Active Partisans to Lose Fat Jobs in Washington.

SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. IL-(Special.) Those McBride office-holders who sup-ported the Republican nominees during the last campaign will be allowed by Governor-elect A. E. Mead to hold tacir pro-ent berths until their term expires. The men who fought him will be dropped from the state's pay roll as soon as the new Governor can affix his name to a certifiate of appointment. This is the promise nade during the campaign by the Republican managers.

J. W. Arrasmith, State Grain Inspector. T. B. Kershaw, State Fish Commissioner, and J. C. Coffman, Commandant of the Soldiers' Home, are the principal men whose tenure of office is certain until the date of their commission has been reached. There are a few other state officials who may be allowed to hold on for a time, since Republican managers are not able to trace their open opposition to Mend.

F. A. Dryden, Warden of the State Penitentiary, will be the first man to go. The Mead managers insist on this and the shake-up of the Board of Control will follow. The Republican politicians hold that Dryden's opposition to Mead could have been checked by the Board of Control and that the fight made against the state that the fight made against the state ticket by employes of other institutions was due to an unfriendly Board of Con-

Lively Fire at Baker City. BAKER CITY, Or., Nov. IL—(Special.)—
A fire broke out in Brown's tailor shop, on the corner of First and Court streets, this morning at 4 o'clock, which destroyed the tailor shop and the Miller Hotel, adjoining. For a time the entire block was threatened, including the big hardware warmhous of the Blasche-Sare Hardware warehouse of the Basche-Sage Hardware Company, and the new Elks' Hall, but a favorable wind and the efforts of the firemen prevented the fire from spreading beyond the hotel. The loss on the tailor shop and stock was about $3500, $3000 of which was on the stock, which was insured for $1250. The Miller Hotel is a total loss, including the furniture. The loss on the building is about $300, insurance $1400. The loss on the

PENDLETON, Or., Nov. II.—(Special.)—
The official count of the vote of Umatilia supplemented by a statement concluding County was completed this evening. that there were in evidence circumsta that might indicate death by violent and critisial means at the hands of a person or persons unknown to the jury. Mr. Brown found the body of his wife lying on the kitchen floor near the stove, the door to the house being locked with the key on the outside. Fragments of partially burned clothing scattered about the floor bore mute evidence of an atthe floor bore mute evidence of an at-tempt to burn the building after the commission of the crime. So badly decomposed was the body that the jury was unable to determine in what manner the woman came to her death. While there were no broken bones, it is the supposi-tion that the woman was choked and strangled to death.

Testimony was offered at the inquest to the effect that Mrs. Brown was last seen alive September M. and the murder, if such it was, was probably committed soon thereafter, since the woman had been dead for about four weeks. No suspicion attaches to the husband, who is a laboring man accustomed to leaving home for weeks at a time to procure employment in the lumber camps, leaving his wife alone

August 18 last, Brown left, his home and did not return until yesterday evening. It is reported, however, that Brown was at times cruel to his wife, whom he obliged to work hard, and frequently chastised her severely. Brown and his wife were hard-working, industrious people, espenard-working, industrious people, especially economical and saving, expending from their earnings only what was actually necessary for their immediate wants. It was generally believed by the neighbors that the couple had hoarded their savings, which were secreted about the building in which they lived.

Suspects were arrested, but no convictions were secured. Corener Holman is of the opinion that Mrs. Brown came to her death while re-sisting a criminal assault, and this theory is corroborated in a measure from the fact that practically all of the clothing had been torn from her person. The disturbed arrangement of the room indicated a vio-lent struggle. Mr. Brown's statement that nothing of value is missing from the premises tends to discredit the theory of robbery that was first suggested.

MURDERED BODIES BURNED.

One Son of Retired Auburn Brewer's Family Escapes.

AUBURN, Cal. Nov. 11.—It is now known that Julius Weber, his wife, 41. years old, their 19-year-old daughter Bertha and their son Hall, aged 14 years, were murdered inst night by an unknown assassin, who set fire to the home in an effort to cover up his crime. Before the fire had made any great headway the hodies of the mother and her two children were rescued from the burning house. Mrs. Weber and her boy were still allye, but died almost as soon as they reached the air.

An examination of the bodies showed

An inquest will be held ton Coroner Shepard and Sheriff Keena and District Attorney Robertson are making a thorough investigation of the tragedy. They are advancing no theories, but the facts and circumstances would indicate that it was murder, either the work of a madman or a cool, calculating, premedi-tated crime. The robbery theory is about exploded, as no incentive has been found. Adolph Weber, the son, who is the only Adolph Weber, the son, who is the only member of the family alive, talks but little, but to the Coroner and the Sheriff he said that he did not think the motive was either robbery or revenge. When asked if he had a theory he said he had but would not give it. He did say reluctantly that his father had a violent temper. The boy said that he left the house about 6:30 and came down town, purchased a pair of trousers and did several other errands. When he went to the fire he dropped his old trousers, which were in a bundle, in the burning building. He is now at the home of Deputy County Treasurer John Adams. Young Weber was a very quiet fellow, a great reader and thinker, a chessplayer, palmist and dyspeptic.

The autopsy tonight on the body of Mr. Weber disclosed a builtet wound through the heart. The diameter of the wound was the same as that in the bodies of Mrs. Weber and Miss Weber, who were shot with a 22-caliber wespon. Owing to the fact that Mr. Weber's body was badly burned, no builtet could be found. Two 22-caliber rifles were discovered in the house, but no trace of a 32-caliber pistol. The opening session of the inquest tonight did not throw any light on the murders. The autopsy tonight on the body of Mr.

CHAMBERLAIN IS NETTLED

TOUCHED ON TENDER SPOT BY SENATOR COGSWELL LETTER.

Replies by Calling Attention to Attorney's Private Interest in Warner Valley Swamp Lands.

SALEM, Or., Nov. II.—(Special.)—When C. A. Cogswell, attorney for the Warner Valley Stock Company, made reference to Governor Chamberialn's motives in his action regarding the claims of Warner Valley settlers, he touched a tender spot in the Governor's official sensitive system. The last paragraph in Mr. Cogswell's letter in Thursday's Oregonian is the only one that affects the Governor to an appreciable degree and the only one to which he could make any reply.

Mr. Cogswell, after stating his view of the Warner Valley swamp-land controversy, expressed the opinion that "the people generally have a clear idea of the motives which have actuated the Governor in all his actions in this matter."

It was upon the subject of motives that the Governor spoke when asked what he had to say in reply to Mr. Cogswell's letter, and this is what he said:

"My friend Senator Cogswell's letter was intended to be facetious, and while he was making fun of my statements regarding the photos of the Warner Valley lands and intended to be facetious, and while he was making fun of my statements regarding the photos of the Warner Valley lands and questioning my motives in trying to secure justice for & to & settlers in Warner Valley, I think he might explain his own motives a little bit and tell the people about a claim he presented to the Legislature in 1856 while he was a member of the Senate, for $20,501.76, for services in securing title to $2,901.76 acres of swamp land. While making this explanation it might possibly develop that this same land was purchased by his client, the Warner Valley Stock Company, and it might further appear that he himself is a large stockholder in this same company. "It would certainly appear that the "It would certainly appear that the claim which he presented to the Legislature was all the state got for the land originally, and that although a member of the Senate himself, Senatorial courtesy would not allow more of his claim than $2000." The claim to which the Governor refers s not show whether or not the services. Cogswell rendered related to the Warner Valley land, nor when the services were rendered. The claim presented to the ways and means committee was written with a lead pencil on a sheet of Senate chamber paper, bearing Senator Cogswell's name. The writing is Mr. Coggswell's name. well's, and is as follows:

State of Oregon to C. A. Cogawell, Dr. To services in securing title to 32,901.76 acres of swamp land, $30,901.76. There is no date on this claim, but attached to it is a letter from George W. Davis, then clerk of the School Land Board, under date of February 18, 1885, while the Legislature of that year was in session. This letter is addressed to Hon. C. A. Cogswell, Senate Chamber, Salem, Or., and reads as follows: Dear Sir: I have the honor to advise you that the records of this office show that, of the lands essected by the state as swamp in the lists in which you acted as attornay in securing title, an aggregate of 39,901.78 acres have been approved to the state, nearly all of which has been sold and the money, therefore, received by the state.

The claim presented by Cogswell is in-dorsed in pencil, evidently by a commit-tee clerk, "Subcommittee recommended pay of $2000." This amount was incorpay of $300." This amount was incorporated in the general appropriation bill, which bill was put through two readings under suspension of the rules, upon motion of Senator Cogswell, and passed by the Senate after being considered in committee of the whole. The fact that Senator Cogswell voted for the bill is a point not overlooked by the Governor.

No records could be found in the State Land Office to indicate what particular land Mr. Cogswell secured title to or when the title was secured.
