Vote for Canal Model

The High School leads, with St. Mary's Academy a good second and Harrison School pressing hard. Park School and others follow as printed below. The composition contest for the 12.00 in gold closed one week from tomorrow—Saturday night. Compositions are coming in fast. All are a credit to their young writers. More mention of them next week. The voting at 5 P. M. yesterday stood:

Table with 2 columns: School Name and Total Votes. Includes High School (116,286), St. Mary's Academy (108,022), Harrison School (75,580), Park School (75,585), Portland Academy (77,075), Atkinson School (76,558), Williams-Avenue School (77,132), Felling School (78,921), Holladay School (78,921), Sunnyside School (18,706), Total votes (682,697).

EXPLODING A THEORY

At the beginning of the 19th century the French Academy of Sciences offered a prize to the first person who solved the following problem: If you take a vase full of water and put a stone of any similar body in it, the water will flow over. If, however, you put into it a fish, the volume of which is equal to that of the stone, it will not flow over. Explain this phenomenon. Unfortunately, however, one avant, more skeptical than the rest, discovered that the fish-filled vase overflows as well. So another theory was exploded. Deserving a similar fate is the theory of a cash store can underfill a credit one—using the word "credit" in the "monthly settlement" sense. See me about it. THE "CREDIT MAN," Third Floor.

Theater and Evening Wraps Evening Gowns and Party Costumes Calling and Carriage Gowns at One-Half

The lowest prices ever put upon equal qualities anywhere in the West. It seems as though all Portland has been served; if, however, there are yet some remaining who would provide themselves with these magnificent creations we shall be glad to serve them. But for the balance of the week we want to urge the importance of attending to these matters. TOWN FOLK. It will pay to plan a special trip to Portland to attend this sale. Think of saving $50 on a $100 evening gown, wrap or costume, or $100 on a $200 value of the same; that's just what you do when you buy these same here this week—and our regular prices, at all times, are lower than elsewhere in all the West for the same qualities—say naught of the exclusive styles obtainable only at this store. The latest and most imaginative expression of Fashion's later ideas in theater and evening wraps, $50 to $250, now one-half price—$25 to $125; calling and carriage gowns, $75 to $350, now one-half price—$37.50 to $175; costumes and evening gowns, $75 to $350, now one-half price—$37.50 to $175. The greatest sale of high-art creations in dress for fashionable women ever attempted or conducted in all the West.

Dr. Depew's Warning Heeded!

PURSUIT OF WEALTH ABANDONED! Senator Depew of New York recently warned young men not to pursue wealth, but "higher and nobler ideals"; which evoked the retort that "man would look well going to do his family marketing with a bunch of high and noble ideals as collateral." Look well he might, but how he would feel we can only conjecture. In making the absolutely matchless offerings printed in this announcement, we are certainly not pursuing wealth, and possibly some of those "higher and nobler ideals" are the ends in view. Be that as it may, it calls for mighty little collateral to obtain these values—in several cases about half the ordinary quantity.
