Argentina Conditions Influence Wheat Market.

WEATHER SAID TO BE BAD

Leading Factor in Steadying Prices at Liverpool, Despite Heavy Shipments From Russia-No Demand for Flour.

Trading in wheat is almost at a standstill. Dealers are buying very eparingly, devoting most of their time to making deliveries on past orders. Eastern business has been wided by the railroads, but also by the gradual decline in Chicago prices. Export trading is also dull as the foreign markets, while they have advenced somewhat, have not yet reached that point that will make shipping from this Coast profitable, in view of the stiff freight rates asked by shipowners.

The European visible supply is now the largest since 1805, but the American and Catadlan quantity is far below the average for the time of year. The following comparison of the totals on November 1 for the last 12 years shows the figures (in quarters, hundreds, to some extent to the question of American wheat supplies for Europe. It comes to the ision that America must now practically to be an exporter on any important and may soon become an importer of wheat because it will not pay to use fertilizers to any extent. It seems to forget that next America would again resume the role of chief

in the flour market since the season opened. The Eastern demand, which has of late been the great thing, has fallen off, at least, the Eastern buyers have declined to pay prices lately considered satisfactory. The Oriental demand is likewise quiet, though there was rather more inquiry in the past week than of $25c The transportation problem is now the principal factor in this business. The difference between the views of miliers on this side and buyers across the water cannot be easily adjusted in the face of the $5 rate of the regular trans-Pacific lines, and the successful by one of the three parties. It is the hope of the milling interests that some way can be found to secure lower freights, and as they are loath to bring in independent carriers to bring about this result, they would like to cussion. It is east that the continuance of the forward movement in the present condition of the market depends entirely on the freight tariff, and if this is not lowered, the millers own account, or do no husiness with the Orien unbroken. Easterners and foreigners are out market, and local speculators will not buy unless at materially reduced prices. Growers either ask what they did two weeks or shade prices to too small an extent to cause sales. Opinion is divided as to the future of the market. Few look for much imsent until after New Years. The Eastern situation is thus reported by the New York surnal of Commerce of November 28:

stness continued quiet. Both dealers and exporters continued quiet. Both desires and exporters continue busily engaged in taking care of deliveries on old purchases, and, therefore, are giving little attention to the market for the present as buyers. Advices received from both up the state and the Coast report only small remaining stocks in growers' hands to be marketed, and as it is confidently beto be marketed, and as it is comfidently be-listed that all available supplies will be need-ed this season to supply the demand, there was no attempt made to hurry sales, and prices were firmly maintained. Foreign advices re-ported firm, but quiet markets.

The Kentish Observer of November 10 said of the altuation abroad: Trade is stower, and in consequence of pres sure on the part of some of the large East Kent growers prices are not so firm; indeed, several big growths have been sold at a con-siderable reduction. iderable reduction. Quotations are merely seminal, ranging from 59 10s to 510 for choice secriptions, and 58 10s to 59 10s for secondary qualities, with Weald of Kent and Sussex prowths at 55 to 59 per cwt.

have changed hands, the general trade is quiet. There are very few samples on offer, and holders of the remaining portion of the crop profess to be confident that higher prices will be obtained eventually. Only 183 pockets passed the public scales last week, making 7219 pockets weighed to date.

Advices from Nuremberg-Saaz, dated November 4, say: Since my last report of September 26, prices have gone up all around 20-36 mks per 56 klios. This movement is due to the fact that England's crop was shorter than expected; it is estimated that more than 50,000 bales have been bought for England and the United States account within the last four weeks. Prices, therefore, gradually advanced steadily. At the present moment, as the prinsteadily. At the present noment, as the principal buying is effected, a rather quiet tone is prevailing on the market, but prices are firm and very high-rated. Our Bavarian and Bohemian producing points are sold out.

PRODUCE—There is again a luli in the potato trade, owing to heavier receipts, slow local demand and no shipping movement. Growers and shippers still differ as to the future of the market, the former naturally looking for higher prices, the latter holding out no encouragement.

The onion market is in much better shape, and there is a fair movement to California. Applee and other fruits are in large supply and inclined to weakness. Garden vegetables of nearly all kinds are slow. In the East and abroad there have been advances as the result of decreased estimates of the European crop. Licht has further reduced his estimate of the beet crop in Europe by 170,000 tons, which brings his estimated deficiency in European and American supplies up nearly 1,200,000 tons. COUNTERBALANCE PRESSURE TO TAKE PROFITS IN STOCKS.

Heaviness of Early Market Due to Liquidation of United States Steel, but Common Later Advances.

NEW YORK. Nov. 30.—The stock market continued irregularly arroag today on a somewhat diminished volume of business. The presure to take profits was counterbalanced by only a few strong points in the market in the early morning, but late in the day the inroads made on the price level were repaired and new points in the list were pushed upward. It was evident that the large and powerful speculative interests which have been leading the trading were still active in the market, and were diligently conducting the leadership from one stock or group of stocks to another. The successful tactics of rotation of buying orders from one point to another while selling is pursued in the stocks from which the buying is turned away were very palpable in the morning. News affecting property values received NEW YORK, Nov. 30 .- The stock marks ing. News affecting property values received little attention, but there were plenty of ramore of changes projected in property relations and of future plans of stock market operations by this or that party of traders.

ations by this or that party of traders.

With a shift in the speculation to the Western and Pacific Raliroad stocks, the market broadened and the strength became more general. The wide advance in securities on the curb preceded the movement in the Pacifics, and every stock which has been connected at any time with the gossip concerning the supposed Northern Securities settlement responded. There was a large list of sharp gains in a varied collection of appclaitties and indus-

Reported Damage to Crop Causes Strength in Chicago Market.

CHICAGO, Nov. 30.—Following a decline at Liverpool, the wheat market here ruled barely steady. December was be lower to be higher at $1.06% to 1.05%, and May highe lower at $1.06% to $1.05%. The feeling of uncertainty, however, was quickly dispelled, and sentiment became quite buillah. Apparently the influence in affecting this change was a radical let-up in the movement of the wheat crop. Both Northwest and Southwest points reported a curtailment of receipts. Figures in the Southwest were very suggestive of the alleged low ebb to which farmers' stocks have posed Northern Securities settlement and posed Northern Securities and industrials, which had been a prominent feature of each day's market recently, and a number of high grade investment stocks made marked response to the demand for absorption.

The heaviness of the early market was due largely to the disquietude caused by the liquidation in the United States Steel stocks. This gave credence to the supposition that the regain cablegrams today stated that wet weather has threatened serious damage to the grave credence to the supposition that the regain cablegrams today stated that wet weather has threatened serious damage to the grave credence to the supposition that the regain cablegrams today stated that wet weather has threatened serious damage to the grave credence to the supposition that the regain of these stocks has been the May and December, options

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 30.—(Special.)—Further liquidation in the local wheat market de-pressed December to $1.88% and May to $1.42%. Adjustment of contract deliveries was finally completed, and the market was relieved and had a brisk little raily. Barley options stood firmly all day, but spot lots were easier, as notices were given that about 1200 tons will be delivered tomorrow on December contracts, and it is feared this bariey will be freely offered to the trade. Other cereals were quiet but steady and unchanged. Leading feedstuffs were firm.

Wool is well cleaned up and firm, but prices are wholly nominal.

Local handlers of hops quote prices lower at 2TMc to 31c, and say the trade is quiet, with buyers indifferent.

Wet weather up to noon increased the dullness in the fruit market. Oranges were weak under heavy stocks pending the probable resumption of auction sales next week, which are expected to create more business. Lemons were in liberal supply and easy. The apple market is depressed, with much stock spoiling. Grapes are arriving in poor condition. The present rains will probably wind up the crop. Ordinary potatoes are quiet and weak, with stocks large. Strictly fancy onlons are bringing full prices.

NEW YORK, Nov., 30 .- Plans have been ompleted for the 14th annual convention of the American Warehousemen's Association, which will be held in Washington D. C., Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of next week. The association is com-posed of over 100 leading warehousing firms, located in 50 of the leading cities. The first day will be taken up with the reports of officers and various committees, and the various matters brought up will be discussed. The new uniform bill of lading and several other matters will be brought up at the afternoon session. The committee on railroads and stezmships, transfer and forwarding, bonded ware-houses, general merchandles and insur-ance will report. Addresses on warehousing and laws affecting the business, to-gether with the election of officers, will fill the remainder of the session.

Public Museum for St. Louis. ST. LOUIS, Nov. 30 .- Papers of incorpo ration have been filed for the St. Louis Public Museum, with Pierre Chouteau president, George T. Parker secretary, and William H. Thompson treasurer. The intention of the corporation is to secure, preserve and exhibit objects illustrating the arts, anthropology, science and history for the purpose of establishing a museum, library and art gallery; to purchase or acquire by gift, to devise or lease one or more buildings and other real estate in the City of St. Louis for the housing and caring for such exhibits is also given as the purpose of the enterprise. As many objects of general interest as possible will be secured from the World's Fair, offices having been established in the anthropology building on the exposition grounds.
