

WORK IN HARMONY

Promotion Forces of City and State to Be Centralized.

THE MOVEMENT GAINS FORCE

President Ladd, of Oregon Information Bureau, Announces His Willingness to Assist Tom Richardson in His Work.

All forces that have been so far separate are ready to be united in the hands of Tom Richardson and his promotion work. Following on the co-operation effected between the Chamber of Commerce, the Commercial Club, the Manufacturers' Association and the Board of Trade comes the support of the Oregon Information Bureau as suggested by Mr. Killingsworth in yesterday's Oregonian. Charles E. Ladd, president of the bureau, has expressed himself as willing and ready to see the Bureau's work taken up in connection with the general promotion work to be managed by Mr. Richardson in connection with the Commercial Club. Mr. Ladd said he was not empowered to hand over the Bureau but that as a subscriber he would gladly see the purpose of the Bureau carried out in connection with Mr. Richardson and have him utilize the organization effected by the Bureau.

The permanent exhibit of the Chamber of Commerce, it has also been decided, will be merged into the large general exhibit to be placed in the auditorium of the Chamber of Commerce building. That matter has been easily arranged by the Chamber of Commerce, chairman of the permanent exhibit committee of the Chamber of Commerce, is heartily in favor of the proposed co-operation, and is more than willing to see it effected. He said:

"It can do much more good if it is part of a general work carried on under able management such as I know Mr. Richardson will give to the entire movement than under separate management."

But the most important aid yet extended the new movement is the support of the Information Bureau which already has arrangements by which the committees can with legislative sanction make exhibits in Portland. It remains to unite all the commercial bodies of the state in the general plans of promotion.

Mr. Ladd believes in the new movement, and for that reason he is willing to see the Information Bureau taken up by it. He said:

"Though not empowered as president of the Bureau to bind in any way to any outside movement, I wish to say that as a subscriber to the fund for the Information Bureau, that I should like to see it taken up by Mr. Richardson and used in his general scheme of promotion. I believe that Mr. Richardson is a capable man and is fit to do the work now before him and for that reason, if he can do better with the Information Bureau than it is now doing by its independent efforts, I should like to see Mr. Richardson make use of it."

"The Oregonian has taken this matter up and I for my part am of the opinion that the favorable suggestions in the Oregonian are all right, provided the subscribers to the fund are willing. This is one of the organizations already at hand for the use of the new movement and, as I said before, if the general arrangement of promotion instituted by Mr. Richardson can make the Bureau more efficient, I should be glad to see the Bureau in the hands of Mr. Richardson, directly or indirectly."

This statement, backed up by other heavy subscribers to the fund supporting the Information Bureau, may result in a virtual handing over of the Bureau to the new movement whenever its organization is effected and the state as a whole takes up the matter; and it is understood that Mr. Richardson is now occupied with the preliminaries of the movement to extend the promotion organization over the state.

TO SET MURDER TRIAL

Judge George Indicates That Tuesday Will Be the Day.

The trial of Frank Guglielmo for the murder of Freda Guarascia will probably be set for June 23. Judge George yesterday afternoon stated that next Tuesday would be a good time to begin the trial which can be concluded by the end of that week.

A special venire for additional jurors to fill the regular panel will be drawn today to appear next Thursday and serve in several cases; and these jurors and the venire now in attendance, will be held for the Guglielmo trial.

Yesterday morning Albert Ferrera withdrew as attorney for Guglielmo, informing Judge George that he was feeling well, and may have to leave the city for a while. Mr. Ferrera was born in Portland of Italian parents, and was educated in Italy and speaks the language of that country fluently. The Italian friends of the father of the murdered girl, who are many, are bitter in their denunciations of the slayer of Freda, and are clamoring for speedy justice. It is said they annoyed Mr. Ferrera a great deal, and he has not been feeling well anyhow, but he was anxious to sever his connection with the case.

Dan R. Murphy appeared for Guglielmo at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and said the prisoner would have another lawyer, probably two of them. Mr. Murphy informed the court that so far as he is concerned he is willing to proceed with the trial, and that he would like to have the counsel would share his opinion in this regard, but he had not consulted with them yet.

It is understood that the other attorneys referred to are Ralph H. Moody and Dan J. Maloney. It is stated that the name of George J. Cameron has been mentioned. Guglielmo owns a house and lot on Front street, valued at $200 and covered by a $200 mortgage; also land at Linton valued at $50. He transferred certain land at Linton to Sebastiana Pizzi on Saturday last, and John F. Logan, attorney, says he knows that this transfer is legal because in October, 1903, he made out deeds for Guglielmo and Pizzi together, in which they were jointly interested, but the deeds were never delivered, and Mr. Logan still has them in his possession. Since the trouble occurred, it was natural that Pizzi should desire to settle his property rights with Guglielmo immediately. The saloon owned by Guglielmo he is reported to have sold for $300.

Judge George yesterday afternoon denied the motion to quash the indictment argued on Saturday by Mr. Ferrera, and overruled the demurrer. He held that the printed name of George E. Chamberlain on the back of the information, as District Attorney was what in law is called surplusage, and did not vitiate the information any more than the name of the firm which printed the blank, which appeared on it.

Commencement at McMinnville. McMinnville, Or., June 20.—(Special.)—The commencement exercises are in full swing at the college and there are many alumni and visitors present. Yesterday afternoon, Rev. L. W. Terry, of Tacoma, delivered the annual address before the Christian association. His theme was "What Constitutes a Strong Man." In the evening

Rev. C. Ross Baker, D. D., of Boise, delivered what was probably the best baccalaureate sermon ever listened to by a McMinnville audience. Dr. Baker spoke on "The Divine Nature."

This afternoon in the college chapel, four members of the junior class delivered orations to a large audience. The papers, as a whole, were above the average and showed careful preparation. The speakers and their subjects were as follows: Bela Gowen, "Gustavus Adolphus Vasa"; Allan McRae, "Booker T. Washington"; S. K. Diebel, "The Foreigner in America"; Jesse A. Baker, "The Progress of Chemistry."

ORIENT PROVES A MAGNET.

Feature of Lewis and Clark Fair Attracts Attention.

The Oriental aspect of the Lewis and Clark Exposition is to prove of immeasurable power in attracting visitors and in assuring the success of the great Fair. New England business men have given the assurance that from the New England states alone $10,000,000 will be raised by manufacturers, above all public appropriations, for the purpose of bringing them in closer contact with Oriental trade.

This is the report made by Jefferson Myers, president of the Lewis and Clark State Commission, who returned from St. Louis yesterday, after having conducted the dedication services attendant upon the opening of the Oregon building.

"It is the Oriental part of our Fair that appears to be attracting the greatest amount of attention," said Mr. Myers. "Manufacturers of the East are anxious to come in contact with Oriental trade and I have received ample assurance that the manufacturing interests of the East, and especially of the New England States, will be well represented here in 1904."

"I was pleasantly surprised," said Mr. Myers, "to find how extensively the Lewis and Clark Exposition has become known. Representatives of all nations speak of the Lewis and Clark Fair and assure me that they will come here to see our wonderful country and experience our wonderful climate. The head of a big London shipping establishment, who is well known in London and is a subject of consideration among London business men. He said his firm had already concluded to build a large model ship, the size of a Pullman car."

"If my opinion is not amiss, and I have formed it after careful thought," continued Mr. Myers, "we are going to have more visitors in Portland next year than we had ever counted upon. What we should do is to make arrangements to entertain and give hotel accommodations to many thousands of people."

Speaking of the St. Louis Exposition, Mr. Myers said it is the greatest Fair of history and as an educator surpasses anything that the cost of visiting the Fair could give. "Every industry and every development of every nation is shown there," he said.

Oregon day was a great success, Mr. Myers stated. Four thousand people attended the dedication ceremony at the state building and every one of the visitors went away with an insight into Western hospitality. "The reproduction of old Fort Clatsop," concluded Mr. Myers, "attracting no end of attention and will be of great value in advertising both the state and the coming Exposition. People walk right past the fine Texas building and enter our stockades much to the bewilderment of the gentlemen from the Lone Star State."

SCHOOL ELECTION AT MT. TABOR

Election of F. E. Starbuck Indicates Demand for New Schoolhouse.

F. E. Starbuck, of North Mount Tabor, was elected director of the Mount Tabor district, No. 5, at the election held last night in the West-avenue building. This means that the people of North Mount Tabor, including Center Addition, want a new schoolhouse. The people from that part of the district turned out in full force and voted their candidate in by a very small margin. L. S. Normandia was the other candidate, and the vote was 41 for Mr. Starbuck and 39 for Mr. Normandia. The election was a direct expression of the wishes of the people in the north end of the district for school facilities. E. A. Hacker was elected clerk.

Following the election, Principal E. G. Adams made a short talk to the people, and said that more school room was an absolute necessity; that some of the rooms had been occupied by 50 pupils. He advised the meeting that two rooms more would only accommodate the increase for next year. Enrollment for the year had been 550 pupils, an increase over that of the former year of 90 pupils.

Following the election, the directors held a meeting and chose the following teachers for next year: Superintendent of the district and principal of West-avenue building, E. G. Adams; Mrs. N. D. Singleton, Mary E. Buxton, Frances Yall, Mrs. E. B. Packer, Grace R. Cook, Beattie Fields, Mary Peery, Margaret S. Tracy, Genevieve building, Emma Sturchler, Myrtle Chamberlain, Della M. Hart, Ruth Simpson, E. A. Hunter, music.

Thirst for Gore Unquenched

POLICE PREVENT SAVAGE BULLS FROM FIGHTING AND PORTLAND SPORTS ARE DISAPPOINTED

All seemed anxious to get there and see the rich, red blood mingle in dust. When the hour for the battle arrived the two gladiators were snorting and pawing the earth in impatience. One was a fine four-year-old Holstein and the other was a three-year-old Shorthorn. They appeared in fine mood for the battle and a fight that would have satisfied the cravings of the most exacting native of Mexico or Spain was on the verge of commencement when—

A thin line of dust that had appeared down the road a few moments before was beginning to assume proportions. Before the astonished assemblage could realize what had happened two grinning policemen broke with a terrifying yell from the cloud of dust, sprang from their foaming steeds and charged. They told the Egger brothers that 30 days in jail would be their portion if the fight was pulled off. Then they rode away.

The sports relished for blood, regardless of the interference of the police. The justly celebrated "Mysterious Billy" Smith offered to cut one of the bulls loose if his friend Bill Moler would release the other. Thus the animals could get together as if by accident and fight it out. Moler agreed, but Smith is said to have experienced a severe chill in his left foot at the critical moment. Thus another delay.

Peterson then offered to buy the bulls and sell them back after the fight so that all the blame would be taken from the shoulders of the Egger brothers, but the dairymen thought what an unhappy time 30 days might become and they declined.

After much grumbling the disappointed sports slouched along homeward and thus was ended the initial attempt to introduce bullfighting in Portland.

But the sports say their "dander" is up and they will try it again.

Miss Whittaker, a prominent club woman of Savannah, Ga., tells how she was entirely cured of ovarian troubles by the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I heartily recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as a Uterine Tonic and Regulator. I suffered for four years with irregularities and Uterine troubles. No one but those who have experienced this dreadful agony can form any idea of the physical and mental misery those conditions who are thus afflicted. Your Vegetable Compound cured me within three months. I was fully restored to health and strength, and now my periods are regular and painless. What a blessing it is to be able to obtain such a remedy when so many doctors fail to help you. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is better than any doctor or medicine I ever had. Very truly yours, Miss EASY WHITTAKER, 604 99th St., W. Savannah, Ga. —$5000 forfeit if original of above letter cannot be produced.

of 9 and 10 o'clock. An unknown man entered the house of Engineer John Shea on First street and got away with $11 in cash. Mr. Shea was asleep, having returned from his regular run on the O. R. & N. at an early hour, and the money that was taken was from his clothing. A young lady from a nearby house entered and met the strange man leaving. He tipped his hat and bowed. She then discovered that he was a robber and gave the alarm. Marshal Rayburn was immediately notified, but up to a late hour tonight the robber has not been found.

GETS PAY FOR WHITWASHING

M. G. Morgan Recovers $55 From Multnomah Fair Association.

To recover a balance of $54 for whitewashing the grandstand at the Irvington racetrack in August, 1903, M. G. Morgan appeared as plaintiff in the State Circuit Court yesterday in a suit against the Multnomah Fair Association. The work was done under the supervision of E. M. Lazarus, architect, and he complained that Morgan allowed the seats in the grandstand to become covered with lime, so that a person's clothing would be covered with it who occupied a seat, and it was necessary to stain and paint the seats so that they could be used. This cost $88, and was deducted from Morgan's bill, and also half the cost of cleaning the aisles.

Morgan testified that when he took the contract to do the work he called the attention of Lazarus to the fact that the lime would drop on the seats, and told him he would cover the seats with paper as well as possible, and clean the seats after the job was done. He said he and his men cleaned the seats thoroughly. Witnesses for the defense testified that all of the lime was not removed. Among the witnesses who testified for the Multnomah Fair Association were L. H. Adams, Sheriff Ford Hirsch, E. M. Lazarus, A. R. Diamond and John Bled. The trial was before Judge Cleland, George F. Brice and J. E. Maguire appeared as assessors for Morgan, and Judge Moreland for the association. The jury returned a verdict in favor of the plaintiff for $55, with a recommendation that the costs be paid by each. The recommendation has no force or effect, because the statute provides for the settlement of the costs by defendant.

Few Vote Against Him

HERMAN WITTENBERG WAS RE-ELECTED SCHOOL DIRECTOR.

Mrs. L. W. Sitton Becomes Chairman of Board of Education—Election of Teachers Not Completed.

Of the 353 votes cast yesterday for School Director, Herman Wittenberg received only 309, and was therefore elected to succeed himself.

The quiet opposition feared by Mr. Wittenberg and his friends did not materialize, and the votes against him were scattered and mainly complimentary. John Kiernan received 15 votes, the highest number recorded for any opponent to Mr. Wittenberg. Among the votes cast was one for Mrs. Thurlow and another for Mrs. Manley.

With the close of Mr. Wittenberg's year as Director and chairman of the Board of Education, Mrs. L. W. Sitton takes the chair. The Directors met for half an hour last evening to count the votes for Director. Mrs. Sitton began her duties in the chair and the Directors centered their attention upon her prospective title. "Mrs. Chairman," was finally agreed upon, and will be the rule for the meetings in the future.

Re-election of the school teachers and principals was not completed yesterday by the Directors. They met for two hours yesterday afternoon, and began work upon the long list. Those selected will not become known until after the meeting at 2 o'clock this afternoon when it is believed every teacher and principal will be definitely passed upon.

Changes there will be in the list when completed by the Directors. One principal at least will be dropped from the roll, but his name is kept back by the Directors. A few teachers must also seek new positions. In this connection a strong effort will probably be made next year to send applications for reappointment only to those teachers and principals which are wanted for the coming year. According to the custom now, teachers may rest assured in the belief their places are secure for next year, and all out the applications when they are received. Then, after the re-election of the teachers whom the Directors privately decided months before to drop entirely find themselves out in the cold, and the positions in other schools all taken.

JURY AWARDS DAMAGES.

G. H. Hutchings Recovers $450 From Two Street-Car Companies.

The trial yesterday of the suit of G. H. Hutchings against the City & Suburban Railway Company and the Oregon Water Power & Railway Company to recover damages on account of personal injuries sustained in a collision resulted in a verdict in favor of Hutchings for $450. On November 13, 1903, at 12:15 o'clock, at night, a Mount Scott car and a Brooklyn car came together at the intersection of Hawthorne avenue and Grand avenue, and Hutchings, who was a passenger on the Brooklyn car, was injured about the head and face. Floyd Blank, a passenger on the City & Suburban car, testified that he heard the bells of both cars give the starting signal at the same instant, and the motorman of the City & Suburban car after he started reversed his motor.
