Governor-Elect Says Result Is Not Surprising.

THE YEAR FOR REPUBLICANS

Satisfied That the Legislature That Comes to Power Can Take Care of the Railroad or Any Other Question.

BELLINGHAM, Wash. Nov. 8.—'I have just received a telegram from Sen-stor Turner congratulating me and conceeding my election as Governor of Washington," said Albert E. Mead to-night "I was not surprised at the re-sult, as I felt that this was a Republi-sult, as I felt that this was a Republi-can year, and there was no reason why. Republicans should not vote their Na-tional and state tickets. There has been general prosperity in Washington, espe-cially in the eastern part of the state. There was no reason why there should be a reversal of Republican policies, "The people of Western Washington were not moved by the clamor put up by Democrats that the Republican party was dominated by railroads. That sen-timent had some strength in Whitman and other Eastern Washington counties, but not to the extent the Democrats ex-pected. It was injected into the cam-paign issues because the Democrats had paign issues because the Democrats had paign issues because the Democrats had no other issue to stand on.

"I am gratified at the fact that we have a Republican Legislature, and I am satisfied that the Legislature will take care of the rallroad question or any oth-er question. The verdict of the people shows a disposition on their part to stand by the party that stands by them."

TURNER ACCEPTS HIS DEFEAT High Words of Praise for President Roosevelt.

SPOKANE, Wash., Nov. 9.-Regret over the defeat of the commission forces in the state campaign was expressed in s public statement given out tonight by ex-Senator George Turner, who, as the nominee for Governor, led the commis-don forces. Judge Turner's statement

"I regret the result in this state, because I fear it will indefinitely postpone any action of value looking to the con-trol of freight rates, and to the equal-gation of taxes on railways and other ublic service corporations. I am willing, nowever, to suspend judgment, and, if our Republican friends do anything worthy of commendation in that direc-worthy of commendation in that direc-tion, to give them credit for it.

"I am more than content with the re-sult, so far as I am personally con-cerned. I enjoy my home here much more than I could possibly enjoy a four-years' resident at Olympia, however pleasant that might be, and certainly my business interests will be much better conserved than by an absence of four-years.

But I do not value any the less the loyal and steadfast support which I re-ceived in the campaign from both Re-publicans and Democrats all over the state, and I extend to all of them my thanks for that support.

"I regard President Roosevelt's sweeping victory in the Nation as in the nafure of a personal vindication for him. Joseph Pulitzer, of the New York World, never will understand the temper of American people, started the personal clusade against the President, and, un-fortunately, the managers of the Demo-cratic campaign took up the hue and cry crafte campaign took up the hoe and cry and carried it forward.

'I do not agree with most of Re-publican policies of today, but I know the President to be an honest, able, fearless and pairfotic man, and the Na-tion at large recognizes him as such and resents any implication to the contrary. If he is impulsive, his impulses are all good and no harm can come from them.
