

HISTORIA FROST

Parker Unable to Entice Voters.

MANAGERS ARE DOWNCAST

Only Two Connecticut Towns at All Demonstrative.

STAMFORD IS VERY CHILLY

Judge is Ready to Make a Speech, but No One Appears—Republicans Are Confident as Ever of Carrying New York.

OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washington, Nov. 4.—The Star prints the following dispatch from the staff correspondent who accompanied Judge Parker on his recent trip:

"Judge Parker's dash into Connecticut was a half-and-half affair. It promised to be a decided frost from the first two meetings, but warmed up in the evening at Meriden and Hartford. The net result was disappointing to the Democratic managers. They could not truthfully claim that Judge Parker set the prairie afire in Connecticut. He did not do it in New Jersey, either. Thus at the close of the week, which opened auspiciously for the Democrats, the Parker propaganda has made no material headway outside of New York. The political pendulum did not swing very far, after all, to the Democratic side.

"At Stamford the Judge was ready to make a speech, but no one appeared and he told the conductor of the train to move on. At South Norwalk a handful of curious persons stood around. At Bridgeport, which is a large town, the Democratic candidate received a decided frost. This is the great industrial center which gave the Speaker Cannon an enthusiastic welcome last week. At New Haven the reception was chilly. The Judge drove from the station to the hall without a cheer being uttered. Many men were attracted to the meeting by curiosity to see the Judge. When Bryan came to New Haven in his campaign the mills shut down, business houses closed and the whole town turned out. There was no excitement in New Haven yesterday.

"At Meriden and Hartford the Judge received genuine ovations. Large crowds listened to him and his remarks created enthusiasm."

The close of the week finds the Republican managers still confident of carrying New York for Roosevelt. The estimate most generally given is 50,000 plurality for Roosevelt. No reports from any section indicate the probability of Roosevelt losing the state.

VICTIM OF HIS ENVIRONMENT.

Parker Has Forgotten He Wanted Campaign Free of Abuse.

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—(Special.)—The Tribune today says:

On August 17 Judge Parker wrote to George F. Parker, chief of the Democratic literary bureau, admonishing him that nothing must appear in the Democratic text-book which would in any way reflect upon the honor and integrity of President Roosevelt. Now Parker is himself reiterating from the stump charges of a personal and offensive character attacking the honor of the President and the honesty of Chairman Cortelyou and repeating columns as baseless as they are beneath the dignity of a public man, to say nothing of one who aspires to the Presidency. Parker gives no dates, no amounts, no facts.

Every intelligent observer of the campaign is forced to the conclusion that Parker, the victim of his environment, surrounded by politicians of the type of Hill, McCarran, Sheehan, et al., and goaded to desperation, has cast his better judgment and his finer instincts to the wind and thrown himself into the unworthy part outlined by his political mentors. In playing this part he is impressing the American public with his mental and moral unfitness for the great office to which he aspires.

"HISTORY" BY A DEMOCRAT.

He Declares Morgan Made Cortelyou Secretary of Commerce.

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—(Special.)—The Post prints the following:

Charles Edwards, secretary of the Democratic Congressional committee, today gave out the following statement:

In order to corroborate the statements made by Judge Parker on the stump concerning the shamelessness of the Republican Administration in making Cortelyou chairman of the Republican National Committee in order to hold up the trusts by withholding information possessed by him, I will give a little history of how Cortelyou became Secretary of Commerce and Labor.

I know it to be a fact that J. Pierpont Morgan wanted and demanded his friend as the head of this new department. When the bill for the creation of the new Cabinet position was before Congress J. Pierpont Morgan insisted upon a promise from the President that he would appoint Cortelyou to the new place. He knew Cortelyou and knew he could depend upon his silence with regard to knowledge of corporations which would be acquired by him in his new position. After promises were made his lobby used every known influence they could command to secure the passage of the bill. If the promise had not been given the bill would never have seen daylight in Congress. These I know to be facts.

Taft May Succeed Justice Fuller.

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—(Special.)—The Herald today says:

Chief Justice Fuller, of the Supreme Court, is expected to retire on March 5, and in all probability if Roosevelt is elected, Secretary of War Taft will be appointed to the vacancy. Fuller was appointed April 30, 1883. He is a Democrat.

AMERICA RULES THE WORLD OF INDUSTRY! THERE'S TREMENDOUS INTEREST IN AMERICAN WEEK!

WE HAVE RECEIVED A

Flood of commendatory letters went the great exposition of American productions we've been exploiting the past week, some from people very prominent in their several walks of life. We may ask the favor, later on, from the writers, to allow publication of same. We are pleased indeed at the interest manifested. Tourists from the great Eastern business centers have passed through the busy aisles this week and expressed amazement at the immensity and variety, the fine quality and top-notch mark of style of American products as displayed here. Good—'tis our mission to please—and our public is indeed large. Such displays as are gathered here in these stores would be impossible elsewhere in all the West, for the simple reason that nowhere else is gathered, under one great tripod roof, such immense stocks, so carefully chosen, of splendidly made American goods. We print below a series of reminders of the savings made possible today, to our patrons, by the special exploitation this "AMERICAN WEEK" of GOOD "HOME-MADE" PRODUCTS. LOOKERS AND BUYERS, TOURISTS AND HOMBPOLE, all look alike here. You're "at home" always at the "Old Homestead"—"Daylight Store"—but COME BEFORE 6 P. M.—THIS "TODAY STORE" is closed after that. "Saturdays?"—why, sure—why not? 'Tis the better way.

Thanksgiving Table Napery Annual Sale

The World's Best Linens Serve America's Great Festival Season, Thanksgiving

How may we apply this product of Ireland, Germany, Scotland and France to an "American Sale" one might ask. 'Tis true that climatic conditions preclude the possibility of manufacturing linens in competition with the great flax-growing countries. But Americans demand the best linens in the world—the most durable and finest—so we, as one of America's largest linen buyers, go to the first source of supply—the famous Irish Richardson family of Belfast, and use our best American judgment, acquired in over a quarter century of careful linen buying, and select linens for this big store's great shopping family.
