COMMEND F. C. Baken's Work.-Chairman Frank C. Baker, of the hepublicar State Central .ommittee, is acc of the most vigorous lenders of the West-ern hosts, at the National beadquarters. Members of the National Committee have frequently eulogized Mr. Baker to visiting Oregonians as a campaigner with an un-common supply of ideas. Judge C. H. Carey, who recently returned from the East, says that party leaders in the last have become well acquainted with his energy and versatility and that they automatically bring up his name whenever an Oregonian heaves in sight. Mr. Baker's Oregonian heaves in signt. Mr. Haker's methods have won warm commendation in Oregon, too, and there are several men elected to office last June who attributed their success to the methods he pursued in holding Republicans to their party allegiance. Mr. Baker is now at the same work again, and is sending out some 49,000 jetters to members of the Republican faith throughout the state.

BLOCKADE ON BURNSIDE STREET.—There was something doing on Bast Burnside street, between the bridge approach and Grand svenue, yesterday, as all the car traffic from Morrison bridge concentrated there. Cars were passing every minute.

which held up traffic for haif an hour.

Street-cars were strung half way to Holiaday avenue. A coal wagon was crashed into by a car and the top was partly wrecked, but nothing serious resulted. The condition of East Burnside is dangerous under any circumstances, but the danger is largely augmented by the additional street-cars. If teamsters will turn north on East Third they will avoid the broken and disrupted roadway on East Burnside to Union avenue. For the first day, the increased travel on the Burnside bridge was well handled.

The donor at the time of his gift set the value of the land at $75,000 and provided that it should not be sold for less. As the property is not now considered to be of that value and no purchasers will give that amount for it, the land will be reappraised and put on the market at a new figure.

E. M. LAZARUS FEELING BETTER.-E. M. Legarus, who had a narrow escape from Legarus, who had a narrow escape from death on Monday by coming in contact with a live wire while inspecting a building in course of erection on Washington street, has about recovered. Mr. Legarus is the architect of the building which is being built at the corner of Washington and Park streets, and while making a tour of inspection he accidentally touched an electric wire. The force of the shock knocked him down and rendered him alknocked him down and rendered him alnacious. Fortunately he did not receive the full current. If he had, death would have followed.

CALVIN MAY GO UP

Mentioned as Probable Successor to Markham.

WOULD ADVANCE BUCKINGHAM

Manager at Salt Lake Would Come to Portland to Direct O. R. & N. and Part of the Southern Pacific System.

SALT LAKE, Oct. 26.—(Special.)— The talk of railroad circles today was the resignation of C. H. Markham as general manager of the Southern Pa-cific, whose jurisdiction takes in the lines from El Paso to Ashland, Or., the California lines and the Central Pacific to Reno. Just as soon as the announce-ment became public property, guesses were in order for the name of a suc-cessor, and the only name heard for the place was that of E. E. Calvin, at present general manager of the Oregon Railway & Navigation Company, and the Southern Pacific lines north of Ash-land, Or. This would mean that E. Buckingham would go to Portland to ucceed Calvin, leaving a vacancy at Salt Lake.

Everyone acquainted with railroading realizes what a difficult position the San Francisco one is, and it is pointed out that many men have gone there only to fail. Mr. Calvin, however, is an experienced railroad man, one who can promote discipline, keep down the operating expenses and push trains through on time. All his local admiremental hope that the rumor of his further advancement is well founded.

RESIGNATION WAS UNEXPECTED Railroad Row Discusses New Move of

C. H. Markham. The main topic of conversation and comment along railroad row yesterday was the sudden and unexpected resigna-tion of Charles H. Markham, as general manager of the Pacific division of the Southern Pacific system.

Mr. Markham, from his long residence in Portland, where he was the general freight and passenger agent of the South-ern Pacific, has many warm personal friends in the city, and all of them were very much surprised at his sudden mination to leave the service of

The name of the oil company to which Mr. Markham has transferred his alle glance is not known here, but it i variously reported that he is to be the manager of a large Texas company at a salary of more than $50,000 annually, and that he is heavily interested in oil properties in Texas and has decided to manage his own interests.

Those in the city who are closest in the friendship of Mr. Markham lean to the latter opinion. It has been known for some time that he has been buying Texas oil stock, and that he is now the possessor of large holdings in the Lone Star state. The current opinion, therefore, is that Mr. Markham's interests in the oil rehave become so large as to demand the greater share of his time and attention. For this reason it was more profitable for him to leave the service of the South-orn Pacific and take up the management

AT THE VAUDEVILLE THEATERS

No Rivals of Alpine Family.

If the programma at the Star Theate this week contained nothing but the onact of the Alpine family it would be a tremendously good programme. A better bill, in fact, than if it were composed of—3 mediocre acts and lasted two hours. The management means what it says when I management means what it says when it assures the public that this trio of performers are not equaled anywhere in the world.
