Russia Objects to British-Thibetan Treaty.

TO LODGE GENERAL PROTEST

It is Contended That Agreement Provides for a Virtual Protectorate and Is Restriction Upon Sovereignty of China.

ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 20 .- Rus sis maintains that Great Britain has broken faith in the matter of the Thibetan treaty, and Ambassador Benckendorff has been instructed to lodge a gen-eral protest at the British Foreign Office. According to the Russian view, as ex-plained to the Associated Press, Great Britain's pledges to Russia regarding the scope of the expedition only contemplated the regulation of trade between India and Thibet, and she disclaimed any purpose to meddle with the international or politi-cal affairs of the country. Instead of so doing, Russia holds a treaty was forced upon the Thibetans which goes much further, creating a virtual protectorate over the country. Moreover, it is contended that the treaty is a restriction upon the sovereignty of China, inasmuch as while recognizing the sovereignty of China by requiring her ratification, the treaty once ratified transfers the sovereignty to Great Britain by compelling Thibet to consult Great Britain in its dealings with the other powers.

This is considered to be aimed directly at Russia. The protest lodged in London doubtless will be followed up by one at Pekin against the ratification of the Great Britain is believed here to justify her action on the ground that she only agreed to confine herself to certain specified limits contained in the assurances given to Russia, if the Thibetans did not oppose the British expedition.

Not Likely to Notice Protest.

As a matter of fact, little hope is entertained in official circles here that the Russian protests will be heeded either by Great Britain or China, as Russia is not in a position to make an issue. The genfeeling is that Great Britain profited by Russia's preoccupation in the war to make her position in Thibet se-cure. Therefore, the chief importance of the protest at this time is to serve notice that Russia does not acquiesce in Great Britain's Thibetan programme and that she will feel herself at liberty to reopen the question when her hands are again

PRESS IS MUCH IRRITATED.

It Bitterly Complains Britain Has Gone Beyond Her Promises.

ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 20.—With the arrival here of the full text of the British treaty with Thibet, the irritation of the Russian press at its sweeping character is more pronounced. The Russ, which is now considered especially to reflect the views of the Foreign Office. bitterly compiains that Great Britain has gone beyond her promises concerning the expedition by acquiring a virtual pro-tectorate over Thibet, whereas she had pledged herself merely to regulate trade relations between India and Thibet. Instead, the paper declares, Great Britain has imposed upon Thibet onerous terms which give her a monopoly, forbidding Thibet, without Great Britain's consent. enter into relations with the outside

The Russ foresees that the occupation of the Chumbi Valley by the British will be prolonged even after the payment of nity and express China playing into the hands of Great Britain in deposing the Dalia Lama and appointing in his stead a protege of Great Britain

In conclusion, the Russ says significantly:

"The proclamation of the British pro tectorate must be regarded as an accomplished fact, but whether it will be real and lasting must depend upon future events in Central Asia."

The sensational articles in the British press about the alleged Russo-German se-cret understanding regarding the Far East have not attracted much attention While a feeling exists that Ger many is displaying a friendly spirit, it is denied in responsible quarters that she has overstepped the bounds of neutrality in any particular. The existence of a secret treaty between Russia and Germany are attributed here to the memory of the part which Germany, with France and Russia, played in compelling Japan to abandon the Shimonoseki treaty concluded between Japan and China as the result of the war between those two countries

No Idea of Permanent Occupation. LONDON, Sept. 20.-No notification by Russia of her refusal to recognize the validity of the Angio-Thibetan treaty has yet reached the Foreign Office, though it is well understood in diplomatic circles that the St. Petersburg authorities objecto article 9, which gives Great Britain practically suzerainty over the affairs of the Chinese province, and to the provision that the British occupation of the Chumbi Valley shall continue in case the indemnity is not paid. The Foreign Office here evidently does not apprehend an objection' from any other power, and reiterates that the assurance given to the United States that there will be no permanent occupation of any portion of Thibetan territory will be

During the fighting in August, the attimpt to capture Kikwan Mountain cost the Japanese an entire regiment. HAS BROKEN FAITH ing of the fortifications there has begun.

A few belated telegrams from General Stoessel, the commander at Port Arthur published Tuesday afternoon, recording the repulse of the Japanese in continued attacks, strengthen confidence in the ability of the defenders to hold out despite the furious one aughts made on them. The took place the night of September 14, and was directed against redoubt No. 8, which protects the water supply of the city. The redoubt is about two miles beyond the line of permanent forts, and the attack upon this shows that the Japanese were not then within striking distance of the main fortress. Reports from Shanghal that some of the defenses had fallen into the hands of the Japanese as a result of a general assault September 20 are not confirmed from Rusdan sources.

The telegrams brought to Chefoo by Prince Radziwill have not yet reached the War Office. It is understood that these dispatches contain details of the apding of strong Japanese reinforcements at Dainy, which would tend to confirm the belief that it is the intention of the Japanese to storm the fortress, and that the warships will probably take part in the attack. In this event, Rear-Admiral Wiren's division will doubtless go out and engage the Japanese fleet.

All Russia is anxiously awaiting new from the beleagured garrison. Public feeling has been aroused to a high tension by a dreadful picture given by Prince Radziwill of the sufferings of the Russian army there.

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 20 .- To the ugle notes of "assembly," gray-haired veterans of the Civil War assembled n the Claypool Auditorium tonight for the public exercises which marked the closing day's session of the thirty-fifth annual reunion of the Society of the Army of the Cumberland. At 8 o'clock General H. V. Boynton, of Washington, D. C., president of the society, called the meeting to order. "Oyster Bay, N. Y., Aug. 30, 1904. My Dear General Boynton: Permit me through you, to extend my hearty good wishes to the Society of the Army the Cumberland at its reunion in Indianapolis. I only wish it were in my power to be present.

Noteworthy Record of Society. "The record of the Society of the Army of the Cumberland is indeed noteworthy. Three of its members were Presidents of the United States-Grant, Garfield and Harrison, mmanded the Army after the Civil War-Grant, Sheridan, Sherman and Schoeld. Two reached the Supreme Court-Matthews and Harlan. You have had many members in the Cabiet, in the Senate and in the House of Representatives, one of them, General Keifer, becoming Speaker of the House "For this exceptional record, you are entitled to the respect and admiration of your countrymen; but after all, the great claim, the undying claim, that you have upon all the people of this Nation rests upon the fact that all of you from the Major-General to the private did your full part in that great brotherhood of men who formed the Union Army from 1861 to 1865, and who during those four years rendered not only to our people; but to all mankind the greatest service which it given to any men of the 19th century to render. The men who served in the great Civil War left to their children and their children's children, unto the remotest generation, not merely a reunited country, not merely the sense of belonging to a Nation which has before it a future so vast that even its most loyal sons can hardly venture to anticipate it; but you left to them also the memory of the way in which that formidable army of fighting men, when once the war was ended, turned forth with to the pursuits of peace and showed themselves to be good citizens at home just as they had shown them-selves good soldiers at the front.

"In any great crisis of war, this Nation must rely mainly upon its volunteer soldiers and the veterans of the Civil War have left us forever the model of what such a soldiery should be. We of the younger generation owe you a debt greater than we can ever may, alike for the lessons you taught in war and for the lessons you taught

With the heartiest regards, and with every cordial wish for the success of your reunion, believe me, very faithfully yours, THEODORE ROOSEVELT.

HAS TO LEAP FOR HER LIFE Japanese Woman Fights With Chinaman, Then Jumps From Window.

After fighting 15 minutes for her life, Kidi, the Japanese woman living at 66 South Fourth street, jumped through a second-story window at 2 o'clock this morning and ran half-naked to the police station to tell her story. When she ran into the Captain's office she fell exhausted to the floor and almost fainted. Her face was horribly beaten, and she had been choked and kicked in the side.

Details of the affair could not learned, because the woman was too hysterical to talk intelligently to Ah Sing. the Chinese interpreter, who was called into service by Captain Bailey. It de veloped, however, that a Chinaman named Chong Shu had entered the house in which the woman lives and commanded her to open the door, telling her that he wanted to see her. She refused, being afraid that the Celestial would harm her. He commanded her a second time to open the door, and when she again hefused, he beat the door in and grasped the woman by the hair. She screamed for help, and he began to choke her. He threw her on the floor and kloked her in the side re-patedly. The other Chinese and Japanese in the neighborhood were aroused, apparently were unable to locate the trouble before Chong Shu had stopped the woman's cries by choking her.

For fully 15 minutes the man and wom an fought. Finally Kidi made her way to the window, pushed her assallant aside and sprang through the window 25 feet to the pavement below. She wrenched her foot badly, as she fell, but in spite of the pain ran to the police station, where she ran into the Captain's office and fell exhausted on the floor. Her throat was badly swollen where she had been choiced. She semed to be in pain, and complained of her side, where she gaid Chong Shu kicked her. Her face was beaten and one cye entirely closed. She was badly bruised about the breast.

Officers were sent out in search of Chong Shu as soon as it was learned through an interpreter that he was the guilty party. The woman claimed that she did not know why Chong Shu at-tacked her. She said that she was asleep when she first heard him at the door, and when she has beard him at the door, and thinking that he had been drinking, told him to go away. When he persisted in remaining, she grew alarmed. After the door was burst open, he rushed straight at her and began to beat and choke her. She alleges that he did not once explain why he was so treating her. She was no match for the man, and all attempts to get away from him were futile until dur ing the scuffle they neared an open win-dow. Kidi took no second thought, but home in Lakeside today.

CONSULT ME, FREE CONTRACTED DISORDERS

Every case of contracted diseases we treat is cured thoroughly. Our patients have no relapses. When we pronounce a case cured there is not a particle of infection or inflammation remaining, and there is not the slightest danger that the disease will return in its original form or work its way into the general system. Some contracted diseases are less serious than others, but none are too trivial to warrant uncertain methods of treatment. We especially solicit those cases that other doctors have been unable to cure.

25 Years a Specialist in Giseascs of Man CHRONIC DISORDERS

The cure of Varicocele, Rupture, Loss of Vital Power and all diseases of mon has engaged our attention for the past quarter of a century. We understand more fully than most physicians the disastrous possibilities of these diseases.
