

HE HAS NO FEARS

Peabody Expects To Go In as Governor.

DENVER HOME IS RENTED

Count Is Still Incomplete and Legislature Is in Doubt.

CHARGES OF FRAUD MULTIPLY

Peabody, Believing Majority of the Solons Will Be Republicans, Will Appoint Two Supreme Justices, Even if He Retires.

DENVER, Colo., Nov. 22.—Governor-elect Alva Adams came to Denver from his home in Pueblo today, and will remain until after the banquet to be given in his honor tomorrow night. He does not take the threat of the Republicans to prevent his accession to the Governorship seriously, and has rented a house here for the two years of his term. Mr. Adams expressed the opinion today that Governor Peabody, after an investigation of the election returns, would reach the conclusion that he was not the people's choice for Governor and would graciously retire.

It is announced that Governor Peabody will appoint two additional Justices of the Supreme Court, irrespective of whether he holds office the next term. Under the constitutional amendment adopted at the recent election the Court of Appeals and Supreme Court will be consolidated on April 5 next and two of the seven judges provided for are to be named by the Governor. The Legislature will meet one week before the next term of Governor begins. During that time or prior the State Canvassing Board will declare the amendments adopted. Governor Peabody will make the appointments and the Senate, if Republican, will confirm them. Should the Democrats control the Senate, Governor Peabody's appointments will be rejected and Governor Adams will appoint the two judges.

The canvass of the votes in Denver and Pueblo counties has not yet been completed, but from the unofficial returns it appears the majority will control the Senate by a majority of two or three unless the State Canvassing Board throws out two or more of the Democrats. The Republicans who are preparing charges of fraud will try to seat the Republican candidates. The Democrats are endeavoring to checkmate their opponents by preparations to prosecute Republican workers for alleged violations of the election laws.

Woman Accused of Buying Votes.

Mrs. Rosa Snyder was arrested today on warrants charging her with buying votes at the late election. Mrs. Snyder and other women have made affidavits that Mrs. Snyder gave them $5 each to vote the Republican ticket. Mrs. Snyder is a complainant in one of the cases against Democrats arrested on warrants issued by United States Commissioner Capron charging conspiracy to intimidate voters. In violation of the federal statute. These cases came up in Commissioner Capron's court today, but the hearing was postponed. Attorney George Allen Smith, attorney for the defendants, demanded an immediate trial, declaring that "these suits were brought simply for political purposes and not for purposes of justice."

The hearing in the Las Animas County election case was held in the County Chambers today. The Democrats filed a petition asking the issuance of a writ of prohibition restraining Judge Northcutt, of the District Court, from interfering with the mandamus order of Judge Means, of the County Court, which ordered the Board of Canvassers to throw out the returns of the Primo district. The Democrats alleged the Republicans moved the polling place inside the grounds of the Victor Fuel Company, where no outsider was allowed to go. There were 43 votes cast in the polling place inside the grounds, while only nine were cast at the place designated by the County Commissioners. Judge Means issued a writ of mandamus compelling the Board of Canvassers to ignore the returns from that precinct. The Republicans then applied to Judge Northcutt for a writ of prohibition against the County Court. Then the Democrats appealed to the Supreme Court to help them out of the difficulty. Senator John A. Bush appeared for the Democrats. Robert Keenan, of Trinidad, opposed the application, and said the suit in the County Court was brought in collusion. He asked the court to either restrain the County Court from interfering with the canvass of the returns, or else assume jurisdiction itself under its original order issued before election. The court took the matter under advisement.

All alleged election frauds in Huerfano County are also to be taken up by the Supreme Court on application of the Democrats, who this afternoon, through Attorney John G. Taylor, filed affidavits charging violations of the court's election injunction and asking that the offenders be cited for contempt, as in the Denver cases brought by the Republicans. The court announced that a hearing would be given after the Denver cases had been passed on.

In the Supreme Court today, the hearing of evidence against five of the Democratic election officials and leaders charged with contempt for alleged violation of the Supreme Court order appointing special watchers at the recent election was begun.

Frank Kratke, chief license inspector; Joseph Ray and Charles Kotky, judges of elections; Edward O'Malley and Carl Wilson, clerks of election, were before the bar.

Half a dozen witnesses were examined, including the Supreme Court watchers. All testified to Kratke and Michael Mahoney, Alderman of Ward Five, destroying the commissions of the special watchers and illegally taking possession of the election supplies and polling booth at Precluct & Ward 5.

Evidence of repeating was also given, one of the Republican judges expressing the opinion that at least 50 persons voted who had no right to vote. It was stated that at least one man was driven out of the polling place by Kratke and Mahoney because he insisted on a second ballot when he discovered the one handed him was already marked.

To Investigate Hawaiian Election.

HONOLULU, Nov. 22.—Presiding Judge Dole, of the United States District Court, has summoned a special session of the federal grand jury for the purpose of investigating the charges made by Democratic leaders that in the last campaign certain election officers intimidated the

BUY YOUR PIANO AT THE BIG STORE

Some get the idea that as our pianos are mostly the HIGH-GRADE MAKES, we are selling mostly to the first-class trade. This is a very great mistake, for while we carry the largest stock of the reliable makes of any house in the United States, our prices and terms are such that those of the most moderate circumstances may possess one and pay no more for it than others charge for the cheap grades. Here you will find the Knaabe, Everett, Hardman Smith & Barnes, Steck, Packard, Ludwig, Kingsbury, Fischer, Yoon.

And many other makes, and prices range all the way from $225 up on easy monthly payments of $5, $5, $10 and $15 per month. Why not buy one of these unknown makes when you can buy such pianos as the above at the prices and terms we are making? We are recognized as the big reliable house, and this distinction has been won by fair dealing. The best for your money and kind treatment has always been our motto.

Georgia Vote Is Canvassed.

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 22.—The canvass of Georgia's vote for President shows: Parker 33,872, Roosevelt 24,003, Watson 23,532, Swallow 986, Deba 197—total, 130,622. The Presidential vote in 1890 was 122,714.

Official Vote in Virginia.

RICHMOND, Va., Nov. 22.—The vote cast in Virginia for President was canvassed today. Parker received 80,664, Roosevelt 48,181, Swallow 1388.

KUROPATKIN HAS AUTO.

He Wishes to Secure Twenty More to Carry Ammunition.

CHEPOO, Nov. 22.—General Kuropatkin is the possessor of a new 30 horse-power automobile, with which he is able to rush at high speed from one part to another of the line, 25 miles long, according to M. Ravoit, who reached here today from Mukden.

M. Ravoit spent three weeks with Kuropatkin, who wished to secure 20 automobiles specially constructed to carry ammunition speedily in emergencies. He will use them only in winter, when the Manchurian roads are in excellent condition. On his first trip in the new automobile Kuropatkin's only comment was: "I have the advantage of General Shafter."

The Chinese now regard Kuropatkin and his machine with superstitious awe, believing the latter to be an atrociously powerful specimen of the "Foreign Devils."

M. Ravoit said: "The two armies lie along each other, each having three fortified lines. The soldiers of both armies live mostly in caves behind their trenches, which, when covered with snow, have the appearance of a great host of polar bears waiting to spring at each other. The caves are warm even without fire. The Russian troops are in the best of spirits, and have unlimited confidence in their leaders. They expect Kuropatkin to attack during the winter. The Russian forces now number 300,000 men. The cavalrymen from the Don district are superior to their Siberian comrades. The former are intelligent, brave and active, and have fine, powerful horses."

"There are only a few hundred wounded at Mukden and 20,000 wounded at Harbin. I came out on the Siberian Railroad, which seemed to be doing its tremendous work smoothly. The warehouses along the railroad between Mukden and Harbin are full of supplies, which are almost untouched, as up to the present the army has subsisted chiefly on country produce."

"The handling of the Russian artillery is improving, while the Japanese artillery fire seems less effective. Originally the Russians did not conceal their artillery, which the Japanese quickly disabled. Now the Russians handle and conceal their guns with perfect science."

"The belief is general at Mukden that Port Arthur will hold out until relieved, no matter how long the much-expected Russian second Pacific squadron may take in reaching the Far East."

"General Kuropatkin is not talkative. His only reference to the war was: 'The war is progressing as I wish.' He still lives in his railroad car, and the light in his office is burning night and day. It is commonly stated that the General never sleeps. His officers are not surprised at being called to a conference at any hour of the night. The General's only relaxation is at dinner time, when the officers who are his guests number scores. Wine is plentiful, but Kuropatkin drinks mineral water. Every Russian officer seems to have an unlimited supply of money, the government being lavish in its expenditures."

"It is my opinion that Kuropatkin will never retreat from Mukden unless defeated decisively, and I think the next battle will be a Russian victory."

REVOLUTION IS DELAYED.

Macedonian Leader Says General Rising Will Occur in the Spring.

LONDON, Nov. 22.—A letter from Boris Sarafoff, the Macedonian leader, to a friend in London, says it is the intention of the revolutionary committee to defer the next general rising until the Spring of 1905, after the expiration of the two-year term of the Austro-Russian reform. Sarafoff adds that the reforms are utter failures and that the condition of the peasants is worse than before the late revolution. Their homes have not been rebuilt, and the people are on the verge of starvation, some of them treating to death.

The insurgents, under Damien Grefee, are maintaining the revolutionary organization, with 70 bands of ten to 50 each, and are collecting funds in Macedonia for the next rising. Sarafoff is in Bulgaria for the same purpose.
