GREAT STOCK SHOW

Prize Cattle and Sheep of the Whole Continent Coming.

ATTRACTED BY BIG PRIZES

Commissioner Scott Brings Good News From St. Louis Canada Will Be Well Represented - Oregon's Prizes for Dairy Products.

Stockraisers all over America are discussing the big livestock exhibits to be made at the Lewis and Clark Exposition next year and are planning for active participation. This intelligence was conveyed to Lewis and Clark headquarconveyed to Lewis and Clark headquarters yesterday by State Commissioner Richard Scott, who has just returned from, St. Louis after spending several weeks there in the interests of next year's stock display.

Not only will the States be largely represented but there is much activity among Canadian stockgrowers and those of Mexice, says Mr. Scott. With their experiences at St. Louis to profit by the atockmen will have a better by, the stockmen will have a better idea of the standards of excellence they must meet and will exert themselves towards that end.

"The fund of $40,000 set aside by the Lewis and Clark management, said Mr. Scott. "is known of by every stock-ralser I met and all think the offer a liberal one. There is no doubt but that It will attract many exhibitors and the stock exhibit is bound to result in much benefit to the stock industry of the Pacific Const and West generally."

Sheep and hogs will compose the principal part of the Canadian stock exhibit. Mr. Scott states. "Some of their hogs at St. Louis." he added, "weigh as much as 1100 pounds and are as big as Wisconsin will probably be the banner state for cattle and sheep at Portland next year and Western rate-ers will have to show their very best stock and take great care to get them into condition if they expect to make away with premiums over Wisconsin, or other of the big farming and stock districts of the Middle West." Regarding the awarding of prizes for stock and dairy products, Mr. Scott stated that Oregon is lining up in ex-cellent shape and that previous an-nouncements regarding the dairy products of the state are by no means exaggerated. The making of awards was nearing completion when he left St. Louis and Oregon's stock interests appeared to be well in the van of the race, he said.

The exploitation division of the Exposition is using every means to bring the Lewis and Clark stock exhibit to the attention of the stockgrowers of America. Communications have been sent out by Secretary Reed to every stock paper in the country and the ex-changes reveal that the matter is being generously taken up by these periodi-

FOR GOVERNMENT EXHIBITS. Preliminary Work for Buildings Be-

Preliminary work on the Government buildings is progressing rapidly, the necessary excavations and clearances having been nearly completed by the force of men placed on the grounds by J. E. Hennett, the contractor. The actual work of construction will shortly be gotten under way and the assurance is given that the building will be ready on contract time—April 1.

COMPLETE ON OPENING DAY.

Construction Far More Advanced Than St. Louis at This Stage.

A recent visitor to the Lewis and Clark grounds directly attached to one of the State Commissions at the St. Louis Fair, was greatly impressed with the progress of the work. "Your Fair is more nearly completed at this moment," exclaimed the visitor, "than was the St. Louis Fair the day the gates were opened. There is no doubt but that your Exposition will have the great advantage of being complete to the minute, when the gates are thrown the minute, when the gates are thrown

Mrs. C. O. Smith, 56 Bowen St., Nashus, N. H., says: "My trouble began with hemorrhages of the bowels. I became white as snow, my heart pelpitated and my head throbbed continually. Would Walk Across Continent. Henry K. Slanter wants to walk from New York to Portland in the interest of the Exposition. He says he intends to locate in Oregon, and is willing to walk the entire distance from New York dressed in the guise of an explorer and carrying a Lewis and Clark banner. The offer was placed on file.

SMALL CHANCE FOR HEIRS. Mrs. Reed's Legal Residence Was Portland, and Law Will Rule.

No overt action has been taken by the heirs of the late Mrs. Amanda W. Reed to obtain any portion of the estate be-queathed by her to furnish money with which to build an institution of learning in Portland. Some of the beirs are in California, and some in Portland. Some of those resident in both states are supposed to be dissatisfied with the will. But there is no possibility of breaking the will and their only hope is in protestin the distribution of the property who ordered by the court.

The grounds on which they claim a larger share than that allotted them is that Mrs. Reed was living in California at the time of her death and the laws of that state do not permit of a testator leaving more than a third of his estate to charities when he has legal heirs livto charities when he has legal heirs liv-ing. The disputants, saying that the per-sonal property follows the person, claim that under the laws of California the $725,000 worth of personal property be-longing to Mrs. Reed should be distrib-uted according to the California law. Of this $500,000 is in Oregon, and under the jurisdiction of the Oregon courts.

The only hope there seems to be for
