Eleven innings of quarelous baseball, my hearties, and Portland won, 5 to 4. Eleven innings of the good old National game into which were tossed the punkiest kind of baseball, with splashes now and then of playing that roused the crowd to the highest pitch of anger, a frenzied desire for Umpire McCarthy's gore, and then to the maddest kind of griefful joy, when the Dugs, in the last half of the 11th can, pushed three runs over the pan and won the game. The 11th inning was a game had the appearance of settling down to a pitchers' battle between Baron Jacob Thielman and Herr Schmidt. Then one of the big things happened in the fourth inning. Schmidt walked, Spencer, and he stole second, and scored on Nadeau's hit to left field.

After this the war broke out. Old Peter Lohman, dressed in a $4.98 store suit, unloaded a package of Oakland billingsgate at Umpire McCarthy, and he was ordered off the ground. Peter began to weep, but McCarthy couldn't see his tears, and he signaled the big policeman. Lohman tried to laugh the matter away. The cop couldn't see the laugh, either, so he was marched out of the grounds. Shortly after this Castro took a playful tug at the umpire's protector because that official called him out on a third strike that was a yard wide of the plate. All the time McCarthy's decisions were raw and woefully bad. Not only the players were camping on McCarthy's trail, but to add to his misery the crowd handed him a choice lot of verbal bouquets.

What General Grant said about war broke out in the sixth inning. Dunleavy, Schaffley and Kruger bunched their hits, scoring two runs. Oakland was really entitled to but one, but those Commuters had McCarthy baffled, and after he had called Schaffley out he scratched his decision and called him safe. This run gave Oakland a lead of one, and it was the means of the crowd wanting to murder McCarthy. Then the scrappy Dunleavy cursed the umpire in seven kinds of language, and he was benched. When Schaffley made his slide for the base, Stark was at bat, and instead of calling the Oakland catcher out on the third strike he allowed him another chance. He fouled out to Steelman, but the crowd was so thoroughly worked up over McCarthy's change of mind that they began to pour into the diamond. Cushions were tossed at him, and the curses that flew about would have shamed a gang of dock wall-poppers.

Strategy Ties the Score.

For two innings more the game progressed, and then Bill Hurley, by a clever bit of strategy, tied the score. Spencer had walked, and had stolen second. Hurley dumped a bunt along the first base line, and Strieb pounced upon it wolfishly. Hurley knew he was out. Instead of waiting to be tagged, he turned and raced madly back to the plate. This action threw Strieb up in the air, and instead of going back and touching the bag, he raced after Hurley. In the meantime Spencer was going into third. Strieb saw him and made a weird toss of the ball to Devereaux and Spencer came home. This was all for three innings.

In the 11th a fielder's choice to Kruger, and McCarthy's refusal to call Strieb out when he struck out, put two on the perches ready to score when Devereaux slammed a two-bagger into left field. This, coupled with Stark's single, sent two runs in, and with this lead the crowd gave up hope.

If they did, Manager Dugdale did not. Instead, he took the firing line. Nadeau singled, so did Castro. Beck, who had taken Campbell's place the inning previous, eluded the ball almost to the fence. Ganley thought he had it, but the ball got loose. This filled all of the perches, with no one down. Schmidt gave way to Moskiman. Drennon's single scored Spencer and a wild pitch scored Castro. Raymond went down easily, and Thielman forced Beck at the plate. While Spencer was trying, Stark let a ball get away from him and Drennon sneaked under Moskiman at the plate with the winning run. Portland's winning the game is what saved McCarthy from a troublesome trip home. Tonight the teams go south.

TIGERS TWICE TROUNCED.

Corbett and Whalen Pitch Effective Games for Seals.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 28.—The home team took a double fall out of Tacoma today, administering a shut-out in the afternoon. Joe Corbett was on the slab for the locals and was in his best form. Two hits were all that the Tigers could secure. In the second inning he pulled himself out of a bad hole when the bases became filled with no one out. It was a well-played game, the field work on both sides being of a high order.

In the morning game Tacoma could not hit Whalen when hits were needed. The scores: First game—Tacoma 0, Seals 5. Second game—Tacoma 0, Seals 5. Batteries—Plitzgerald, Earle and Hogan; Whalen and Leahy. Tacoma 0, Seals 5. Batteries—Overall and Hogan; Corbett and Leahy. Umpire—O'Connell.

SHIELDS OUTPITCHED NEWTON

Luck Is With the Angels at Seattle, and They Win.

SEATTLE, Aug. 28.—Shields outpitched Newton and but one error on each side counted in the score. The visitors had luck, however, and pulled out in front. Jud Smith's sensational catch of Frisk's liner in the third, and Frisk's catch of Newton's fly in the seventh were the features. Score: Seattle 5, Angels 0. Batteries—Newton and Spies; Shields and Wilson. Umpires—Brown and McDonald.

Team Walks Off Diamond.

HUBBARD, Or., Aug. 28.—(Special.)—The Canby baseball team walked off the diamond today in a game with Hubbard. The score was 11 to 8 in favor of Canby at the end of the seventh inning. An argument arose over a blocked ball, and the Canby nine withdrew, and Charles Platt, of Hubbard, declared the score 9 to 9 in favor of Hubbard. The batteries were Caltr and White for Canby, and Manning and Kinzer for Hubbard.

Sellwood Team Was Defeated.

CLATSkanie, Or., Aug. 28.—(Special.)—The local team defeated the Sellwood nine today by a score of 12 to 8. Howard and Sues were the battery for Clatskanie and Higgins and Druhot, Bailey and Hock for Sellwood. Howard struck out 12, Higgins 7 and Druhot 1.

HOQUIAM IS CHAMPION

GAME WITH ABERDEEN YESTERDAY DECIDED THE MATTER.

Southwest League Has Played a Very Successful Season, and the Clubs Are Out of Debt.

STANDING OF THE LEAGUE.	Won.	Lost.	P. C.
Hoquiam	18	10	288
Aberdeen	17	11	283
Centralia	16	12	278
Olympia	15	13	273

HOQUIAM, Wash., Aug. 28.—(Special.)—Hoquiam defeated Aberdeen today in a one-sided game, by the score of 6 to 1, and clinched its grip on the Southwest pennant, which it has won in a walk this year. Five hundred fans came down from Aberdeen to cheer their pennant winners on, but to no avail, for the Pippins were outplayed and outthit every inning.

This has been a very successful season for the Southwest Washington League and although no money has been made no team has lost money. Hoquiam has won the pennant through good, hard playing, in which team work has been an important factor. Besides team work several young players have come to the front and will no doubt be in demand next season by the big leagues. Hoquiam has won 13 games and lost four, giving them a percentage of 76.

The Perfect Game was played in the first game of the season and was never headed, but maintained their lead throughout the season by splendid playing. The game today was easy for Hoquiam which got three runs in the first inning. Baker reached first on an error of Hickey's. Schwarz reached first on a fielder's choice, Bottiger hit, scoring two runs, and Philbrick scored. Bottiger on his two-bagger and Dad Schwarz got a home run in the third over left field fence. Hoquiam added another in the fifth when Bottiger reached first on an error and scored on Philbrick's hit to right. In the sixth Halbert reached first on an error and scored on Schwarz's two-base hit.

Aberdeen's only runs were made in the fourth and eighth innings on fukes. Emerson, who pitched for Hoquiam, won his sixth successive game, being in wonderful form. He struck out ten men and allowed three hits. He was effective throughout the game and was given excellent support by his team. Galleky, for Aberdeen, was batted from the box and Belt, who succeeded him, was hit hard. Aberdeen played hard but was outclassed. They had imported Keating and Wilkins, the two best men in the Central team, but it was Hoquiam's game. The members of the Hoquiam team are: Emerson, Philbrick and Law, pitching staff and alternate second basemen; Bottiger, Halbert, Schwarz captain, Ford, Baker, Hiatt, Girard and Miller. Ralph Philbrick has been a successful manager. The score: Hoquiam 6, Aberdeen 1. Batteries—Emerson and Bottiger; Galleky, Belt and Wilkins.

NATIONAL LEAGUE.

Chicago 4, Philadelphia 1.

CHICAGO, Aug. 28.—Lundgren was at his best today and held Philadelphia safe at all times and allowed but one run, which was scored in the final inning. The attendance was 7200. The score: Chicago 4, Philadelphia 1. Batteries—Lundgren and O'Neill; Sutthoff and Dooley. Umpire—Kennedy.

Cincinnati 19, Boston 5.

CINCINNATI, Aug. 28.—The Boston supply of pitchers gave out in the fifth, when Fisher was forced off the rubber by having his finger injured. Delehanty came in from second and finished the game in the box, gaining more credit than either of his predecessors. The attendance was 6400. The score: Cincinnati 19, Boston 5. Batteries—Ewing, Kellum and Peitz; Fisher, McNichols, Delehanty and Marshall.

Umpire—Carpenter and Moran.

New York 6-8, St. Louis 0-3.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 28.—New York won both games easily today. McGinnity, who the pennant through good, hard playing, shut out the home team. The attendance was 21,000. The score: New York 6, St. Louis 0. Batteries—O'Neill and Grady; McGinnity and Mariner.

Second game: St. Louis 0, New York 6. Batteries—McFarland and McLean; Taylor and Bowerman. Umpire—Zimmer and Johnston.

University Games at a New Park.

UNIVERSITY OF WASHINGTON, Seattle, Aug. 28.—(Special.)—General Manager Sigrist, of university athletics, has decided that the coming football games will be played at the Athletic Park. The decision will undoubtedly be of many of the leading athletic men in Seattle. Sigrist feels, however, that their support will not amount to the sum that will be saved through the exchange of grounds.

The Athletic Park management refuses to allow the grounds to go for less than 10 per cent of the gross receipts. Ten per cent will likely amount to nearly $1000 during the season—too large rent for the park. The Madison-Park grounds can be secured for a nominal sum.

Randall Knocks Out Ruhl.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 28.—Eddie Randall, of St. Louis, knocked out Harry Ruhl, of Philadelphia, in the fifth round of what was to have been a 20-round contest.

SHOOTING WAS POOR

Portland Lacrosse Players Lose to Victoria.

SOME COMFORT IN DEFEAT

Team That Beat Them Is Equal to the Star Organizations of the East—Game Was Fast and Interesting.

Hidden somewhere in the legends of the American Indians who played lacrosse long before the white man came to this country, there may be an account of a game in those wild days when goals were two miles apart, where young braves were taught lacrosse to get endurance and speed in battle, and where the killing of a warrior or two didn't matter very much.

But those contests were outclassed from a scientific point of view, in the lacrosse game played yesterday afternoon on the East Side baseball grounds on Hawthorne avenue, between teams representing Portland and Victoria, B. C. For 20 minutes both teams fought hard to score. But no result followed, so evenly were the opposing players matched. Then somebody cut open Mellis' upper lip with a lacrosse stick and the doughty British Columbia boy was forced to retire.

To even up, Lawrence, of the Portlands, retired, and both teams played eleven men a side. The last quarter was only five minutes old when Stan Peele, of Victoria, scored a goal, and six minutes afterward his mate, Morris, performed the same trick. Portland 2, Victoria 2. That's the way it finished. Portland was white-washed by the better team, and largely because Victoria has played longer as a unit, has better lacrosse sticks and most of her players took the healthy precaution to wear rubber spikes in their shoes. They didn't slip and flounder through muddy places so much as the Portlands, and were able to keep their feet. Under lacrosse rules, no iron spikes are allowed in players' shoes, but there's nothing against rubber spikes.

As for the audience, it was a large one that comfortably filled the grandstand and a portion of the bleachers, and throughout the contest everybody maintained a lively interest. When the play became close, or a good play was in evidence, the spectators were swift to applaud. It is not a matter of astonishment that the Portlanders were defeated, for they opposed a lacrosse team that is the equal of many an Eastern star organization, and there were just the right number of veterans in the Victoria to bring out all the lacrosse talent in the younger members.

For the Victoria, Peele is the star player, and his passing, catching, coolness and headwork are admirable. He was king of the attacking forces, and a hard man to stop. He, Galhoun and Morris fairly peppered Dr. Braden's territory with shots, but success didn't arrive until the fatal fourth quarter. Again and again Peele was beaten off, but once he caught the ball with a lightning swing when ten feet away from the Portland's goal, and sent in a hard shot that Braden could not handle. Score one for Peele. Then the latter and Morris made a deliberate stand. Peele caught the ball near the fence back of the Portland goal, and sent three shots in swift succession directly in front of the goalposts, where his cohorts were as busy as bees. So straight were Peele's shots that they seemed to come out of a gun. One of his shots was caught by Morris about 30 feet away from the goal, and bang, went the ball against the net.

Beitrey is a finely-built player. He stands five feet seven inches tall, and weighs 185 pounds. Many a shot did he and Lorimer ward off. Both these men played a game worked a long way to see. Mellis played well until he was hurt, but was outclassed by Wallace, Portland's great center player. Wallace is speedier and cooler, and turns and twists like a clever acrobat. His running record is 100 yards in 16 seconds, and if he can be induced to stay in this city he will be a valuable man for the Multnomah track team.

At the first face-off the Portlands had the best of the game, and they kept Lorimer, Beitrey and Snider on the jump. Hague had a pretty run shortly after the first face-off, but his shot went wide. Thurston also had a try with a swift ball, but Lorimer blocked in time. Then Victoria found the way to their opponents' goal, and Braden saved three times in succession in gallant style. In warding off a strong shot, however, he slipped and fell, injuring his right leg, which became slightly lame.

Mike Did Not Shine.

But what of Mike McCance? It was not Mike's day, although he tried his best. Mike seemed out of condition and his close checking lacked aggressiveness. Somehow he couldn't keep the ball very long without some other player jumping at him, and in the main the sphere went to someone else. Mike's shots at goal were also in hard luck. Stan Hague played a most plucky, aggressive game, and in the closing minutes, when the game was close, he showed his skill. He is faithful and unselfish to a degree. Time and time again did Oddy save for his side, and it was hardly possible to take the ball away from him. A. L. Stewart was resourceful at point, and worked hard. "Doc" Brown exhibited good stick work in first defense, but Lynch was not so strong. Hagues made a number of pretty catches and was a hard man to pass. Thurston and Jennings made quite a number of attacks on the Victoria citadel.

Fate, however, seemed against the Portlands in shooting. Try as they might, they were so hard pressed by their opponents that they could not get many chances to send in straight shots, and had to be content with underhand shooting, which was not so effective. It was too much on the wobble. It seemed to be a pity that Wallace, with his great speed, could not send in more shots, instead of passing. Probably he was too well watched. It is creditable to the Portlands that their training stood them in good stead, and at the end of the contest they did not look so fatigued as their opponents. It is curious, though, how the Victoria managed to score toward the end of the game. Their combination play is superb, although they are not better than some of the Portlands.

Some Comfort in Defeat.

The latter have solace in the thought that they have played a life game with the great Victoria, who later beat them by two goals, and no more, in a game that was anybody's in the first three quarters.

Among the spectators were two men well-known in the lacrosse world. Professor Foster, "father of sports" in British Columbia, and P. J. Lally, of the Lally Lacrosse Company, Cornwall, Ont. Mr. McLennan, the referee, is a native-comer to Portland, and acted in a fair and impartial manner. His decisions were equitable ones. The Victoria say they have enjoyed their visit to this city. Through the kindness of the Multnomah Fair Association, the Victoria were treated to an afternoon's racing at Irvington Park Saturday, and through the kindness of the Portland Lacrosse Club they were the guests of Cordray & Russell at Cordray's Theater last Saturday evening.

Those who missed the lacrosse game yesterday missed the game of their lives, and such a one may not possibly be seen here for years. The players played fully through all the tricks of the trade, and as only rivals can. They didn't mind the rain that fell in torrents throughout two quarters of the game, and stuck to their work like true sportsmen.

The Line-up:

Portland.	Position.	Victoria.
Dr. Braden	Goal	Lorimer
A. L. Stewart	Point	Beitrey

Victoria	Morris	8 minutes

Length of game, four quarters of first 20 and last 15 minutes each.

Stallion Darenb Put to Death.

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 28.—Darenb, one of the leading stallions at J. B. Haggin's Rancho del Paso stud, is dead. The great horse was put to death to put him out of his misery. Darenb had reached the age of 27 years. He was imported from Australia by Mr. Haggin. The price paid for him, it is said, was $20,000.

BUSINESS ITEMS.

If Baby Is Cutting Teeth. Be sure and use that old and well-tried remedy, Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup, for children teething. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic and diarrhoea.

Pain in the side nearly always comes from a disordered liver and is promptly relieved by Carter's Little Liver Pills. Don't forget this.
