HOPS JUMP ACAIN

Market Advances to Thirty-One Cents.

BIG TRADING AT THAT PRICE

Nothing Apparently Can Stop the Upward Tendency of Values_ Inferior Grades Also Command Full Figures.

Nothing can stop the upward course of the hop market. Thirty-one cents is now the price, and there is not a grower in the Valley but that believes 35 cents will be reached before the week is ended. To Henry L. Bents, a well-known grower and dealer of Butteville, must be given credit for the latest rise in the market. He stepped in yesterday when the bears were telling everyone that the top had been reached and by offering 31 cents, secured between 400 and 500 bales in the country around Independence, Dallas and McMinnville.

Bents is one of the most conservative and reliable men in the trade, and when it was noised abroad that he had advanced the market, the men who have been predicting an immediate slump quickly subsided. The fact that such men as he and the people he represents are willing to invest heavily at present figures shows the strongest faith in the future of the market.

Yesterday's purchases by Bents were for M. H. Durst, the big Wheatland, Cal., grower, who in past seasons has operated heavily in hops in this state. Durst Bros. are producing this year on their California ranch nearly 5000 bales of high-grade hops. Among the lots that Bents secured yesterday wer those of C. J. Coon, 25 bales, and B. F. Daniels, 130 bales, both raised near McMinville. Daniels still has 130 bales left, which he is holding for higher prices. Word comes from McMinnville that buyers are nu-merous in that town and none of them are offering less than 30 cents. As no such prices have been paid since 1894, the growers are naturally intensely excited. Over a fourth of the crop of Yamhiil County, is reported sold.

There was also liberal buying yester terday in other parts of the Valley, gen-erally at 30 cents. The first report of an advance over this figure came in the forenoon from Eugene, where John Carmichael bought 240 bales at 30% cents. This was sufficient in itself greatly to strengthen the views of growers and bulls here and to cause chagrin on the other side. Another big deal was the sale of the Gailagher lot in North Yam-hill, aggregating 275 bales, at 30 cents. Portland traders did not seem to be doing much at home, though all of them kept their representatives busy in the country. An 80-bale lot that J. J. Metz-ler sold for 30 cents was about the only local transaction that came to light. A feature of the situation that is encouraging to the growers is the fact that hops that do not grade up to choice are also being bought freely and in some instances 30 cents are being paid for these

FIRST 31-CENT SALE.

Bents Lifts the Market a Full Cent at Independence.

INDEPENDENCE, Or., Oct. 4.—(Special.)—The hop market was raised another notch today and the price is now fixed at 31 cents. Dave Dove sold a total of 10,000 pounds at that figure to H. L. Bents this afternoon. Feelers were put out last riight and this morning at 30% and 30% cents but the buvers generally and 2014 cents, but the buyers generally and 20½ cents, but the buyers generally talked strong against anything above 30. Even the Dallas buyers, who have been leaders in high prices all along, were lying low. During the day C. L. Fitchard bought 30 hales of Hiram Woods at 30 cents, and J. E. Kirkland purchased 53 bales of Helmick & Bush at 30 cents. Neither of these buys were scarcely up of these buys were scarcely up to the sale of Lyman Damon to T. A. Riggs yesterday of 86 bales at 30 cents, for nearly half of Damon's hops were bables. Last year Mr. Damon got only 17% cents for his baby crop, while the older hope sold at 25 cents. In this sale Riggs made no discrimination against the baby crop.

Since the sale of Dove at 31 cents in the afternoon, that figure is being freely offered. Walter Roy, during the after-noon and evening, was offered 31 cents by three different buyers.

Woodburn Market Lively.

WOODBURN, Or., Oct. 4.—(Special.)— The hop market in this city remained strong today, with an advancing tend-ency. Thirty cents was freely offered for choice lots and in many instances de choice lots and in many instances de-clined. The following sales were made: Catlin & Lina, for Eastern account, bought of Steven Morton, at St. Paul, 94 bales at 30 cents and 20 bales of Mrs. Anna E. Stewart, of Woodburn, at 29% cents. Walter L. Tooze purchased the M. Ferschweller lot of 45 bales at 30 cents for choice and 28 cents for first choice and 28 cents for first Only a few lots remain unsold this district.

Uncommonly Fine Performance at the Columbia Theater.

"Coon Hollow's" Farewell.

The most successful melodrama which Cordray's has offered in years is "A Ro-mance of Coon Hollow," which opened to crowded houses on Sunday and has been provoking the wildest enthusiasm every night this week. The plantation dancers, the lavish scenic investure and the splendid acting company make it a truly wonderful production. The engagement closes tonight to make room for "Grandfather's Clock." Tonight is the last chance to see the big event of Cordray's season. Don't miss it.

A FIRST PRODUCTION.

Cordray Patrons See the First Performance of "Grandfather's Clock." A theatrical event of especial interest A theatrical event of especial interest and importance will be the initial performance of Charles E. Calishan's newest dramatic work, "Grandfather's Clock," at Cordray's, tomorrow night. The play was written by the famous author of "A Romance of Coon Hollow," with a view of producing it in New York next season, but Portland will enjoy the rare privilege of seeing it a year in advance of the Metropoils. The trial engagement of the plece at Cordray's on Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights, with a matines Saturday, will be the only times "Grandfather's Clock" will be put on this season. It is up to the Portland on this season. It is up to the Portland public to pass its verdict on the play, and the future of the production will depend largely on the manner in which it is received here

"Salammbo" Tomorrow Night.

Beginning tomorrow night, and continuing Friday and Saturday nights, with a special matinee Saturday, Frederick Warde and Kathryn Kidder will be seen in the stupendous scenic production of "Salammbo." From the many elaborate productions made by Managers Wagen-hals and Kemper in the past, one may well imagine the glittering, gorgeous stage settings they have provided for "Salamm-bo." It is said they have expended not less than $30,000 on costumes and scenery alone. Delightful incidental music written by the eminent composer, Henry K.
Hadley, is another feature which is said to make the play a delightful as well as a thrilling evening's diversion. The costumes are by Madame Freisinger, from designs by Mrs. Seidel, of the Metropolitan Opera-House, New York.

Ralph Stuart Coming.

"By Right of Sword," direct from its recent triumphant run at the American Theater, with Ralph Stuart in his original ole of Richard Hamilton, which he has played successfully from the Pacific Coast to New York, comes to the Marquam Grand for three nights and Wednesday matinee, beginning Monday, October 18. The scenes of the play are laid in Russia, which gives opportunity for picturesque scenic environment and gorgeous costuming. The first act is laid at a military bail in Moscow, one of the most magnificent spectacies of modern drama, and the succeeding acts show striking scenes in and around the ancient Russian capital. Mr. Stuart not only proves his pre-eminence with the sword, but his skill in light comedy as well as strenuous situations. natinee, beginning Monday, October 18 ous situations. # Fun at the Lyric.

Pure and unadulterated mirth set to music. That's what the Lyric bill is this week, and you ought to see the way the people are taking to it. They stood in the lobby ten deep last night waiting for a chance to get a seat. Every act pre-sented is an instant hit and is received with round after round of applause. Lyric certainly is the place where the public can slways find genuine amuse-ment. See the Carters, hear Harry Hoyt and enjoy all the other feature acts this week. If you don't you'll be sorry.

Excellent Bill at the Arcade.

Russell & O'Neil, Irish comedian and Hibernian soubrette, are the funny team of the show at the Arcade Theater this week. Russell's song entitled "All We Went Is John L. Sullivan Back Again" Is received with rounds of applause. One of the greatest pictures shown this season is flashed by the bloscope and illustrates the work of a lifesaving crew when the waves are running mountains high.
