CANOES ON GUILD'S LAKE

Expectations of Eastern People to Be Gratified by Sight of Red Men, Both Before and After Contact With White Men.

Indians are to be one of the features of the Lewis and Clark amusement attrac-tions. It is recognized at Lewis and Clark headquarters that the Easterner never loses interest in Indians, cowboys and other features of the West in the early days. It is intended that the most exact-Easterners will have every opportunity afforded to see Indians, both in their savage state and in their present condi-

Much attention is now being given to the Indian features. It has been decided that a Wild West show is an essential, and, while this show will most probably come under the flead of concessions, the Indian schools and exhibits tending to show the progress of the Indian will be under the direct supervision of the Expo-sition management. The management will sition management. The management will also secure the services of Indian canoemen on Guild's Lake. These redskins will represent every tribe that was in any way associated with Lewis and Clark on their famous journey across the Western Continent. They will be dressed exactly as were their ancestors a hundred years ago, and their canoes will be the rude bark-and-skin craft in use at that distant period. Skilled in paddling these vessels, the tribesmen will furnish a striking picture as they ply the waters of Guild's Lake.

For the Wild West feature the advisa For the Wild West feature the advisa-bility is being considered of setting aside several acres of land for an Indian camp, to be constructed and maintained by the Indians themselves in essentially Indian fashion. The sham attacks on emigrant trains and skirmishes with cowboys and ploneers could be held on one of the pa-rade grounds.

Several offers to bring Indians here are already on file. One of the most favorable was received yesterday from Captain Nolan, a noted Indian scout, who makes his headquarters in Spokane. He states his headquarters in Spokane. He states that he has 300 Indians on contract who could be brought here. They are all the finest types of the tribes of the Northwest, he states, and have plenty of the equipment, necessary to a Wild West tournament. Captain Nolan says the Indiana have expressed a willingness to dians have expressed a willingness to come here, always being anxious to engage in realistic sham maneuvers, since actual warfare is denied them.

In connection with the Wild West features will also be broncho-riding contests, shooting tournaments, both mounted and dismounted, roping contests and other Western feats of physical endurance and Western feats of physical endurance and prowess, such as arouse the admiration of the tenderfoot, who will undoubtedly be represented in numbers.

"It is these essentially Western attractions that the Easterner is going to look for," said an experienced Exposition attache, "and they will be disappointed if they do not see the Wild West of the past on a more elaborate scale than ever before presented."

PLACARDS TO CATCH EYE.

Will Be So Prepared That Visitors May Read as They Pass.

The important matter of arranging suitable placards for the different parts of the state's exhibit is under consideration by the Lewis an. Clark State Commiswhich has charge of the entire Oren exhibit, Many suggestions have been considered, fo be adopted is one in but the system to be adopted is one in which economy of attention is the prin-cipal factor. The placards are to be large and displayed in such manner that the

KIND WORDS FROM ST. LOUIS

Globe-Democrat Recommends Liberal Support of Oregon Country Fair.

In its editorial columns the St. Louis Globe-Democrat, one of the leading pa-pers of the Middle West, devotes more than a column of space to the Lewis and perg of the Middle West, devotes more than a column of space to the Lewis and Clark Exposition, in an issue of several days ago. The Globe-Democrat advises general participation in the Portland Fair next year and states that the project is most worthy and is bound to bring inestimable good to America. The editorial concludes as follows:

The country would be profited by giving a liberal support to the Lewis and Clark Exposition. It is situated very far from the center itheral support to the Lewis and Clark Expo-sition. It is affuated very far from the center of the country, to be sure, and thus will be at a disadvantage as compared with Chicago in 1806 and St. Louis in 1806. But the Oregon metropolis is a very progressive and interest-ing city. The Pacific Coast is a very im-portant part of the National domain, and every American ought to take especial pains to visit it some time or other in his life. The chance for crossing the Countricutal Divide and enter-ing the wast empire on the country's sunset ing the vast empire on the country's sunse verge ought to appeal to the great body of iberal patronage from the people of the le United States.

This is a branch of the farming indus try that is wrongly neglected," said Mr. Prince. "Not only do walnuts grow well in Oregon, but the supply, is entirely in-adequate to the demand. I can sell every walnut I raise in my orchard and get big rates for them. The farmer who does not include a number of walnut trees in his orchard is overlooking a good bid."

TO PREVENT EXTORTION.

Fair Management Arranging for Uniform Charges by Draymen. Negotiations were commenced yesterday between the Lewis and Clark management and local truckmen and transfer companies looking to the establishment of a uniform rate of charge for transferring exhibits and the equipment of concessionaires. The Draymen's Association had a committee on hand to carry on negotiations, and after looking over the Expositional and historical importance and are tion grounds the committee agreed to sub-mit a schedule within a day or two. mit a schedule within a day or two.

The idea of the Exposition management is to prevent exorbitant transfer charges to participants in the Fair, and, unless an agreement is reached with local haulers, the management may arrange an independent transfer system.

AT THE THEATERS

What the Press Agents Say.

MATINEE AT MARQUAM. Last Performance of "The County

Chairman" This Afternoon. This afternoon at 2:15 o'clock the last performance of the greatest of all comedy-dramas, "The County Chairman," will be given at the Marquam Grand Theater. Never in the history of theatricals have the newspapers of this city urged the people to witness a play as they have this clever comedy. Now, don't be late and say "I wish I had gone." This is, as all the papers have said, one of the best plays most capably acted that Portland ever had. No performance tonight.

Last Chance Tonight.

Last Chance Tonight.

"In Mizzoura" is admittedly one of the funniest of American comedies, and that Portland can appreciate a good thing is demonstrated by the big business done at the Columbia Theater all through this week. This afternoon it will be presented in matinee, and the final performance of the bill will take place tonight.

Ever since the big old Missouri ox team appeared on the atreets with the famous asying, "Pike County or bust," printed on the wagon, the theater-goers who remembered the first Ralph Stuart production and Miss Counties great portrayal of the girl, Lizbeth, began talking of the play and advising friends to be sure and see it. Nearly every one who saw it at that time went again to the Columbia this week, and it is safe to assume that not one was disappointed in the excellent rendition given by Portland's present favorites. Togiven by Portland's present favorites. To-night is positively the last chance to see "In Mizzoura" for a long time to come. It should not be missed by any lover of character study and genuine fun and

"Heart of Chicago" Today.

But two more performances of th greatest spectacular melodrama of th age, "The Heart of Chicago," Lincoln i Carter's masterpiece, will be given a Cordray's—the schoolchildren's matine this afternoon and the final performance this evening. Lincoln J. Carter is so we known that the American people need n introduction to him or his work, and was long ago decided that "The Heart of Chicago" is the best of his many melo-dramatic spectacles. It is 11 years old and is just as powerful and thrilling now as it was in 1883, when it was first duced. You should not miss it today

COMING ATTRACTIONS.

Promise a Fine Performance.

There is every promise that in "The Girl I Left Behind Me" the Columbia Theater Stock Company will do some of the very best work in its history. Rehearsals have indicated that the play will be done with a thoroughness, spirit and dash that must, in itself, appeal strongly to theater-goers. Mr. Baume will play Lieutenant Hawkesworth, a part which he has given thorough study on more than one occasion, and every requirement of which he understands. Miss Counties also has Kate Kennion, the Army officer's daughter, and Portlanders will remember with pleasure her excellent impersonation, especially her strong emotional work in the third-act, when the stockade is about to be captured by the Indians and her father is on the verge of killing her, to save her from a worse fate. Mr. Bernard will play his old role of the coward, in which re acored a great hit at the Baker two seasons age. Fred Esmelton will play the Indian chief. Scarbrow, and Dot Bernard will be seen as Fawn, the Indian girl.

Mason and Mason Next Week.

The last week of the management of Cordray & Russell, of the famous Cordray's Theater, will be a notable one, for it will present America's foremost Dutch comedians. Mason and Mason, in their economy or attention is the prinfactor. The placards are to be large Jeffries' Sale Today.

This morning at 10 o'clock the advance sale of seats will open for Champion James J. Jeffries, who comes to the Mar-quam Grand Theater next Tuesday night election day). November 8, in the stirring Western drama, "Davy Crockett." A three-round scientific boxing contest will be given immediately after the performance between Joseph Kennedy and Cham-pion Jeffries. The election returns will be read from the stage.

"The Tenderfoot" Coming.

"The Tenderfoot," one of the bigges and most tuneful musical comedies that ever came to the Coast, will be the attraction at the Marquam Grand Theater next Thursday, Friday, Saturday nights, November 10, 11, 12, with a special-price matinee Saturday. The advance sale of seats will open next Tuesday.

AT THE VAUDEVILLE THEATERS

Matinees at the Star. The two matinees at the Star Theater today offer especial attractions to school children. The bill is full of special features, hun orous and entertaining, not the east of which is Kitty Rockwell's darzling finme-clothed dance. "The Great Bank Robbery" is one of the most inter-esting moving picture films ever presented in Portland. As a star feature for next week's bill the management has yielded to popular request and announces the re-turn engagement of Sylvester, Jones and Pringle, the famous minstrels. They will open the new hill Monday afterneon and their return will be halled with delight by entertainers on their previous visit.

Among the epoch-marking attractions at the Baker this week is Bigney, the world's greatest bridge-jumper and high diver. He has won his title by bons fide achievements, of which his latest is a fair example. Yesterday morning he dived headlong from the top of the Burnside-street bridge into the Willamette, a distance of 144 feet. He was picked up un-injured by P. G. MacLean, the well-known sketch comedian, who is now appearing at the Baker in company with Miss Mack in their clever comedy sketch. Mr. Mac-Lean himself is one of the most cele-brated swimmers and athletes in the country. Among Bigney's other feats was a headlong dive from Brooklyn bridge, he being the only man who has ever made a successful attempt except Steve Brodie. There are a dozen reasons why you should go to the Baker. Go and see. That's all.

worthy of being seen by every school pu-pil of the city. George Evans, a black-face comedian, is a fountain of mirth, while the trick banjo and guitar playing of the two Aivinos is a novelty act of the highest class. Two matiness this after-

The Lyric Today.

Another day of the wonderful Lyric vaudeville festival is here, and happy indeed are those who are destined to attend one of, the performances. The greatest bill, in the history of the theater is on one in the history of the theater is on and will give way tomorrow night for something even more pretentious. If you miss seeing Joe Allmon, the unbleached American, and all the other great stars who have kept their audiences in a de-lightful frame of mind all week, you will have to hurry up. It will be too late af-ter tomorrow wich: nave to hurry up. It will be too late af-ter tomorrow night. See the Lyrie show today and you will be satisfied that all the claims made by the management are true. Thousands of people are singing the praises of Keating & Flood for giv-ing them such a spiendid offering of hi-b-class vaudeville for such a triffing admission fee. Wise up. Go today.

Bijou's Last Chances. Today and tomorrow are the last chances to see Roscoe, the hypnotist, who has made the Bijou public marvel this week. He goes back to Seattle for a return engagement. Kellacy Moore has been watched this week by several men especially interested in slack-wire performers. Praise from such men means something.

After serious illness Hood's Sarsaparilla imparts the strength and vigor so much needed.
