PRISONERS RELEASED

They Retaliate by Suing for Damages Raid Marks Final Split Between Word and Manning-May Get Justice to Issue Warrants.

Just before the Circuit Court closed, defendants in the positroom case in the shape of a $15,060 damage suit sgainst Sheriff Word for false imprisonment. The suit was lodged by J. N. Flesh-man, who avers in his complaint that he is employed in the Warwick Turf Exchange as bookkeeper; that he was violating no laws, and that he was ar-rested and kept in jail for five hours without an arrest warrant or charge of any sort. In remuneration for the suf-fering and humiliation of this alloged false imprisonment, he asks the court to award him $15,000.

Others of the seven defendants are sid to be preparing similar suits, to Sheriff Word says he is not alarmed by the damage proceedings. The local agents of the United States Casualty & rantee Company, which is on Sheriff Word's bond for $10,000, say the situation is not causing them the Developments in the raid on the Warwick turf exchange have evidently had the effect of consummating an estrangement between Sheriff Word and District Attorney Manning, which has seemed to be brewing for some weeks. Sheriff Word appears to have removed his official doll and dishes from the District Attorney's back yard and hereafter will probably play by himself at the exciting game of stamping out gambling.

Aside from this estrangement, the developments of yesterday were of an exceptional order. The seven members of the exchange were released by Judge George exchange were released by Judge George at the conclusion of the habeas corpus proceedings. But while Proprietor Nease and his six employes are at liberty, they are not at liberty to resume operations at the turf exchange.

All day yesterday the beating of a sentry's feet on the bare floors of the clubroom on Fourth street took the place of the usual confusion attendant upon betting on racing events. The only refreshments on tap were small but effective portions of cold lead ready to be passed over the bar in the event an emergency arose. the bar in the event an emergency arose. For Sheriff Word kept two of his deputies on guard all day and kept them armed. with instructions to use their weapons rather than be custed from the place. The Shoriff took these precautions after hear-ing a rumor that members of the exchange intended trying to forcibly regain Information in Justice Court.

While this harrowing rumor was most robably without foundation, the Sheriff intended taking no chances. Possession of the exchange is all that he has, at this time, to show for his raid on the place, and he intends to keep possession until the courts order him to vacate, if they ever do.

In the meantime the Sheriff will try to get out informations from one of the Justice Courts. A section of the state code compels the issuance of a complaint by any justice of the peace in the event the evidence will justify.

This determination on the part of Sheriff Word marks the formal parting of the ways between him and Mr. Manning. The not propertly consulted Manning's Fine Distinction.

It was the fact that Mr. Manning announced he had no answer to make to the habeas corpus summons that caused the prisoner's release without arguments, in Judge George's courtroom early in the afternoon. Henry E. McGinn represented Mr. Word and delivered himself of several pointed remarks on the situation, his words, in effect, charging Mr. Manning with insincerity in his dealings with the a witness; that it was generally known that the city has issued a license to the poolroom; that John Bain, of the Municipal Association, had formally apprised Mr. Manning of the fact, and that furthermore the defendants do not deny they are running a turf exchange.

"When Mr. Bain called upon me, it was not as a witness," explained Mr. Manning.

"There is a difference, I see, between a person and a witness," answered Judge McGinn dryly.

John M. Gearin, on behalf of the defend-ants, then moved for the issuance of a, habeas corpus writ, and the motion was habeas corpus writ, and the motion was granted, thus Hberating the defendants. Their rearrest may follow shortly on Justice Court warrants.

Pending final settlement of the issue, they are barred from the exchange, and should they attempt to force entrance, the result would be vey much the same as would follow the effort of a Japanese regiment to enter Port Arthur.

District Attorney's Version. Mr. Manning offers the following state-

District Attorney's Version.

Mr. Manning offers the following statement of his part in the proceedings:

Tom Word never appeared before me as a witness to give testimony against the position proposition, but asked me if I would give him a complaint for the arrest of the propositor. I told him I would lock into the matter and, if in my opinion, he was entitled to a complaint, he would get cost. Later, I told Mr. Word that, if I gave him a complaint at all, it would be for the purpose of making a test case of it, but that I would not give him a complaint until the case before the first day of the next regular term of the Circuit Court, which begins on the Tih day of the present month; that I had no malice in the matter, and that if the law and evidence warranted a complaint, he could have one for the purpose of making a test case, and he said that was all right.

That is the last I saw of Mr. Word until he came into the courtroom when I was arguing a motion in the Walton case, when he medied me if I would give him a complaint. This was after be made his raid. I told him I could not give it to him then I'-I wanted to. So, afnore that time, Mr. Werd, nor either of his deputies, have a peared in my office to offer testimony or any kind.

"I asked Mr. Manning for complaints," said Sheriff Word, "and they were refused me at the time. If Mr. Manning was too busy to do the work, he has an ample force of assistants who could have taken up the burden had their chief been willing to act."

THE VALUE OF CHARCOAL

Few People Know How It Is in Preserving Health and Beauty.

Nearly everybody knows that charcoal is the safest and most efficient disinfectant and purifier in nature, but few realize its value when taken into the human system for the same cleansing purpose. Charcoal is a remedy that the more you take of it the better; it is not a drug at all, but simply absorbs the gases and impurities always present in the stomach and intestines and carries them out of and other odorous vegetables.

Charcoal effectually clears and improves the complexion, it whitens the teeth and further acts as a natural and eminently safe cathartic.

It absorbs the injurious gases which collect in the stomach and bowels; it disinfects the mouth and throat from the poison of catarrh.

All druggists sell charcoal in one form or another, but probably the best charcoal and the most for the money is in Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges, they are composed of the finest powdered Willow charcoal, and other harmless antiseptics in tablet form or rather in the form of large, pleasant tasting lozenges, the charcoal being mixed with honey.

The daily use of these lozenges will soon tell in a much improved condition of the general health, better complexion, swester breath and purer blood, and the beauty of it is, that no possible harm can result from their continued use, but on the contrary, great benefit.

A Buffalo physician in speaking of the benefits of charcoal, says: "I advise Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges to all patients suffering from gas in stomach and bowels, and to clear the complexion and purify the breath, mouth and throat, I also believe the liver is greatly benefited by the daily use of them; they cost but twenty-five cents a box at drugatores, and sithough in some sense a patent preparation, yet I believe I get more and better charcoal in Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges than in any of the ordinary charcoal tablets."
