member of Crew of the Aurora Also Offers to Give Commission His Version of Dogger Bank Incident.

SPECIAL CABLE. LONDON, Nov. 22.-The Copenhagen correspondent of the Daily Mail wires a sensational interview which he asserts was granted him by an officer of the Rus slan cruiser Aurora. It corroborates the theory that the vessels of the Baltic fleet fired at each other at the Dogger Bank the attacking ship being caught in a heavy fog and mistaking the hazy forms of others for Japanese vessels. The interview begins with a circumstantial descripon of the order of the sailing of the two divisions of the Baltic fleet. The Aurora was in the first division and a considerable distance ahead of the flagship of the second. During the evening a heavy fog settled over the water and the first division's progress was seriously impeded. Thus it came about that the flagship of the second overtook the Aurora, and suddenly a shot crossed her bow, followed by a volley which killed the chaplain and unded several of the crew.

Admiral Rojestvensky's flagship was a considerable distance ahead at the time, but the commander sent a message to the Admiral, informing him he had been fired on. By that time the Aurora and several other ships had approached the Gamecock fleet within a short distance. The lights of the fishing vessels served as targets and 550 shots were fired by the Russians. Then the mistake was discovered. The officer insists, according to the Mail's correspondent, that if summoned he will repeat this version of the Dogger Bank affair.

RUSSIAN FIRE TOO DEADLY.

Japanese Repulse at Poutiloff Hill Most Important of Recent Fighting.

MUKDEN. Nov. 20 (via Tien Tein. Nov. 21)—Since the Japanese attack on Poutiloff Hill on the night of November 18, no activity has been apparent. The character of the attack on Poutiloff Hill is not fully understood beyond the fact that three or four battalions participated. It probably was made on the initiative of the local commander without the consent of headquarters, and as an attack it can only be favorably regarded in the light of a reconnaissance in force.

This incident is the most important that has happened since the battle of

BLOCKADE-RUNNER CAPTURED Japanese Run Down German Vessel

Bound for Port Arthur. TOKIO, Nov. 21.—The Navy Depart-ment reports the capture of the Germent reports the capture of the German steamer Batelan while attempting to run the Port Arthur blockade. The department says that at 3 A. M., November 19, a Japanese squadron cruising off Yental sighted a resuel steaming off Yental sighted a resuel steaming for Port Arthur. The gunboat Tatsu pursued and overtook the steamer at 5 o'clock in the morning. On board the vessel was found a great quantity of Winter clothing, blankets, medicine and corned meats. Her captain said he was bound for Niu Chwang. The route and cargo of the steamer were considered to be suspicious, and she was taken possession of and brought to Easebo.

CHEFOO, Nov. 21.—A Japanese of nicial, among the latest arrivals from Dainy, states positively that the general attack on Port Arthur has not been resumed. Rumors to that effect in Dainy have arisen because fresh troops, including the seventh division, recently landed, are being sent to the front.

It is believed that the explosion which was heard on November 19, was much heavier, and it is reported upon the best authority was due to the blowing up of a Russian magazine.

It is expected that the next attack upon Port Arthur will be a tremendous affair.

Under His Command. ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 21.-General ST. PETERSBURG. Nov. 21.—General Kuropatkin, telegraphing under yesterday's date, says a daring deed was accomplished by four volunteers of a Russian patrol November 15. While reconnoitering the patrol discovered a Chinese building occupied by 25 Japancese. Four riflemen volunteered to blow up the place and armed with grenades loaded with pyroxylin, they succeeded in evading the sentries, placed the grenades and retired undetected. A few minutes later the grenades exploded cessful min minutes later the grenades exploded and completely wrecked the building. the past few days. Particularly hot was the fighting on Poutlioff (Lone Tree) hill, where the Japanese were repuised with the loss of over 100 killed. All signs indicate that great events are imminent. The road to Sinmintin, owing to the excellent patrol service, is quite safe from Chinese bandits.

The health of the troops is excellent. The Russians admire the cleanliness, perfect order and equipment of the Japanese. One does not see any trace of race hatred. It is a fact that the Japanese return through French intermediation all valuables found on dead Russians. This has made a deep impression here and is reciprocated.

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene UNIVERSITY OF ORBGON, Eugene. Nov. 21,—(Special.)—When the university football team met today it took only a glance at those II gridiron champions to make one realize that the game at Corvalis last Saturday was a hard-earned victory. Every face is a regular football face and every player is badly, though not seriously, bruised; but the men are full of ginger and all will be in readiness for the annual Thanksgiving contest with Multnomah.

men are full of ginger and all will be in readiness for the annual Thanksgiving contest with Multnomah.

There was no practice held today, and a light signal meeting Tucsday ends Oregon's practice for the year. Today the men took work in the gymnasium and were given all possible attention in order that Smith might not be forced to put a substitute in Thursday's game.

As a result of the triumph at Corvalits, which, according to local supporters, should have been more decisive the University rooters have taken courage and expect the Eugene college men to give the club players a hard game this year. Smith's men are known to be small, but their speed and determination has been tested, for in every meet of the season they have been pitted against heavier teams, yet they are the undisputed college champions of Oregon, ndisputed college champions of Oregon,

Washington and Idaho.

The only members of the team that may be in questionable condition for the game this week are the three backs, who will take no work before Wednesday, other than enough to locate and remove bruises. Not a lineman is injured enough to prevent good work Thursday, with the possible exception of McIntyre at right guard,

If you saved your money and waited If you saved your money and waited for a whole season you would not probably meet with a better, more diversified bill than that to be presented at the Columbia Theater this afternoon at 2:15 o'clock, when the benefit to Miss Edith Angus will be given. She was an actress of the Columbia Stock Company and is ill at the Good Samaritan Hospital. Lest night her physician, Dr. George Wilson, reported that his patient was somewhat better. The benefit bill will be of that better. The benefit bill will be of that rare quality, high-class songs, the legitimate drama, and the cream of the vaude-ville acts selected from the different vaudeville houses in town. Mrs. Rose Bloch Bauer, Mrs. Walter Reed, Miss Louise Brandt and Miss Dot Bernard are the singers, and Catherine Countess and Edgar Baume are to present the balcony scene from "Romeo and Juliet." Rose Eytinge will read a poem, while entertaining selections will be heard from Lester Lonergan, Milton G. Winstock and others. In addition, there are orchestral overtures, instrumental quartets, etc. It's going to be a great bill. There are no reserved seats at the mininee, and people who are early get the best seats. "Led Astray."

A loveable character in Dion Boucicault's "Led Astray," is that of Hector Placide, interpreted by George Bloom-quest in the Columbia Theater Stock Company's production of the play. Hector loves the daughter of the man nearest and dearest to him on earth and bears her indifference to his suit with the endurance of a stolc, hoping, hoping, hoping that some day she will learn to ove him with the same ardor. Despite love him with the same ardor. Despite the humor of the line, there is a touch of sadness in his tone when, after reflecting upon the situation, he remarks: "Nature played a practical joke when she made me. She gave me the soul of a Romeo and the face of a comic singer." Hector loves on, trying with all his might to settle differences that have arisen between his prospective parents-in-law and still trying to win the girl's heart. At just he succeeds. still trying to win the girl's heart. At last he succeeds. Boucicault had a way of bringing young lovers together happily at the end of his play and in "Led Astray" he used to this end the beautiful motive of the young pair working together for the restitution of peace and happiness in a household.

The play has thus far duplicated the hit made by the company in "The Jilt," which also came from Boucicault's prolific pen, and which was one of the recdefeat Oregon, and to do that he will liftic pen, and which was one of the rec-strengthen his team as much as possible. George Wilson's bloomers, smile, and the rolling of his eyes as he utters a joke, would make a Quaker laugh. George is an enterprising darky, who is the chief comedian this week at the Arcade, and from the moment he steps on the boards he owns his audience. Two of his songs are: "That's All" and "There's a Lavy-Lookin' Nigger," while he dishes out a collection of restaurant stories.
