TOUR MADE OF CONNECTICUT

Speeches Are Made in Four Cities-Charges Against Cortelyou Are Repeated-Militarism and Trusts Also Touched.

HARTFORD, Conn., Nov. 4.—Four enthusiastic audiences greeted Judge Parker today on his only visit to the state in the campaign, and in several other places through which his special train passed to was given rousing welcomes. The Democraite candidate left New York during the forenoon and speed was slackened at Stamford and South Norwalk, before the special train reached Bridgeport, where the first stop was made. The principal speech of the trip was made in the city tonight. The meeting in this city was the greatest of this state. Judge Parker was given a warm welcome from he time he reached the city, at 6 P. M.

He was driven through the crowds to the Hartford Club, where the town committee was the hoat at dinner.

The meeting was held in the OperaHouse, which was filled long before is first subjects of discussion by the candidate, after which he took up a number of famues that have formed the topics of other addresses. One subject was taken up which was of considerable interest-the development of the American merchant marine, and close attention was given.

It was $20 o'clock before the candidate appeared at the hall in this city. The audience was the most demonstrative of any he had faced during the day. The ovation lasted 18 minutes, most of the audience being on their feet, shouting wildly, while hundreds of persons waved flags. Judge Parker said:

You in Connecticut and our neighbors along the New England Const realize perhaps better than any other part of our people what foreign trade means. From the earliest times of our listory your ancestors braved the perils of the sea to satisfy their desire for adventure, and, in absolence to that law of supply and demand, which, under normal conditions, must regulate exchanges because in that direction until it is gradual movement in that direction until it is the different countries of the world.

The time has again come when we need salps of our own, but they should have been built, not at the cost of the Government; not from taxes from all of the people, but an a result of the enterprise of our people. They should be designed and constructed by the ingenuity of our architects, operated by our seamen, and owned by our people. Every landing place along these limitless shores of ours ought to be a nursery, however rude, for the sallor. Our products sent to other countries should be carried in American bottoms, and that aimost infinite demand by our people for the products of other countries should be carried in American bottoms, and that aimost infinite demand by our people for the products of other countries should enable us to bring them everything that their material comfort, education and progress make necessary or desirable for them to use.

We hear much from time to time and from many different quarrers about the necessity of being prepared for war. This demand is so insistent that the citizen is sometimes tempted to ask whether, after all, it would not be more timely and more helpful for humanity, if we should consider the war question of bring prepared for peace. So far as periods of time is congerned, it has an importance entirely incommensurate to that decoted to war.

During the 121 years which have passed since the independence was achieved, we have been engaged in ware suring four of them, the remaining 117 having been found at pence-with our neighbors. If arbitration hag then been recognized as a policy we might have eliminated those four, and the disparity between the years of peace and the years of war certainly admonishes us where our interest ites.

Judge Parker took up the trust quostion, declaring that the tariff made it possible for the great combinations to levy a tax upon every consumer. He said:

Upon these enormous capitalizations the people without heaveful. We hear much from time to time and from

I deny that if this were true it would constitute a defense to such an imposition, one that compels us to pay to a home manufacturer more than he is willing to sell the same thing for abroad. But it is not true that the average income of the day laborer, the mere than the former the clerk and the home.

SPEAKS ON "STRENUOUS LIFE". Judge Parker Refers to It in Discussing Militarism. NEW HAVEN, Nov. L-A large and enthusiastic crowd filled the New Haven station as Judge Parker's train rolled in. The party took carriages and were driven slowly through a number of streets to Music Hall, where Judge Parker spoke. Music Hall, where Judge Parker spoke, discussing "The Strennous Life." He said: It has become a fashion during recent years to expect our young men to lead what has been called "the strennous life." Not content with our universal activity in indicatry, our work in the conquest of a continent and the effort to spread our popular ideas into all the world, and thus to make ourselves in example for other peoples who are looking toward freedom and opportunity, the conclusion seems to have and opportunity, the conclusion seems to have been reached that somehow we had overlooked

We always had an efficient Army of brave coddlers well commanded. It has been suffi-chest for our needs that we have been able to reelst the commanght of the savage, to ward off resist the consungit of the savage, to ward of foreign aggression and to settle our own internal troubles, but this does not seem to satisfy. We must be strengous not alone in all things which make for good, for safety and for permanence, but we must be strengous in adventure, for personal giory and even in tooking for a fight. It is apparently not enough that we shall be active in every moral and religious movement, is exercishing that can recommended. novement, in everything that can promote edumovement, in everything that can promite edu-cation and the discipline of our youths. These, apparently, do not assure real progress. So we are invited to turn asside from these into those lines of activity and adventure which smack of the Crundes, and of the time when the mosted vanile was the only home in which human beings could be fairly said to have a right to live.

Even the e-udents in our courages have been invited to become "strenuous." A little investigation or knowledge serves to show that the college student has always been so. But in what direction? He has been devoted to his studies, as our scholarship and our universal soughtly and the universal soughtly and the strength of the services of the service masses: It has been a heritage of the eventry. O But the student has not accounted it to himself as a virine, but as a duty, comething be owed to the society in which he found himself; to his parents, who, perhaps, were making great encrifices to enable him to be fitted better for the duties of life, and to himself. This activity your even further until no due. This activity goes even further, until we find that in all the great colleges of our country now a fourth now a third, again almost a half, willingly and cheerfully take up any kind of employment which can yield sufficient money to carry them through their college course, whether academic or professional.

FOSTER IS VINDICATED.

Police Officer Will, No Doubt, Be Reinstated.

Officer Foster, who was recently discharged from the police force at the request of Chief Hunt, was vindicated last night, and will no doubt be reinstated when his case comes before the Civil Service Commissioners next Wednesday.

When suspended Officed Foster was charged with not reporting for three hours. He addressed a communication to Chief Hunt, etating that during the time he did not report he was watching a notorious resort at Minth and Gilsan streets, conducted by colored people, and that he had veason to believe the resort was visited by a white girl. The Chief characterized Foster's explanation as an outruth, and demanded his discharge last night Sergeant Slover arrested Lottn DeMart, aged Hyears, a white girl, and charged her with after hours. The real reason for her arrest was that she was seen coming from the resort Officer Foster's seen conducted, and she is the same girl Foster said he was shadowing. Officers at the station were much pleased to see Foster thus vindicated.

"Buffalo Bill," with Indian scouts and cowboys, has taken the trail, and a lively time may be anticipated. Colonel Cody and his force are heavily armed, and are determined to get the robbers. The ban-dits have cut all the felephone wires lead-ing through the basin, and it is almost im-possible to get further facts.

Cody May Only Go Hunting. THERMOPOLIS, Nov 3.—A special from Cody says that Colonel Cody will not join the manhunt with his English and other guests; he will go hunting in the wilds northwest of Cody.

SHERIFF COMES IN.

He is Satisfied He Has the Outlaws Surrounded, and Will Leave Again.

THERMOPOLIS, Wyo., Nov. 1.— Sheriff Fenton, of Big Horn County, came in tonight from the chase after the outlaws who attempted to rob the First National Bank of Cody and killed First National Bank of Cody and killed Cashier Middaugh on Tuesday last, He had a conference with Sheriff Stough, of Fremont County, and the two officers will leave again in the morning for the Bad Lands, in the vicinity of Tarby Creek, east of the Big Horn Riyer, where Fenton believes he has the outlaws surrounded. The officers will endeavor to prevent the robbers from penetrating the interior of the Bad Lands for, onch inside, their capture would become an extremely hazardous task.

During the day posses patrolled the open country between the Cottonwood, Grass, Gooseberry and Owl Creeks.
The fact developed loday that the outlaws, after leaving Cody Tuesday outlaws, after leaving Cody Tuesday traveled over the main country road to within five miles of this place, and made a detour to the southwest, and entered the main road again six miles out. They have since traveled by the main road. This boldness on the part of the robbers cannot be accounted for.

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Nov. 1.—The officials of the United States Marshal's office here are convinced that the shorter of the two men who endeavored to rob the bank at Cody is Harvey Logan, the notorious trainrobber, and that it was Logan who killed the cashier. Logan was supposed to have been killed in Colorado about four months ago, but men who know him state that he was in Cody several days before the attempted robbery which resulted in the murder of Cashier Middaugh. Logan is a dead shot, is armed with auto. Logan is a dead shot, is armed with auto-matic guns and can hardly be taken alive. For a long time, Logan was the master mind of the Hole-in-the-Wall gang. The reward for the bandits, dead or alive, has een increased to $16,000. The sum has been made up by Colonel Cody, the citizens of the state, the banks of the state and other concerns, and will probably be increased in a day or two.

VACCINATION AND SMALLPOX. Denial That Vaccination is a Protection Against the Disease

PORTLAND, Nov. 3.—(To the Editor.)— I notice in last Sunday's Oregonian that some medical writer is "getting busy" again. Just as regularly as the Fall term of school Just as regularly as the Fall term of school opens each year he proceeds to scare as many people as possible into heing vaccinated. His last essay has about as much argument in it as the average prevaricationists article has. He cites the case of the little daughter of a prominent society woman of Chicago being stricken with smallpox, and proceeds to say that she, being the only one in the family not vaccinated, therefore, she would be the only one to take the disease. He neglects to state that the child's mother is also down with smallpox and is confined to the peathouse, in spite of the fact that she had been vaccinated. I have seen the statement in the same column that vaccination absolutely protects one from smallpox in all caser. The soldiers who want to the Philippines were all vaccinated time after time, and yet numbers of them had smallpox. There are thousands of other cases in which vaccinated.

the United States are opposed to vaccina-tion, as in their estimation it is not only dangerous, but it does not protect against smallpox. Have a few political doctors the right to any arbitrarily that those men are entirely wrong, and that the others who practice vaccination are all right? I think not. But do not think for a moment that I would restrict anyone's liberty in the mat-ter. If a man wishes to be vaccinated, let him have it as often as he wishes I would also suggest in this connection that the vac cinators themselves be vaccinated about ev ery six weeks; let them be vaccinated with a little common sense and some tolerance for the rights and opinions of others. But he has no right to force the flithy stuff into my body because he may happen to believe in vaccination; if there is any virtue in vaccination he is protected anyway and has no right to complain because I am not similarly protected.

If there is any one thing under the heavens over which a man should have efclusive confrol it is his own body, especially when there is so much difference of opinion regarding the healing art. The vaccinators garding the healing art. The vaccinators would force every new-born babe to be vaccinated within a year after birth, if they had the power. How would the liberty-loving American people like to submit to such an outrage? What a lovely time they would have running around vaccinating right and left at so much per head. Suppose the vaccinators were paid by the Government, wouldn't the people have to pay it in the end through increased taxation? How long would vaccination last if the profit were taken away? Who is clamoring for vaccination all the time, the people of the doctors? If the vaccinators really want to be rid of smallpox, let them teach the people how to take care of their bodies, that they may be in a condition to resist the germs of would force every new-born babe to take care of their bodies, that they may be in a condition to resist the germs of smallper. It is the person in poor physical condition who takes smallper. All physicians hold that the blood must be in an ill-nour-labed condition before there is "suitable soff for the germs to find iodament. Does vaccine virus neurish the blood? Is it food? It might be for some people.

In conclusion I would submit the following as indisputable truths: 1. Not all unwac-
