

O. A. C. IS CRIPPLED

Captain Pilkington and Half-back Root Out of Game.

BOTH HEAVY, FAST PLAYERS

Corvallis Critics Believe the Team is Now the Equal, at Least, of the Aggregation From the University of Oregon.

Table with columns: PREVIOUS U. O. O. A. C. CONTESTS, U. O. O. A. C., and scores for years 1884, 1890, 1896, 1902, 1903.

CORVALLIS, Or., Nov. 18.—(Special.)—The O. A. C. football team will have to rely tomorrow's game without their redoubtable captain, and also without George Herbert Root, one of their crack halfbacks.

Halfback Root is an equally formidable player, weighing 190, and having a speed surpassed by no other man on the team except Williams, the well-known sprinter.

The loss, however, of this pair of redoubtable backs has not discouraged Stead's men. Before they regarded the game as certain to result in a decisive victory for them.

TEAMS ARE READY.

High School and Portland Academy Are to Meet.

A better game of football will not be seen in Portland this Fall than that between the Portland Academy and the High School this afternoon at 3 o'clock on Multnomah field.

In point of team playing, the Academy seems to have something the better of it. Bannard, the coach, has been with the team for several years and knows the boys' play.

The High School, on the other hand, has a looser formation—its plays are not so pretty and do not run so smoothly, but it has some interesting players who have shown themselves to be excellent groundgamers.

Where Clark and Flavel and all the rest of the Portland Academy eleven have the advantage is in their defensive play. The High School, in spite of its line plungers, may not be able to gain on the Academy and it is reasonably certain that the Academy will do as well as they.

There seems to be no reason for giving either one side or the other the advantage in prophecy, for a scoreless game would be no surprise. The line-up today will be as follows:

OREGON BACKERS CONFIDENT.

Players Are in Good Condition With One or Two Exceptions.

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene, Nov. 18.—(Special.)—No football practice was held today. The university campus has been a scene of activity preparatory to the final and decisive college game of the year, to be played between Oregon Agricultural College and Oregon, at Corvallis tomorrow.

The local enthusiasts are confident of victory, but there is a feeling of uncertainty among the players. As a team, Smith and Tompsett know what the Oregon players are capable of doing, but the strength of the Corvallis eleven is an unknown quantity.

The result of the game with Seattle is not considered as being an opportunity to adjudge of the comparative strength of the respective teams, for the games were played under very different circumstances. Washington is said to have improved, but the "farmers" undoubtedly have not housed themselves from all eager rivals for nothing.

day for the purpose of determining how the team would line up tomorrow. It was found that several of the men are badly bruised as a result of the hard scrimmage practice held in a heavy rain on Wednesday.

WILLAMETTES MAKE BIG SCORE

Outweigh and Outplay Team From Pacific University.

SALEM, Or., Nov. 18.—(Special.)—Completely outclassed in every way, the Pacific University football team was scored on almost at will by the Willamette Varsity team in a game played on Willamette Field this afternoon.

The Forest Grove team entered the game with their old back field men, who have been laid up with injuries most of the season, again in the line-up. Nevertheless they were not once able to make their yardage, nor did they even succeed in holding Willamette. Pacific did not lose the game through any lack of courage, for a visiting team has never shown more grit against such odds than was displayed by the team today.

Willamette kicked to Pacific and immediately held them for downs and in five minutes Beach made the first touchdown. The second was made by Lonberry after ten minutes of hard line-plunging, during which the ball was carried the entire length of the field.

During the second half the local team resorted to end runs and punts with equal success. Nace, Beach, Pollard and Long frequently made gains of from 10 to 35 yards. Two touchdowns were made by Nace and one by Pollard, taking an average time of five minutes each.

The game was clean, neither team was penalized and no one was injured. In spite of the weather, the sawdust field was in excellent condition. Time of halves, 25 and 15 minutes. Average weight of Willamette, 164 pounds, and of Pacific, 189 pounds.

BIG GAME COMES TODAY.

Yale and Harvard Have Annual Football Clash This Afternoon.

The outcome of the biggest football game of the year, that between Harvard and Yale, which is played today in New Haven, is generally conceded to be certain. Yale is taking the victory beforehand and there does not seem to be any good reason for saying, "Walt," Bert Waters, the old Harvard player and coach, after seeing Yale defeat Princeton last Saturday, said:

"Both Yale and Princeton played snapper, better football than Harvard has shown any time this year. Harvard may have found herself in the Holy Cross game, but until that time had never shown such form as Yale and Princeton showed in their game."

This is a doleful note, coming from Bert Waters, but it and others like it, which have been published in Eastern papers this week, may make Harvard wake up a bit. It is generally believed that Harvard has better stuff in it than it has shown this year in any of its games.

RIPPER A SURPRISE.

Twenty-to-One Shot Lands at Oakland—Four Favorites Win.

In the closing event, the talent was again disappointed, as Briers, the odds-on favorite, failed to display any speed and finished outside the money. The weather was fine, but the track was still heavy, resulting in a slow race.

JEFFRIES SAYS IT IS UNTRUE.

SPOKANE, Wash., Nov. 18.—The story that I have agreed to fight Jack Johnson is a lie," stated James J. Jeffries to the Chronicle this afternoon. "I will never fight a negro—back to the boiler works I will go. I am entirely in the hands of the press and the people. Any white man who chooses I will fight on six weeks' notice. Unless this is done before a great white man retires from the ring and be the only retired champion."

PRaises THE TEACHERS.

Dr. Wise Says They Are Hardest-Worked and Poorest Paid.

"There is no higher, holier or more sacred office in the world than that of the teacher of youth," said Dr. Stephen S. Wise at Temple Beth Israel last night, in an introduction to an address on "The Teacher and the Child." This was the second of two addresses on the general subject, "The Education of Our Children," and the large number of teachers who attended the services could not have felt otherwise than gratified at the many eulogistic remarks Dr. Wise made concerning that profession.

"The state's attitude toward teachers is unfortunate. The profession is the poorest paid in the world, and while it may never be possible to pay what it is deserving of, it should at least cease to be the poorest paid—the compensation should be with approximate adequacy."

Next I would ask that there be the right relation between the home and the school. In the classroom the best work comes from the child in whose home the school and the teacher are well thought and spoken of. In my classes I can tell
