

ATTENDANCE RAGE

Four Ask for the Next Grange Convention.

INVITED BY CALIFORNIA

Governor Pardee Seeks Honor for His State.

GREAT THROG AT SESSIONS

Officers Make Their Annual Reports—Tomorrow is Degree Day—Corvallis Invitation is Unanimously Accepted.

DEGREES TO BE GIVEN TOMORROW.

State Master Leedy, of Oregon, announced that tomorrow would be degree day at the Empire Theater. Promptly at 1:30 P. M., the first degree will be conferred, to be followed immediately by the sixth degree. In the evening at 7:30 the National degree will be given.

Increasing attendance marked the second day's session of the National Grange convention. Despite the heavy rain, a great crowd of Grangers is coming in from all parts of the Northwest and the attendance will continue to increase during the remainder of the week. The climax will probably be reached tomorrow afternoon when the final degrees of the order are to be conferred.

Next Convention City.

Speculation is already rife as to where the next convention of the National Grange will be held. Several cities are after the honor. Among them are Washington, D. C.; Hartford, Conn.; Trenton, N. J., and Milwaukee, Wis. Governor Pardee, of California, has sent an urgent invitation for the National Grange to meet somewhere in his state next year, but it is hardly probable that his invitation will find favor with the delegates at the cost of coming to the Pacific Coast is about $600 more than it would be for the Grange to be held in an Eastern city. The place for holding the next session will not be decided upon until some time next week.

National Officers' Reports.

Yesterday's session was principally devoted to addresses by National officers and reports from state masters. The list of standing committees and order of business have been printed in pamphlet form for convenience of the delegates; the hall has been partially rearranged and fires are kept burning all night long, so that the hall is more comfortable than it was on Wednesday.

Fruit was distributed yesterday to all the visitors, and there is now a cheerful air pervading among all present, as they are becoming better acquainted.

National Treasurer's Report.

Mrs. E. E. McDowell, treasurer of the National Grange, made her annual report, showing the following totals for the past year: Balance and receipts... $52,716.83 Expenses during year... 10,212.19 Balance on hand... $42,504.64 RECEIPTS IN DETAIL: Balance October 1, 1903... $19,250.79 Deposits during year... 20,500.42 Deposited by state treasurers... 2,763.42 Total receipts... $42,514.63 RESOURCES SUBJECT TO DRAFT: Balance in Farmers' Loan & Trust Company... $20,400.00 Deposited in bank, South Bend, Ind., principal and interest... 4,418.28 Deposited in bank, Cleveland, O., principal and interest... 1,258.85 Deposited in bank, Mantua, O., principal and interest... 1,640.00 Total... $27,677.13 Address of Worthy Ceres.

Address of Worthy Ceres.

Worthy Ceres Mrs. Martha M. Wilson, in her annual address, said: It has been the ambition of mankind through all ages to sow with the hope of reaping an abundant harvest, since the days our Pilgrim Fathers in search of freedom found a home on this then-unexplored continent.

What could have been their courage and faith when they with their families left their birthplaces, friends and kindred ties to launch out upon the great sea in search of new homes. The same restless spirit today exists among the children of our country. We have greater opportunities presented themselves for homesickness, pleasureseekers, the high and the lowly. From the rock-bound coasts to the sunny slopes of the Pacific that all in all this great expanse contented, happy people, satisfied with their environments, willing to live where conditions seem best suited to their needs, from the seacoasts, extending their feet to the rolling in the primeval walks of life, each have their little place to fill, from the smallest herb of the great structure down to the hills on which the towering mountains stand essential for the completion of the perfect abode. The earth abounds in beauty and grandeur, and we are brought to a realization that God in his goodness and mercy has provided bountifully for all our needs.

Chaplain's Address.

Worthy Chaplain W. K. Thompson submitted his annual address and report, which reviewed the work of his office for the past year. He spoke many words of good advice and sympathy, and said: Since our last annual meeting several of our loved ones have been called to the beyond, and as time moves on we, one by one, will be called to follow. My earnest prayer to a good God is that all of us may be able to answer "I am ready."

I, as your chaplain, have performed the sad but precious duty of offering love and sympathy to the bereaved hearts of your brothers and sisters, as every good patron has faith in God let us look to him for wisdom and guidance. May the Lord bless us and crown with success all of our worthy efforts.

Lady Assistant Steward's Report.

The lady assistant steward's report follows: To the officers and members of the National Grange: Lady assistant steward I extend a cordial greeting to all. Thank me my duties have not been arduous, but whatever they may be I shall consider it a pleasure to perform them. These meetings of the members of the order have their influence, and they are all helping to make the industry of agriculture more progressive in the future. Each meeting strengthens our resolve to do better. State Masters' Reports. The rollcall of states for reports from state masters elicited responses from California, Wisconsin, Connecticut, Minnesota, New Hampshire, Ohio, Pennsylvania,

Maine and South Carolina. The others were not ready at this time and will come in later on. The report from H. C. Raap, state master of California, dealt principally with the progress of the Grange from his state during the past year. In addition, the California State Grange, meeting in Oakland a few weeks ago, adopted a resolution asking the National Legislature to provide an equipment of an agricultural character at the State University. The resolution asks for the erection at Berkeley of capacious and modern buildings adequately equipped for the purpose of instruction and investigation along agricultural lines. It also asks for an experiment farm and a course of experiments, together with a corps of capable instructors. A better and more equitable system of taxation was also recommended in California. Good roads were not forgotten, and efforts are being made to secure National and state aid in their behalf. Also, an equal suffrage law was endorsed and its adoption urged by the people of the state. A new law is being looked for to the protection of harmless birds.

New Hampshire Report.

H. O. Hadley, master of the New Hampshire State Grange, reported a flourishing condition of the order in his state. The state has 285 chapters and 15,000 members. The Grange mutual fire insurance feature is in a flourishing condition, having policies in force amounting to over $7,000,000. More than 150 members of the order are in the legislature, and the Grange school law will probably be enacted there; also laws on taxation and good roads.

From Connecticut.

G. S. Wood, master of the Connecticut Grange, reports 121 Granges and a healthy membership. The work in his state has been encouraged by visits from National Master Jones and the lecturer of the Rhode Island State Grange. The work is being furthered as never before, and all Granges show a healthy gain.

Minnesota's Grange Work.

State Master S. G. Baird, of Minnesota, made only a brief report, showing gains during the year. The National Grange had a deputy in that state during the past summer, who is doing much for the order.

Ohio's Large Membership.

State Master F. A. Derthick, of Ohio, reports 25 Granges organized the past year. The National lecturer and Governor of Ohio were visitors at a meeting in Trumbull county, where 150 new members were added to the order. A traveling library is a Grange feature in Ohio, and has a large membership.

Pennsylvania Grange Grows.

W. F. Hill, state master of Pennsylvania, reported 6000 new members last year and 7000 for this year. The fire insurance feature is in a flourishing condition, and thousands of dollars annually. Grange life insurance is also a feature of the order there, an Exchange Bulletin being published for the membership. A Grange letter runs out monthly to 300 new papers by a special Grange correspondent. Other publications are being authorized among which is a booklet of 10,000 copies.

Flourishing in South Carolina.

W. K. Thompson, state master of South Carolina, showed that the order is being made to introduce the insurance feature there.

Wisconsin Fights Evils.

A. C. Powers, state master, believes that some of the evils fought by the Grange will be rectified in the near future. A commission has been promised to fix rates on an equitable basis and a new tax law will be forthcoming. Also the election laws will be amended. The Grange is forging ahead.

Maine's Banner Report.

The State of Maine, through its state master, G. G. Gardner, makes the banner report. The state now has 24 Pomona Granges and has added 23 subordinate Granges. The total membership is now 47,772. Thirteen new Grange halls have been dedicated, at a cost of $14,500. The total cost of $7500 each. One Grange has a membership of 784 and promises 850 before the end of the year. Total number of Granges in the state, 27,000, with a total cost of $1,500,000.

Resolutions Are Referred.

The following resolution was offered by T. C. Atkinson, of West Virginia, and referred to the committee on foreign relations: Whereas, The principle of arbitration for the settlement of international disputes has been the public policy of the United States from the beginning of its National history, as emphasized in 1794 by the Jay Treaty, concluded with Great Britain, which was a practical commencement of the arbitration movement of the 19th century; therefore, Resolved, That the National Grange lodge at Corvallis, Oregon, be authorized to appoint a permanent court of arbitration at the Hague, and would commend every effort of our National Government to secure the submission of all international controversies to such a court. Resolved, That we respectfully request that our Government perfect negotiations with Great Britain for the establishment of a permanent court of arbitration at the Hague, and we would commend every effort of our National Government to secure the submission of all international controversies to such a court. Resolved, That we respectfully request that our Government perfect negotiations with Great Britain for the establishment of a permanent court of arbitration at the Hague, and we would commend every effort of our National Government to secure the submission of all international controversies to such a court.

GRANGE SHOULD STAND FOR PEACE

Overseer T. C. Atkinson Alarmed at Spirit of Militarism and Growth of Colossal Fortunes.

THE GROWTH OF MILITARISM. No obedient citizen can doubt but that the spirit of militarism is greatly on the increase in our own country, and between the growth of colossal fortunes on the one side and militarism on the other, the danger to our citizenship may well look to the future with some degree of solicitude. The liberties of a free people have never been overthrown except by one or the other of these influences, or the two combined. The Grange should give forth no uncertain sound in its demands for peace, and its influence should always be found supporting all things that make for peace, love, justice and mercy among our great citizenship.

WORTHY OVERSEER T. C. ATKINSON

WINKIN in his annual address made a plea for international peace. He also condemned the yoking of the science of war and the science of agriculture in the agricultural colleges of the United States. His address follows: Worthy Master and Fellow-members of the Grange: The lesson as well as the rules of our order, and the motto of the master to govern and direct, while it is the province of the overseer to superintend or supervise. Hence I deem it appropriate that, as overseer, I should not occupy much of the time of the order with the great economic problems of the great economic problems of the world more properly within the jurisdiction of the master.

With full determination to be brief, I put aside considerable temptation to enter upon a free discussion of several economic and sociological questions, and will encroach upon your time and patience only while I briefly call attention to the one mighty problem that looms before us, and that is, the seemingly helpless to throw off its crushing, blasting, brutalizing influence. The ambitious policies of nations have enriched and thousands of human beings sacrificed. More powerful than all the arguments of those who contend for peace, their hearts, hardened by ambition and their ears stopped by selfish jealousy, the nations of the world have been indifferent to appeal of humanity and common sense. It may be that these horrors will accomplish what reason has failed.

The war between Russia and Japan is giving a picture of war as seen in General Sherman's military strategy, and the world now realizes the butchery of modern warfare. Already tens of thousands of human beings have been slain, tens of thousands have been maimed, and the Titanic struggle goes on. It has become simply and solely a war of brute strength and savagery. No one with a spark of humanity could read the stories without revulsion. At the last session of the General Conference of the National Grange, a committee on international and industrial peace said in its report: "History is the record of human slaughter, and the history of the human race to minimize and kill their fellow-men. The making of deadly engines of war has advanced the progress upon the earth, and it is from this fact that the latter gains so much of the credit for the discovery and exploration of the Columbia River. There were two ships in the fleet, the Columbia being the flagship, commanded by Captain Kendrick, who in the second, a ship named the Grays, was commanded by Captain Gray. Owing to the fact that it was not thought possible to put the Columbia across the bar, Captain Gray made the trip in the lesser ship but named the river after the flagship, Columbia. On the trip across the Pacific, undertaken soon afterwards, Captain Kendrick died, leaving Captain Gray in command, and it is from this fact that the latter gains so much of the credit for the discovery and exploration of the Columbia River.

To Award Prizes. The National master appointed a committee on awards yesterday afternoon to judge the county displays arranged in the Armory Hall. For the five best exhibits there are five premiums to be given. The first is a silver wagon, second, a steam plow and harrow, fourth a steel plow, and fifth a cultivator and spray pump. The committee, who will be judges at these prizes are: E. J. Norris, state master of New York; George B. Horton, state master of Michigan; F. A. Derthick, state master of Ohio; Mrs. Cordelia Atkinson, of Virginia, and Mrs. C. F. Ladd, of Massachusetts. The judges will make awards today.

Convention Notes.

The state secretaries of Oregon and Washington, Mrs. Mary L. Howard and F. C. Briggs, have desks in the hall, where applicants for the fifth and sixth degrees may be accommodated. They are both very busy, as many who had not been able to get certificates before leaving home are now getting anxious. Oliver Willson, of Illinois, National analyst of the Grange, gives notice that he will hold an office in the hall up to tomorrow evening for the benefit of all who desire to take the seventh or National degree. Miss Vera Welch Royal again sang two songs during the afternoon session, which were heartily enjoyed. Miss Royce is the possessor of a remarkable soprano voice and is in demand upon every suitable occasion. Miss Lucy Metzger, of Greenham, has been designated as organist of the National Grange during its session. She will also furnish music for the degree work at the Empire Theater tomorrow afternoon.

Invitation From Corvallis.

The invitation letter from Corvallis was read: At a meeting of the executive committee of the board of regents of the State Agricultural College of Oregon the secretary of the board was instructed to invite the National Grange to visit the college at Corvallis during their present session. It was decided to make it as interesting as possible.

Invitation From Corvallis.

The invitation was accepted by a unanimous vote, and it was announced that a special train had been engaged for next Tuesday, to leave the main depot at 7 o'clock in the evening, giving about two hours in Corvallis.
