Cheyenne Made Permanent Capital.

Cheyenne Made Permanent Capital. CHEYENNE, Wyo., Nov. 16.—On the face of the election returns it appears that Cheyenne won the fight for perma-nent location of the capitol of Wyom-ing. However, the contest was very close in many sections and the result will not be known definitely until the official count is made. Lander, located in the center of the state, near Wind River reservation, which is soon to be opened, received a large number of votes, although the town has no rail-road.
