one wants to buy, nor are there any inquiries as to prices being received. The tone of the market, in consequence, is depressed, and if any sales were made, they would have to be at concessions from quotations that prevailed in the Spring.

Crop prospects in this state were probably never better, though there are some fears on the part of growers that, if the dry spell is prolonged, it may lessen the yield. There are no signs of vermin in any yards, and less than the usual number of missing hills. The yield of Oregon this year is estimated at 100,000 bales, an increase of 10,000 to 15,000 bales over last year. The acreage in hops is placed at 25,000 acres.

In other sections prospects are also favorable for large yields. The Waterville Times of June 14 said of conditions in New York State:

Hops are growing nicely, and doing well under the influence of favorable weather. In the best yards they are three-quarters up the poles, but as yet are not particularly vigorous in growth or prolific in arms. They may improve in this respect, however, as the season advances.

The Kentish Observer of June 2 reported conditions in the several English districts, as follows:

Ashford.—Most of the gardens in this district are well up to date in the matter of growth, and there is one where the bines have almost reached the tops of the strings already. In some places, however, the development is rather uneven, many of the hills being apparently weakened by the excessive rains of the Winter. During the past few days there has been a visitation of fly, and though growers profess to feel very little concern at the aphis pest till June is well on its way, most would prefer not to see quite so many as have been noticed since Sunday.

Canterbury.—Very satisfactory progress has been made by the bine in all grounds up to the present, and the plant has a strong and healthy appearance. Warmer nights are, however, desirable for development of the shoots. There is a sprinkling of fly, and no doubt washing will be a necessity shortly. Owing to the dry weather of late, the soil has been working well, and cultivation is in a forward state in most grounds.

High Halden.—The bine in this locality is rather backward, the soil being ill-adapted to stand such a wet Winter as the past one proved to be. Growth has now commenced in earnest, however. There is some fly.

Maidstone District.—The bine in the grounds in this district in quite forward enough, and will no doubt grow away very fast after the soaking rain of Tuesday. There is a healthy look about it, and the only complaint one hears is that it is at places somewhat uneven. As usual, there is an attack of fly, and washing will presently become a necessity.

Chilham.—The hops are making good progress. The bine grows very fast and looks very rank. The tyers and trainers have to keep busy to keep pace with it. There are a few fly, to be sure.

Edenbridge.—The hops in the district generally are rather backward for the time of year. The bines are spindling in many places, and where under water in the Winter the crown of the hill has been somewhat damaged.

Harbledown.—Generally speaking, the bine has made a good start. The usual pests, wireworm and flea, have not been in evidence to any great extent; the genial and forcing weather has greatly helped the bine to withstand their attacks. At places there are a good many miss hills, the majority having died since cutting. There is a good sprinkling of fly everywhere and a numerous deposit of nits.

Bridge and Neighborhood.—The hop plant has made a good start, and probably never looked more vigorous at this early stage of its growth. Some growers are washing.

Worcester.—The hop plant makes rapid and healthy growth, and in early grounds the bine is nearly half way up the poles and strings, but some fly has appeared and growers are getting ready for washing.

TONE PLAINLY FIRMER

CONFIDENCE AGAIN FELT IN NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

Southern Pacific Offerings Readily Absorbed—Railway Situation Unchanged.

NEW YORK, June 20.—An unimportant volume of business was done in the stock market today, but the tone was plainly firm, and confidence over the prospect for values was thereby fostered. News bearing upon values was slight, but in the absence of threatening developments, and with protection afforded to Southern Pacific, there was no urgent pressure to sell. Bankers usually intrusted with financial operations for the company were large buyers of Southern Pacific, and the offerings, including several thousand shares for London account, were readily absorbed. The circular issued by the President to stockholders in explanation of the proposed preferred stock issue seemed to make a favorable impression upon sentiment, and was followed by the rise in the stock to 46⅝. This was a sensible relief to the general market, where the effect of a decline in Southern Pacific has been dreaded. Weekly estimates by railroad officials of their traffic were little changed from the recently prevailing tenor, but they showed conditions no worse. Good earnings for the second week of June, coming to hand, make better comparisons with last year's figures than for some time past. Missouri Pacific's report for April, showing net earnings of less than half those for April last year, did not affect the firmness of that stock.

With no fears for the favorable progress of the crops, and with the extraordinary strength of the banking position shown by Saturday's bank statement, there is inclination to await the progress of events, with opportunities for a favorable outcome. Cash reserves, and especially gold holdings, are now well above any previous record. The satisfaction over this showing has its reservations, as to its index of idle trade conditions, and as to the responsibility for interest rates on deposits paid by the New York banks in effecting the result, but it insures freedom from all pressure of securities on the market from the necessity of realizing ready cash. None of the best prices of the day were maintained. The market became lifeless at the slight reaction and closed stagnant.

Bonds were firm. Total sales, par value, $2,060,000. United States 4s registered declined ¼ per cent on call.

CLOSES AT HIGHEST POINT.

Bullish Foreign Crop News Received at Chicago.

CHICAGO, June 20.—A feeling of uncertainty pervaded the wheat pit at the start. Opening quotations on September were a shade higher to ⅛c lower at 79⅝@79½c to 79⅝c. July was ⅛@¼c higher to ⅛@⅛c lower at 86⅛c to 87¼c. Sentiment soon became quite strong. Weather in the Southwest was unfavorable to harvesting, and the foreign situation also was bearish. Liverpool cables were higher, and the amount on passage showed a decrease of 2,632,000 bushels. Reports from Bucharest indicate an exceedingly small crop of wheat in Roumania, advices stating that two-thirds of the crop had been ruined by prolonged drouth. The market closed almost at the highest point of the session. After selling up to 80⅛c, September closed at 79⅞@80c. July was up ⅝c at 84⅝c.

The strength of wheat prices held corn firm, in spite of unfavorable news. The close showed July unchanged at 42⅞c. September closed ⅜c higher at 48⅝c.

Prospect of a flood of new oats in July nearly stifled speculation in that cereal. July closed ⅛c higher at 38¾c, with September up ⅛c at 32c, the top price of the day.

Provisions made a sharp upturn on the firm situation in the market. Shipments of hogs, which have been expected for some time, have failed to materialize. Packers and long holders were liberal buyers. Final figures showed a gain of 37½c in September pork at $13.22, with September lard up 17½c at $7.15, and ribs 20c higher, at $7.65.

COMBINE OF SHIPOWNERS

FREIGHT SCARE WEAKENS BARLEY AND WHEAT AT 'FRISCO.

Cherries the Strongest Feature of the Fruit Market—Advance in New Potatoes.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 20.—(Special.)—Talk of a project among foreign shipowners to combine and raise freight rates, coupled with bear manipulation in the pit, depressed the wheat market. Leading merchants say that, as there is no demand for ships at 20s, with Russia and Argentina underselling our wheat in English markets, an advance in freights under such circumstances would make matters worse for shipowners. Barley weakened partly, owing to the freight scare, and partly to large receipts, which relieved the market. Larger deliveries of new barley are expected right along. Oats had a good tone. Feedstuffs were steady, despite large arrivals of Washington bran. Hay was steady, bids of $12 for new wheat hay being refused.

Cherries, owing to light receipts, advanced, and were the strongest feature of the fresh fruit market. Other deciduous fruits were plentiful and easy. Good oranges were scarce. Two carloads were auctioned. Standard to choice navels brought $1 to $2.20; choice to fancy Valencias, $1 to $2.65.

New potatoes were in lighter supply. Fancy sold readily at a premium over regular rates, but general offerings were quiet and easy. New onions were plentiful. Receipts of miscellaneous vegetables were smaller, and prices steady for good stock, but trade was moderate. A carload of Mississippi tomatoes is close at hand.

Well-made cheese, suitable for shipping, was firm, but low grades were weak. Other dairy products were easy. Receipts, 172,000 pounds butter, 21,000 pounds cheese, 36,000 dozen eggs.

Dried Fruit at New York.

NEW YORK, June 20.—The market for evaporated apples is quiet with demand jobbing in character with the exception of prime, old supplies being gradually cleaned up, and prices rule firm. Common quoted 4@5½c; prime, 5½@6¾c; choice, 6@6½c; and fancy, 7c.

Prunes show little change either in price or the general conditions recently noted. Quotations range from 2⅝c to 5⅝c, according to grades.

Dry Goods Trade.

NEW YORK, June 20.—The principal feature of the dry goods markets has been the announcement of a Western jobber, quoting prices ¼c under agents' latest advices in certain lines of bleached and ticks. Business at first hands has been of an indifferent nature, buyers not feeling confidence in the situation.

Elgin Butter Market.

ELGIN, Ill., June 20.—Butter ranged firm today at 17½c a pound. Sales for the week were 3400 pounds.

Hotly-Contested School Election.

PENDLETON, Or., June 20.—(Special.)—In a hotly-contested school election today, E. L. Smith was elected a member of the School Board to succeed Leon Cohen. Smith received 246 votes, Cohen, 55. Smith was the candidate of the anti-Conklin element. The result of the election shows marked dissatisfaction on the part of taxpayers with the reappointment of E. B. Conklin as Superintendent of city schools. It is understood that efforts will be made to compel Conklin to resign.

REVOLTING CASE OF CRUELTY.

W. T. Ellis Is Arrested for Driving Two Footsore Horses.

One of the worst cases of cruelty to animals that has come to the notice of the local police for a long time was picked up at the Union Depot yesterday evening when Officer Ace Welch arrested W. T. Ellis, who lives near Portsmouth, and who was driving a team of horses that not only were unfit for work, but were so footsore as to almost make it an offense to compel the poor beasts to stand.

Officer Welch's attention was attracted to the horses as soon as he saw them, and he immediately searched for and arrested their driver, who spent last night in the City Jail. When arrested, the officer says, Ellis was distributing wild flowers about the depot. Ellis is said to be a gardener by trade, and at times preaches in a church.

As soon as the horses were taken to the Police Station they were immediately unhitched and given in charge of Humane Officer Joe Reising, who will do all in his power to administer to the suffering animals. If it is possible, the horses will be cured of their ailments, but if not they will have to be shot. One of the animals, a large, raw-boned skeleton of a white horse, that has the appearance of having picked his own living for many a month, was the object of the most pity of the large crowd of bystanders that gathered outside the City Jail, and expressed their opinion of a man guilty of such cruelty. Both flanks and hips were not only devoid of hair, but were actually raw, and in places mortified, the poor animals evidently having been severely burned recently. Only one worn shoe on the right fore foot protected the horse's sore feet, while his legs ached with a number of ringbones and spavins. Both hind feet and pasterns are badly swollen, the right hind pastern being three times its natural size, too sore for the animal to place any weight on it and sensitive to the most careful touch of the humane officer. All four hoofs were cracked and dry, evidently giving the horse much pain to put any weight on any foot.

The other horse, a smaller animal, was also a pitiful sight. All four feet were shod, but the job had evidently been done by some one who knew little about horse-shoeing, several of the nails piercing the quick of the foot. His hoofs were cracked and in many places the untrimmed ends of ugly nails protruded. His shoulders were very sore, large blisters appearing in several places, while a cruel collar-sore on the top of his neck had worn the flesh away almost to the bone. Like his unfortunate companion in misery, his ribs were so prominent as to cause a remark that a hat could be hung on any one of them, while an old and worn halter bore a piece of bailing wire coiled underneath for a hitching-strap in evidence of the owner's unconcern for the dumb beasts that worked and suffered for him. The best thing about the entire outfit was a buckskin lash that occupied the whip-socket when it was not employed in goading the unfortunate beasts to do their master's bidding. Judge Hogue was informed of the case as soon as the horses were brought to the station, and made a careful inspection of the suffering horses.
