Japanese Press Hard on Port Arthur.

ANOTHER FORT CAPTURED

Naval Guns Will Soon Pound on Doomed City.

RUSSIANS EXPECT THE FALL

Commanders Are Breaking the News Gently to Their Men, So as to Prepare Them for the Inevitable Event.

Military activity in the vicinity of the Shakh River is limited to the extension and strengthening of entrenchments. There are indications that the Japanese have not given up the plan of seeking to force General Kurapatkin into another general engagement, although in military circles at St. Petersburg the belief is expressed that there will be no other big battle in the campaign this year.

LONDON, Nov. 7.—Special dispatches

from Chefoo and Tien Tsin report that the defenders of Port Arthur have retired to the Liaoi Hill fort, where they are holding out desperately, entrenched, and with ten guns of large caliber. Many Russians, the correspondent asserts, are deserting and surrendering. The Japanese, it is added, are advancing with an irresistible energy.

More reliable reports do not confirm these statements, but the Tokio report of the capture of Wansai Hill, a dominating fort within two miles of the railway terminus, shows that the Japanese are making rapid strides.

Bennett Burleigh, the Daily Telegraph's correspondent, reports from Chefoo that there was no fighting on the night of November 1. The troops of the Mikado, he says, have frequently stolen into the native town of Port Arthur after dark, but invariably were driven out at daylight with heavy losses. The Japanese have four large forts facing the Russian works on Riblung Mountain, and Shanshu Mountain, where they are mounting naval guns on stone foundations.

Mukden dispatches to Berlin state that the Russian commanders are preparing their men to hear of the fall of Port Arthur.

ALEXIEFF NOT TO BLAME.

Russian Unpreparedness Was Due Solely to the Czar.

LONDON, Nov. 7.—In an interesting conversation today a highly-placed Russian military officer expressed himself frankly on matters pertaining to Russia's present position. His state of health compelled him to leave his post at the front some weeks ago. His regiment, recruited in the Caucasus, has out of 2500 men, only 300 left. It participated in the awful struggle before Liao Yang. It was a great mistake, he said, to blame the tragedy of the Far East on Vice-Admiral Alexieff.

"This erroneous impression," he said, "seems to prevail all throughout Europe. Alexieff is not a brilliant man, but he is a thoroughly competent administrator. The blame for unpreparedness lies higher up. It is not a pleasure for a loyal Russian to make the admission, but we, who know the true state of affairs, have long ago become convinced that the blame rests solely upon the Czar."

"Alexieff repeatedly warned him in fact that unless his Far Eastern policy was modified, it would precipitate war. For six months before the outbreak of hostilities, our then Minister at Tokio, Baron von Rosen, sent weekly reports of Japanese preparations and in the strongest language forecasted the crisis. I understand from the best authority that the Czar met every one of these reports with remarks of incredulity."

"I will not permit war," he said. "It is simply out of the question and your fears are childish."

"These reports will enable future historians to place the blame. In this way it came about our feet was not ready, that Port Arthur was not adequately protected and that our army consisted of half-trained men and it was not sufficient in numbers."

"And what will the future bring?"

"The future will bring victory. We have learned a bitter lesson and we will make use of our experiences."

"We shall throw an army into Manchuria which will crush the Japanese."

PORT IS WELL PROTECTED.

Vladivostok Fortification Has Been in Process for Months.

CHEFOO, Nov. 6.—As the result of months of preparation, Vladivostok is now strongly protected, according to Captain Halvorsen, of the Norwegian steamer Tungus, who, as told in these dispatches last evening, arrived here five days out from that port, with 700 Chinese refugees, who were unable to live at Vladivostok any longer, owing to the high prices of food and other necessities, due to the war.

Captain Halvorsen says that the Vladivostok system of fortifications begins many miles outside the city proper and grows stronger as the city is approached. Ships laden with food, cannon, ammunition and all sorts of military supplies frequently arrive at Vladivostok, according to Captain Halvorsen, who says that five ships engaged in unloading their cargoes were in port when the Tungus sailed.

The captain is unable to estimate the strength of the garrison, but he says that everybody at Vladivostok seems to be either an officer or an ordinary soldier.

The European residents of Vladivostok show their confidence in the security of the city by evidencing an unwillingness to leave it. If the Japanese make an attempt to capture Vladivostok, it is the belief of Captain Halvorsen that they will find it to be a second Port Arthur.

The captain says he believes that submarine boats have arrived at Vladivostok, but adds that he is not positive in this belief, for the reason that at present the Russian naval secrets are being most closely guarded. The harbor of Vladivostok, he says, has been mined for a distance of some seven miles. In four miles of this area contact mines have been laid, while in the remaining three miles electric mines have been planted. Mail trains arrive at and depart from Vladivostok every day, and there is now stored there a immense supply of coal taken from mines in the neighborhood of the city.

NEW OFFICERS FOR ARMY.

Indications That Campaign is Ended for the Winter.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 6.—The army organ today publishes a long list of new appointments in the Far East, including the appointments of Generals Linnovitch and Kaulbars to the First and Third Armies, respectively. General Kiselevitch, second and thirty-seventh Divisions of the First Corps, whose chief, General Mendorf, is resting on account of ill-health. General Sleschevsky, commander of the Tenth Corps, has also resigned and it is expected that he will be succeeded by General Isvritsky.

The sweeping character of these changes may imply that there is no intention on General Kurapatkin's part to assume the offensive during this year's campaign unless an exceptionally favorable opportunity offers. Indeed, it begins to look like a deadlock below Mukden for the winter, unless Port Arthur falls or the Japanese abandon the idea of renewing the assault upon the fortress there and settle down to a regular siege, either of which would release enough troops to give the preponderance necessary to try to force the Russian out of Mukden.

In fact, the latest dispatches from the front indicate that some such move is preparing, though the best opinion at the War Office holds to the view that there is not likely to be another big battle this year, one of the indications pointed out being the departure of many military attachés from the winter.

General Orloff, whom General Kurapatkin blamed for the Russian reverse at Liao Yang, declares in the course of an interview published in the Novoye Vremya today that he obeyed General Stakelberg's orders in making the much-criticized attack, in which his division was decimated and he himself wounded.

General Kurapatkin apparently is convinced that Orloff was not to blame, and the order detaching him has been revoked and he has been appointed on General Kurapatkin's staff.

MAKING THEIR FRONT STRONG

Japanese Are Expected to Soon to Make Advance.

MUKDEN, Nov. 6.—Quiet continues here. The Japanese are still working hard entrenching their front, which begins to look like a continuous fort. It is believed they are preparing seriously to advance, making their front strong, possibly in order that it may be held by a small force, while the heavier force engages in flank movements.

The Japanese have learned by bitter experience not to expect much by a frontal attack. They are obliged, however, to maintain a strong front to prevent General Kurapatkin from breaking through their line and carrying the fight to their rear.

There is considerable evidence to indicate that the Japanese will make every effort to force the Russians out of Mukden, not only for the moral effect on Europe, but also for the Chinese as well. Mukden is extremely important to them as winter quarters. The Japanese continue to receive reinforcements, and it is believed by Russian military men that their advancing depends only upon accumulating sufficient men.

KILLED BY CHINESE BANDITS.

Russian Officer and Interpreters Were Exploring Mongolia.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 6.—General Kurapatkin reports that Lieutenant-Colonel Bogdanoff, who was sent by Vice-Admiral Alexieff to explore Mongolia, accompanied by only two interpreters and a courier, was attacked by Chinese bandits November 5, near Dulinh Mountain, on the Chinese Eastern Railway, and that one of the interpreters was killed, the others of the party being captured.

A valky sent in pursuit of the bandits found the corpses of Lieutenant-Colonel Bogdanoff, the second interpreter and the courier, which have been brought to Harbin. General Kurapatkin adds that punitive measures will be taken.

General Kurapatkin also reports the long of a Japanese attack on his right flank on November 5. Six Russians were killed. No reports of fighting today have been received.

Will Bid Soldiers Good-Bye.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 6.—According to present arrangements Emperor Nicholas will go this week to Poland to bid farewell to the troops of the Second Army, who are being stationed near Siderowick, and thence thence to Minsk and Vitebsk to bid farewell to the Fourth and Sixteenth Corps. The trip to Poland, however, may be deferred on account of ailments reported from Warsaw of rioting at Czesstochowa, where the Second Brigade is stationed.

Linevitch Ordered to the Field.

KHABAROVSK, Nov. 6.—By General Kurapatkin's order General Linevitch left today to rejoin the field force.

FOLLOW WALL STREET LEAD.

London Operators Expect Rise After the Elections Are Over.

LONDON, Nov. 6.—Business on the stock exchange has been mainly influenced by the varying phases of the North Sea affair, concern being strongly expressed at apprehensions of a possible Anglo-Russian war. When Thursday found the trouble at least temporarily arranged and fears that the bank would raise the discount rate unneeded, the market rapidly recovered, but remained in a somewhat nervous mood.

The American market was disturbed by New York's gold shipments, but operators here mainly followed the lead of Wall street, though keeping prices somewhat above the Wall-street level in the expectation that the markets will improve after the Presidential election.

Programme of Irrigation Congress.

EL PASO, Tex., Nov. 6.—The executive committee of the 12th National Irrigation Congress has mailed to all delegates an advance programme of the proceedings of the coming session of the Congress to be held in this city November 15 to 18. On the subjects of forestry, engineering and mechanics, production by irrigation, climatology and rural sociology, the programme includes addresses and papers by 8 of the most prominent experts in their respective departments.

A large list of delegates is already in the hands of the secretary. Additional lists are being received daily from all parts of the country and a heavy attendance is assured.

Fairbanks Glad to Rest.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 6.—Senator Charles W. Fairbanks remained at home all day with his family. To many friends who called upon him he said the day of rest was especially welcome.

IS AN ANCIENT FEUD

Subject Italian Provinces Cannot Be Germanized.

CAUSE OF INNSBRUCK AFFAIR

Austria Denied Request of Italian Subjects for a Faculty From Their Race at University at Trieste.

ROME, Nov. 6.—When Premier Giolitti came into power a year ago he found the relations between Italy and Austria in a very disturbed condition in consequence of the fact that anti-Austrian demonstrations had been tolerated by Signor Zanardelli, his predecessor, who, it is alleged, winked at the propaganda for the union with Italy of the Italian provinces that are still subject to Austria. Signor Giolitti changed all this and assured Austria she had nothing to fear from Italy.

This was publicly emphasized by a meeting at Abbazia in April last of Signor Tittoni, the Italian Minister of Foreign Affairs, and Count Goltuchowski, the Austrian Chancellor. However, Austria's denial of the request of her Italian subjects for a national university at Trieste led up to the troubles at Innsbruck which have endangered good relations between the two governments.

Behind all other explanations of the Innsbruck affair there is the racial hatred between Italians and Austro-Germans in Italian provinces subject to Austria, the latter element having vainly tried for five centuries to Germanize the province. Austria's refusal to establish an Italian faculty in the University of Trieste has been attributed to the fear that it would result in the university becoming the center of an anti-Austrian propaganda, but recently it was decided to institute an Italian faculty at the Innsbruck University. This went into effect November 2 when the rioting began. The disturbances, it is alleged here, were provoked by aggressions on the part of the Germans.

The Cabinets of Vienna and Rome are doing what they can to smooth over the difficulty.

ARTIST GIVEN PUBLIC FUNERAL

Gendarmes Keep the Immense Crowds in Order.

INNSBRUCK, Nov. 6.—The body of the artist Presser, who was stabbed through the heart with a bayonet during the rioting here the night of November 3, was buried this afternoon in the Innsbruck cemetery in the presence of a great crowd and was an imposing ceremony. Perfect order was maintained. A strong force of gendarmes kept the riotous and large detachments of troops were held in reserve.

The City Council had decided that the funeral should be at the public expense and black flags were hung on all public buildings. The coffin was followed to the cemetery by the burgomaster, members of the City Council, the rector of the university, members of the Academic Senate and students' clubs carrying flags. The coffin was hidden under masses of wreaths. Burgomaster Grell and Deputy Schalk delivered orations at the side of the grave.

After the funeral crowds promenade the streets singing German patriotic songs and 3000 people assembled on Maria Teresa street, where Deputies Berger and Stein delivered inflammatory addresses. The police interposed and up to two deputies fled to the station, where they took trains for Vienna to avoid arrest.

Much excitement prevails throughout the city. Disorders were renewed last night. The gendarmes finally scattered the rioters.

ITALIAN EXTREMISTS LOSE.

New Deputies Just Elected Are Mostly Conservatives.

ROME, Nov. 6.—The general election for members of the Chamber of Deputies took place here and up to now no serious incident had been reported. Results ascertained from about three-fifths of the constituencies show that the power of the extreme parties had been diminished, without, however, materially augmenting the number of Ministerial followers, as most of the new recruits are Conservatives, who may be expected soon to abandon Premier Giolitti's Liberalism.

Sonnino, the leader of the Constitutional opposition, has lost some of his followers, owing to the fact that Milan, which formerly was represented by extremists, has elected two Conservatives, one Clerical and two Socialist Reformers, one of whom, Turati, was supported American Evangelists at Liverpool.

LIVERPOOL, Nov. 6.—The American evangelists, Lorry and Alexander, opened a three months' revival here today in a building that had been especially erected for the purpose, with a seating capacity of 12,000. Twenty of the government from defeat in the Andre debate has caused a great outcry on the part of the Nationalist Journals to the effect that the Ministry must resign. The Press, the Nationalist organ, publishes an interview with M. Clagney, the president of the Nationalist group, violently denouncing the Ministry.

The Journal hazards the suggestion that a dissolution of the Ministry will be proposed on Monday. Well-informed persons, however, consider that the government has passed through this important crisis and is now stronger than hitherto.

Students Cry "Down With Austria."
MILAN, Nov. 6.—About 500 students today gathered in the center of the city crying, "Down with Austria," and called to the balcony of his hotel the Innsbruck correspondent of El Corriere Della Sera, who had just arrived from that place, after having been severely maltreated by Germans.

Subsequently, four Germans, who were sitting in a cafe, began singing, "The Watch on the Rhine." Requests that they cease met with further insults and further declarations that the Italians were cowards. A fight with sticks ensued and a number were injured. The police restored order.

French Ministry is Denounced.
PARIS, Nov. 6.—The narrow escape

tion of the card machine, on condition that a fine of $5 for each machine is voluntarily paid each quarter by its owner. So the Council is going to license gambling. Evidently the city is in need of funds. Such being the case, why discriminate? Gambling is gambling, no matter what the stakes; whether it be for cigars or money. It seems to me that, for the mental, moral and physical well being of the human race, that it is better to gamble for money than for cigars, which cloud the brain, sap the vitality and destroy the nervous system, while the profits from gambling, if in money, can be used to good purpose, at the discretion of the winner.

If the city needs money, why does not the Council cater to gamblers who have money, instead of to the poor venturers? They would see it more remunerative. But birds of a feather flock together.

It will be interesting to note how Sheriff Ward will accept this new jargon. S. J. STEWART.
