

WAR IN THE CLIQUE

Russian Liberals Will Have Reform.

BLOOD MAY HAVE TO FLOW

Palace, Instead of Ministers, Will Be Attacked.

DUCAL CIRCLES ARE ALARMED

Von Plehve Forces Urge Czar to Command Zemstvos to Return Home—Memorial of Latter Will Be Presented Today.

SPECIAL CABLE.
ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 22.—Members of the so-called "vanguard of the liberal movement" have circulated a warning that if the court clique should overthrow Prince Sviatopolk-Mirsky's reforms, "high personages outside the government will be treated according to the more rigorous traditions of the emancipationists."

This means that assassination will be invoked against the palace, rather than against the Ministers. Grand ducal circles are greatly alarmed by this threat. It is recognized that those responsible for it are men of action. As always happens in a period of historical transition, conflicting decisions are bringing the authorities into disrepute. They have been forced against their will, by a series of popular revolts, to introduce reforms, and at the same time devise means for rendering those reforms ineffectual. In both St. Petersburg and Moscow the enlightened public is highly dissatisfied and the final policy of the government concerning the Zemstvos, who will present their memorial tomorrow, is likely to determine the trend of Russian politics for a long time to come. Reactionary opposition to Prince Sviatopolk-Mirsky's liberal programme is in full swing. The entire Plehve clique assures the Czar that in the interest of public order throughout the empire, the president of the Zemstvos must be commanded to return home. Prince Shikmatoff, Governor of Tver, has come to St. Petersburg in all haste to join the reactionaries. He has declared his majesty's dynasty was entering on a dangerous crisis, and that the reformers must be suppressed. It is stated that the Czar called Prince Sviatopolk-Mirsky to account, and that the Minister of the Interior threatened to resign if his plans should be materially interfered with.

HARDLY EXPECT CZAR TO YIELD

Zemstvos, However, Feel Certain of Victory in the End.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 22.—The serious work of the Zemstvo meeting being accomplished, the only remaining questions relating to aid of the wounded and distressed, many of the members are already leaving for their homes.

At the last moment the form of the memorial was altered to make it appear an "expression of the hope that it is the wish of the Emperor to summon a national assembly." The practical result of the meeting, as represented by the Emperor's response, is now of all-absorbing interest. The memorial will be presented to Interior Minister Sviatopolk-Mirsky tomorrow, and by him personally will be transmitted to the Emperor. There is no clew as to the outcome.

The general opinion in government circles, and even of many of those who participated in the meeting, is that it will be unfavorable, but the whole situation is so unprecedented that even the best-informed hardly know what to expect. One of the most prominent members of the Zemstvo delegation said to the Associated Press:

"The general opinion of my colleagues is the reverse of optimistic. Therefore, it is a mistake to raise hopes that are doomed probably to disappointment, but hope exists. Probably there will be the usual attempt to temporize. We may not get all, but we may get something. No matter what the immediate result, however, we have gained a remarkable victory. We have put into concrete form our opinion that the present system in the end must spell ruin or revolution."

"The Emperor knows the character of the men whose names are attached to the memorial. They represent the best blood and thought of the Empire. We are not revolutionaries. We do not believe the people are prepared for a Republic. We support the monarchical idea, but we believe it must be a constitutional monarchy, and that the Emperor must choose between the moderate programme we offer or eventual revolution. If there is no result now we will continue the work of agitation and education. There will be a larger and stronger meeting next year. If the meeting is forbidden in St. Petersburg, then it will take place in Moscow, Kiev or in an open field if necessary. The movement will gather headway as time elapses. We have risked our liberties, and we shall not retreat."

"The law which makes agitation for a change in the form of government punishable with penal servitude is still in force. We are all amenable, but so long as Prince Sviatopolk-Mirsky is Minister we know we are safe. If he falls we take our chances, although we feel sure the government would not dare to reverse the policy of liberalism which has received such an impetus since Von Plehve's death. The moment is propitious for concessions. The government is in a difficult position and needs the support and the sympathy of the people. I believe something at least will be granted. A free press would be the greatest step of calling a National assembly. If only the A. S. Co of the programme are conceded, the rest of the alphabet inevitably will be drawn in their wake."

Thirty-one of the 22 presidents of the provincial executive committees have now endorsed the Zemstvo memorial. President Markhoff, of the St. Petersburg committee, having sent in his adhesion with an explanatory letter saying he was prevented by illness from attending the meeting when his colleagues signed the memorial.

The text of the memorial, as finally adopted, differs only a few points from the version given by the Associated Press on November 19. The changes were made solely with a view to emphasizing and clarifying what the representatives consider essential points of their position. The fifth article as amended reads:

"In order to exclude the possibility of administrative arbitrariness and still give vital effect to the people of the inviolability of person and private domicile, no one must be subjected to punishment or restriction of his rights without decision of independent law authorities. To attain this end it is essential that measures be introduced for establishing the civil and criminal responsibility of officeholders for violation of laws, as a guarantee of the practical realization of the essentials of legality in government."

A fresh section is inserted providing that the "personal (civil and political) rights of all citizens in the Russian Empire must be equal." This has the effect to legislate, to draw up the budget of revenue and expenditure and to control the legality of the acts of the administration."

The final article follows:

"In view of the importance and difficulty of the internal and external complications through which Russia is passing this informal conference expresses the hope that the sovereign power will summon freely the elected representatives of the nation in order that their co-operation be obtained for the fatherland for an evolution of the state in the direction of establishing a new basis of law for mutual co-operation between the imperial authority and the people."

Today's meeting also discussed and passed resolutions which will be submitted separately to Emperor Nicholas through Minister Sviatopolk-Mirsky, praying for the abolition of the state of siege existing in many cities of Russia; for amnesty to all prisoners punished by administrative process or without trial by ordinary process of law; for more favorable treatment of the question of primary schools, the necessity for which has hitherto not been recognized or admitted by the authorities, who, it is alleged, do everything to check and impede primary education, and for a more humane method of enforcing partial mobilization. It is pointed out that if the military authorities would consult with the Minister of the Interior and the Zemstvo, much unnecessary harshness and resulting disturbance would be avoided.

Tonight the editors of the principal Russian papers met the presidents of the Zemstvo to arrange a plan for co-operation in their work. A communication was received from the revolutionary organization promising to suspend activity pending the government's action on the memorial.

DEPEW APPEARS SAFE.

Unless Odell Takes Decisive Action, Senator Will Be Re-Elected.

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—The selection of a United States Senator by the newly elected Legislature of this state to secure Senator Depew was the subject of conferences today between Governor Odell, ex-Governor Black and Senator Depew. Governor Odell assured both Senator Depew and ex-Governor Black, in most positive terms that he would not be a candidate for the Senatorship, and furthermore he would not take part in any canvass by any one nor interest himself, in the contest. It developed at the conferences that Senator Depew has the written pledges of a majority of the Legislature to vote for him to succeed himself, and that unless there is decisive action on the part of Governor Odell for another candidate, Senator Depew is assured of re-election.

ARREST DEMOCRATIC LEADERS

Denver Men Are Accused of Denying Watchers at Polls Their Rights.

DENVER, Nov. 22.—A special officer of the Supreme Court was started out today with 10 additional warrants for persons charged with violating the order of the court appointing special watchers on election day and according them the same privileges guaranteed to regular watchers under the election laws. Six arrests of local Democratic leaders were made, their names being William H. Green, of the city detective force, James Mullins, a clerk in the Treasurer's office; James Harria, a District Court bailiff; Patrick Reid, a county constable; William Bergman and Mart Devaney. They were all released in bonds of $200 each.

The local political contest reached the Federal Court late this afternoon, when Otto Weimer and L. Abramowsky, Republican, swore to complaints charging Democratic workers and election officials with ejecting them from polling booths, thereby preventing them from voting. Eight arrests resulted, all being released later in bonds of $200 each. The men arrested are Mike Mahoney, Alderman; Frank Kratke, sergeant of police; Charles Kovsky, policeman; Edward O'Malia, Joseph Ray, William Schradsky, Max Schorow-dsky and Max Slesak. The charge in the warrants is based on Section 506 of the United States statutes, which guarantees the right to vote for Presidential electors and Representatives in Congress.
