

TIED UP BY GALE

Atlantic Wires Gone in All Directions.

TRAINS GREATLY DELAYED

Snow and Rain Aid in the Work of Destruction.

TROLLEY LINES PARALYZED

New York Reports Conditions the Worst Since the Memorable Storm of 1888—Several Wrecks Along the Coast.

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—The storm which swept up through the Atlantic States from the Gulf yesterday and last night, developing into a gale of hurricane force as it moved up, resulted in the most complete tie-up of wire communication that the East has experienced since the memorable snow storm of 1888, disarranged train schedules, paralyzed trolley lines and girded several wrecks along the coast. A downpour of rain and heavy snow which accompanied the storm added to the destructive force of the gale. Many telephone and telegraph poles were blown down by the weight of the wind, while snow and ice caused hundreds of wires to give way, cutting off whole sections of the country. Both the telegraph companies and the telephone companies with long-distance wires today reported their field of operation restricted to the territory bounded on the west by Philadelphia, on the east by Boston and on the north by Newburg, N. Y. The big brokerage concerns in Wall street, many of whom, under normal conditions, operate thousands of miles of wire, today found themselves practically helpless. The exchanges were no more fortunate and the only quotations received from Chicago and New Orleans were the market reports of the Associated Press. These quotations, brought over the Associated Press wires, were the only figures obtained in this city from the cotton and grain centers of the South and West.

By an elaborate system of relays and the use of both telephone and telegraph wires, the Associated Press succeeded in bridging the path between East and West cut by the storm and reached all points West, North and East, with the exception of a small section in the vicinity of Albany. There the damage from the snow and wind seemed beyond immediate repair, and with the exception of trains there was no communication with that section during the day. The general breaking down of wires was almost entirely responsible for trouble on the railroads. The movements of trains could not be reported and delays extending into hours in many cases were reported.

That no more disasters at sea resulted from the gale probably was due to the early warning of the approaching hurricane sent out by the Weather Bureau. Bulletins sent out Saturday afternoon told of the gale that would sweep the coast and cautioned all mariners against leaving port.

Two "trustees" and a keeper employed on Riker's Island, bringing the storm, started in a small boat from the island to One Hundred and Thirty-eighth street to get the New York keepers. After considerable work they managed to get out into the river, where the wind seemed to increase, and the three men were unable to reach the main land, the boat being swept down the river to South Brother Island, where it was beached.

The whereabouts of the men were unknown until today, and it was feared they had been drowned, as they had been compelled to remain on the island all night.

LINER STILL AGROUND.

Merion's One Thousand Passengers Are Landed at Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 14.—The American Line Steamship Merion, from Liverpool and Queenstown, for this port, which went aground on Chester Island Flats, in the Delaware River, 14 miles below this city, during the severe snowstorm of Sunday afternoon, was still fast in the mud at a late hour to night. The 1000 passengers who were compelled to remain on the big liner all night were taken off by the river steamer Columbia this afternoon and landed at the American Line pier in this city.

CENTER NOW OFF CAPE RACE.

Principal Damage in New England Is the Crippling of Wire Service.

BOSTON, Nov. 14.—The fierce Southern storm, which started off the Florida coast on Saturday and swept up the Atlantic seaboard, passed over the maritime provinces today and tonight had its center off Cape Race, Newfoundland. The storm in the provinces, particularly along the peninsula of Nova Scotia, was attended with terrific gales and an unusually low barometer. The gale at Halifax today showed a mark of 28.

Telegraphic and telephonic communication with the provinces is interrupted. Tonight there is no wire communication east or north of Waterville, Me.

and all telegraphic connections between this city and points in the State of Vermont is suspended. At 7:40 o'clock tonight the New England Telephone Company got its first wire since the storm began through to Burlington. As reports have been received here from points along the New England coast regarding the ravages of the storm, a remarkably small number of marine disasters is noted. So far as known tonight, only two vessels were wrecked, the Rockland schooner Arcularius, which went ashore off the Tarpaulin Cove lighthouse on Nausahon Island, and another, the Rockland schooner, the Nantillus, which broke her back across the new Dog Bar, Gloucester Harbor. In neither case was there any loss of life.

The chief damage attributable to the storm was the crippling of the telephonic, telegraphic and electric light service throughout Northern and Eastern New England. Through the eastern states, New Hampshire and Vermont, the course of the telegraph and telephone lines is marked by the hundreds of poles that were blown down.

TUG CAPTAIN IS DROWNED.

Property Loss in Vicinity of Cleveland Is Heavy.

CLEVELAND, O., Nov. 14.—The fierce snow storm that prevailed over Lake Erie and Northern Ohio resulted in the death of at least one person and the serious injury of three others in this city, while the property loss is heavy. Captain Dell Minney, of Buffalo, lost his life by the foundering of the tug Gregory at the mouth of the river.

SNOW BREAKS DOWN ALL WIRES

Albany Blockade Is the Worst in Sixteen Years.

ALBANY, N. Y., Nov. 14.—Wet snow that fell today broke down every telephone and telegraph wire in the city and vicinity. At 10 o'clock last night more than half the city was in darkness from interrupted light circuits. The fire alarm service was so crippled that special precautions were taken by the police to give warning in case of fire. The snow was not over four inches deep, but so heavy that trolley traffic was generally hampered and trains stopped for an hour late. It is the worst wire blockade the city has experienced since the storm of 1888.

Maine Wire Service Crippled.

PORTLAND, Me., Nov. 14.—A fall of two inches of snow, followed by rain, crippled the telegraph and telephone system throughout the state. Communication by wire east and north of this city was cut off. Both the Western Union and Postal Telegraph Companies continued communication with Boston, but soon after 12 o'clock were unable to reach their points in the city. The same was true of the New England Telephone Company.

Whale Is Washed Ashore.

BENNEVILLE, Me., Nov. 14.—One of the most singular effects of the gale so far reported was the washing ashore of a whale, 80 feet long, here. Unable to get back into deep water, the great creature lay helpless on the beach and died from a hunter's rifle ended its life.

STUDENTS PLAN LYNCHING.

They Gain Entrance to Jail, but the Negro Has Been Spirited Away.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Nov. 14.—An attempt to lynch a negro by a number of students of the Alabama Polytechnic Institute was thwarted only by the foresight of President Thach, of that institution, according to special agents from Auburn, Ala. A report to the effect that a negro, Arthur Barnes, porter at the railroad station, had fatally stabbed Claud M. Howard, was the cause of the trouble. About a dozen students, including a negro, were taken to the calaboose, fired a fusillade at the building and then broke it open with the intention of killing the negro, but were disappointed as the negro was spirited away.

DIES IN THE SURF

Miss Isadore Rush, Actress, Victim.

SHOCK AFFECTS HER HEART

She Is Carried Into Deep Water at San Diego.

COMPANION IS NEARLY LOST

Milton Heriot, Who Tries to Rescue the Leading Lady in "Glittering Gloria," Is Revived Only After Vigorous Treatment.

SAN DIEGO, Nov. 14.—Miss Isadore Rush, leading lady of the "Glittering Gloria" Company, met her death while in bathing here today. Physicians state that she was a victim of heart failure.

Miss Isadore Rush.

That Miss Rush was not drowned is demonstrated by the fact that there was no autopsy on her body.

Miss Rush was caught by an immense wave and carried into deep water. Half a dozen members of the company were at the time in the surf, which was unusually high, when a spectator noticed the struggles of Miss Rush. Assistance was at once hurried to her, but she was unconscious when brought to shore. Physicians were called and every means possible used to revive the unfortunate woman, to no avail.

Another member of the company, Milton Heriot, who endeavored to rescue his companion, was rendered unconscious in the attempt and was pulled out of the water by H. B. Smith. He was revived after vigorous treatment.

The accident occurred at a point where an immense pile of rocks break the water into high surf, and created an eddy which caught Miss Rush in its swirl.

The remains of the unfortunate actress will be held here pending advice from New York.

The foregoing telegraphic announcement will be received in Portland with general genuine regret. Miss Rush had a number of personal friends here and thousands of admirers who had known her only across the footlights.

For a number of years she supported the cause of the best light comedians of his time, and since his death she had been starred or featured in a number of successful productions. She was here a year ago in "Florodora," and has since that time appeared at the Marquand as one of the best of American comedienne. She was famous as one of the best-dressed women on the stage, and her personality was delightful. Her death is a decided loss to the stage.

The public library and the Commercial Club occupied the second floor. The third and fourth floors were occupied by the Knoxville Business College. All the occupants of the building escaped without injury. It is believed the library will be a total loss. Many rare and valuable volumes were on the shelves. The loss to the library, Vance Furniture Company, Commercial Club and Business College will, it is believed, aggregate more than $100,000.

BOLD PLOT FAILS

Panama Army All Ready to Rebel.

AMERICAN CHARGE STOPS IT

Polite, but Firm, Note Causes General to Change His Mind.

PRESIDENT IN HIDING HOURS

With Five of His Secretaries He Was to Be Kidnaped—Commander-in-Chief Sullen Because Friends Are Left Out.

SPECIAL CABLE.

PANAMA, Nov. 14.—Prompt action on the part of the American Charge d'Affaires, Lee, averted a rebellion on the part of the Panama army early this morning. At midnight Mr. Lee received word from President Amador that rumors of a plot to kidnap him, the Secretary of War and the Secretary of State had reached the President, and that the latter believed Commander-in-Chief Huertas to be the instigator of the plot. General Huertas has been sullen of late, owing to the failure to obtain government patronage for his friends.

Mr. Lee took the bull by the horns and sent a polite, but very firm, note to General Huertas, informing him of the reports, and expressing the hope that, in view of the pleasant relations existing between the United States and Panama, he would do all in his power to prevent any action which might mar the good feeling and tarnish his splendid military record. Besides, Mr. Lee added, the United States gunboat Bennington was due in a few hours. This note had the desired effect, and nothing out of the ordinary occurred.

So far as the general public is concerned, the plot might never have been hatched, but there is excellent reason for the belief that it was actually to be carried out. Governor-General Davis says he had also been informed of the impending rebellion, but he did not see his way clear to take action, the matter being entirely outside of his jurisdiction.

President Amador, who had been hiding in the palace all night, emerged in the morning and made the statement that in his opinion rebellion in Panama at the present time was impossible. Secretary Guardia visited the barracks later in the day, and made several speeches to the troops. Tonight all is quiet.

The gunboats Bennington and Marblehead and the cruiser New York and Boston arrived this forenoon.

At one time the speaker was interrupted by a subject of co-operation and trade unionism.

TO REVISE TARIFF

Extra Session of Congress Is Probable.

WILL BE CALLED IN SPRING

Roosevelt Believes He Can Now Carry His Point.

THE "STAND-PAT" MEN YIELD

Interchange of Opinion on the Subject Shows the Nation Desires Schedules Be Put on Strictly Protection Basis.

OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washington, Nov. 14.—Republican members of Congress who want the tariff schedules reduced to a protection point, believe an extra session will be called next Spring. Since the election a weakening in the attitude of the standpaters has been noticed. This tariff wing of the party seems half disposed to sanction some Congressional action.

Two years ago, when President Roosevelt contemplated an extra session for revision, he was virtually prevented from issuing a call by almost a score of Senators. So insistent were they on leaving the schedules untouched that they threatened to debate any tariff bill which might be offered until March 4 following. They would not allow it to come to vote. The President promptly recognized the futility of forcing the issue and abandoned his idea of calling an extra session.

Since last Tuesday's overwhelming Republican victory, there has been some interchange of opinion on the tariff situation. It is known that the President has not materially changed his position from two years ago; also that he is no less earnest in his desire for revision. The understanding here is that there is quite a general desire that the matter be taken up speedily and disposed of in an equitable manner.

With the prestige of his recent election it is thought entirely probable that President Roosevelt will be able to persuade Republican leaders to accept the view that seems to him wisest with reference to an extra session.

Representative Babcock, a leading Congressional champion of the tariff, in the most conspicuous advocate in the House of tariff revision. He said today: "I have heard a good deal of talk in the last few days in favor of reducing the tariff on articles where the duty is higher than in warranted by the protection principle, and for doing it at an extra session of Congress."

"It is about the only subject I have heard discussed thus far in connection with future legislation. I believe it will be done. The Northwestern States, I know, demand some such action."
